Not long after the second half got under way, Buffalo Center got into gear. Fredericks intercepted a Riggs pass on his own 41, and a chain of 10 plays produced the initial tally. The scoring play was an eight-yard pass from Fredericks to Larry Heyer. Plunge for point was no good and B. C. led 6 to 0.

Belmond's offense bogged down completely after the kickoff, and Helland's punt was returned to the Broncos' 29. Five plays took Buffalo to within a yard of pay territory. There Erdman jammed up one scoring effort with a nice tackle, but immediately afterwards Fredericks lunged over and Burger kicked the extra point to give the Bison a 13-0 edge.

Again the Broncs failed to click, and after Riggs had picked up one first-and-10 on two tries, Helland's kick to the 45 was toted by Burger all the way to Belmond's nine. Howie Wagner temporarily saved the day by nabbing a B. C. pass behind the goal for a touchback and giving the Broncs the ball on their own 20. But three plays later Larry Thompson snatched a Belmond pass and raced to a score. A poor centering job spoiled the extra point, leaving the count 19-0.

Clelan Redmond ran the kickoff back to the 38, setting the stage for the evening's biggest thrill. On the next play Jack Riggs dashed off tackle, found a narrow gap in the Bison secondary, and successfully outsprinted the B. C. defenders to score "going away". Sixty-two yards were covered by the Bronco speedster.

After Belmond's kickoff, the Bison were soon in dangerous territory once more after a B. C. punt was dropped by the Bronco safetyman and Gerald Albers covered the ball on the Belmond 33. Burger galloped to the nine and four-yard gains by Burger and Bob Berhow had the ball on Belmond's one when the game ended.

Occasional defensive slashes by Odean Severseike, Erdman, Trees and Wagner indicated that the Broncs possess a much better potential defense than that which they too often exhibited.

Loop Leadership At Stake Friday In B. C.-F. C. Tilt

NORTH IOWA STANDINGS

Buffalo Center	3	0	1.000
Forest City	2	0	1.000
Lake Mills	1	1	.500
Northwood	1	2	.333
Garner	1	2	.333
Belmond	1	2	.333
Britt	0	2	.000

Whether or not Buffalo Center can play four full quarters of football will be tested this coming Friday by Forest City when the Bison meet the Indians on the latter's stamping grounds.

Forest City indicated last weekend that the Bison can ill afford to delay their offensive efforts if they're going to remain on top of the North Iowa conference standings after their joust with the Indians.

Whereas Buffalo Center has yet to score a first half touchdown against a loop foe, the Indians led Garner by a 28-7 edge at intermission last Friday.

A week earlier, the Bison had topped Garner 18 to 6. The In- has Forest City a slight favorite dians walloped the Cardinals, 35-7. Consequently, the dope sheet has Forest City a slight favorite in its crucial contest with Buffalo Center.

Lake Mills drew into third place last week by racing for three touchdowns in the first quarter against Northwood to down the Vikings by a 19-13 count.

Just how that leaves the Bulldogs stacked up with Belmond, to whom they play host Friday night, is a bit difficult to figure. Northwood smacked the Broncos 13-0; but Buffalo Center trounced the Bulldogs 25-0, while Belmond held the Bison down to a 19-6 victory margin.

Northwood will endeavor to climb a notch higher in the NI standings this week by handing Britt its third consecutive loop defeat. The Eagles chalked up their first win of the season last Friday by edging Eldora Training school, 6 to 0.

The right to worship where and as we choose is only one phase of the liberty we Americans prize, and for this and all of our other freedoms we owe a debt to Christianity.

Religious convictions, woven into our Constitution, gave strength to our pioneers. Reliance upon God, and fidelity to the Church, made our forefathers brave, patient and determined. In such faith was America born.

Through the Church and by authority of the Bible, Christianity says that all human beings have worth—that each one has a place—that man's first responsibility is to his Creator.

The Church is the symbol of this belief—the steadfast instrument through which it is worked out. Therefore the Church deserves our support. It stands for decency and order. It and the Church school are the safest places for our children.

Choose your Church—give it part of your time and means—participate in some of its activities—and you will find life taking on a new and richer meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We Welcome Almost 500 More To Our Family of Readers

Since The Independent's circulation contest started the latter part of August, 482 new subscribers have been added to our list. To these newcomers we wish to offer the heartiest of greetings and a sincere welcome to our family of readers.

We realize that the expansion of our circulation list—to the extent that it now includes a third more families than previously—represents a real challenge. We have more people to keep interested, and satisfied, than ever before. Believe us, we'll do our utmost to provide you with a newspaper you'll look forward to receiving every week.

Our aim will be to make The Independent so important an item in your weekly mail that when renewal times comes around you'd as soon have the milk man miss you as to have the paper stop coming. We want you to feel that The Independent is YOUR newspaper—and we'll do our level best to make it just that.

The Independent takes much satisfaction and some degree of modest pride in its steady growth over the past decade. We now reach approximately twice the number of homes we did in 1940. Naturally, the more people we reach the happier we are about it—and the same can be said of our advertisers.

All in all, we consider the subscription contest was a genuine success. Besides welcoming the many new readers, we offer our sincere congratulations to the prize winners. The contestants did a good job for us. Now it's up to us to justify the confidence they and their supporters showed in us. We believe we can. We're surely going to try.

State School Aid to Wright County Goes Down; But We Shouldn't Care

Due to the late activities of Mr. Clemenshaw and his bretheren in the field of property re-evaluation, there will be a radical shift this year in distribution of supplemental school aid from the state to individual school districts. Wright county's portion is being slashed to $1,120.

Last year Belmond Independent School district benefited from this supplementary fund to the extent of $6,684, and a total of $15,398 was received by schools in Wright county. From the standpoint of the tax-paying individual, perhaps, this was fine and dandy. But the "spirit of the law" certainly did not intend for relatively well-to-do areas such as Wright county to participate anywhere near so heavily as that.

To be completely frank in the matter, evaluations throughout this county were much lower than was right and proper. And the city of Belmond and county of Wright had a lot of company in this matter of kidding themselves as to what their property values actually should have been.

Now that valuations in this county and other comparable counties have been boosted to a more equitable level, supplemental aid for the 1950-51 school year is going largely to those areas that were intended to be the major benefactors—districts with less-than-average ability to pay.

Aid to most of Wright county's neighbor's is being sharply reduced. For example, aid to Hancock county has skidded from $14,303 to $4,958; and to Hardin, from $13,990 to $5,258.

On the other hand, in southern counties where the real value of property is literally much lower than in our rich, agricultural area, supplemental aid grants have jumped greatly. In Monroe county the increase is from $47,882 to $72,596; in Decatur from $36,948 to $57,595; and in Davis from $38,630 to $59,193.

To compensate for the anticipated loss of supplemental aid, tuition rates have been generally increased by independent schools in the richer counties. That is how Belmond has met the situation.

We look on the whole situation like this. Any taxpayer living in a county to which supplemental aid has been greatly reduced should deem himself lucky. Such aid is, in a manner of speaking, charity. And where charity's concerned, we'd much rather be on the giving than the receiving end.

Crop Boost Comparisons Show Why Brannan Plan Would Fail

A pretty fair indication of what might possibly be in store if the Brannan Plan were put into effect is provided by a recent study of per-acre output gains in various farm crops over a 12-year span of time.

The following table shows gains in average yields for the period of 1948-50 compared to 1939-41:

Commodity	1939-41	1948-50	% Gain Between Periods
Potatoes	129 bu.	216 bu.	67
Corn	29.6 bu.	39.6 bu.	35
Tobacco	981 lb.	1232 lb.	26
Wheat	13.3 bu.	16 bu.	20
Cotton	241 lb.	287 lb.	19
Oats	31.6 bu.	34.6 bu.	9

The figures, based on U. S. Department of Agriculture and Federal Reserve Bank reports, include August 1 crop predictions for 1950.

Scientific farming has largely been responsible for the increases in all of the commodities — except one. We all know what the explanation is of the disproportionate boost in the output of potatoes.

Some of the other crops do not lend themselves, so readily as potatoes, to rigging production methods to obtain abnormal harvests. Nevertheless, we have great respect for the ingenuity of the American farmer and believe that the inspiration of production payments would bring forth unsuspected ways and means of hiking per-acre outputs.

There is increasingly good reason to believe that the administration is itself losing confidence in its ability to pull a rabbit out of the hat. At least, it's decided that the public isn't as eager to be mystified as Brother Brannan has anticipated.

If ever a plan was doomed to failure, that one — in our estimation — was so doomed. In a way, the Republicans might rightfully bemoan any decision to abandon the Brannan brainchild. It might have provided a useful lever in upsetting the Democratic applecart in 1952.

World Series Provides Exercise In Public Concentration

One thing that never ceases to amaze us is the all-pervasive nature of the baseball fever that annually possesses this nation at World Series time. It's a phenomenon that rather defies explanation.

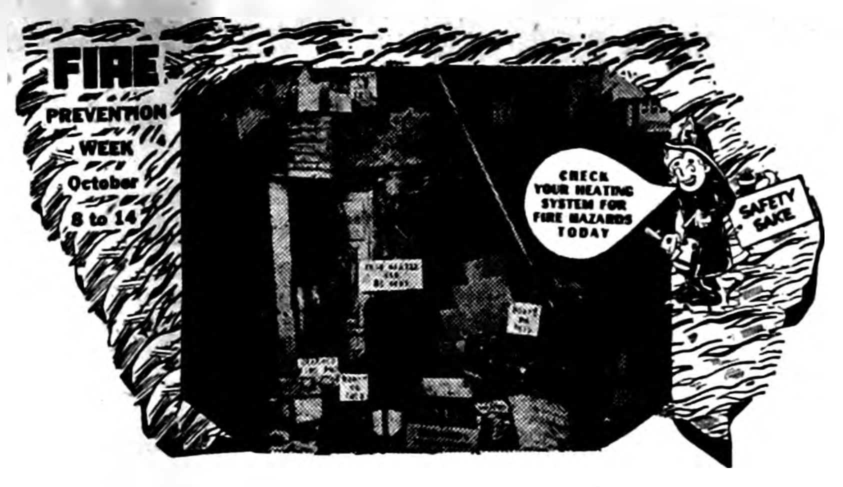
Individuals who wouldn't walk across the street to witness a big league game on the personal invitation of Joe Dimaggio listen avidly to radio reports of the doin's.

Ladies who can't tell the difference between a bunt and a Texas leaguer cock an ear at the loudspeaker and are enthralled with the excitement. School kids who couldn't be paid to stay indoors and listen to a regular season broadcast confidently discuss the merits of the opposing teams (and inevitably reflect their Dads' opinions). Oldsters, whose period of youth long pre-dated present day interest in sports, pick their favorites and urge them on as the tide of battle ebbs and flows.

We can't help but feel it's good practice for a nation's interest to be centered in a common cause once a year, as accomplished by the World Series. Makes a little more ready to "get into gear" when the chips are down in a cause that's really important.

———O———

One of three interpretations can be placed on President Truman's penchant for replacing cabinet members—which he's done on an average exceeding one every two months. (1) It's more difficult to find capable men today than ever before; or (2) HST has a rare faculty for picking the wrong man for the right spot; or (3) Harry can't recognize an able administrator when he sees one. We can't believe the fault lies with explanation No. 1.



FIRE PREVENTION WEEK October 8 to 14
CHECK YOUR HEATING SYSTEM FOR FIRE HAZARDS TODAY
SAFETY SAKE

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Soon another Iowa winter will be upon us. That means your heating system will have to be in order — ready to provide the warm comfort you'll want all winter.

But a furnace can be a dangerous fire hazard, too. Defective heating plants are the third most common cause of fires. That's why the fall and winter seasons always bring an increase in home fires. And that's why it's so important to check your heating system now for hazardous defects.

Clean up around your furnace; get rid of rags, waste paper and other things that may catch fire. Always put ashes in a metal container, covered with a metal lid. Keep the furnace area free of dust and cobwebs.

Call your furnace service man. Have him make a detailed check of your heating system — the furnace, smoke pipe, heating pipes, chimney, and other possible danger points. Have him make any needed repairs.

Do it now—during National Fire Prevention Week.

Remember, a furnace checkup this week may save you the grief and loss of a disastrous fire this winter.

Then ask for a complete inspection of your home by your local fire department.

Is Iowa Changing?

"What's happened to our Iowa autumns?" Edna asked while we were driving last Sunday. "Seems like the trees don't seem to turn as pretty as they used to."

That reminds me of Granpaw Jim. He claims that Iowa blizzards aren't what they used to be.

Well, honestly, I doubt whether our autumns or winters change very much. It's our point of view that changes.

And that's something we all should watch . . . our point of view. Let's not criticize the kids because they like to run and shout. We oldsters enjoyed that too, once. Let's respect the fellow with a broken accent. We'd sound funny to him, too, if we tried to talk HIS native language.

Granpaw Jim likes corn pone; I like white bread. Edna's a great coffee fan; I enjoy a temperate glass of beer. Both points of view are O.K. And as long as we can keep our vision broad enough, and tolerant enough, we'll all stay younger, grow wiser, and be happier.

fall is SAVING time

Yes, fall is a time of the year when we naturally think about saving up for winter. It's a good time to look ahead, to do some planning, to get set for the future.

For it's the planning we do now that is going to assure our happiness and our family's happiness in the years to come . . .

Ever think how much security and financial protection you can get for just a few dollars? Ever find out just how good an investment life annuities are?

There's an Equitable representative in your area who knows the answers to your saving problems—you'll find that it will pay you to get in touch with him.

What's Wrong with FREEDOM?

Our business is selling merchandise—the best we can buy—at the most economical price to you. It's a good business, and we like it.

But being in business in America is more than skillful buying and selling. It's the exercise of a fundamental right—freedom to venture, freedom to plan, freedom to succeed by serving best.

All freedoms stand or fall together. That's why we take our stand today, with the doctors of America, for the Voluntary System. At home and abroad, it's worth defending!

BERNS D-X SERVICE

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

WE STARTED SMALL

AND WE HAD TO BUCK A LOT OF COMPETITION

But it was healthy competition.

We had to work hard and plan carefully. But it was work with a promise of reward.

We like to think that the friends we've made and the success we've had are typical examples of the opportunity America offers the man with an idea and a determination to build and manage his own business.

We wouldn't trade places with a small businessman of any other Nation for anything.

We think we can do a better job running our own business than the Government could. We think the doctors and nurses and scientists can do a better job managing the medical care of the Nation than the Government could.

We believe that American freedom is worth working and fighting for at home and abroad.

DAN BOONE

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

We have faith

in you—in ourselves—

We believe that most Americans are capable of paying their own bills, planning their own budgets and mapping their own futures.

that most Americans resent having politicians or bureaucrats tell them what they need, where to get it and how to pay for it.

that most Americans prefer to solve their problems —medical or otherwise—by means of self-reliance, free choice and voluntary methods.

that most Americans will work and fight to preserve freedom, both at home and abroad.

The menace from abroad is Communist tyranny.
The menace at home is creeping Socialism.

LOUISIANA BAND LED BY F. F. 'POP' GRIFFEN GIVEN WESTERN TRIP

F. F. Griffen, known to his many friends here as "Pop" when he was director of the Belmond High school concert and marching bands from 1938-42, recently added a new plume to his well be-feathered cap.

His Ferriday, La., High school band has been selected to represent the state of Louisiana at the national convention of the American Legion at Los Angeles, Oct. 8-12.

"Pop's" musical organization has won top ranking in state competition five years in a row. All expenses of the coast trip are being paid by the state, with the department of commerce making the travel arrangements.

Mr. Griffen married Betty Lieuwen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen of this community. His brother, Durwood Griffen of Britt, is well known in Iowa instrumental music circles as was his father, the late F. O. Griffen of Hampton.

Misses Kuhlers, Goeman In College Music Groups

PELLA — Aileen Kuhlers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuhlers of Meservey, and Lyola Goeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rammer Goeman of Belmond, are taking an active part in musical groups here at Central college.

Aileen is singing in the second alto section of the a cappella choir. The basic planning for the spring tour is now underway. Last year the group traveled to the east coast.

Lyola sings alto in the chapel choir at Central. This group, which includes 70 voices, furnishes excellent training for students. It also contributes to the worship services each day from 8:00 to 8:15 a. m.

HUB GARAGE

We like taking orders...

...from customers who want our products. We know those customers have shopped around, looked over other products and have decided that ours is right for them. It keeps a company on its toes ...taking orders from people.

BUT THERE'S A KIND OF ORDER-TAKING WE DON'T LIKE

...the kind you'll find in some foreign countries where it's no longer the customer—but the Government that gives the orders on what shall be made, what shall be sold...and to whom.

We want no such system in America.

That's why we say: Let's Keep the Voluntary System in America!

Voluntary insurance, Voluntary manufacturing, Voluntary buying and selling are all part of American freedom. They make it certain that—

In America—the customer gives the orders!

AN Apple A DAY...

WE DON'T HAVE A THING AGAINST DOCTORS, BUT...

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the old adage came true, and by just selling apples we could keep all sickness away?

It would be such a simple solution to the problem of medical care that even the doctors would welcome it—even though it meant they'd have to look around for something else to do.

But seriously, we merchants today have something in common with the medical profession. So do you. We all are faced by a socialistic threat to our freedom.

Our business is selling merchandise. It's a good business. It's good because...

AMERICAN FREEDOM HAS LET US BUILD AND COMPETE AND SERVE YOU BETTER

We all know that in times of emergency, temporary controls sometimes become necessary—and are loyally accepted. But State Socialism is not for us!

We don't want Government operation of our business. We are equally opposed to Government control of medicine or other fields of private endeavor.

That is why today we salute the doctors of America, who have proved that Americans will fight just as hard to preserve freedom at home as they do to protect it from forces of aggression overseas.

Speaking of Apples...

Here's a tip our insurance man gave us. VOLUNTARY HEALTH INSURANCE, prepaying the major costs of illness for you and your family, can be bought for about the price of an apple apiece a day!

HEALTHY, WEALTHY AND why?

America is the healthiest great Nation in the world. Americans live more abundantly than any people in the world........why?

Not because somebody passed a law. But because the founding fathers were WISE. Because they turned away from dependence on Government. Because they believed that real security is based on individual initiative.

Americans today believe that, too. That is why America is the symbol of human Freedom . . . the bulwark of world liberty!

The strength of America is the product of creative, free initiative. America's health is the best in the world. A free medical profession will keep it so.

Freely, without compulsion, over 70 million Americans have secured the best medical care in the world, through Voluntary Health Insurance, prepaying the major cost of illness. THE PRICE IS LOW—THE CARE IS THE BEST. YOUR PROGRAM FOR YOUR FAMILY CAN BE TAILORED TO FIT YOUR NEEDS AND BUDGET.

Oberhauser, Redmond Get District FFA Positions

Two Belmond FFA members were named to district offices at the fall leadership conference of the North Central Iowa district of Future Farmers of America held last Saturday at Hampton.

Louis Oberhauser was chosen as secretary and Clelan Redmond as treasurer.

Redmond's appointment was automatic, as Duane Sandage is district adviser and the adviser's home treasurer always fills the same position in the district organization.

Besides Mr. Sandage and the two boys above named, Belmond representatives at the conference were Jim Riekens, Alvin Halfpap and Marlyn Watermiller, local president, vice president and reporter, respectively.

Belmond's officers had the honor of conducting the opening and closing rituals at the meeting.

BELMOND LOCALS

Raymond Mehl, student at Waldorf college, Forest City, spent the weekend at the Milford Mehl home.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wantz and family of Marshalltown were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wantz. The two men are brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. Klaas Modderman and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Halfpap, Susie and Karen Bohning visited the John Modderman home Sunday afternoon.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bernard of Webster City, visited her sister, Mrs. H. J. Mourlam, and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Taylor and sons, Mike and Steve, spent Sunday at the parental A. C. Taylor home at Hayfield.

Mrs. V. E. Kachelhoffer of Ackley and Fred K. Howard of Waukegan, Ill., visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Miner.

Friends will be glad to hear that Sam Michelson returned home Monday after a long time spent in hospitals and nursing homes. His health is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Doctor, Robert Morris and Mrs. Mabel Morris visited with the Lawrence Campbell family at Elmore, Minn., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shurson had as guests in their home last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Marion Thompson of Mendota, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Mariman and son of Pawpaw, Ill. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Mariman are nieces of Mrs. Shurson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Haugland and family spent Sunday at the Butler Stene home near Lake Mills. They went especially to visit with Mrs. Haugland's brother, Elmere Stene, and family of Colton, S. D., who were visiting at the parental Stene home.

Mrs. Ed Ackerman and Larry spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hohensee, at Pocahontas. Mr. Ackerman spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Ackerman, at Palmer. Mrs. Ackerman and Larry joined him at Palmer and they all returned home Sunday evening.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mack and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nesbit at Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Murray and sons, John and Bill, and Donald Nielsen attended the I. S. C.-I. S. T. C. football game at Ames, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnson, Anna Holm and Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Hanson spent Sunday with relatives, the Ed Holm and Bob Freel families at Chester. On the way home they stopped to visit Helen Hanson, student at Waldorf college, Forest City.

From Pills to Penicillin

Over the years, behind our counters, we've sold many kinds of accepted medicines and we've filled thousands of prescriptions for people of this community. We've helped measure out a lot of medical progress. We've seen new treatments and new drugs turn illness into health, despair into hope.

This progress is more than statistics—it's people! And the people we know don't want it tampered with!

Free America has no place for a bureaucracy that stands between people and progress, between doctor and patient, between physician and pharmacist.

FREE AMERICA HAS NO PLACE FOR SOCIALIZED MEDICINE!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

Selling Milk IS SELLING HEALTH

Our service to this community has much in common with that of the medical profession.

The wholesome diet of American families—and the place of milk in that diet—has a lot to do with the high standard of health our country has achieved.

Because our product is essential to good health, we believe that every argument made against socialized medicine also could be made against a socialized dairy business.

In fact, every great Nation that has tried socialized medicine has gone on to socialize other businesses and other industries and other professions.

America has no place for permanent Government controls borrowed from foreign lands. It has no place for socialized medicine, socialized railroads, socialized power, socialized manufacturing . . . or socialized dairies!

We believe—and all experience proves—that free men do the best job of running industry, professions and business.

That's why today we publicly reaffirm our faith in American initiative, American progress, American FREEDOM.

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

Who Runs America?

the Congress?
the President?
OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association
American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY

MILDRED SCHULTZ NUNN, Plaintiff,
vs.
The Unknown Claimants, and all Persons unknown claiming any right, title or interest in and to the following described real estate, to-wit: Lot Three (3), in Block One (1), Orginal Town of Belmond, Iowa; Henry L. Schultz, Executor of the Estate of John T Schultz, Deceased; and the State of Iowa,
Defendants.

To the Above named defendants:

You are hereby notified that a petition of the above named plaintiff in the above entitled action is now on file in the office of the clerk of the above named court, claiming that the plaintiff is the absolute and unqualified owner, in fee simple, of the following described real property, to-wit:

Lot Three (3), in Block One (1), Original Town of Belmond, Iowa, and praying for the establishment of her estate and title against the adverse claims of the defendants, and that each and all of them, and all unknown claimants, and all persons unknown, having or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises, and all persons claiming by, through, or under them, be barred and forever estopped from ever having, asserting, or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises or any part thereof adverse to the plaintiff or the plaintiff's title therein, and that the plaintiff's title to the said premises be quieted, established and confirmed.

Plaintiff's petition sets out certain instruments of record which cloud the title of this plaintiff to said real estate and to the pretended claims and questions which have arisen with reference to said title and you are referred to said petition for a more particular statement thereof

Said petition asks that all claims or liens which the State of Iowa may have or claim to the real estate involved in this action be adjudicated, and alleges that the plaintiff and her immediate grantors have been in the sole, complete, actual, open, notorious and undisputed possession of said premises for more than thirty-seven years last past under claim of right and ownership thereof adverse to the defandents.

(For further particulars see petition now filed)

You are also notified to appear before said court at Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa, on or before the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1950, and that unless you so appear, your default will be entered and judgment and decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in said petition.

What Makes It So Tempting?

BUTTER!

World-famous chefs know there's nothing to match butter! It makes so many foods taste better. As an ingredient in cooking or baking, it helps to insure flavor-perfection. Butter adds nutrition, too. Its natural golden color comes from rich golden cream — since four pints of cream go into the making of each pound of butter.

For nutrition, for health, for downright goodness, there's nothing finer than the high-score Iowa butter for which our creamery has built such a reputation. Use butter generously in cooking, and at every meal.

John Peck returned Saturday from Ismay, Mont., where he has been working this past summer.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

From the Rowan Record: By the united efforts of the north side of the street and a little financial help from Grangpa Bingham, the rickety sidewalk just west of the bank was replaced by a new one Monday afternoon.

—1900—

From the Goodell Globe: We understand there are to be hitching posts installed on the side streets—which is the thing to do.

—1900—

From Kanawha: Moore Brothers and Felthous received several loads of new corn this week. It starts in at about 25 cents a bushel.

—1900—

Dr. Wilmot left last week for Kansas City to take a course of lectures at a medical school.

—1900—

Bro. Horace Greely of the Thornton Enterprise called last week and we spent a pleasant half hour with him. Bro. Greely is an agreeable gentleman and a newspaper man of no mean ability.

—1900—

It seems that B. B. Briggs did lose something like $200 in gold which he had secreted under the floor of his house. We regret to hear of Briggs' loss, yet it is incomprehensible to us why a man should bury his money when we have three excellent banks in town.

Klemme-Goodell Riders Enjoyed Outing Sunday

The Klemme-Goodell Saddle club met with Chet Hake on the southwest shore of Morse Lake last Sunday afternoon. The members enjoyed a trail ride on their saddle horses, which were trucked to the farm.

A pot-luck luncheon was served by the women of the group. The ladies played games and enjoyed a social time.

The president of the club, Harlan Mellott, wishes to thank all who helped to make the afternoon meeting a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher returned Monday to their home at Wallingford, having enjoyed the weekend in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Dale Van Noy. Odella Anderson, also of Wallingford, came to Goodell with them and was a guest in the home of her firends, the Oscar Olsons.

Mrs. John Vico, in company with the Sandbergs and Hansons, visited Sunday afternoon in the Earl Jenison home at Belmond. Mrs. Vico left that evening for her home in Calumet Ciy, Ill., following a 10-day visit with her brother, O. Sandberg.

Mrs. W. L. Sherwood went to Emmons, Minn., Sunday to visit until Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Emmons. She assisted Mrs. Emmons in serving her Study Club members on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harl Woods and son Gary of Fort Worth, Texas visited Thursday in the home of Mrs. Wood's friend, Lula Wilkins. She will be remembered as a daughter of the Del Porters who lived 50 years ago, in the Hubbard property one mile east of town, now tenanted by the Herman Beek family.

Darlene Chapman, Mrs. Roy Foss, Mrs. Leroy Berhow and Mrs. Donald Peterson are working at the Thompson seed corn company at Belmond.

MISSIONARY STUDY CLUB MEETS TODAY

The Missionary Study Club will meet Thursday afernoon in the home of Mrs. J. E. Savogue with Mrs. Brede giving the lesson.

Reverend and Mrs. James T. Stewart attended a youth meeting at Longren Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. H. M. Newgord entertained in her home Friday afternoon Mrs. John Vico of Calumet City, Ill., Mrs. O. Sandberg and Mrs. Amos Hanson. Mrs. Vico brought greetings to Mrs. Newgord from her cousins in Sweden, where she she had been a guest in their homes this summer. The former and Mrs. Vico have been acquaintances for over 50 years, having first met in Sweden when Mrs. Newgord was three years old. The Matson family were in Sweden then to attend the golden wedding of Mr. Matson's parents.

Reverend and Mrs. James T. Stewart went to Waterloo Wednesday and enjoyed the day at the Cattle Congress.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kemp are happy over the arrival of their first granddaughter. A baby girl was born Monday, Oct. 26, to Mr. and Mrs. Merlynd Norris of Eagle Grove at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Dodge. She has been named Catherine Louise and her three little brothers say her name will be Cathy Lou. She weighed six and a half pounds. The Kemps have four grandsons.

Auxiliary Admits Three Newcomers

Mrs. V. E. Harris and Louise Johnson were hostesses to the American Legion Auxiliary last Thursday evening at the former's home. Three new members, Mrs. Laton Avery, Mrs. W. E. Tanner and Mrs. H. Strampe, were admitted to the organization.

During the meeting, Auxiliary members were asked to urge all their friends and neighbors to save Butternut coffee can-strips, which are being saved in conjunction with an Auxiliary project. Each strip is given a 10-cent allowance toward purchase of toys, which at Christmas time will be delivered to various children's and orphans' homes.

Goodell Auxiliary members are planning to attend the county Auxiliary meeting to be held at Garner on Tuesday, Oct. 24.

November meeting of the Goodell organization will be held in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Boller, with Mrs. Anton Boller as assistant hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Van Buskirk and children of Dexter, Minn., visited Monday in the homes of their parents, the Lloyd Van Buskirks and Chas. Chapmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Burrs of Byron, Minn., were guests from Friday until Sunday in the Martin Burrs home. The men are brothers.

Corn-n-Bean Day Prizes Will Total Hundreds of Dollars

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

Oldtimers and semi-oldtimers will recall when Henry Kolln—then of Sheldon—made periodic appearance in wrestling shows at the old Opera House some 20 years ago. (There's an item about him in "Way Back When" this week.) He used to take on the best of them back in those days when wrestling was largely an honest sport and not the hammed-up batch of fakery it is today.

Never having seen Kolln wrestle in the old days, we haven't much idea how old he would be at presnt, but we DO know that he's still ready to take on all comers. Last week we received the following card from him, mailed from Sioux Falls, S. D.:

"Dear Sir:

Do you know of anyone who would be interested in staging wrestling matches this winter? I still wrestle and will meet the best. I thank you. Be glad to hear soon.

Kolln"

We hope that Mr. Kolln isn't being forced out of a lengthy retirement by financial difficulties—like the Brown Bomber. Back in Henry's day, fights paid off more generously in laurels than "lettuce", so at any rate it's unlikely that he's plagued with any income tax troubles like Joe's.

—M-S—

Some day we're going to cease confusing Clair Hugh and Duane Cunning, but the day hasn't arrived yet. The two don't look alike, and there's no excuse for getting 'em mixed up. Guess it's just a knack, we have.

Anyway, last week we had Clair (whom, we're assured, can play nothing more complicated than a radio) in charge of the stage show band of next Wednesday's high school entertainment. We don't know to whom we owe the most abject apology, Clair, or Duane. We promise it won't happen again . . . maybe.

—M-S—

Shades of Solomon! From the report on a social gathering that was published in a California paper: "Of the 50 guests, more than 30 had been married to the same man for more than 20 years."

—M-S—

One of our exchanges reports an argument between a couple of skunks that came to an abrupt end with the obvious retort: "So do you!"

—M-S—

We also like the gem that recently appeared in Cy Adams' column in the Kanawha Reporter. Said Neighbor Cy: "Life is a battle of brains, and the trouble with so many of us is that we are going around unarmed."

—M-S—

From one of Main Street's feminine friends comes a plea that phone users be a little less abrupt in giving up on a call when no response results after the first two or three rings.

"I know — from actual counting," she reports, "that even with scurrying I can't reach the phone from upstairs or down in the basement before it has rung four times. And I've heard a number of my friends complain about finding the line dead after racing to answer the phone."

Allowing for five rings of the bell before hanging up that receiver will likely result in completion of a lot of calls that now leave disgusted second parties mumbling to themselves in out-of-breath fashion.

SINGS WITH CHOIR

NORTHFIELD, Minn.-Dorothy Lonning of Belmond was among the 104 St. Olaf college students selected for membership in the college's chapel choir. The chapel choir is the largest musical organization on the campus and is under the direction of Dr. Paul Ensrud, chairman of the department of music. The choir endeavors to give students musical experience and also sings regularly at St. John's Lutheran Church in Northfield.

WSCS PLANS SPECIAL SERVICES NEXT WEEK

In connection with the "Week of Prayer and Self-Denial", Oct. 25 through 31, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will hold a "Day Apart" service on Wednesday of next week.

The service will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will continue until 3:00 p. m. Members are urged to come for the entire service, or stay for a part of the prayer and devotional program, which will be divided into intervals of 45 minutes.

Coffee will be served at noon for those bringing a simple sack lunch, in keeping with "denial" observance.

Those in charge of planning and conducting the "Day Apart" include the Spiritual Life committee: Mrs. Ella Luick, chairman, and Mesdames Clair Bonte, S. P. Leinbach, Paul Rietz, George Coburn; and the secretary of missionary education, Mrs. Ralph Christie.

Duea Duroc Sale Slated Saturday

What fellow hog breeders and Donald Hartz of Maynard, editor of the Duroc News, agree will be one of the outstanding Duroc boar and gilt sales in the state this year is scheduled at the Joe Duea farm this coming Saturday.

Fifty-two outstanding animals will be placed at auction, including some consigned by Dale Hauge of this community and J. R. Caputo of Granger, in addition to prize-winning stock from Joe's own herd.

A large crowd of Duroc breeders is expected to be on hand at 8:00 p. m. when Auctioneers Leon Jay of Ames and Howard Johnson of Story City begin crying bids. Joe is particularly hopeful that some of the offerings will fall to F. F. A. and 4-H boys looking for foundation stock.

As a special inducement to club boys to take advantage of the sale, Joe has agreed to breed, free of charge for spring litters, any gilts purchased by an F. F. A. or 4-H boy.

The Duea herd boar, Royal Leader, has earned an enviable reputation among Duroc breeders of this and neighboring states. In addition, litters carrying the bloodlines of four different 1949 state fair grand champions are represented in the sale offerings. Royal Leader himself, is not among the offerferings but a number of his progeny are.

Probably the outstanding individual offering listed is Fleetline Bell, judged the reserve junior champion gilt at this year's Iowa state fair. Harlan Harper of Ames, a leading Duroc breeder, describes her as "one of the year's best"; and Mr. Hartz of the Duroc news agrees, "This reserve junior champion is a honey."

McNEAL, McLAUGHLIN SPEAKERS AT PUBLIC MEETING NEXT WEEK

Due to a change in plans for its October meeting next Wednesday, the League of Women Voters has decided to make the affair open to the public.

Clark McNeal and Vernon McLaughlin — Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for state representative from Wright county—have been invited to address a gathering at the library basement at 3:00 p. m.

President Jean Shepard states that the October lesson on "The Charter and Structure of the United Nations" is being postponed until next month.

At next Wednesday's meeting, the two Belmond political candidates have been asked to review their respective party's general platform and to provide some insight into the qualifications of other candidates appearing on the party ticket.

A cordial invitation is issued to the public to attend the meeting, and the League members hope that a number of business men will find it possible to be present.

Rites for Luke Wessels Held Saturday Afternoon

Funeral services were held last Saturday for Luke Wessels, who passed away quietly in his sleep on Wednesday of last week—just eight days after he had observed his sixty-third birthday.

Rev. O. G. Poppen officiated at the rites held at Immanuel Reformed church on Saturday afternoon. Burial was at Immanuel Reformed cemetery and Fulton Funeral home was in charge of the services.

Pallbearers were farm friends of the deceased: Hio Goeman, Jelto Boelman, Hiko and Henry Mennenga, Andrew Bohning and Lambert H. Pals.

Mr. Wessels' obituary will oppear in next week's paper.

Dr. Leinbach Re-elected To Cancer Society Board

Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Leinbach attended the annual meeting of the Iowa Chapter of the American Cancer Society held Saturday at Des Moines.

Dr. Leinbach was reelected to serve as representative of the sixth congressional district on the state board of directors. He also was appointed chairman of the lay education committee.

Pick Homecoming Queen Candidates

Votes of the Belmond High school football squad members yesterday afternoon were to select the Homecoming Queen and her two attendants from a field of eight candidates selected by class nominations.

Contending for the title were Aileen Kalkwarf and Doris Mourlam, seniors; Bernadine Summers and Audrey Soma, juniors; Avis Pierce and Gertrude McLaughlin, sophomores; Sharon Strait and Barbara Mariga, freshmen.

Jack Riggs, game captain and head of the student council, will place the crown on the head of her highness during halftime ceremonies of tomorrow night's game. A bouquet of flowers will be presented to the queen by the Forest City captain.

The responsibilities Jack is shouldering show he's taken a step up in royal circles. At last week's Lake Mills Homecoming, his was the role of presenting posies to the Queen.

With a Homecoming crowd to inspire them, Coach Don Merritt is hoping that Belmond's Broncos will bound back from the slump that has brought them three consecutive defeats and show the visiting Forest City Indians a real battle.

Before the game gets underway at 8:00 p. m., special flag-raising ceremonies will be held with the bands of both Belmond and Forest City — totaling close to 130 musicians—playing "The Star Spangled Banner" in massed formation.

Earlier, the traditional Homecoming parade — featuring the bands, a number of floats, decorated bicycles and the "carriage" of the Homecoming Queen—will march from downtown out to the athletic field.

GIVEN CLERK'S JOB

Joan Lowenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lowenberg of Goodell, has been appointed as a clerk in the Clarion office of County Auditor Roger Charlson. Her appointment was approved by the board of supervisors only Monday of this week, but was effective as of Oct. 6. A former employee of The Independent, she has lately been working in the R. E. A. office at Pocahontas.

BACK FROM EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Baird of West Los Angeles, Calif., arrived Friday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Gordon, for a short visit before continuing their trip home. They have just returned fom three months in Europe visiting many countries. The main objective was to visit their son, Bruce Baird, and wife in Lintz, Austria, where—as a civilian—he is in charge of the Army's athletic program.

Car Licenses Hit 7,000; First Time In Wright County

On Monday of this week, auto registraitons in Wright county reached the 7,000-mark for the first time since horseless carriages replaced old Dobbin. Distinction of drawing license plate No. 7,000 fell to Carroll Bamford of Belmond after registration of his new DeSoto sedan.

Harold E. Sullivan, county treasurer, says that last year's 6,662 car registrations was the previous record—erasing a mark of approximately 6,300 which was set 'way back in 1930.

Mr. Sullivan adds that 140 cars were registered in 1949 between mid-October and Dec. 1, so he wouldn't be surprised if this year's total approaches 7,150 by the time '51 plates are ready for issue.

Auto transfers are also breaking all records. By Oct. 1, a total of 3,357 had been recorded. This exceeded last year's total up to the same date by 452.

Freezer Demonstration Monday at Lunch Room

June Dudgeon, home economist for a manufacturer of home freezers, will give a demonstration on the freezing of foods at 8:00 p. m. Monday evening at the high school hot lunch room. A freezer unit was installed in the lunch room just this fall.

Carol Kepler, home economics instructor, says that Miss Dudgeon will give instruction in the freezing of vegetables, fruits, desserts and meats and will gladly answer questions regarding freezer problems. The public is cordially invited to attend the demonstration.

Alan Shahan Takes 2nd In Hog Judging Contest

Word has been received from Harlan P. Harper, herdsman for S. C. Schrage of Eagle Grove, that Alan Shahan was winner of second place in a swine judging contest for F. F. A. boys held in conjunction with a Duroc sale which Schrage held the early part of this month.

The local Future Farmer, as an award for his high placing, will be allowed $25 credit on a bred gilt if he chooses to buy one at the winter sale of the Eagle Grove Duroc breeder.

DRAFTEE PLEADS FOR MAIL

Mr. and Mrs. John Pals say that a plea for "more mail" has been received by them from their son, Arthur, who was inducted into the Army on Sept. 8. Letters from friends of the new draftee can be addressed to: Rct. Arthur William Pals VS 55022497, Co. G 87th Inf. Reg., Fort Riley, Kans.

Cub Pack to Hold "Fair on Nov. 1st

Plans are being laid for a "County Fair" to be held by Belmond's Cub Pack at the high school hot lunch room a week from Wednesday, Nov. 1. Games, costumes and a variety of refreshments will provide the occasion with a carnival air.

Cubmaster Walter Hotvet and Cub Committee Chairman Lloyd Cunningham are in charge of the event. They are being assisted by the three Cub Den Mothers, Mrs. Neil Flanagan, Mrs. Lem Long and Mrs. Lois Hammond.

All of the games that will be offered to try the public's skill were constructed by the Cubs, themselves, at Den meetings. Besides a small charge by the game booths, pop, candied apples, bars and popcorn will be sold to build up a fund of "working capital" for the junior Scouts.

Costumes will be the order of the day for the Cubs — and for their parents, too. The "pack flag" will be awarded to the den providing the best parent-and-son costume combination.

Mr. Hotvet says that about 30 Cubs are enrolled in Belmond's three Dens, at present. The "County Fair" will not be restricted entertainment for the boys and their parents. The public is cordially invited to take part in the fun.

WILL SELL PROPERTIES

H. L. Smith will sell two properties at public auction Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the acreage sites a miles north of Belmond on Highway 69. Each plot contains two acres of land and has a house and other buildings on it. Some tools, corn cribbing and other miscellaneous items will also be sold.

Amount for Quiz Programs Alone To Exceed $200

Hundreds of dollars in cash and merchandise prizes will be distributed among shoppers who this Saturday combine their weekend buying with participation in Belmond's Corn-n-Bean Day.

Jugs, jars, bottles and a wide variety of merchandise items filled with corn and beans made their appearance in Belmond store windows yesterday and scores of would-be mathematical wizards have already registered estimates as to the containers' numerical contents.

As many guesses can be entered as desired and the guesses may be registered anytime up to Saturday night's closing hour. Displayers of grain containers were requested not to mislead the guessers with paper cones, false bottoms and other trickery. Consequently, a guess based on the apparent volume is the proper one to make.

Jack Harmon, area representative for General Mills grocery division, will act as "Professor Mark Question", quizmaster for the question-and-answer shows that are to be held on the First State Bank corner at 3:00 and 8:00 p. m.

He and an aide, equipped with microphones, will mingle with the crowd and propose the questions that will pay off in cash and other prizes. At both quiz sessions there will be $25 jackpot awards at stake. Money for the cash prizes is being put up by the local General Mills plant, Thompson's Hybrid Corn company, Belmond Chamber of Commerce and First State Bank.

More than $100 in cash will be awarded to quiz contestants, and well over an equivalent amount in other prizes. Value of merchandise to be given for the best corn-n-bean guesses will run well over $300.

All Belmond grocery stores will join in the occasion by offering special prices on General Mills grocery products. Mr. Harmon says that this community has been particularly loyal to GMI grocery items, and the grocery division is delighted to have this opportunity to show its appreciation.

Chamber of Commerce President George Infelt reminds shoppers that all of their corn-n-bean guesses should include address as well as name. The guessing winners will be announced in the various windows next week and the prizes can be claimed a week from Saturday, Oct. 28.

Rowan Teacher In Auto Mishap

Mrs. Leland Lieuwen, former Belmond teacher and present instructor in music in the Rowan school, had a narrow escape from serious injuries in an auto mishap Tuesday morning.

She was driving to Rowan from her farm home northeast of Corwith and was about two miles east of that community when the accident occurred. A cattle truck from the opposite direction forced Mrs. Lieuwen to the edge of the narrow road. She believes loose gravel must have caused her to lose control of the car.

The teacher's car swerved across the road and hurtled into the east ditch, rolling completely over. Although Mrs. Lieuwen was only severely shaken, the Lieuwens' '49 Plymouth sedan was very badly damaged.

Apparently the driver of the cattle truck did not see the car leave the road; at least he did not stop. Another trucker, passing son after the mishap, picked Mrs. Lieuwen up and took her to her farm home. Her husband brought her to Belmond and from here she drove the car of her father-in-law, A. C. Lieuwen, on to Rowan—arriving somewhat late, but determined to take up her daily duties.

U. N. DAY RITE PLANNED

While no formal observance of United Nations Day is planned in Belmond next Tuesday, Oct. 24, the local chapter of League of Women Voters is urging that residents of the community join in the world-wide moment of prayer that will mark the occasion. Arrangements have been made for all Belmond church bells to ring at 10:00 a. m., signaling the moment that citizens throughout this nation will unite in offering a common prayer for world peace.

Here's How Belmond Hospital Will Appear

William Beuttler, Sioux City architect who has the contract for designing Belmond's municipal hospital, has now completed his initial plans and they have been submitted to the state department of health for approval.

Tentative approval has been asked of the director of the department's division of hospital services, R. C. Hanlon, so that work can be started on the drafting of final plans. Mr. Hanlon has indicated it will likely be the end of this month before he will have time to review the Beuttler sketches.

In the accompanying drawing of the proposed hospital exterior, donors to the hospital project have their first opportunity to see approximately what the structure's appearance will be like.

As illustrated, the hospital will occupy the area just west of Steele Memorial hospital. It will be U-shaped, with the main entrance at the southwest corner and an ambulance entrance on the east side.

Service rooms will occupy the west wing, including laundry, boiler room, kitchen, rooms for male help and female help, storage room, record room and adjoining office, linen storage, and men's and women's toilets. The reception room will occupy the southwest corner, connecting to the vestibule just inside the entrance.

Ten rooms for patients will face First Street SE. Across the corridor and facing out on the patio will be, left to right, a nurses' locker room, two additional rooms for beds, the nursery, a work room and a utility room—with some space taken from the work and utility rooms to create a large closet on the corridor.

In the east wing will be the operating and delivery rooms, with nurses' work room between; all required sterilizing and scrub-up equipment will be nearby the operating and delivery rooms and the area will also contain a doctors' room and nurses' dressing room.

Just south of the ambulance entrance will be an accident room, adjoined by another patient's room. West, across a corridor, will be the laboratory, x-ray room and dark room, toilet and bathroom, additional closet space and the nurses' station.

The hospital will have a 143-foot frontage, the west wing will extend back 92½ feet and the east wing, 90 feet. The west wing will be 40 feet wide and the east, 44 feet. The area comprising the patio will be approximately 54 feet square.

Access will be gained to the service area on the west by a rear entrance and there will be a side entrance to the main corridor on the east side of the building.

Mr. Beuttler says that the hospital can easily expand to the east, if added capacity is needed in years to come, by building another L-shaped wing.

Further progress toward a start on actual construction must now await state approval of the tentative plans, then drawing of final plans and approval of them by the department of health.

In the meantime, the finance committee reminds all who made hospital pledges that "money in the bank" is going to be highly essential before any letting of bids can be undertaken. Consequently, payment of pledges to Treasurer A. C. Hanson is urgently requested.

One Long Dash Defeats Colts Monday Evening

A single, offensive thrust by the visiting Lake Mills frosh-soph team Monday night brought the Belmond High Colts a 7-0 defeat, despite their holding a big edge statistically.

Lake Mills' score came on a 60-yard run, following a reverse. That was the Papooses' only major gain as they failed to mark up a single first-and-10.

On the other hand, the Colts registered close to a dozen first downs, were repeatedly inside the visitors' 15-yard line, and three times dropped pay-off passes behind the foe's goal line.

Saturday morning, both the Colts and the junior high team will meet Britt opponents on the Eagles' gridiron.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Nuehring and family of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Toft and boys were Sunday evening visitors in the Donald Stoffer home.

Eimbrink Funeral Held Here Sunday

Funeral services were conducted Sunday by Rev. J. T. Stewart at Fulton Funeral home for Carl Frederick Eimbrink of near North Platte, Neb., who passed away there on Wednesday of last week. Rites were held at North Platte on Saturday morning. A native of Belmond, Mr. Eimbrink was 49 at the time of his death.

Burial was in Belmond cemetery and military rites were performed by Eimbrink Post No. 35 of the American Legion and local Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A veteran of World War II—during which he saw service in the Pacific theatre—Carl was a brother of Harvey C. Eimbrink, for whom the Belmond Legion post was named. Harvey Eimbrink died at Fort Sill, Okla., in 1917.

Carl's father, Henry Eimbrink, passed away in 1933; and his mother, Marie Eimbrink, in 1935.

After making his home in Belmond until March of 1939, Carl Eimbrink went with his brothers Henry and Lewis to Lincoln county, Neb., where they made their home on a ranch 13 miles from North Platte.

Mr. Eimbrink was baptized in the Lutheran faith.

Surviving are his brothers in Nebraska and another brother, William F. of Belmond; a sister, Mrs. Anna Traeger of this community; one nephew and four nieces.

Housekeeper Tells About Methodist Church Home Now Open to Old People

Mrs. Holden Nelson of Fort Dodge spent Friday evening and Saturday with friends and relatives in Belmond.

Mrs. Nelson is housekeeper at Friendship Haven, the Methodist - sponsored home for old people at Fort Dodge. Lily Wilson, sister of Mrs. Nelson, is head nurse at the home.

So far, two wings of the establishment are completed, with 44 persons in residence. An individual must be at least 65 years old to be eligible for admittance to the home.

Dr. Bassett, chaplain at Friendship Haven is the oldest resident, being 91; the youngest is a 65-year-old former school teacher from Spencer.

Although Mrs. Nelson has been there only a month, she speaks highly of the home and all those living there.

It is not a charity project. Each resident must pay his own way in board and room and personal expenses, Mrs. Nelson explained.

Ready - Aim - Fire! Duck Season Here

The 1950 35-day duck season opens at 12:00 noon tomorrow (Friday) and will continue through Nov. 23. After opening day, shooting will be allowed each day from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. Bag limit is four per day, with a possession limit after the first day of eight. Only one wood duck may be had in possession at any time.

Bag and possession limit on geese is four. Not more than two of the limit may be Canada, Hutchins', cackling, or white-fronted geese. Two of any of the above may be included in the limit, or the entire bag may be made up of either blue or snow geese or any combination of them. The bag and possession limit on coot or mudhen is 10.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCord spent the weekend in Des Moines.

EASTERN STAR WORK LAST WEEK PUT ON BY GUEST OFFICERS

Belmond Chapter, No. 411, of the Order of the Eastern Star held a Friendship Meeting at a special session Wednesday evening of last week.

Following the presentation of Lulu McCoy of Williams, past Grand Ruth, and visiting worthy matrons and worthy patrons, there was an exchange march.

Guest officers who presented the initiatory work were: Mr. and Mrs. George Fetrow of Forest City, who were worthy matron and worthy patron; Fern Sandberg of Clear Lake, associate matron; George Trowbridge of Dows, associate patron; Ethel Schumacher of Thornton, secretary; Jacequeline Cole of Clarion, treasurer.

Regina Gimer of Renwick, Adah; Lulu McCoy, Ruth; Josephine Stover of Thornton, Esther; Marjorie Yenney of Renwick, Martha; Nadene Hayden of Clear Lake, Electa; Olive Louth of Thornton, warder; Harold Bryan of Williams, sentinel.

Mrs. Amos Hanson of Goodell and Mrs. Eugene Bradley became members at this time.

As guest entertainer, Mary Lou Baker sang "My Friend", accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Donald Bunnell, previous to the initiation.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to about 100 members and guests, many of whom were from visiting chapters.

BROWNIE NEWS'

Brownie Troop No. 2 met Monday after school in the hot lunch room. The girls wrote a letter to Fire Chief A. W. Johnson and R. H. Gowdy thanking them for the explanation and demonstration of the city fire fighting equipment given on Monday, Oct. 9, as Fire Prevention Week project.

The troop hiked to the city park where games were played.

Concert Planned Monday By Rural Women's Chorus

Wright County Rural Women's chorus will present a concert at the Clarion Junior High school auditorium next Monday evening at 8:00.

The program will be given in three sections: first, a group of the songs, together with excerpts from the continuity, given when the Iowa Rural Women's choruses sang in Washington, D. C., in September for the Sesqui-Centennial; second, three light numbers; and third, three sacred numbers.

BELMOND LOCALS

Thompson-McLaughlin Rites Took Place Here October 7th

Ramona Ann Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson, and John Joseph McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, were married in the St. Francis church Saturday morning, Oct. 7. Rev. R. A. Ormsby officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown with fitted bodice and a full skirt. Her veil of net, edged in lace, was held in place by a crown of seeded pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses. Her pearls, pearl earrings, and the white Bible she carried were gifts from the groom.

Mrs. Clifford Johnson played the organ and accompanied the choir.

Kaye Tracy, as the maid of honor, wore a pale yellow formal and carried a Colonial bouquet of talisman roses and white mums. Gertrude McLaughlin, sister of the groom, and Marlys Thompson, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore pink and blue formals and carried Colonial bouquets of red roses and white mums.

The best man was Tony Jones. Ushers were Kenneth Lerdal and Duane Tideback.

The bride's mother wore a tan dress, with black accessories; and the groom's mother wore a green dress with black accessories; both had a corsage of talisman roses.

The reception took place at the V. F. W. hall, which was decorated in white and yellow streamers with colored leaves. Mrs. Phil Cook and Mrs. Jim P. McLaughlin were hostesses at the bridal table. Joan Turnbull and Carmen McLaughlin were in charge of the guest book and gifts.

Marian Lee, Josephine Studebaker, Virginia Studebaker, Mrs. Chester Gunderson and Helen Busick were in charge of the lunch. Ice cream—with a yellow bell in the center—and the four-tiered wedding cake with white and yellow decorations were served.

Guests attended from Rockford, Mason City, Clarion, Klemme, Washington, Emmons, Minn., Hudson and Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McLaughlin are graduates of Belmond High school. Mrs. McLaughlin is employed at General Mills and Mr. McLaughlin is employed at Ray's Body Shop.

JOHN SMITS HONORED ON 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John Smit last Thursday were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gealow.

Participating in the event were two brothers of Mrs. Smit, Dick Katwin of New Lisbon, Wis., and Bernard Katwin of Britt and his wife; and a sister, Mrs. Dick Bunk of Lundenville, N. Y., and her husband.

Also present were the following sons and a daughter of the Smiths', with members of their families: Albert and Menno Smit of Kanawha, Dick Smit of Belmond and Mrs. Sherman Bowman of Poplar Ridge, N. Y.

In the afternoon, the group enjoyed a lunch which featured golden cake, appropriately decorated.

The guests from New York and Wisconsin were entertained last week in the Dick Smit home, and all—with the John Smits—were dinner guests of the Dick Smits on Sunday.

LAKE CORNELIA MADE STATE GAME REFUGE

By recent action of the State Conservation Commission, Lake Cornelia has been specified as a game refuge, according to Game Warden Bill Ayres, and wildlife will be protected in its vicinity.

Mr. Ayres points out that under the new status, it will be unlawful on the lake premises "to hunt, pursue, kill, trap or take any wild animal, bird or game." Firearms will be illegal on the premises, also.

Of course, under the direction of the state conservation director, it will be permissable for authorized persons to kill or trap such predatory birds or animals as might represent a hazard to other game.

Establishment of the refuge resulted from a movement started by the Wright County Izaac Walton league. Officials of the group thought it desirable to provide migratory birds with a resting place. This done, the "Ikes" reason that the birds may stay longer in this territory and give local hunters a better opportunity to harvest a share of the surplus birds.

Maribeth Norris Became Bride Of Allen E. Boyington Sunday

Maribeth Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norris, became the bride of Allen E. Boyington of Dows, son of Mrs. Jennie Boyington and the late Thad Boyington, last Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Rowan Methodist church. Rev. C. Wilbur Egeland and Rev. S. Willard Cunningham of Garner officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of yellow mums, autumn leaves and bows of blue ribbons.

Preceding the ceremony, Nina Heathershaw, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music and accompanied vocalist LeRoy A Pesch of Ames.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of slipper satin with a yoke of nylon illusion net and a Chantilly lace ruffle encircling it. The skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her nylon net fingertip veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses tied with blue ribbon. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Laurel Baines of LeMars, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a yellow moire taffeta formal with a corsage of yellow mums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. E. M. Didio of Clarion, another sister, wore a blue moire taffeta formal with a corsage of yellow roses.

Peggy Didio of Clarion and Marsha Carter of Clarion, a niece of the bride and a cousin of the groom, were ringbearers. They wore identical gowns of yellow and blue moire taffeta. The rings were carried on the arms of bride dolls.

The groom and the groomsmen, Veryl Lord of Austin, Minn., and William Barz of Dows, wore business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

Ushers were Merlynd Norris of Eagle Grove and Richard Norris, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a dark dress with fuschia accessories and a corsage of yellow mums. The groom's mother wore a rust colored suit with tan accessories and similar corsage. Mrs. Fannie Boyington of Dows, the groom's grandmother, wore a black suit and a corsage of white mums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for 120 guests. Mrs. Harold Cross of Dows, the bride's sister, had charge of the guest book.

The decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of blue and yellow. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Waitresses were Marilee Azeltine, Margrete Groom, Darline Jones, Karna Brinkman, Esther McKinley and Fonda Martin, all members of the bride's graduating class.

Those who prepared the lunch were Angie Baines, Mrs. E. B. Albro, Mrs. Carl Beyer and Mrs. Frank Peddle, all of Rowan, and Mrs. John Taylot of Clarion.

For going away, Mrs. Boyington chose a coppertone taffeta dress with green accessories. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in their new house on the Mrs. Jennie Boyington farm.

SING WITH CHORUS

The members of the school mixed quartet, Tom Aldrich, Donna Keleher, Shirley Gram and Phillip Biddle, will go to Ames Saturday to rehearse with the all-state chorus, which will sing at Des Moines later in the year. Mrs. L. A. Lieuwen, music director will accompany the group to Ames.

Mrs. Donald Lyons went to Eagle Grove Monday where she assisted her mother, Mrs. Hannah Johnson, with fall housecleaning.

Esther McKinley of Webster City visited over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Licklider attended a dinner of the Army reservists held at the Clarion Grill Monday evening. Sheila Licklider was a guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Licklider, at Goldfield.

NEW SCHOOL BUS ARRIVES

The Rowan board of education received a new school bus the first part of the week which they had previously purchased. The bus, which will be driven by Joe Biddle, has a capacity of 42 persons. This is the second new bus now owned by the school. Robert Keleher is acting as relief driver while Mr. Biddle is harvesting his crops.

JUNIORS REHEARSING

High school juniors are working on the annual class play, "The Whole Truth", which will be presented at the school gymnasium and auditorium on Nov. 3. There are 11 members in the class, and Bertha Barz, a sophomore student, has been asked to assist in the play by taking one of the parts. Mrs. Audrey Bradley of Belmond will act as the coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborn and daughter Bonnie of Fort Dodge visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers drove to Indianola Sunday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Myers. Mr. Myers' mother, Mrs. F. M. Myers, returned to Rowan with them and will spend some time visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs Burneil Jones returned Saturday from their wedding trip and are at home at the Ed Jones farm south of Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs Laurel Baines of LeMars spent the weekend at the Hannah Whitten and Ray Norris homes.

Robert Ketchum returned to his home Monday following a major spinal operation performed at St. Mary's hospital in Rochester, Minn. last week. Bob has recovered rapidly, but will not be able to work for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whitten and Ellfrieda Whitten of Mason City returned Saturday evening from a week's vacation trip to the south. They drove to Little Rock, Ark., over to Memphis, Tenn., and then back up through the Ozark region. Miss Whitten returned to her work at Mason City Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pesch had as their guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kehres and LeRoy A. Pesch of Ames, and Carl H. Pesch of Jefferson.

Douglas Pinkham went to Cedar Falls Friday evening to spend the weekend with his parents and also to attend Homecoming at Iowa State Teachers college.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rietz had as their guests Saturday and Sunday Mrs. Rietz's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Soults and Buddy of Adair.

SCHOOL HAD SURPRISE FIRE DRILL, FRIDAY

Fire Prevention Week was observed at the Rowan school when the fire department had a surprise fire drill on Friday afternoon. The building was emptied in one minute and 15 seconds. Fire Chief James K. Keleher was in charge, assisted by volunteer firemen, Karl H. Rietz, Floyd Allen and Charles Keith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinckley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Aldrich, Mrs. Nellie Hinckley and Mrs. W. C. Utz of Clarion went to Des Moines Wednesday where they attended funeral services for Mrs. Fred Sellner, the mother of Mrs. Lyle Hinckley of Prairie City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Vannoy of Goodell were dinner guests on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Deone Vannoy. The same evening they called on Mr. and Mrs. Burneil Jones.

PLAN TO ATTEND YOUTH MEETING AT CLARION

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met Sunday evening at the Bert Gram home with Shirley Gram as hostess. Plans were made to attend a youth meeting in Clarion on Oct. 29, when there will be a special speaker for members of the sub-district.

School Circus Highly Successful; Marvel Whitten, Ray Aldrich Reign

The school circus held Wednesday evening in the school gymnasium was a success from the minute the doors opened at 7:30 until the last person left the building late that night. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Clark McNeal of Belmond, who kept the program moving in his own inimitable fashion.

The opening act featured representative youth groups from the Rowan community, ending with the entire audience singing the national anthem.

The Kiddie Parade was outstanding, with about 50 entries to judge. Mrs. Clark McNeal, Mrs. Andrew Lieuwen and Mrs. John Lansing, all of Belmond, served as judges.

First and second prizes were awarded to the following: Kindergarten— Judy Swanson, 1st, Janice Steenhard, 2nd; first grade—Janet Biddle, 1st, Robert Drury and Lavern Hadley tied for second.

Second grade—John Smith, 1st, Marilyn Sturgeon, 2nd; third grade — Phyllis Steffens, 1st, Lynn Ahrends, 2nd; fourth grade—Carmen Rietz, 1st, Paul W. Rietz, 2nd.

Family group—Sandra and Jack Phifer, Arlyn and Judy Nelson, and Ruby and LaVonne Hansen, all tied for 1st, Dennis and Larry Bailey, and Paul and Harold Sanders, 2nd.

Boys from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades as "The Tumbling Kids" displayed much ability. They and their coach, Douglas Pinkham, treated the crowd to 15 minutes of thrills and tumbles. The Honey-Bunny duet—Donna Jean Keleher and Tom Aldrich—in formal and dinner jacket were encored on their performance of "Darn It, Baby, That's Love."

Girls from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades, did an excellent job of rope jumping. Coached by Chloe Hammond, the performers did both plain and fancy jumping. Featured were Norma Boyd, Marlys Steffen, Kay Whitten and Karen Azeltine.

Guest artist for the evening was Helen Kuhlman, a ten year old acrobatic baton twirler from Algona. Helen captivated the crowd with her skill and talent, as well as her personality.

The fashion show, "The Latest from Paris", literally brought down the house—as did the Ballet Modern, executed by 10 local men who would prefer to remain anonymous.

Janet Joe Biddle did two tap dance numbers, and a meteorite drill was performed by the high school and junior high boys. This was directed by John Lansing. "Austiness and Schofieldess" in the persons of Edith Lieuwen and Nina Heathershaw, played two two-piano numbers, "Doll Dance" and the "Donkey Serenade".

Circus King and Queen were Marvel Whitten and Raymond Aldrich, who were chosen by popular vote of the crowd. They were pulled into the ring by their defeated competitors, Fern Hill, Celia Groom, Rex Steffens and John Lager, in little wagons and given a corsage and boutonniere.

Concessions, lunch, pink lemonade and all the trimmings made this an outstanding event and a triumph for those who had planned it.

Much of the credit for the success goes to Supt. H. L. Pesch, who planned and directed the work, and to Mr. McNeal, who so generously gave of his time and ability. The money from the circus is to be used for school activities.

FELLOWSHIP CLASS MET AT E. C. HAUPT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Haupt were host and hostess to the members of the Fellowship Sunday School class at a pot luck supper at their home Friday evening. Rev. C. Wilbur Egeland had charge of the entertainment which consisted of pictures on the life of Florence Nightingale Quay J. Berringer of Hampton was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wenzel and Jerry and Mrs. Emma Peddle went to Waseca, Minn. Saturday morning to visit Mrs. Peddle's sister, Mrs. Kate Deppe. While they were in Minnesota they also called at Hartland on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Menefee, Sandra, Greg and Sally, former residents of this community and neighbors of the Wenzels.

Kay Whitten spent the weekend with her cousin, Melvine Weld at the Melvin Weld home near Dows.

The class in ecomonic geography taught by Principal John Lansing took a field trip to the General Mills soybean plant at Belmond Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Draves, Ronald, Ralph and Norma attended the funeral services Sunday at Dows for Mrs. Herman Pepper, Mrs. Draves' grandmother.

Earl Hammond, Oscar Holmes, and Hal Hammond of Corydon left Monday for Alliance, Nebr., on a cattle buying trip. They returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frohling left last week for a vacation trip into Canada. Mrs. Eunice Keleher is staying at the Frohling farm with the family during their absence.

Chloe and Audrey Hammond went to Ames Friday evening to visit their sister, Janice Hammond, a student at Iowa State college, and also to attend Homecoming there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Usher went to Cedar Rapids Wednesday on a business trip. They returned on Thursday morning driving a new Chevrolet sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ketchum were in Rochester, Minn., on Friday where they visited their son, Robert, a patient at St. Mary's hospital.

Baseball Team Completes Successful Fall Season

Little Connie Steffens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex L. Steffens, was ill last week suffering with a strep infection

The Rowan Trojans wound up their baseball schedule Friday by defeating the Woolstock nine on the latter's diamond, 18 to 6. It was one of the best seasons the Rowan team has had for some time, as the boys won 10 games and lost only two.

One loss was an extra-inning defeat by Meservey, 12 to 11; and the other was in the final round of the sectional tournament to Franklin Consolidated, 10 to 6.

Douglas Pinkham is the school athletic director.

L. R. Fitz is a patient in the Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond where he was taken Sunday for treatment. Mr. Fitz has not been well this fall, and only recently returned from the hospital in Des Moines where he had undergone an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitten went to Des Moines Sunday where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitten and family. They went especially to attend the dedication of the church which the Ralph Whittens attend.

COMMUNITY METHODIST CHURCH

Alexander and Latimer
Rev. E. A. Cochell, Minister

This Thursday evening, Oct. 19, the Bazaar and sale of handwork will be held at the Alexander church. Lunch will be served after the auction. All are invited.

There will be a Prayer-time each day until Dec. 10. All Methodists are asked to pray for the evangelistic meetings to be held from Dec. 1 to 10. Every Methodist church will be having revival meetings at that time. When the Angelus rings out it is time to pray.

The W. S. C. S. members are requested to read the sermon in the Methodist Woman by Dr. Bosley. Report to your Spiritual Life secretary when you read it.

The sermon next Sunday is "Christ Prayed All Night and Came Again to the Temple."

The choir wishes to thank all who contributed money and talent to the musical show. They will present the electric organ and a sacred music program in the near future. Watch for the date.

Acre of Iowa Land Tops 'em All In Production of Cash Income, Too

The average Iowa acre is earning between $4.50 and $5.00 a month, cash, the Iowa Development commission announced today. Which means that the average 160-acre farm, under good management, is bringing in $768, gross, per month.

The development commission, which keeps a close tab on Iowa's achievements, recently took a look at cash farm income in terms of earnings per acre. After a due amount of long division, it came to a conclusion it has reached frequently from other directions: Iowa farm land is the most fertile in the nation.

Last year, for example, Iowa farmers made $59.40 for each of the 34½ million acres in farms in the Hawkeye state. (Nearly 97 per cent of Iowa's land area is productive.) That figures out $4.95 per month, per acre, or $495 per month for each 100 acres of land being farmed.

In the first six months of 1950—the leaner half of the farmers' year—Iowa farm income came to $21 per acre, or $4.50 per month, per acre. That still is $450 a month for every 100 acres of farm land.

The commission hastens to remind you that the figure is gross income. Out of it the farmer must pay for power and machinery, labor, feed, feeder stock and breeding stock, before he arrives at hi sown salary and return on investment.

But it does emphasize that the Iowa farm, acre for acre, is the best in the United States.

California farmers, who till about one-third of the big state's 102 million acres, came a close second last year with $58.90 per acre. The Commission points out, though, that many Californians farm all winter as well as all summer.

Texas, which is always a top contender for the biggest total farm income, falls 'way down the scale when you divide its total income by its 141 million farm acres: Texans earn only $14.60 per acre of their fenced-in open spaces.

Illinois, which usually abstains from annual arguments about whose farmers made the most money, all told, is right up among 'em on a per-acre basis. Our neighbors to the east grossed $54.90 per acre last year.

This year, agricultural income is perking along at about the same ratio. The first six months of 1950, when Iowa farmers' income was $27 per acre, their Illinois neighbors were earning $23 per acre. Californians took in $21.40 per acre, and Texans, whose income peak is later in the year, $4.20.

On the basis of early returns, Iowa is leading in total farm income this year. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports cash farm income of $943,193,000 for Iowans from January to June. California was second, with $752,566,000; Illinois, third, with $752,344,0000, and Texas fourth with $707,245,000.

Illinois ranked second on a per-acre basis, though. Total income divided by acres in farms gives the following standings: Iowa, $4.50 per acre per month; Illinois, $3.83; California, $3.56.

Taking a look back over the records for the past 11 years (1939-1949), the development commission reported that Iowa had ranked first in total cash farm income in six of those years, second in four of them, and third last year on the preliminary returns.

California has ranked first four times, and second in seven years. Texas, which is now in first place for last year, ranked third in eight of the previous years, and fourth in two of the years.

LOCAL FFA OFFICERS AT NATIONAL MEETING

Officers af the Belmond chapter of Future Farmers of America with their adviser, Duane Sandage attended the national FFA convention at Kansas City the early part of last week, returning home Wednesday.

Among the highlights of the national meeting were talks by Charles Brannan, proponent of the much-discussed Brannan Plan for agriculture, and Sen. Clifford Hope, co-author of the Hope-Aiken farm bill.

Another major feature of the occasion was an evening's entertainment provided by the Firestone Rubber company, which starred Hollywood celebrities and others prominent in the show world.

Expenses of the boys' trip to the convention was shared by the local FFA chapter out of proceeds from chapter fund-raising projects. The officers making the trip were Jim Riekens, Alvin Halfpap, Louis Oberhauser, Marlyn Watermiller and Clelan Redmond.

65 YEARS

Picking Wet Corn Too Quickly Will Up Spoilage Loss

Farmers with soft corn who don't have artificial drying equipment can save much of it that would spoil if they will just leave it in the field until it's dry enough to store and then observe a few points when picking. This is the suggestion of C. H. Van Vlack, extension agricultural engineer of Iowa State college.

He points out that corn on the stalk will dry a lot faster than it will in the crib. One good drying day in the field is worth 10 in the crib.

Corn is not safe to crib until the moisture content is less than 20 to 25 percent. Even then a farmer has to be careful with it, either feeding it early or moving it if carried over to warm weather, Van Vlack points out.

He thinks farmers are better off to leave 25 to 30 percent moisture corn in the field until spring if necessary than to put it into the crib. If cribbed, that kind of corn is likely to spoil except in very cold weather.

Crib ventilators, plans for which are available at county offices, will speed up drying in the crib.

Clean corn will dry faster than corn picked dirty, so Van Vlack suggests equipping the picker with a fan to blow out husks, silk and chaff. For the same reason the elevator should be equipped with a screen to keep out shelled corn and dirt when cribbing, and the elevator spout moved often when filling a crib.

Other points suggested by Van Vlack are these: pick the most mature sections of a field first, leaving soft corn to dry in the field. Sort corn to keep soft ears out of the crib. Stay out of the field when husks and silks are wet from frost, snow or rain.

UNLUCKY

Gene Coil of LeMars is getting skeptical about Friday the 15th. Last week, his new Mercury was demolished on a trip to Chicago, on Friday the 15th. Just a year ago, Mr. Coil smashed up another Mercury when it went out of control and ran into a pile of concrete.

SQUIRRELS

Squirrels have not been the only casualties since the season opened recently. Allamakee county law enforcement officers are seeking squirrel hunters who killed a valuable purebred Holstein heifer on the Leo Hawes farm. Apparently, some one mistook it for a squirrel, which is not easy. At Chariton, 17 year old William Adams went squirrel hunting and shot himself in the leg.

Corn-n-Bean Day Salutes
A Couple of Swell Neighbors

We'd like to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by Corn-n-Bean Day to speak a word of appreciation in behalf of two of the event's co-sponsors.

It is entirely appropriate that the Chamber of Commerce has chosen soybeans and corn as the theme of this autumn occasion in recognition of Belmond's two major industries, General Mills "bean plant" and Thompson Hybrid Corn company.

Both concerns have made important contributions to the economic well being of our community—and, as a special bonus, their management and personnel have added much to our social life.

Belying the popular conception of the "soulless corporation," General Mills, as represented by its local officials, has taken a genuine interest in Belmond and has been consistently generous towards and helpful with community undertakings.

Thompson Hybrid, of course, has been somewhat "Belmond's baby" and the town naturally takes pride in the steady if unspectacular growth of the enterprise. On the other hand, Thompson's has always demonstrated its gratitude for the backing it has received from its "home town" and has been a strong Belmond booster.

GMI and Thompson Hybrid are a couple of mighty fine outfits and we should all be gratified to have them as friends and neighbors.

Businessman Getting Real Break
In Eligibility for Social Security

On January 1, independent business proprietors will for the first time become eligible for the benefits of Social Security. We're inclined to wonder if all of them—or even a majority of them—will apreciate what a break this represents. It's an insurance bargain that the small-business owner can ill afford to pass up.

The Labor Relations Information Bureau offers a typical example to show what a business proprietor stands to gain. Say he's 40 years old when he becomes eligible for coverage, and his wife is 38. His life expectancy at the retirement age of 65 is 173 months. If he lives out his normal life span, he would receive $13,840 in monthly payments. His wife, at 65, would normally have 211 months left to her. She would receive through Social Security, from 65 to her death, $9,680. Together their pension benefits would total $23,520—all of it TAX FREE—at $80 per month to the man and $40 to his wife (or $60 as a widow).

If he dies before reaching retirement age, and while there are children in the family less than 18 years of age, his widow and children will receive generous monthly benefits until the youngest attains the age of 18. His wife, at any rate, will draw benefits when she reaches 65.

One attractive aspect of Social Security lies in the fact that, with its help, many a businessman can afford to supplement the government benefits with private insurance to a degree that will assure his wife a fairly adequate lifetime income in the event of the breadwinner's untimely death. Also, with the help of personal insurance he will find it possible to guarantee himself and his wife a satisfactory retirement income to enjoy if he does live out his normal span of years. Either of these goals is beyond the reach of most small-business proprietors through private insurance, alone.

All this brings up the question of what Social Security coverage will cost. The businessman gets a break on this, too. His tax will be two and a quarter per cent of his first $3,600 for each of the next three years. For the following six, it would be three per cent of the first $3,600 (tax is not payable on more than that maximum amount). After nine years, the tax is intended to rise to four and seven-eighths per cent; whether or not it will actually go to this figure, only the future can tell. Scheduled increases have been regularly postponed by Congress in the past.

Returning to our 40-year-old business man and his wife, age 38, we find that tax on the full maximum of $3,600 each year until he reaches 65 would aggregate between $2,025 and $3,429—depending on whether the tax rate rises and how rapidly it rises.

There are many ins and outs to this matter of Social Security, and all phases of it certainly cannot be considered in the small space here available. However, it's a matter every business proprietor should be giving thought. If he understands what's at stake, we're sure he'll place himself under Social Security promptly at the first of the year.

Population Shift to Urban Areas
Emphasizes Need for Redistricting

It appears quite likely that the decade which we are now entering will see the culmination of a trend that has been in progress for well over half a century in the state of Iowa. That is, the 1960 census will most likely find Iowa with a majority of its population living in urban centers.

On the basis of unofficial 1950 census reports, 53.1 per cent of the state's population is rural and 46.9 is urban. A steady shift toward urban living has been perceptible in all of the last seven decennial census reports. The rural-living ratio of 78.8 to 21.2 in 1890 had descended to 57.3 to 42.7 by 1940 and is still undergoing a steady decline.

Besides its significance in many other respects, the trend toward urban living gives promise of forcing to a climax a political conflict that has "grown up" with the state. Territorial representation in the legislature is inevitably due for a shake-up.

The contention has always been that a legislature of predominantly urban representatives would not so jealously guard the many long-enjoyed prerogatives of the rural population, which the general assembly up to date has sternly defended. The time is not far distant, now, when spokesmen for town and city dwellers will be able to declare that "the tail is wagging the dog".

For example, amongst the 50 Senatorial districts in the state there are nine that have a population larger than the TOTAL population of the THREE smallest. Or take our own Senatorial district —the 37th—which includes Wright, Hardin and Hamilton counties. There are nine districts (two encompassing a single county, and seven that include two) which have less than one-half the population of the 37th district.

Similiar inequities exist in the Representative districts, which are constitutionally limited to 108 in number. Probably little can or should be done on this score, except to increase the number of two-representative counties to include those that are now grossly under-represented.

Of course, much argument has already taken place on this matter of just representation. But concrete study of the matter should be undertaken to clear the way for more equitable representation of urban areas in the state senate. After all, fair representation is an important foundation stone of democracy.

We see where politicos of influence in Republican circles are taking great delight in the failure of Alben Barkley to shred the characters of GOP candidates in the states he's visited. Watch it, Alben. If you can't play the game dirty, don't play it at all!

A void has been left in the program of fall activities by passing of the old-time corn husking contest. The mechanical corn-picker put a prompt end to this test of endurance and skill. Such is the price of progress. On the other hand, we never heard of an arm—or a life—being lost through a husking peg.

SAFETY SAKE
BE ALERT - DON'T GET HURT!

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Ever see a man rip off his own fingers? Or tear off his own hand?

If the picture above were a movie instead of a still shot you might see just that! This man is disregarding everything that the manufacturer warns against in the use of a corn-picker.

Maybe an ear of corn got jammed in there or a couple of stalks got twisted around a moving part. Anyway the manufacturers says to stop the rolls before cleaning out the machine, but this man is in a hurry. So he leaves the rolls running while he starts cleaning out the machine with his hands.

If a corn-picker can twist off one ear of corn after another, and husk them too, surely a couple of fingers or a human hand won't be too much for it to handle!

There were 434 corn-picker accidents reported on Iowa farms in 1948; about 261 last year. This year remember the urgent plea of "Be alert—Don't get hurt! Stop the rolls to clean out your corn-picker!"

It's a wonderful machine, the corn-picker, like all modern farm machinery. It'll make your work cleaner, faster, more profitable and safer, too, if you'll do your part.

Remember: Stop the rolls to clean out your corn-picker!

Historical Group Met on Oct. 7th; Seeking Members

Twenty-seven persons attended a meeting of the Wright County Historical society held the evening of Oct. 7 at Clarion. Articles of incorporation were completed and will be ready for filing when signed by two members of the board who were absent from the gathering.

Cases for filing historical data are being purchased by the society from the Farm Bureau and the county board of supervisors has agreed to provide the historical group with space for the cases in the courthouse lobby.

A membership committee of three was appointed, including Aaron Bowman and Mrs. C. McBride of Clarion and Josephine Uhr of Eagle Grove, the society's secretary. Dues are $1.00 per family, and anyone interested in joining is asked to contact one of the three persons named.

Miss Uhr says that material is desired from The Clarion Clipper, The Goldfield Chronicle and the Times-Gazette from the year 1906 on, that might shed light on development of the 4-H movement. R. C. Richardson of Clarion is gathering this data.

At the recent meeting, Jesse Hartsock of Goldfield read a paper on the first settlers, first church and early buildings in her community, dating back to 1853. Historical documents she has in her personal collection include valuable papers on early land purchases.

With three backfield regulars missing for all or part of the game, Belmond proved no match for Lake Mills at the Bulldogs' Homecoming as the host team romped to a 27-0 victory Friday night.

Dave Helland, regular quarterback, had been sick for several days prior to the fray and was unable to make the trip. Jack Riggs suffered an ankle injury early in the second quarter and saw only a few seconds of action thereafter; and Clelan Redmond was hurt in the third period and had to sit out the balance of the one-sided struggle.

Although the Broncos had possession of the ball for 50 plays, compared to 31 for the Bulldogs, the Belmond team spent almost as much time going backwards as forwards. Lake Mills' supremacy is illustrated by its net yardage of 244, compared to the Broncos' balance of 41 yards.

Each team fumbled seven times, the Bulldogs losing the ball in this manner four times and Belmond twice.

Belmond's most glaring weakness was a failure to block. Slipshod tackling also marked the Broncos' play. Odean Severseike was about only Bronc lineman who showed any degree of consistency in the way of defensive efforts. Bill Trees turned in some commendable work—particularly in the first half—and Dick Simpson and Howie Wagner occasionally broke through for nice tackles.

Lake Mills got its first score towards the end of the opening quarter when Eldean Matheson slipped out of the arms of one tackler after another and raced 80 yards to pay dirt. A pass from Dale Thoe to Jim Kingland made it 7-0.

Some nice punting by Don Faris helped keep the Bulldogs at bay for the remainder of the first half and Jack Riggs staved off the most serious threat by intercepting a Lake Mills pass on Belmond's 10-yard line.

Soon after play was resumed in the third quarter, Charles Platts recovered a Bronco fumble on Belmond's 27 and on the second play following, Matheson raced around end to score. An end sweep by Thoe put the Bulldogs ahead 14-0.

Fumbles hampered both teams during the remainder of the third stanza, but late in the quarter Lake Mills initiated a 50-yard drive that brought a tally on the second play of the final period. A pass from Matheson to Kingland upped the score to 20-0. An end sweep failed to net the extra point.

On the first play after the kick-off, Lake Mills intercepted a Bronco pass but then fumbled. The net result was a three-yard gain for Belmond. The reprieve was only momentary, though, for two plays later Marvin Belville again snatched a pitch by Faris and ran 28 yards to the goal stripe without a hand being laid on him. Matheson's plunge made it 27-0.

In the waning moments of the game, with the Bulldog line-up well sprinkled with substitutes, Belmond advanced the ball from their own 20 to Lake Mills' 21-yard line in a sustained 59-yard drive. But with first-and-10 at that point, the Broncs lost 26 yards on four downs to wipe out the scoring chance.

Garner Jr. High Defeats Outweighed Local Team By Scoring After Fumble

Although outweighed by a considerable margin, Belmond's junior high team gave Garner's Gardinal Chicks the toughest kind of a scrap last Thursday afternoon before bowing 13 to 7 on a costly break.

The visitors boasted three backs that were definitely "varsity size". One of them, a 189-pound fullback, accounted for both of the winners' touchdowns.

In the first quarter, the burly ball-toter plodded 30 yards around end for Garner's opening tally. A repeat of the same play chalked up the extra point.

Belmond drew even in the second stanza on a scintillating 70-yard sprint by Gary Dippel after breaking into the secondary inside his right tackle. Gene Mehl carried for the extra point that deadlocked the count at 7-all.

In the final quarter, as a Belmond drive had advanced to Garner's 35-yard line, a fumbled lateral was nabbed by the Cards' fullback and converted into the winning TD. A plunge failed to chalk up the extra point.

Although his boys were outscore,d, Coach Don Bunnell reports they were definitely not out scrapped and he was very proud of their performance.

Belmond	1	3	.250
Northwood	1	3	.250

After a look at what Forest City did to Buffalo Center last weekend, it appears that the Broncos' only chance of holding the Indians before Friday night's Homecoming crowd may be to plant land mines at strategic points about the gridiron.

Forest City scored all of its five touchdowns in their 32-13 win over the Bison on long, break-away runs that aggregated a neat total of 325 yards. In the first quarter the Indians gained a two-touchdown lead on jaunts of 52, 53 and 75 yards, in the third period added a 63-yard gallop and finished off with an 82-yard scoring dash in the final stanza.

The victory put Forest City at the top of the conference heap, the lone undefeated team. Lake Mills' 27-0 win over Belmond left the Bulldogs with a chance to share in the NI championship if they can get by the improving Britt eleven this week at Britt, Garner the week following and Forest City in the season's finale.

That is a big order for the Bulldogs, however; they may even find those Britt Eagles a stumbling block. Northwood's Vikings bowed last Friday to the Eagles, 13 to 7. In the other game involving an NI team last week, Nora Springs dumped Garner by a 13-0 count. The Cardinals are idle in loop play again this Friday, while Buffalo Center endeavors to rally from that Forest Ciy defeat in a joust with the Vikings at Northwood.

Shopping for a service is unnecessary

Plain-spoken truths concerning our prices should be given wide circulation. In arranging with us for a service a family employs the same discretion it uses in purchasing its many widely differing needs. We will show you how to choose a service of memorable beauty without spending beyond your means.

Feel free to ask questions about our service. We are here to answer them.

Gunnar Kling, homestead credit add.	1.67

Motion was made by Henry, seconded by Fisher, that Orville K. West be appointed Justice of the Peace for Clarion Township to fill vacancy, and that his official Bond be approved. Motion carried.

Motion by Greenlander, seconded by Henry, that Homestead Credit application No. 2694, previously disallowed through error, be allowed. Motion carried.

Motion by Fisher, seconded by Henry, that the following applications for Homestead Credit previously allowed, be disallowed by numbers as follows: Nos. 154, 2431, 2462, 2537, 2628, 2849, and 3015. Motion carried.

Whereas, Wright County, Iowa, acquired title to the North 44 feet of Lots Seven (7) and Eight (8) and the South 16 feet of Lots one (1) and Two (2), in Block Six (6), Original Town of Clarion, Iowa, from the United States Government and said property was included in the plat and dedication of the Town of Grant in Wright County, Iowa, which bears date October 30, 1865; and

Whereas, Wright County, Iowa, attempted by deeds recorded in Book 2, pages 15 and 45, of the Town Lot Deed Records of Wright County, Iowa, to convey said property to subsequent purchasers thereof; and,

Whereas, some question has arisen as to the validity of said deeds and as to the sufficiency of the acts of the county officials executing the same to convey away the title of Wright County, Iowa, in said properties; and,

Whereas, Emma Pinion and Viola P. Stenstrom are now and for many years passed have been the actual owners of said real estate and have been paying the taxes thereon; and,

Whereas, Wright County, Iowa, has no interest whatever in said property; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, that George S. Trowbridge as Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, be and he is hereby directed to sign and execute a quit claim deed for said real estate to said Emma Pinion and Viola P. Stenstrom and upon the signing and execution thereof, he shall return the same to thir Board for approval.

Be it further resolved that Roger E. Charlson, Auditor of said county, be and he is hereby authorized and directed to attach the seal of said county to said instrument and attest the same by his signature.

Supervisor Henry moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution, and Supervisor Greenlander seconded the motion.

Upon roll call, all members present voted in favor of the motion and thereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the resolution adopted.

Whereas, by prior resolution, the Chairman of this Board was directed to sign and execute a quit claim deed for the North 44 feet of Lots Seven (7) and Eight (8), and the South 16 feet of Lots one (1) and Two (2), in Block Six (6), Original Town of Clarion, Iowa, to Emma Pinion and Viola P. Stenstrom and to thereafter submit such deed to this Board for approval; and,

Whereas, said resolution further directed the County Auditor of this county, Roger E. Charlson, to affix the seal of the county thereto and to attest to the execution of said instrument by his signature; and,

Whereas, said deed has been so executed, attested and sealed and has now been returned to this Board for approval and it appearing to the Board that said deed in all respects complies with the former resolution ordering the same; now, therefore,

Be it resolved that the said deed be and the same is hereby approved by this Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor Pinkham moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution which was seconded by Supervisor Henry.

Upon call of the roll, all members present voted in favor of the resolution and thereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the resolution adopted.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Greenlander, that a non-resident notice be served on John Gray, 504 South Lucas, Eagle Grove, Iowa. Motion carried.

Moved by Henry, seconded by Greenlander, that the quarterly reports of fees collected by the following officers be approved: County Recorder, Clerk of the District Court, Sheriff and County Auditor. Motion carried.

Minutes were read and approved.

On motion meeting adjourned to October 16, 1950.

GEO. S. TROWBRIDGE, Chairman,
ROGER E. CHARLSON, Co. Auditor.

Increase Corn Profits WITH THE FAMOUS DEARBORN-WOOD BROS. CORN PICKER

AMERICA'S FAVORITE

● THE RESULT OF 50 YEARS of Wood Bros. experience, this picker is America's favorite. FAST; corn moves through freely. SAVES LOSSES by lifting downed corn, fewer dropped ears, less shelling. HUSKS THOROUGHLY, delivers trash-free undamaged ears. PULLS EASILY; can be used with any two-plow tractor with A.S.A.E. standard P.T.O. and hitch. And ECONOMICAL!

New Spiral Husking Bed Feed

Flexible fingered steel spirals spread snapped ears over ALL husking rolls.

Flexible Floating Points with 3 Gathering Chains

Picker can be raised, lowered and points tilted up or down. As it is a one-row picker, points can always be kept centered on row, even in rows as narrow as 26".

Exclusive Rotary Snapping Bar

Snaps any ears missed by the snapping rolls. Also handles heavy trash that might clog. Only Dearborn-Wood Bros. has it!

Once there was a proud father, who had a little girl. And he loved his little girl a great deal.

As he trudged home from work one day he thought of all the things he would like to give her —things that would make her very happy.

But he wasn't a rich father. Until payday all he could afford was a lolly-pop.

As she licked her lolly-pop she smiled at him—and he smiled, too. She was very happy. And he was glad he had given her a lolly-pop!

The next Sunday he took his little girl to Sunday School . . . and he and Mother began attending Church.

Years later, when his little girl had become a "lady", she smiled at him one day—and he smiled, too. She was very happy. And he was glad he had given her more than lolly-pops! He had given her the finest gift of all—faith in God's love.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pamphlet Provides Tips On Setting Corn Picker To Cut Harvest Losses

A new Iowa State college pamphlet, "Adjusting the Corn Picker," is available at the county extension office in Clarion. County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman says it contains a lot of practical information to help a farmer reduce corn harvest losses, which vary all the way from two- to 25 percent according to unofficial class studies made by the agricultural engineering department of Iowa State college in 1948 and 1949.

The bulletin prepared by Dale Hull, extension agriculture engineer, covers timing of gathering chains, adjustment of slip clutches, snapping roller adjustments, adjustments that can be made on the husking bed and how to estimate field losses. It includes a simple guide for adjusting the snapping rollers to fit varying field conditions.

In a section on analyzing husking difficulties, the pamphlet points out five conditions that may cause excessive shelling (1) Snapping rollers improperly spaced—usually too far apart; (2) husking rollers worn so smooth that passage of the stalk is slowed down at the time the ear is snapped, resulting in the ear being held against the snapping rollers too long

(3) snapping roller speed too fast or too slow; (4) driving too fast in heavy corn and failing to keep the machine on the row; and (5) too many lugs or set screws used with damp or abnormal husking conditions.

Bowman says that careless driving and failure in keeping the machine on the row probably is the greatest cause of picker losses. Those factors also cause pickers to plug.

"Friends of Scouting" Campaign for Funds Opens Here Today

Goal For Belmond This Year $1000

Ellis Elliott, local chairman, announces that the annual "Friends of Scouting" campaign to raise funds for the Winnebago Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will be launched here today (Thursday). Clark McNeal is Wright county campaign chairman.

The Belmond campaign was to kick off with a breakfast for all workers at the school hot lunch room at 7:30 a. m. All workers received their supplies at this time and it is hoped that a large part of the campaign will be completed by 6 p. m. This year's goal in Belmond is $1,000.

The council goal is $42,275 and is based on the anticipated budget needs for 1951. Over 100 persons participated in the planning of the budget.

Every institutional representative, the men who officially represent the Pack, Troop or Explorer unit sponsoring institutions on the council—all council members-at-large and county representatives were invited to participate in the budget planning conference held last June.

In July they were again invited to participate in further discussions on the budget. In August the Executive Board reviewed the budget once more and in early September all communities were requested to send their campaign chairmen or other delegates to the final planning session.

The budget for 1951 is a figure which represents the thinking and agreement of people from all sections of the Winnebago Council in regard to the needs of the Scouting program in this area in 1951.

Sam Torgeson, Lake Mills, Council Finance Chairman, has given the leadership to the budget planning program and is chairman of the campaign.

Mr. Torgeson says that, in his opinion, there never has been a time when the youth of America needs the teachings of Scouting more than they do today. Consequently, he believes citizens should give generously of themselves and their funds for the leadership of youth.

LOCAL INTRODUCTION OF COMMUNITY CHEST POSTPONED TILL 1951

Because of complexity of organizing a community Chest Council, with proper authorization to conduct a fund raising campaign and handle the collected funds, the Community Chest planning committee has regretfully decided that inauguration of a local Chest must be delayed until next year.

Plans to establish a Belmond Community Chest met very general approval, but it was discovered that considerably more groundwork would be required than had been anticipated. Rather than risk failure do to incomplete planning, the decision was made to postpone inauguration of the Community Chest as a local agency.

This decision having been made, it will be necessary for the customary individual fund-raising campaigns to be conducted in Belmond this year. First of the series is the "Friends of Scouting" campaign, which opens today. The Community Chest planning committee urges support of this and succeeding drives and expresses the hope that all can be consolidated in the fall of 1951.

We hear that Dwight Tyrrell came within an ace of buying himself a $140 hog at Joe Duea's sale last Saturday night, without the slightest intention of acquiring possession of the animal. While the sale was in progress, Dwight waved a greeting to a friend who'd just arrived and the auctioneer accepted the gesture as a bid. It was with considerable relief that Dwight heard a higher price offered by another spectator.

Ben T. Benson brought to The Independent office last week a super-carrot weighing a pound and 12 ounces, which he'd plucked that morning from his garden. Wotta start toward a mess of carrot salad!

—M-S—

We'll put the Independent's best guesser in the Corn-n-Bean contest up against any other prize winner in town. Albert Smit gets the free year's subscription and $2.00 in passes to the New Belmond theatre (though we suspect from the handwriting in which the guess was registered that Mrs. Smit was actually responsible for its accuracy).

A careful count of the soybeans in our bottle revealed a total of 1,119. And the winner's guess? 1,110! That's an error of eight-tenths of one per cent—better than fair guessing in anybody's league.

Due to too much bustle in getting the paper belatedly to press last week, a line of type got in the wrong place in the announcement of the birth of a new daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNutt. In the belief that a youngster deserves to get her name in RIGHT the first time (even if it never happens again), we wish to announce that little Miss McNutt's correct name is Patricia Dawn. She weighed in at six pounds and 15 ounces.

Bob McClure KNOWS it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Sunday evening he underwent an emergency appendectomy at Steele memorial hospital. Monday he was to have reported to Des Moines for his draft physical exam. Bob gloatingly suggested to his doctor that the offending vermiform might be bottled and delivered to the examination center on the appointed day with the terse comment, "Body will follow".

"SCOOP" SPARROW
Our Feathered "Private Eye"

• • • •

As of last weekend, The Independent has a new reporter on the staff in the person of "Scoop" Sparrow. "Scoop" is the well known "little bird" that sees all, knows all, tells all. So we warn you, one and all, you'd better "fly right". Even your innermost secrets will be an open book to Main Street since we acquired "Scoop" as an operative.

When Duane Anderson last weekend found "Scoop" restlessly pacing from one end to the other of the bar on the editor's typewriter, not knowing he was merely keeping an appointment with Pat Gallagher, he openly suggested that there was a deeper meaning to the sparrow's interest in the partly finished editorial in the machine.

It so happened that the editorial consisted of a pot shot at the Democrats, and Anderson has always maintained that our anti-Fair Deal critiques are "strictly for the birds" — to coin a phrase.

Anyway, just bear in mind that hereafter "Scoop" holds the status of Main Street's private Watch Bird. And don't forget for a minute — THE WATCH BIRD'S WATCHING YOU ! ! !

Duea's Prize Gilt Brings $400; Sale Saturday Grosses $5,625

About $5,625 was realized on animals offered for auction at the highly successful Duroc boar and gilt sale conducted by Joe Duea at his farm last Saturday evening. An estimated 250 buyers and spectators attended the sale and prices compared very favorably with similar sales in the state this fall.

Top price of the sale was brought by Fleetline Bell, reserve junior champion gilt at this year's Iowa state fair, who was bid in by Fenmar Farms of Orion, Ill., for $400. A littermate brought the top sale price for boars, going to the Iowa Falls Duroc Breeders association —an F. F. A. cooperative group—for $330.

Three other animals from this litter, bred by the Iowa junior champion boar of 1947, which is owned by Art Arens of Hartington, Neb., drew down fine prices. Two boars brought $180 and $160 respectively, and another gilt was bid in for $215.

Over all average price per offering was $112.25, including animals consigned by Dale Hauge of Belmond and J. R. Caputo of Granger. Duea's own offerings averaged $125 per head, which was highly satisfactory to Joe.

Especially fine boars were bought by Herman F. Anderson of Des Moines for $260, and Paul Brothers of Dallas Center, for $215. These animals were from a litter borne by a sow Joe purchased last winter from Fenmar Farms.

All told, 17 of the 34 animals put up for auction by Duea were purchased by Duroc breeders, which speaks well for the reputation the Belmond breeder has acquired among his fellow Duroc fanciers.

Art Arens, the Nebraska breeder—regarded as one of the top Duroc men in the middle west—purchased a Duea gilt and boar consigned by Dale Hauge. The latter offered four boars at the sale, which went for a nice average of $102.

Largest single purchasers at the sale were L. B. Oberhauser and his son, Louis. Between them they bid in six of the purebreds to add to their herd.

JUNIORS TO PRESENT PLAY ON NOVEMBER 3; CAST MEMBERS PICKED

College high jinks, plus a concerted campaign by a group of youngsters to "save the old homestead" they've inherited, provide the spice and the plot for this year's B. H. S. Junior Class play, "Good Night, Ladies," which will take to the boards on Nov. 3.

Heading the cast are Mary Lou Baker as Helen Raleigh, a senior at Grayson college; Betty Henderson as Jane Raleigh, her younger sister; Alvin Halfpap, their brother, Sam, enrolled at State; Odean Severseike as "Jug" Brown, Jane's boy friend; and Michael O'Connor as a Grayson professor.

Halloween Event Monday At Center School No. 5

Pupils of Mrs. Everett Anderson at Belmond township Center School No. 5 will present a Halloween program at the schoolhouse next Monday evening, starting at 8:00 o'clock. Lunch will be served and Mrs. Anderson issues a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Besides recitations and songs by the students, the program will feature the youngsters in two playlets. Those who will participate in the program are Barbara, Gwen and Mickey Polmateer, Everett Toft, Sandra Swenson, and Phyllis, Sandra and Eloise Soma.

Miss Darrah Broke Bone In Foot Friday Evening

Gladys Darrah fractured a bone in her left foot when she stepped in a hole while leaving the football field Friday night following the Homecoming game. But yesterday she was back at her duties as junior high school principal, with the aid of a pair of crutches.

Thinking she had only suffered a severe sprain, Miss Darrah did not seek medical attention for her injury until Monday. X-rays taken at Steele Memorial hospital revealed the fracture.

She remained in the hospital the remainder of Monday and all of Tuesday, but—equipped with a cast on the injured member—she was released Wednesday morning.

SOME FELLOWS SIMPLY HAVE NO LUCK!

Chet Hill, who lives out by St. Olaf church, informed his family Saturday morning that he was going out and collect some fresh fowl for the table, grabbed his single-barreled shotgun and departed. In one of his own fields he spotted a flock of migrating geese, got a bead on them and fired Chet's still cursing his luck that he didn't have an automatic—or at least a double-barreled gun. The geese took off before he could reload and get in a second shot. And he only got TWO with that one and only effort!

Halloween Party For Kids Planned

All youngsters of school age in Belmond are invited to attend a Halloween party next Tuesday evening at the Veterans' Memorial hall, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The V. F. W., American Legion and Chamber of Commerce are jointly sponsoring the affair, and fun for all—tots to teen-agers—is promised. The proceedings will wind up at 10:00 p. m.

Festivities will get underway with the showing of a sound movie for all the party-goers. Just what the film will be has not been announced, but one of general interest is being obtained by Supt. Don Faris.

Costumes will be the order of the evening, and cash prizes will be awarded for the best outfits in each of three classes, separate awards being provided for both boys' and girls' divisions. There will be three age groups: youngsters through fifth grade, boys and girls in sixth through eighth grades, and those of high school age.

After the movie and costume judging, juke box dancing will occupy the high schoolers, upstairs in the Vets' hall; and games will provide entertainment for the younger children in the basement. Cash prizes will also be presented to the winners of the various games.

Refreshments will be provided by the joint committee in charge of the party—likely consisting of apples, candy bars and pop. On the planning committee are Bob Churchouse and Earl Cronk, representing the Vets; Jack Shepard and Fred Fulton, Legion; A. P. Thompsen and George Hansen, Chamber of Commerce. Parents of the younger children will be welcome to accompany their tots to the party.

RUN OVER BY TRUCK

Word has been received here that the 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw of Story City, former Belmond residents, recently suffered a broken leg when run over by a truck. Young Michael is reportedly on the mend at the Webster City hospital.

ATTEND STOCK SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. Galen H. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson attended the American Royal livestock and horse show at Kansas City over the weekend.

Rep. J. I. Dolliver Will Speak Here Saturday; Bateson, McNeal Also to Appear at GOP Rally

In Marines at 15, Student Recalled After 2 Mos. 'Out'

John Hogenson is scheduled to report to Des Moines tomorrow to take a physical examination for re-entry into the Marine Corps. He is in the Marine Reserve, having been discharged only about three months ago.

The son of Mrs. Henrietta Hogenson, John enlisted in the corps on his 15th birthday—July 16, 1947—by begging the truth a bit on his age. He'd finished only his freshman year at Belmond High school, but continued his school studies by correspondence while in the service.

He successfully met the requirements for entrance as a student at Luther college, Decorah, and has been enrolled there since the start of the fall term. He planned to attend classes through this afternoon, even though he's due to depart immediately for Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., if he passes his physical.

John has a notion that his prompt recall to active service might have been avoided had the Marine Corps known he was only 18 on the day of his discharge. But the Marine records list him as 20—and he's not sure just what to do about THAT.

4-H Award Night Next Wednesday

Ted Hutchcroft, 4-H International Farm Youth Exchange delegate from Mediapolis, Iowa, will present slides and a commentary on his European tour at a 4-H award night supper next Wednesday at 7:00 p. m. at the Clarion Methodist church. Ted spent several months in Europe living and working with farm families.

Accompanying Ted will be a foreign exchange student from Sweden, who is attending Iowa State college. An Iowa State male quartet will provide entertainment during supper. Bob Crom, farm service director of radio station KGLO, Mason City, will be master of ceremonies.

A number of cash awards, medals, prizes and certificates will be presented to outstanding 4-H members on the basis of their past year's work.

All Farm Project 4-H members, their parents, leaders and county committee members are invited. Reservations must be made by this Saturday.

BELMOND BOOSTERS MEET

The Belmond Boosters 4-H club met Thursday evening at the home of Beverly and Bud Lerdal with 15 members, two visitors and one leader present. A business meeting was held and lunch served.

County Must Send 12 More Draftees

Induction call has been received by the Wright county local Selective Service board for 12 men to be ordered to Des Moines on Nov. 29 for induction into the armed forces.

With the eight men who were to report for induction on Wednesday of this week and the same number who were drafted in September, November's quota will boost the number of Wright county selectees since reactivation of the draft to 28.

Mrs. Elaine Schmidt, clerk for the draft board, announces further that there has been a request from state headquarters that 16 more men be ordered to report for examination on Nov. 6.

On Friday of next week, the local Selective Service office will be closed all day while members of the board and the clerk attend a conference at Charles City.

Draft officials from 20 counties will at that time be given latest information on all phases of classification, personal appearances, appeals, postponement of inductions, administrative procedures and related subjects.

Members of the Wright county board who will attend the meeting, along with the clerk, are L. W. Murray of Belmond, H. V. Schoonover of Eagle Grove and Leon Stark of Clarion.

TUDOR BACK FROM TRIP

Hubert Tudor returned home last week after attending the National Dairy Exposition at Indianapolis, Ind., in the company of Charles Finn of Bridgeport, Wis., and Lester Morley of Finance, Wis. Mr. Tudor purchased a Jersey heifer calf at the show to add to his fine Jersey herd. He and his friends traveled through a number of eastern states before their return home, ranging as far south as Georgia.

James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, Iowa congressman from the sixth district, will be the main speaker at a Republican rally to be held Saturday at the I. O. O. F. hall, starting at 8:00 p. m. Sponsor of the gathering is the Belmond Republican Women's organization.

Two other GOP candidates besides Mr. Dolliver, who is seeking his fourth term in the house of representatives at the November election, will appear on the program. They are R. R. Bateson of Eldora and Clark McNeal.

Mr. Bateson, incumbent from the 37th state senatorial district, is running for his first full term in the general assembly after election in 1947 to fill the vacancy left by appointment of G. R. Hill of Clarion to the district court bench.

Belmond's own candidate for the general assembly, Clark McNeal, in seeking the post of state representative from Wright county, is making his first race for public office above the level of city council.

A nephew of the late Sen. Jonathan P. Dolliver, the Fort Dodge congressman can boast of a family background rich in political tradition. He was a teacher before entering the bar in 1922 and first ran for elective office in 1925, when he became county attorney for Webster county. Having been a member of the Army Signal corps in World War I, he has taken an active interest in veterans' affairs.

Like the guest U. S. representative, Mr. Bateson is a lawyer. There are other points of similarity. The Eldora legislator is a former county attorney — for Hardin county; he is a veteran and has been actively interested in the American Legion; and, like Mr. Dolliver, he is a member of the Masonic lodge. He has also taken a keen interest in Boy Scout work.

Although Mr. McNeal has not previously sought a general elective office, he has been an active worker in behalf of the Republican party in past years and is known in GOP circles throughout the state.

Members of the Republican Women's group issue a cordial invitation to the public to attend the Saturday night rally and take advantage of the opportunity to hear the three candidates and make their acquaintance.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served after a question and answer period which is scheduled to follow the candidates' remarks.

Studebaker Wins Forecaster Prize

Economic efficiency—not margins—in feeding cattle will be the determining factor in how much profit is made in the cattle feeding operations this winter and next spring, according to H. B. Howell, agriculture economist from Iowa State college.

Howell spoke before 200 cattle feeders at the fall meeting of the Wright County Cattle Feeders association held at Clarion on Wednesday evening of last week.

At the last February meeting, cattle feeders guessed the price of the top car load of fat cattle at Chicago for the week of Oct. 1 to 7. The average of the last February meeting guesses were $33.75 with a range from $48.50 to $23.10. Three cattle feeders tied for top in this contest.

They were Ira Studebaker, Jr., of Belmond, Howard Hanson of Rowan and F. W. Stevenson of Goldfield. In the drawing, Ira Studebaker, Jr., was awarded the first prize, a $15.00 hat provided by Crowe and Sons, Clarion.

Second prize, a $5.00 membership in the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association awarded by Preston Tyrrell, went to F. W. Stevenson and third prize, a cattle whip awarded by Hormel and company, went to Howard Hanson.

Kenneth Knight of Goldfield and George S. Peterson of Clarion tied for fourth and fifth prizes and each was awarded a stockman's cane.

Cattle men at the Wednesday meeting guessed on the price of cattle for the top carload at Chicago for Feb. 11-17, 1951. The average of the 186 men guessing was $32.65 with a range from $44.50 to $23.25.

President Preston Tyrrell reported on the activities of the directors since the organization meeting in February. Tyrrell stated they had attended meetings at Sioux City and Des Moines and had attended several hearings on cattle feeding problems, all in the interest of the association.

Winning Homecoming Float's Slogan Proves Over Optimistic

While the score of the game—which saw the Broncos on the short end of a 47-14 count—was disappointing to Belmond High school homecomers last Friday night, all the frills and furbelows of the occasion lived well up to expectations.

Audrey Soma, the juniors' successful candidate for Homecoming Queen, reigned over the festivities and was officially crowned by Capt. Jack Riggs during halftime ceremonies at the football field. Her attendants, who ranked next behind the Queen in number of votes they received from members of the Bronco squad, were Sophomore Avis Pierce and Freshman Barbara Mariga.

Co-Captains of the visiting team, Marvin Olson and Rodney Hill, presented the Queen with a bouquet of roses and the royal robe, respectively.

First place winner among the floats in the pre-game parade was the entry of the junior class, constructed under the guidance of Josephine Hugh. It consisted of a garden scene, complete with picket fence, bird bath and a swing — from which little Loree Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, blithely eyed the spectators. The float optimistically proclaimed, "We'll Swing to Victory".

Second place float was that of the junior high, which was constructed under the watchful eye of Alpha Sandage. It portrayed a giant football, astride of which sat Oscar Jenison, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Jenison, and boasted, "We're On the Ball.

No cash prize was awarded for third place float, but the judged declared co-winners of third to be the entries of Boone Furniture store and the one on which the freshman boys and Belmond Auto company collaborated.

Winners of the three prizes awarded for the best-decorated bicycles were, in order: Donald Hood, a seventh grader; Joan Kriens, of the sixth grade; and Dale Caquelin, seventh grade.

Music of the two high schools' bands contributed much to the parade and their performances enlivened the halftime intermission, following the coronation.

Final Rites Held For J. Freeks, Sr.

John Freeks, Sr., died at his home at 3:00 o'clock a week ago last Sunday morning at the age of 82 years and 10 months. Mr. Freeks was born on Dec. 15, 1867 in Austfriesland, Germany, the son of Fred and Annie Leinhaus Freeks.

He came to this country as a young man, first settling in the vicinity of Chapin, Iowa. On Sept. 5 1896, he was married to Minnie Pals.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeks became the parents of 10 children, four of whom preceded him in death —Mrs. Chris Stadtlander, Lambert, Lena and Dick Freeks. Mrs. Freeks passed away last December.

Surviving are the following children: Katie Freeks, Fred Freeks, Mrs. Edmond Brandt, John Freeks, Jr., Minnie Freeks, all of Alexander, and Mrs. Clara Myers of Hampton. One sister, Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Parker, S. D., also survives. There are 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 at the home and 2:00 o'clock at the Reformed church in Alexander a week ago Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. B. T. Vander Woude, Jr. in charge. Burial was in the Immanuel Reformed cemetery near Belmond.

Those from a distance who attended the service were Carrie Johnson, Parker, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Groen, Hubbard; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stadtlander and Delores Stadtlander, Rockford; Nielsina Hansen, Chicago; Mrs. Jack Meyer and Annalean Stadtlander of Iowa Falls; and L. E. Beer of Eagle Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Jelto Beenken of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Modderman and children helped Mrs. Claas Modderman observe her birthday anniversary Tuesday evening.

Firemen Called To Two Blazes

Alexander's fire company has been busy of late. Wednesday evening of last week the firemen were called to the Mrs. Reka Schulte home—which is owned by Mrs. H. Suntken—to put out a blaze in the garage. Mrs. Fred Greenfield discovered the blaze.

Quick response of the firemen saved a cad, belonging to W. L. Armstrong which was housed there.

Although it will need a new paint job, new glass where the water cracked the windows and some other repairs, the car ran on its own power after being pushed from the burning building.

The building was badly charred inside and some parts of the wall were burned through but it was still standing. Both parties carried insurance.

Saturday afternoon about 1:00 o'clock the firetruck was called to the John Weiman home, two miles north and one-fourth mile east of town. Here they were on the job until 7:00 p. m., making trips back and forth for more water.

Three strawstacks burned and, considering the threat offered by dead leaves, dry grass and cornstalks, only the timely arrival of the fire truck saved the barn, a cornfield and pasture land, all close by.

Origin of the fire in neither case has been determined. Mr. and Mrs. John Weiman and Mr. Lippo Wieman had left Friday for a vacation in the Dakotas, so were not present when the fire broke out.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Muhlenbruck and daughters of Hampton were visitors at the Mrs. Lizzie Friesleben home Sunday evening.

Talk By Everett Woodley Highlights PTA Meeting

The Rowan Parent Teachers association met at the school house Tuesday evening for its regular meeting.

The program, presented by the chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Woodley, consisted of the following features: community singing, led by Mrs. Donald Lyons; a piano duet by Ilene and Arlene Woodley; and colored slide pictures and a talk by Everett Woodley of Clarion, who had spent last winter in the southwest.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Clair Hill. A report on the adult night school was given by Howard G. Box, president of the board of education.

Lunch was served by the mothers of the kindergarten and first grades.

DORCAS CIRCLE MET AT C. M. MYERS HOME

The Dorcas Circle of the Women'se Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. C. M. Myers on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mervin Reese and Mrs. Nellie Hinckley were the assistant hostesses. Mrs. Robert Drury had charge of the devotions and Mrs. Lloyd Drury led the missionary lesson. Mrs. F. M. Myers was a guest.

Charles Egeland, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Egeland, was confined to his home the first part of the week suffering with a severe case of tonsillitis.

David Neilsen was a weekend guest of his cousin, Donald Waddington, at Belmond.

SCRIMMAGE NETS "SHINER"

Sidney Ketchum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ketchum, was sporting a real "shiner" last week — and threatened violence to anyone who again asked him "what the other fellow looked like". Sid met with some one else's elbow during the first basketball scrimmage of the season and the result was that the eye completely swelled shut and became very black.

L. R. Fitz Rites Held Last Week

L. R. Fitz, age 74, passed away last Thursday following a period of poor health. He was a former business man of Rowan and had been prominent in a number of activities. Prior to his last illness, which was of only a week's duration, he had been failing and had undergone two operations in hopes of regaining his health. On Sunday, Oct. 15, he became so ill that he was taken to the Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond. On Tuesday he was moved to a Des Moines hospital where he passed away.

Mr. Fitz was born on June 7, 1876 in Linn county, Iowa, the son of Washington W. and Ella Fitz. On June 11, 1895, he was married to Maude Reading of Churdan. Five children were born to them—Dean R. of Rowan; Kenneth Fitz and Mrs. Grace Fletcher of Clarion; Dale, who passed away at the age of 16 years, and Mildred, who died in infancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitz moved to Wright county in 1909 and made their home on a farm north of Rowan. In 1916 the family moved to town, and Mr. Fitz had been associated with the business life of the town ever since. His last business was a grocery store which he closed in 1948. Since that time, he had been in semi-retirement.

Roy, as he was known, was a member of the school board when the consolidation program was put through and the Rowan school was built. To him, and to the other men who served at that time, the community gives a great deal of credit for a fine piece of work. Consolidated schools were then in their earliest beginnings.

Surviving him are his wife and three children; six grandchildren, Merle Dean Fletcher of Clarion, Mildred Fletcher of Detroit, Mich., Stanley Fitz of Rowan, Audriann Fitz Winter of Dows, Barbara Fitz Potter of Des Moines and Rhea Fitz Steenblock of Goodell; two, great-grandchildren—Susan Potter and Jerry Steenblock; two sisters—Mable Fitz of Fort Dodge, Mrs. Bernard Westervelt of Webster City; and one brother, Claude Fitz of Whittier, Calif. His mother had just passed away in April, 1950.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the Congregational church in Rowan, with the Rev. Harold Sanders officiating. Mrs. Maude Kercheval was the organist and a quartette, Mrs. Donald Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitten, and Howard G. Box, sang. Pall bearers were T. S. Streveler, George O. Pritchett, Floyd J. Allen, Herman Fruh, Ellis Markham and D. K. Stout. Interment was made at Graceland cemetery on the family lot.

Mrs. Nina Heathershaw and Steven, Roger and Carmen Rietz supper guests Friday evening of Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Rietz at Belmond and attended the Belmond-Forest City football game that evening.

A Drury cousins' party was held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ruka at Goodell. Those from here attending were Celeste Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Loran Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury and Mrs. Dilene Drury of Alexander.

NOTED RUST COLLEGE VOCALISTS SCHEDULED FOR ROWAN CONCERT

The famous Rust College Singers from the Deep Southland will appear at Rowan Methodist church on Tuesday of next week, Rev. C. W. Egeland, pastor, announced today. The group — a sextette—will feature the creative negro songs of the south.

Rust college, Holly Springs, Miss, has sponsored these popular singers for several years. Dr. L. M. McCoy, president of Rust college for 25 years, says "This is the greatest group that Rust college has sent north since the beginning of the unusual program which is our contribution to better underunderstanding among the people of America."

Dr. McCoy is one of the outstanding negro leaders of the nation. He has pioneered Rust college in its self-help program that has reached thousands of students of all denominations. Although a negro college, hundreds of white families have also benefited from the new methods taught at the Rust college Agricultural demonstration farm.

The college is also the center of one of the largest teacher training programs of its kind in the U. S., 95 per cent of Rust graduates teach school.

However, the middle-west has come to know Rust college as the place where Natalie Doxie, outstanding negro musician, turns out some of the most talented singers in America.

When they appear at the Methodist church, there will be no admission charge. However, a free will offering will be taken to cover travel and scholarship expenses for the group. During their current "neighborly goodwill tour", the group is making around 200 appearances.

Birthday Party - Program Held By Martha Circle

The Martha Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence H. Lindsey with Mrs. Robert Gram and Nora Shafer assisting hostesses. The meeting was a birthday party, and each of the guests paid money in the amount of their ages as a financial donation. Mrs. E. B. Albro led devotions and instead of a missionary lesson, a program was given. Mrs. Kenneth LaVelle gave a reading and Mrs. Maynard W. Azeltine conducted a contest. A trio, consisting of Mrs. Wilbur Linaweaver, and Rev. and Mrs. Egeland, sang a number. Miss Shafer read a piece, and Mrs. Donald Allison was in charge of another contest. Group singing of a hymn and prayer closed the meeting. Thirty members were present.

Esther McKinley, who is employed by a telephone company in Webster City, is spending several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKinley, Marjorie and Lewis.

Douglas Pinkham and Burton Toyne went to Storm Lake Friday evening where they attended the Homecoming for Buena Vista college over the weekend, returning to Rowan Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitten of Des Moines visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Whitten.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drury had as their dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Drury and Keith of Kanwaha and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hadley.

Carl H. Pesch of Jefferson came Friday evening to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pesch.

Donna Keleher, Shirley Gram, Phillip Biddle and Tom Aldrich went to Ames Saturday where they attended the rehearsal for the all-state massed chorus to be held later in the year. Principal John Lansing took them to Ames and acted as chaperone for the group.

Mrs. E. B. Albro, Mrs. A. O. Pelley and Esther Fowler went to Alexander Thursday evening where they attended the bazaar and auction at the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury had as their dinner guests Sunday Mrs. Dilene Drury, Vicki and Marc, of Alexander and Celeste Hadley.

McALPINES' NEW SON NAMED DONALD JOHN

Mr. and Mrs. Francis McAlpine are the parents of a son, Donald John, born to them at the Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond on Sunday, Oct. 22. His weight was seven pounds. The McAlpine's have one other son, Harold.

Marjorie Pritchett and Ray Benshof were at Belmond Sunday where they called on Miss Pritchett's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Williams of Madison S. D., who were visiting at the Dr. Paul A. Rietz home.

Dale E. Farran, Joe Biddle, R. C. Hyde and Ellis Markham left Friday night for Wisconsin where they spent the weekend fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Churchill of Des Moines were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Olson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Rietz, Roger and Carmen and Mrs. Nina Heathershaw and Steven were callers Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen at Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Draves had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips, Coggon; Mr. and Mrs. John Marker and family, Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Herman McGinnis and daughter, Dows; Mrs. Dale Simpson, Marlene and Dale, Iowa Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bateman, Marion; and Dr. William Gardener, of Gresham, Ore. Dr. Gardener was en route to Chicago to attend a three weeks' meeting of physicians and surgeons.

Carl H. Pesch, Stanley, Fitz and Douglas Pinkham went to Des Moines on Monday where they underwent physical examinations for military service.

Mr. and Mrs. Burneil Jones were dinner guests Sunday at the parental Richard Osborn home in Fort Dodge.

William Barz attended an oyster supper and meeting of the Dows Firemen's softball team at Dows Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Else Steenhard, Shelmerdene, Larry, Dennis and Janice were at Shell Rock Sunday where they spent the day with relatives.

Mr.and Mrs. Joseph McKinley have gone to northern Wisconsin for a few days where they will enjoy a vacation.

Esther Fowler was a business caller at Eagle Grove Thursday morning.

The members of the Methodist choir met at the Heathershaw home Thursday evening for a pot luck supper before practice at the church at 7:30. Fourteen members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and son David of Owasa were guests Monday at the parental C. M. Myers home.

Mrs. Allen Boyington was honored with a post-nuptial shower at the Methodist church parlors Friday evening. Mrs, Boyington was presented with a number of lovely gifts for her new home.

Mrs. Laurel Baines of LeMars spent last week in Rowan as a guest at the Ray Norris and Hannah Whitten homes.

Nina Courson, Belmond Soprano, Discovers:

Establishing Serious Singing Career Takes Lots of Time, Plenty of Strenuous Practice

Anyone under the delusion that establishment of a serious singing career mainly entails possessing a creditable voice and exposing same to the public ear could quickly be put straight by Nina Courson, daughter of Mrs. Lucia Courson.

Miss Courson has been pursuing a musical career for about six years and still faces another nine months of intensive training before—in the opinion of her Italian instructor—she will be ready to "try her wings" professionally.

One phase of Nina's study gives her mother a certain degree of amusement. During a year at Cornell college her daughter flunked a course in French. Since then she has been obliged to gain a considerable degree of mastery over both the French and Italian languages and at least a "singing acquaintance" with German.

With the proper inspiration, Nina has experienced no trouble in meeting the linguistic challenge. She has not only learned to converse in Italian and French but freely reads the latter. Of course, learning the lead roles in such operas as "La Boheme", "Faust", "La Traviata", and "Il Pagliacci" made acquisition of some linguistic skill almost automatic.

After two years of study in New York, Miss Courson has spent the past four years abroad. She has undergone further voice training in France, Germany and Italy.

High point of her career to date came in the summer of 1949 when she was understudying one of the leading singers in a French opera company. The troupe enjoyed a one-month stand at Lake Como in Switzerland, presenting Johann Strauss's "One Night in Venice" and she experienced the thrill of taking over the role of the star soprano.

It was prior to the Lake Como appearance that Nina had the accompanying publicity picture taken. Besides enjoying the opportunity of taking over the star's part, Miss Courson's name appeared in respectably large print on all posters advertising the Swiss performance—which, in itself, was the source of some real satisfaction to the ambitious young artiste.

NINA COURSON
Her goal, to sing at "the Met"

Getting mail and parcel post packages through to her wandering daughter has proved something more than a simple task, Mrs. Courson says. While Nina was studying in France, she failed to receive a single one out of a number of pairs of silk hose that were dispatched to her.

In very sporting fashion, the French postal department agreeably shared with her most of the food parcels. They never arrived at their destination intact, but Nina got at least a portion of what was sent.

This equitable state of affairs ceased when she spent several months in Germany last year. Mrs. Courson says all her food packages to that country constituted little more than an individual CARE project. Her daughter got none of them. In addition, it was made clear to her that there were plenty of good native singers available and that foreigners looking for musical engagements were denifitely unwelcome.

The business of trying to get silk hose to Nina through the mails developed into somewhat of a game. One time Mrs. Courson drafted The Independent as an accomplice and rolled a pair up in an issue of the paper. These were duely delivered to the addressee.

At present, Mrs. Courson occasionally tucks a single stocking in a letter going by air mail and successfully accomplishes delivery.

Since Nina has beenin Italy her receipt of mail has been discouragingly sporadic. Not long ago she sent a cabled inquiry asking her mother why she'd stopped writing. The usual flow of letters from this end had never been interrupted, Mrs. Courson says; but somewhere between here and Milan, the communications persisted in going astray. Delivery continues to be slow, with occasional letters failing to arrive at all.

Miss Courson feels she has made real progress during her stay in Italy. Her teacher is a former Metropolitan Opera artist, Madame Gina Signa, whose professional career was ended by an auto accident. She has helped Nina obtain critical advice from the director of Milan's famous La Scala opera, to supplement her personal coaching.

Madame Signa feels that she can present her protege to the public next summer. Then, if she receives good reviews, Nina hopes to obtain some European opera engagements before returning to this country to seek a "Met" audition. The Metropolitan Opera is her avowed goal, and she refuses at this point to even think of settling for less.

If persistence, proper training and a lovely voice are sufficient to win that goal, the "Met" had just as well be saving a spot for Nina Courson.

County Soil Conservation District Has $3,100 Budget for This Year

The Wright County Soil Conservation district received a total of $1412.22 from state aid for the past year and has a budget of $3100 for the current year, according to Ray Hagie, chairman.

The state aid was made available by the 43rd General Assembly through the State Soil Conservation committee for aid to soil conservation districts in Iowa.

Mr. Hagie reports that the local district expended its funds for clerical help, technical assistance and for needed office equipment — such as an office desk, file and office supplies. The commissioners of the local district aver that state aid has substantially increased application of soil conserving practices in the local district, as well as in other districts in Iowa.

They further comment that aid in the local district has made it possible to make application of practices on conservation farms more promptly than before and has released Farm Planner Bob Locke to carry on more follow-up activities and to make more contacts for future plans.

"The appropriation has permitted us to carry out an educational program of informing the people of the importance of conservation farming in our local district," Hagie added. "It also permits our district office in Clarion to be open for phone inquiries and enables people personally to obtain information more hours of the day.

According to H. Wayne Pritchard, secretary of the State Soil Conservation committee, a total of $169,476.16 was allocated to the various Soil Conservation Districts on a need basis during the fiscal year 1949-50. It was used for clerical and technical assistance and for needed equipment. A total of $26,865.44 was allocated for commissioners' expenses, office supplies and demonstrational material.

The district commissioners serve without salary in the interest of soil conservation. Commissioners of the Wright County Soil Conservation district, in addition to Chairman Hagie of Clarion, are Don Frakes of Woolstock and Oscar Holmes of Dows. Also, Assistant Commissioners L. E. Oberhauser of Belmond and Hubert Hiemstra of Clarion have been appointed by the local governing body to assist in formulating and carrying out the program of the district.

The soil conservation district appropriation asking for fiscal tne years 1951 through 1953 is $450,000 for each year of the biennium. If this appropriation is granted by the 54th General Assembly of Iowa, it will make possible technical and clerical assistance for each of the 99 organized Iowa soil conservation districts.

Prior to the appropriation by the 53rd General Assembly, Soil Conservation Districts had no funds for their use for either administrative or technical service.

HEIFERS GO TO GERMANY

Leslie Yoder of Harrisburg, Ore., last week stopped in Belmond to visit with Fred Kaduce, an old friend. Fred took him to Mason City to board a bus for Cedar Rapids. From there the westerner planned to accompany to the east coast a load of heifers donated by an Oregon church group for shipment to Germany to be distributed under a farm rehabilitation program.

By George - Dick - Pat

In the November issue of The American Legion Magazine, out last weekend, Betty B. Anderson of Ames has a letter published in the "Sound Off" column. She tells off Ed Fitzgerald for leaving out of his September article, "Football Forecast for '50", any mention of the University of Iowa's team.

"I think U. of Iowa will have a pretty fair team this year. Tell Mr. Fitzgerald I was very disappointed," concludes the Ames miss to which the editors reply: "By the time you read this it will be apparent whether Ed Fitzgerald and his staff of advisors were correct in ignoring the Hawkeyes."

Never was there a finer bit of timing!

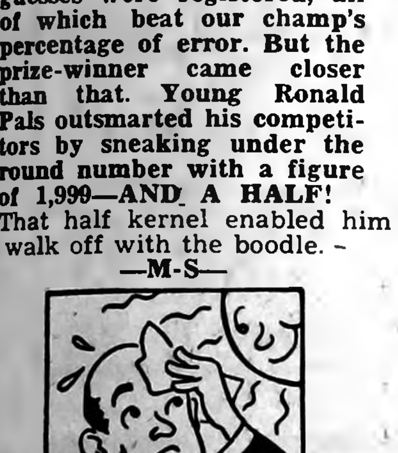
It's a good thing no one took us up on our boastful offer to wager that no Corn-n-Bean guesser would more nearly hit the right number in any container in town than did The Independent's winner — Albert Smit, with an error of eighttenths of a per cent. We'd have been took—but good.

In Dutch Thompsen's corn recepticle were 1,998 kernels. Close to a half dozen "2,000" guesses were registered, all of which beat our champ's percentage of error. But the prize-winner came closer than that. Young Ronald Pals outsmarted his competitors by sneaking under the round number with a figure of 1,999—AND A HALF!

That half kernel enabled him to walk off with the boodle.

—M-S—



One would think that the weatherman was running for congress, the way he's been toadying to the farmers since that too early frost. At any rate someone certainly induced Dame Nature to turn on her drying equipment full blast the past few weeks. As a result, much corn that might well have been standing in the field until the first of the year seems destined to find repose in the crib before winter weather comes.

Last Monday was not only unseasonably warm; it was out-and-out shirt-sleeve weather. A glance at a thermometer on the north side of Main Street about 2:00 p. m. on that day (it wasn't in the sun, either) showed the mercury chowding 90 . . . 88, to be exact. Tuesday the same high was reached.

Bill Weeks
Iowa State College

Three Belmond carrier-salesmen for the Des Moines Register & Tribune enjoyed a big thrill last Saturday when they were taken to the ISC-Oklahoma game at Ames. The trip was a reward for obtaining a specified quota of new customers.

Jerry Chandler, Billy Murray and Gene Mehl not only witnessed the contest, but had the thrill of meeting the Cyclones' backfield star, Bill Weeks, snatching a few passes tossed by the Iowa State hero, and bearing home Bill's autograph inscribed on their programs.

We hope that some of Bill's magic rubbed off on the boys. The Broncos could use some of the stuff (though Dave Helland's been doing all right of late in the pitching department).

—M-S—

Although Forest City didn't have too much difficulty stopping Northwood's scrimmage efforts as the Indians downed the Vikings 31-18 last Friday night, Halfback Dave Johnson gave the North Iowa loop leaders a decidedly bad time. The Viking speedster covered 94 yards and then 92 in transforming a pair of Indian scoring threats into Northwood touchdowns by racing downfield with intercepted passes. Then, on the final kickoff, he galloped another 94 yards to a score to bring his total yardage on the three scoring efforts to an awe-inspiring 280!

VACCINATION SCHOOL

Farmers of Wright county —21 years of age or over—who wish to attend a winter vaccination school, are asked to leave their names with Walter Wilson, Farm Bureau fieldman, at the Farm Bureau office in Clarion.

When a sufficient number of requests have been received, a vaccination school will be scheduled by the county extension service.

Mrs. Hensel, 32, Died Last Friday After Son's Birth

Mrs. Carroll Hensel died last Friday at the local hospital of complications following the birth of a son several hours earlier. The child survived and is thriving.

Mrs. Hensei's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Dickinson of Virgina, Minn., is planning to move into the Hensel home and look after the two older children, Patricia Lee and Kathleen Ann, and the baby.

Funeral services were held from the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Alfred B. McKeith officiated, assisted by Rev. H. H. Wintermeyer of the Latimer Evangelical Reformed church. Burial was in Alexander cemetery and the services were in the charge of Fulton Funeral home.

Pallbearers were T. C. Thomas, E. E. Woolley, E. J. Elliott, Glenn Martin, George Jenison and Ceabern Squires.

Mrs. Hensel was born Dorothy Jane Dickinson, March 16, 1918, at Virginia, Minn. She graduated from high school there, residing in Virginia until her marriage to Carroll Hensel on Dec. 27 1941. Her husband was employed in the Minnesota community at the time.

For the past five years the Hensels have made their home here in Belmond, but while Carroll was in service during the war his wife resided with his parents in Alexander.

Originally a member of the Presbyterian church at Virginia, Mrs. Hensel attended the Latimer Evangelical and Reformed church while living at Alexander and in Belmond was actively interested in the Congregational church.

Mrs. Hensel served the local church in a variety of official capacities in the women's organizations and on committees of the young married people's club.

Always pleasant, friendly and helpful, Mrs. Hensel's death came as a deep shock not only to members of her family but to her wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband and mother, two daughters and newborn son, Thomas George, Mrs. Hensel is survived by three brothers Arthur of Virginia, Minn., and Thomas of Longview, Wash.

Darwin Lynner of D. M. To Address Businessmen

Darwin Lynner of Des Moines, brother-in-law of Ronald Courson, will be speaker at this week's Chamber of Commerce luncheon —today at the Veterans' Memorial building.

Mr. Lynner is a large-scale builder of prefabricated houses at the capital city and at present is engaged in a project consisting of 53 housing units.

The guest speaker will talk the trials and tribulations of "prefab" building and of overseeing construction of modern day housing developments.

Mrs. Veeder Given 11th Trophy for High Sales

Mrs. C. H. Veeder of Belmond, unit manager, and Mr. Veeder, with Ulena Seaton of Clarion, Marjorie Burge of Britt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall of Webster City—all Stanley Home Products dealers—attended a Stanley area meeting at the St. Paul hotel at St. Paul, Minn., last weekend.

Frank Stanley Beveridge, president of the Stanley company of Westfield, Mass., gave the address at the meeting.

Mrs. Veeder for the eleventh time was awarded a trophy from Mr. Beveridge for establishing a high sales record.

On Sunday evening, Mrs. C. H. Veeder was a guest of the Nassawha Stanley dealers at a birthday dinner in a private dining room at the St. Paul hotel.

One Meyers Son Enlists; Marines Recall Another

One son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers enlisted in the Navy last week and word was received from a second son that he is soon due to be recalled to active duty with the Marines.

Anthony M. "Mert" Meyers passed his Navy physical examination a week ago Monday and was promptly sent to the west coast. His address is now: Co. 484, USNTC, San Diego, Calif.

Andrew L. "Cuke" Meyers advised his parents that he has been ordered to report for Marine duty on Dec. 4. He has been in the reserves since his discharge two years ago. Lately he has been working and going to high school in Seattle, Wash.

Belmond Business Leaders Will Get Mention in Book

Lee E. Gilbert, a representative of Midwest Publications, Inc., has been in Belmond since the first of the week acquiring biographical material on prominent business and professional men of the community for inclusion, in a new publication, "Business Men of Iowa."

Belmond's Chamber of Commerce has lent its approval to the project, through President George Infelt, and local business men have been asked to cooperate with Mr. Gilbert by providing him with needed information.

A similar publication was printed about 10 years ago but has, of course, become obsolete in the meantime. The new book, like its predecessor, will confine itself to the story of practical achievement as told in the lives of Iowa citizens and the records of the enterprises for which they are responsible.

Mr. Gilbert says that between 10 and 15 thousand biographies of Iowa business and professional people will be included in the volume, which is to be printed by the Des Moines Register and Tribune plant.

There will be no general sale of the volume, which is priced at $35. All sales will be in advance of publication and payment will not be due until delivery of the books in 1951.

Mr. Gilbert will be in town for about a week or 10 days, yet, interviewing Belmond business leaders. Both he and Arthur P. Penno, editor of the reference book, who was here with Mr. Gilbert on Monday, state that placing an order for the volume will not be a requirement for inclusion in it.

PTA STUDIES PROBELM OF JUVENILE SMOKING

The problem of juvenile cigaret smoking received an airing at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers association Monday evening at the school house.

Mrs. Dana Howell—association president — was requested to appoint a committee to confer with Mayor A. W. Loats and the council in regard to enforcing the ordinance prohibiting sale of cigarets to minors.

It was the concensus of those at the meeting that juvenile smoking has been spreading rapidly of late and constitutes a matter that urgently requires attention. The parents also suggested that the ordinance barring minors from the pool halls has not been adequately enforced.

Mayor Loats has indicated that the present obsolete law regarding the use of pool halls by minors will be reviewed by the council with the aim of amending it to make it enforceable.

Mrs. Chas. Ell who has been visiting in the E. G. Ell home, has gone to Kansas to spend the winter with her daughter.

Special Balloting On Constitutional Convention Issue

Besides balloting for the usual run of state and county candidates in next week's election, voters will also have an opportunity to vote on the question, "Shall there be a convention to revise the constitution and amend the same?"

Law provides that every 10 years the prosposition of holding a convention to study revisions and amendments to the state constitution must be submitted to the electors. No specific amendment is involved in this instance.

However, if such a convention is approved by the voters, there is one matter that would almost certainly be given consideration. That is the question of apportionment of representation in the general assembly more strictly on a population basis.

At present, the constitution limits the number of senators to 50 and provides that no county—regardless of its population size—shall have more than one.

Also, the constitution specifies that each county shall have one representative; and, in addition, those qualifying by a certain formula shall be eligible for one additional representative. However, size of the house is limited to 108 members so that at present only nine of 13 eligible counties actually are represented by a second legislator.

The interest in representational apportionment has grown out of a conflict between rural and urban interests that has been increasingly emphasized by the shift of Iowa's population from the farm to urban centers (communities of 2,500 population or more).

A separate ballot will be provided each voter, setting forth the constitutional convention question. Electors feeling that reapportionment of representation is warranted at this time will logically vote "yes" on the proposition. Those prefering to maintain the existing status will vote "no".

Of course, if a constitutional convention is approved, other matters besides that of reapportionment may well be brought up for consideration.

Congregational Church Plans for Dedication Of Newly Furnished Chancel Sunday Evening

This Sunday evening a dedication service will be held at the Congregational church recognizing the installation of the new chancel furniture. There will be a family picnic supper at 6:30 p. m. The formal dedication service, to which the public is invited, will be held at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Judson Fiebiger of Grinnell, Superintendent of the Congregational Conference of Iowa, will be the speaker. Several ministers from nearby churches will take part in the dedication ritual, in addition to Rev. Alfred B. McKeith, the church pastor.

Ossitt Church Furniture company of Janesville, Wis., built the new chancel fittings for the church on special order and they were installed during the summer. Items included are the altar—or communion table, the reredos—or altar screen, pedestal type pulpit, choir stalls, and oak wainscoting for the three walls of the chancel.

Decoration on the altar includes the Greek cross with the letters I, H,'S, which traditionally represent the first three letters of the Greek word for Jesus. On the altar screen, above the altar, there is a shield on which are carved the Greek lettes Chi, Rho, which represent the first three letters of the Greek word, "Christos".

The church building itself was dedicated in 1938. It replaced a building which had been destroyed by fire. At that time it was decided that installation of the chancel furniture would be delayed until some time in the near future. Through the years various types of plans were studied.

Final choice of plans was made about a year ago. The furniture began arriving during the summer and the installation was made by men of the church. In addition to the furniture, aisle carpeting has been laid.

Dr. Fiebiger will speak informally to the church group during the supper hour. The service at 8:00 o'clock is to be open to all.

Halloween Party Big Success--In Numbers, Anyway

Even the sponsors of Tuesday night's Halloween party at the Veterans' Memorial building don't claim the affair was too successful except from standpoint of numbers, but a strong feeling existed at its conclusion that possibilities for a big community event had been uncovered.

Between 300 and 350 youngsters of all school ages assembled at the Vets' hall, crowding its capacity to an extent that made proposed games and dancing an impossibility. Nevertheless, the kids seemed to have fun—even if some of the accompanying parents viewed the party as somewhat of a "rat race".

Three hundred candy bars, a large supply of apples and nearly 200 bottles of pop slid down juvenile gullets in the course of the evening. Movies were enjoyed and costumes were judged.

Prize-winners for having the cleverest costumes were Marlin Cunningham, Dennis Eccles, Sharon Kay Holgate, Dwight Daniels, Robert and Connie O'Connor and Tommy Hill.

Although short on planning this year, the event was considered by the committee as well worth repetition. Next year, separate sites will be provided for various age groups and a more complete program planned, with the aim of eliminating the shortcomings of this year's party.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hardy and Jeanine of Cornelia, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Dahlgren of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Thompson of Clarion were guests in the Chet Hill home Sunday.

Collision on Highway 69 Brings Suit Against Two

John Greenlander was named as co-defendant in a damage suit filed in the district court this week as the outcome of an auto collision that occurred last Feb. 27 on Highway 69, two miles south of Belmond.

Plaintiff is the Ohio Casualty Insurance company. Named with Mr. Greenlander as a defendant is Francis Kienitz of Blue Earth, Minn.

The petition states that the Greenlander car was parked on the east half of the highway and that when Kienitz, driving north, swerved around the parked vehicle his own car skidded on snow and ice into the path of Ralph Curby, Ottawa, Kans.

Resulting damage to the car owned by the Kansas man and insured by the Ohio company amounted to $215.19, according to the petition. The plaintiff charges Mr. Greenlander with negligence, for allegedly parking on the highway, and the Minnesota driver with negligence and recklessness.

Van Dusseldorp Infant Died Here Last Friday

Leslie Van Dusseldorp, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Dusseldorp of Thornton and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Arends of Alexander, passed away at the local hospital last Friday afternoon after a lingering illness.

He had been a patient for three months at Blank Memorial hospital at Des Moines, prior to his return here after specialists had become convinced that they could do nothing to help him.

Funeral services were held from the Thornton Methodist church Monday afternoon, with burial also at Thornton. The youngster would have been a year old on Nov. 16.

County Interest Centered Mainly On Minor Offices

Although a fair amount of interest has been generated in the contest for U. S. senator, between Bourke Hickenlooper and Albert J. Loveland, attention of Wright county voters in next Tuesday's election will center primarily on the outcome of races for lesser offices.

Due in considerable part to inspiration provided by Rodney Urdahl, Belmond's Democratic candidate for state senator, several lively contests may result from the resurgence of Democratic activity in the county this fall.

Urdahl, personally, has campaigned determinedly against his incumbent opponent, R. R. Bateson of Eldora. Mr. Bateson, who has been recovering from an illness, was unable to cover the territory in person. Consquently, he will have to depend on the normal predominance of Republican strength in the rest of the ballot to overcome any advantage his opponent might have gained by his activity.

Probably the greatest amount of local interest will lie in the contest between the two Belmond aspirants to the post of state representative from Wright county. Clark McNeal has been a conscientious worker in behalf of the Republican party and should corral a large per cent of the GOP vote.

Vernon McLaughlin, on the other hand, has campaigned more vigorously than any Democratic county representative candidate since R. E. Lee Aldrich successfully ran for the office in the mid-'thirties.

There is only one contest for a county office, John Bleeker of Belmond opposing the Republican incumbent—Bob Blecker—for the post of sheriff.

Ticket scratchers will have to keep a sharp eye on their "x-ing" in this case, with only that letter "c" distinguishing the present sheriff's name from that of his opponent.

The only other prospective county contest was erased from the ballot when Mrs. Josephine Mariga of Belmond, after being nominated by the Democrats for auditor in the primary, withdrew her name. That left Roger Charlson, like all the other present county officials except Blecker, unopposed.

Neither of the First District supervisor candidates, John Greenlander (R) or Francis McNulty (D), have conducted an active campaign. Both are running to fill the vacancy left by death of the late Alex Smith and for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1951.

Interesting scraps for supervisor posts in the Third and Fifth districts are in prospect, however. In the former, William Fisher—defeated in his effort to obtain the Republican nomination last June—is running independently against the GOP nominee, Albert Christopher.

A similar situation exists in the Fifth where the incumbent—Tom Henry—is Independent candidate for the post for which the Republicans nominated Harland Hill.

Names of all county and state candidates contending in next week's election will be found on the sample ballot which appears in the second section of today's paper.

Government Loan Sought For Hospital Planning

By recent resolution of the city council, application is being made for a federal loan to finance the planning stages of the Belmond municipal hospital project.

According to Gene Woolley, planning committee chairman, the loan will amount to $7,200 and will be repayable to the government as soon as construction is started on the hospital.

This step was taken as a hedge against any unforeseen development that might make impossible the proposed prompt completion of the building. If, for any reason, the project had to be abandoned for the time being, the advance by the federal agency would be considered a grant and repayment would not be required.

Formal application for the loan was to be submitted to the proper authorities yesterday.

Panel Discussion Will Highlight Education Week

Two school events of community wide interest are planned by the Belmond Teachers association in observance of American Education Week Nov. 5-11, according to the association's president, Clair Hugh.

Monday at 2:30 p. m. a tea will be served by the grade school teachers with all parents of grade pupils as invited guests. The tea will take place in the school lunch room and the sponsors hope that a large number of parents will take advantage of the opportunity to get acquainted with their children's teachers.

Parents are also cordially invited to attend grade school class sessions any time they may desire during the period of Education Week.

Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. the auditorium will be the scene of a panel discussion on the question "Should Education Be a Community Responsibility?" Plans for this event are in the hands of a committee headed by Don Bunnell, who will also serve as panel moderator. Seven individuals, each representing a specific category of persons interested in school welfare, will make up the round-table personnel.

On the panel will be Harold Simerson, representing the farmers; Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, parents; Rev. H. P. Senft, church; Dan Boone, businessmen; Jim Riekens, students; Clair Hugh, teachers; and Larry Murray, taxpayers.

These panel members will examine both the benefits each of their particular groups have a right to expect from the public schools, and the responsibilities that should be borne in return.

Mr. Bunnell believes that the meeting Tuesday night might well prove the springboard to significant developments in Belmond's school program if it is well attended and if the audience freely participates in the open discussion that is to follow the panel give-and-take.

At the conclusion of the panel meeting, a lunch will be served by the girls of the domestic science department under direction of Carol Kepler.

Anderson Brothers Have Hand in Big Dam Project

Everett and Eldon Anderson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Anderson, have been employed in recent months on the Fort Randall dam at Pickstown, S. D.

Everett, who had a hand in the construction of the project's numerous tunnels, recently returned home when that phase of the work was completed.

Eldon, who is employed as a carpenter, is remaining on the job until he has to report to Des Moines for his draft physical examination the latter part of this month.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond, Iowa, Oct. 12, 1950

The City Council of the City of Belmond, Iowa, met in special session, pursuant to law and the rules of this Council, in the Council Chamber in the City Hall at 1:30 o'clock P. M. on the above date. The meeting was called to order by A. W. Loats, Mayor, in the chair and the following named Councilmen were present: Al Mennenga, A. J. Meints, Ed Kennedy, Orrin Jacobson, Glenn W. Martin; absent: none.

Councilman Mennenga introduced the following Resolution and moved its adoption: Councilman Martin seconded the motion to adopt. The roll was called and the vote was: AYES, Mennenga, Meints, Kennedy, Jacobson, Martin; NAYS: None. Whereupon the Mayor declared the Resolution duly adopted as follows:

RESOLUTION NO. 244

WHEREAS, The City of Belmond, Iowa, herein called the "Applicant," after thorough consideration of the various aspects of the problem and study of available data has hereby determined that the construction of certain public works, generally described as Municipal Community Hospital Building, is desirable and in the public interest and to that end it is necessary that action preliminary to the construction of said works be taken immediately; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Public Law 352, 81st Congress, approved October 13, 1949, the United States of America has authorized the making of advances to public bodies to aid in defraying the cost of architectural, engineering, and economic investigations and studies, surveys, designs, plans, working drawings, specifications, procedures, and other action preliminary to the construction of public works (exclusive of housing); and

WHEREAS, the applicant has examined and duly considered such act and the applicant considers it to be in the public interest and to its benefit to file an application under said act and to authorize other action in connection therewith:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY the City Council of the City of Belmond, Iowa, the governing body of said applicant, as follows:

1. That the construction of said public works is essential to and is to the best interests of the applicant, and to the end that such public works may be provided as promptly as practicable it is desirable that action preliminary to the construction thereof be undertaken immediately;
2. That A. W. Loats, Mayor of the City of Belmond, Iowa, be hereby authorized to file in behalf of the applicant an application (in form required by the United States and in conformity with said act) for an advance to be made by the United States to the applicant to aid in defraying the planning cost preliminary to the construction of such public works, which shall consist generally of the construction of a Municipal Community Hospital Building.
3. That if such advance be made the applicant shall provide or make necessary arrangements to provide such funds, in addition to the advance, as may be required to defray the cost of such action preliminary to the construction of the public works;
4. The said representative is hereby authorized to furnish such information and take such other action as may be necessary to enable the applicant to qualify for the advance;
5. That the officer designated in the preceding paragraph is hereby designated as the authorized representative of the applicant for the purpose of furnishing to the United States such information, data and documents pertaining to the application for an advance as may be required; and otherwise to act as the authorized representative of the applicant in connection with this application;
6. That certified copies of this resolution be included as part of the application for an advance to be submitted to the United States.

PASSED AND APPROVED this 12th day of October, 1950.

A. W. Loats, Mayor

Obituary

LUKE WESSELS

Luke Wessels, youngest son of Luke and Labena Wessels, was born on Oct. 3, 1887, in Boen, Eastfriesland, Germany. In the spring of 1902 he came to America with his parents, brothers and sisters. The family made their home near Klemme, Iowa, and there Luke was engaged as a farmhand.

On Jan. 22, 1913 he was married to Miss Ella Riekens. They became the parents of four children. Immediately after their marriage, the Wessels moved east of Belmond and there they farmed until Mr. Wessels retired in the spring of 1947, when they moved to Belmond.

Mr. Wessels had been ailing for a number of years but his health took an abrupt change for the worse in June of 1950 and progressively declined thereafter. He died suddenly at 10:30 p. m. on Oct. 11, having reached the age of 63 years and eight days.

He was preceded in death by his parents; a brother, Merle, in 1945; a sister, Mrs. Effie Esk, in 1939; a brother, Luppo, in 1946; and two sons, Douglas Luke in 1949 and LeRoy in 1937.

Mr. Wessels is survived by his wife; a son, Marvin, of Belmond; two daughters, Mrs. Lorraine Jordan of Belmond and Mrs. Lila Ruth Jordan of Sheffield. Also surviving are six brothers and sisters: George and Mrs. Dirjie Quandt of Clear Lake, Dick, Mrs. Bena Jordan and Mrs. Johanna Quandt of Meservey, and Mrs. Gertie Vierkant of Belmond.

On March 23, 1913, Mr. Wessels was taken into the fellowship of the Immanuel Reformed church east of Belmond. This church he also served faithfully as a deacon for eight years.

Funeral services were held at the Reformed church on Saturday, Oct. 14, with Rev. O. G. Poppen officiating. Burial was in the family lot in the cemetery adjoining the church.

MRS. SIMON P. FISCHER

Mrs. Simon Fischer (Reaka Janssen), the daughter of Mr. an Mrs. Jacob Janssen, was born in Belmond on Dec. 17, 1888. In 1890 she moved with her parents to a farm north of Meservey, where she grew to maturity.

On Dec. 28, 1910, she was married to Simon Fischer of Meservey. They lived for a time on a farm near Meservey, later moving to Wisconsin, and then to Mason City. They came to the town of Meservey in 1921 and have lived there ever since.

Mrs. Fischer was one of eight children in the Janssen home. Two of her sisters passed away on the same day, one of them being only one year old and the other having reached only her third year. Her brother Corneal also preceded her in death.

Reaka, as she was known by her many friends, was in ill health for a number of years and during the last four years her illness confined her to her home. During the last three months she was a bed patient most of the time but remained cheerful during all of her days. She passed away on Monday, Oct 9

She will be greatly missed by her husband Simon P. Fischer of Meservey; her son Dale, his wife and their son Donnie; and by her daughter Gladys and her husband, Marvin Wessels, and their children, Marian, Vera, Avis, Rita and Dean. She leaves also two brothers, Heiko and Louie; and two sisters, Mrs. Neaska Unverferth and Mrs. Wm. Prelipp, all of Meservey.

During her nearly 62 years of life she was a friend to a great host of people wherever she lived and they will greatly miss her constant cheerfulness.

She was a faithful member of the Evangelical United Brethren church in Meservey for 39 years. Final rites were conducted for her in the church by her pastor, Rev. A. E. Wilken, on Thursday, Oct. 12. Burial was in the Meservey cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz of Thornton spent Sunday evening at the Henry Dieger home.

ELECTION MISCELLANY

POLLS will be open between 8:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

POLLING PLACES will be: 1st Ward --city library; 2nd Ward -- city hall; 3rd Ward -- high school.

STRAIGHT TICKET vote requires "x" in party circle, only.

SCRATCH VOTES, if few in number, can be indicated by "x" marks in squares for single candidates you're "hopping" to—and placing "x" in correct circle to show that all other votes are for candidates of that particular party.

PLACE "X" carefully so that intersection of lines falls within desired square or circle. Use "x" mark only. In no case (keep this in mind on special constitutional convention ballot) write "yes", employ check mark or any other sort of sign.

FOR RIDE to the polls—regardless of party affiliation—take advantage of free taxi service offered by Leauge of Women Voters by phoning 452.

Juniors to Give 'The Whole Truth'

The junior class of the Rowan High school will present its annual class play Friday evening at the high school gymnasium.

"The Whole Truth" is the story of the Martin family. Mrs. Martin makes her family and servants promise to tell nothing but the truth. She had no idea that the results would be so complicated.

Everything runs smoothly until—on the servants' day off—Mr. Martin receives word that an impressionable business associate is coming, and Mr. Martin MUST impress him with many servants, so the family is drafted to help create that impression.

Then arrives a maiden aunt of Mr. Worth, who hates show and pompous living, and the fun starts.

In the cast are: Jerry Aldrich as Joseph Martin; Sandra Olson as Mildred Martin, his wife; Johnny, their son, Phillip Biddle; Elizabeth, their daughter, Gladys Mossman; Helen Martin, Mr. Martin's sister, Lois Aldrich; the Rev. Jacob Teasle, the pastor of a suburban church, Eugene Frohling.

G. Whitford Mundorf, a business associate of Mr. Martin, Ronald Draves; Aunt Mat Worth, Mr. Martin's aunt, Shirley Hackbarth; Tom de North, Elizabeth's sweetheart, Dean Freese; Lucille Armitage, one of Johnny's sweethearts, Maurine Markham; Johnson, the Martin's butler, Tom Aldrich; and Harriet, the Martin's maid, Bertha Barz.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:00 o'clock. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Audrey Bradley of Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frohling returned home Tuesday from Canada where they had spent two weeks on a hunting trip. They were successful in bagging two deer in spite of the extremely rainy weather and brought the venison home with them.

Girl Scout week was observed on Sunday when the Scouts and their leaders, also the Scout committee attended the Congregational church in a body. The girls wore their uniforms and a large number attended.

RENEWED ... or just fixed?

There's a lot of difference between a repair job that actually renews your equipment and one that just "gets by."

Genuine Allis-Chalmers repair parts fit perfectly and are made of the right materials for the job they have to do. You save money because the new parts last longer, your entire machine lasts longer and you get better performance.

All repair parts installed by our mechanics are made in the same factory and to the same specifications as the original parts in your Allis-Chalmers equipment.

Now is a good time to have your equipment checked for worn or broken parts.

Clarion last Friday night left the Bronco fans alternately hollering with glee and groaning as the Cowboys racked up another in their series of wins, 27 to 14.

Ninety yards were picked up by the Helland-to-Severseike passing combination on five consecutive completions without a miss — with a sixth toss being good for an extra point. The offensive efforts of Marlyn Watermiller brought a thrill to Bronco cohorts, also; and defensive flashes by Howie Wagner, Odean Severseike, Dick Simpson and Dave Helland brought occasional cheers.

In general, though, Belmond tackling attempts were downright pitiful. On one occasion a Cowboy runner broke loose for a touchdown after no less than three Broncos had had a grip on him at one time. Fumbles, also, were extremely costly to the losers—contributing one touchdown to Clarion and robbing Belmond of a scoring chance.

Clarion opened the game with a sustained drive that reached the Bronco 13 before Belmond held for downs. The Broncos offense fizzled and Don Faris kicked to his own 45, where Simpson dumped the runner. The Cowboys marched back to the 19 on five plays, but then suffered a 15-yard holding penalty. Helland ended that threat by stealing a Clarion pass on the 20.

That ended the quarter, and as the second stanza started the Broncos cut loose with a march of their own that saw the ball reach Clarion's 10-yard line with two downs left to make a 1st-and 10. An eight-yard loss on the next play squelched that effort.

Four plays sufficed to produce the Cowboys' initial touchdown. The score came on a 49-yard gallop by Cramer, during which nearly half of the Belmond team played touch tag with the runner at some point along the way. Cramer's kick for point sent Clarion ahead 7-0.

Then the Broncos gladdened the hearts of the Belmond fans by getting a TD of their own in just five running plays, combined with a Helland-to-Severseike pass. Watermiller covered 38 yards in three tries and Riggs contributed a 20-yard gain. It was Watermiller who scored—from the nine—and then plunged for the extra point that knotted the count at 7-all.

Clarion appeared well on its way to another score, following the kickoff, when the halftime gun interrupted the Cowboy attack on Belmond's 17. On the second half kickoff, however, Clarion slipped back into the lead when Shiek snatched a Bronco fumble and raced across the pay stripe from 22 yards out. Again Cramer kicked the point and the Cowboys led, 14-7.

Once again the Broncos set out determinedly to tie the score. Two first downs, featuring a 23-yard gain by the Helland-Severseike combination, took the ball to Clarion's 18. Riggs failed to gain, then snatched a pass from Helland and raced to within two yards of the goal—only to fumble. After a series of bobbles by players on both teams, a Cowboy finally captured the pigskin on Clarion's eight.

Five plays advanced the ball to Belmond's 22, when Severseike extinguished the scoring threat by going in for a bit of fumble-recovery of his own. Three line plays provided seven yards, and three passes a total of 56 to bring Belmond its second tally. A 36-yard pass play, Helland pitching and Watermiller catching, was the pay-off. Severseike gathered in a toss for the extra point that tied the score at 14 apiece.

The third quarter ended with Clarion in possession of the ball on their own 47 — and going strong. Five plays later Mechem trotted 20 yards to score. Wagner blocked the kick, leaving the count 20-14.

After the following kickoff, Belmond's offense failed to click and a Faris punt was partially blocked. Clarion took off from its own 49 and produced the final TD of the evening on a series of 11 plays. Cramer's kick brought the score to 27-14.

The Cowboys were knocking on the door again as the game ended, after a Watermiller fumble had been recovered by Clarion on Belmond's 27. Although set back by a 15-yard holding penalty, the winners had advanced to within 10 yards of another score when Belmond scooped up a Cowboy fumble on the final play of the game.

Severseike's glue-fingered catches of Helland passes was THE feature of the game, for Belmond fans. Only once in seven tries did this combination fail to click — and on that occasion Helland was so rushed he had no chance to get the ball near the receiver.

This pair promises to give Belmond adversaries plenty to worry about next season, if Helland can get fairly adequate blocking.

Mechem, Cramer, Ter Hark and Flores, in the opposing backfield, all looked good—particularly the way they slithered away from Belmond tacklers as if they had grease on their pants. A young newcomer, Froyer, also turned in several very creditable runs for the winners.

Without those three lost fumbles—all in the last half—and aided by some adequate tackling, Belmond might have surprised the Cowboys this year . . . Maybe next time.

A GUN IS SAFE WHEN PROPERLY USED!
HE'LL GET IT IN THE END!
SAFETY SAKE
•TREAT EVERY GUN AS A LOADED GUN!
•BE SURE OF YOUR TARGET BEFORE YOU PULL THE TRIGGER!
•NEVER POINT A GUN AT ANYTHING YOU DON'T WANT TO SHOOT!
•NEVER CLIMB A TREE OR A FENCE WITH A LOADED GUN!

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Did you have a .22 rifle when you were a boy, or does your son have one now? They're a wonderful little weapon — accurate, handy, inexpensive. You can bring down squirrels from the highest tree or shoot rabbits clear over at the other side of a snow-covered field. A .22 is not too powerful; yet it CAN KILL a human being.

Or how about shotguns? Take a .410 for example, the smallest of the shotguns. It's handy for squirrels and rabbist—quail, too, if you're good. Mostly a small game gun, yet a .410 can blind you up to 300 yards. Nearer, say within 50 yards a .410 can kill a person easily.

The big shotguns—the .12 gauge—is used, besides a favorite hunting gun, for killing men. In warfare, or with criminals, heavy buckshot is used, but ordinary birdshot can just as easily smash a hand or a foot or a head.

The hunting season in Iowa will be a good one this year. Ducks, quail and pheasant are reported all over the state. The seasons are long enough and the bag limits are adequate.

There are plenty of hunters, too — including you. Your Iowa Safety Congress wishes all of you luck in the field but reminds you—THERE'S NO BAG LIMIT ON HUMAN LIFE! A gun is safe only when properly used. Treat every gun as a loaded gun!

Don't Let Your Right to Vote Die For Lack of Exercise!

Sometimes we're inclined to think that it might be a good idea to combine those two big events that set November apart as such a significant month in the American calendar—Election Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Certainly we have at least as much reason to give thanks for our precious right of free election as for the bounty of each year's harvest. In fact, it might be pointed out that in those nations that have lost the right of free ballot, the family larder is disinctly less ample than it was when the citizens held control over their governments.

Like every privilege, the right to vote carries with it a balancing obligation — the obligation to exercise your franchise. More unscrupulous politicians have been elected by votes NOT cast against them than have taken office by majority support of eligible voters.

It is ridiculous that candidates possessed of small ability or guided by questionable motives should so frequently succeed by the energetic efforts of their supporters as opposed to the indifference of the public at large. But thus are created the Mayor Hagues, the Tom Pendergasts and the "Boss" Crumps that are the periodic shame of our democracy.

Moreover, neglect to vote cannot be excused with the familiar excuse, "My ballot can make no difference." The League of Women Voters has prepared a letter for distribution to citizens of Belmond and vicinity that gives the lie to this alibi.

The League points out that three American presidents have taken office on the strength of a single vote (in balloting of electoral college or commission). Single votes were the margin by which California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington were elected to statehood. And the draft act passed the House by just one vote.

General Eisenhower sums the matter up in these words: "Our American heritage is threatened as much by our own indifference as it is by the most unscrupulous office seeker or by the most powerful foreign threat. The future of this republic is in the hands of the American voters."

Don't join the saboteurs of our democracy by remaining away from the polls Tuesday. Support whatever candidate you please . . . but VOTE!

Late Al Jolson Demonstrated What Pure Enthusiasm Can Do

Although the late Al Jolson died a millionaire and was admired and highly respected by a large majority of his fellow entertainers, many people who's only contact with the mammy singer had been via radio frankly wondered, "What's the guy got?"

Al was no great shakes as a singer; many a finer voice has failed to make a living for its owner. While he could go along with a gag, he was certainly no comedian. And despite a couple of successes when talking movies were a fledgling industry, Jolson never really made the grade in Hollywood—because he simply wasn't an actor.

Your writer recalls seeing Al Jolson on the stage a matter of some 20 years ago, just before his career went into temporary eclipse. We had no desire to see Jolson, being primarily interested in the movie that accompanied his stage show. But after Al got before the footlights, he had the audience wrapped around his little finger in short order. While we'd been of a mood to defy the black-face warbler to entertain us, we soon found our delight rising with the crowd's and thought to ourself, "Look at that son-of-a-gun go!"

It was enthusiasm for his work that made Al Jolson great. When he faced an audience, he was determined to please those yahoos if it was the last thing he did; and it would have taken a man of stone to remain indifferent to his efforts. If ever a man proved that enthusiasm for a job can constitute a form of genius all its own, Al Jolson was that man. As a result, he'll likely be remembered long after many of his more gifted contemporaries in the entertainment field have been forgotten.

Mr. Gwinn Defends Liberal Use Of Congressional Frank—Or Does He?

Repeatedly we've been impressed by the fact that the bulk of the franked mail we get comes from senators and representatives who actually have the least to say.

What brought this currently to mind is a piece reprinted from the Congressional Record (and franked to us, of course) in which Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn of New York defends (?) himself against a charge of abusing his franking privilege.

"I have been accused," he confesses, "of mailing out 2,400,000 pieces of information at taxpayers' expense during the last six years. That is an average of 400,000 pieces per year. Assuming these figures to be correct (and The Independent so assumes, since Mr. Gwinn offers no objection), the printing, paper and envelopes for these speeches constitute the big expense and not the postage."

In this regard, we only say that we've no objection to any congressman — or his followers — spending as much on paper and ink as they see fit. That doesn't seem to enter into the debate over indiscriminate use of franking privileges.

Moreover, he has a point in a further assertion that the Fair Deal administration is not niggardly in using the mail (at public cost) to further its own purposes. But the portion of the New Yorker's outburst that amused us was this.

He places great emphasis on the fact that franked congressional mail costs a meagre $1,200,000 per year. Assuming that no more than a fourth of Mr. Gwinn's personal propaganda is mailed first class and the remainder as third class mail (though the ratio of franked mail to this office runs much more heavily to first class), his free postage per year would be equivalent to $6,000.

If every congressman made as liberal use of his frank as Mr. Gwinn, the annual bill for franked mail would add up to more than THREE million 200 thousand—instead of the ONE million, 200 thousand figure that the indignant protector of the frank declares the cost to be.

Of course, Mr. Gwinn could insist that he has more to tell his constituents than the average congressman. But if you're unwilling to accept that—as we are—it looks like his gun goes off in his face. We fear Mr. Gwinn is just another resident of a glass house with a penchant for throwing rocks.

When the administration can tell us precisely why socialized medicine would succeed in America when it's so miserably failed in England, we'll be ready and eager to listen. In the meantime, we'll remain convinced that it would constitute an infringement upon private enterprise and a threat to the public well being that U. S. citizens should refuse to tolerate.

"The vice president's weekend trip from Washington to his Paducah, Ky., home last Saturday cost the U. S. air force two big planes, both wrecked beyond repair in a taxi-ing accident," reports the Des Moines Register. Had Bill Waymack been indirectly involved in a similar mishap back in his AEC days, we'll wager that failure of the one plane's controls would have been blamed rather than the Register ex-editor's desire to fly home.

When John Junko of Lawler and Carsteen Steen and Ed Hamann of Decorah returned recently from a hunting trip in the Yukon territory of Canada, they had bagged two moose, two caribou and three grizzly bears. One set of moose antlers measured 62 inches.

DROWNED

After he had been missing from a home for the aged in Madrid for 24 hours, the body of August Swenson, 84, was found in a railroad reservoir one mile west of town. Officials believe he lost his footing on the bank of the pond and fell in, while taking an afternoon walk.

NEIGHBORS

Remmer Dinkla, Masena farmer, died of injuries in an Omaha hospital recently. He was fatally injured when his own car collided with one driven by his next-door neighbor, in front of Mr. Dinkla's home.

Ben Greiman, Klemme Farmer, Invents Portable Grain Dryer

(Editor's Note: the following article appeared in last week's issue of The Klemme Times.)

Ben F. Greiman, Klemme farmer and inventor, has gone into the field of drying grains with a new machine which he has built and patented, and which will be in operation at his farm north of Klemme by the end of this week.

Mr. Greiman's new invention is a portable dryer and is very simple in operation. Roughly it consists of three tubes, about 21 feet high. The center tube is about 10 inches square and at intervals are baffle plates, the pitch of which can be regulated by a chain.

This is the tube which the grain drops through, passing through an air current in the drying process. On opposite sides of the square tube are round tubes, four or six inches in diameter in which power-driven augurs operate.

The augurs pick up the grain from a traveling belt, elevate it to the tip of the square tube. The grain then descends from one baffle plate to the next, through air that can be heated, until it finally arrives at the bottom where it is picked up, goes to the opposite augur and is elevated into a spout that leads to the storage bin.

The above is rather rough description of the corn drying machine. The blower for the machine can operate either with or without heat and as much air blast can be applied as deemed necessary.

Mr. Greiman points out that by using his drying machine much labor can be saved in the field. For instance, in harvesting small grain, the grain can be cut standing and do away with wind-rowing, for if the grain is a bit green or damp, the machine will take care of it.

There are screens at the top of the tubes which will screen out weed seeds and chaff, so that the finished product will be good seed grain.

In harvesting corn, Mr. Greiman will machine pick the corn, dump it into a corn sheller, from which it will be picked up and run through the dryer. The corn can be elevated back and forth through the dryers and the moisture removed for storage.

Mr. Greiman also has a rotary cultivator shield on the market. It has been made at Des Moines, but Mr. Greiman has made arrangements with a large Kansas City concern to manufacture his shields and put them on the market.

There are already hundreds of Greiman's shields being used by farmers in Iowa and they say they are very successful. Some improvements are being made on the shields that will go on the market next year.

NORWAY RAMBLERS

Norway Ramblers 4-H club monthly meeting/ was at the home of Donovan Baker on Oct. 19. Eleven boys answered roll call by naming their projects for the coming year. The club program for the year was planned. New members of the Norway Ramblers are Ted Thompson and Roger Espe.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMannus entertained Sunday, Oct. 22, at a farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. James Kelley of Davenport. Guests were the Dale Busick family, Charles McMannus, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Thayer and Larry, Andrew Connors, Ed Steinlicht and Lee Oviatt.

F. C. Must Defeat Bulldogs to Keep Grid Slate Clean

NORTH IOWA STANDINGS

	W	L	Pts.	O. P.
Forest City	5	0	164	64
Lake Mills	4	1	88	50
Buffalo Center	4	2	115	76
Britt	2	3	56	80
Garner	1	3	25	68
Belmond	1	4	33	112
Northwood	1	5	64	95

Forest City will have both its unbeaten record and undisputed championship of the North Iowa conference at stake when the Indians tackle Lake Mills on the Bulldogs' gridiron Friday night. Last weekend Northwood bowed to Forest City, 31 to 18, while Lake Mills was tripping Garner, 15 to 6.

Statistically, the Indians would appear to be odds-on favorites to take the Bulldogs into camp. Forest City has averaged nearly 33 points per game against its opponents' 13—or five touchdowns to two. Lake Mills' offense has averaged nearly 18 points per fray, but has only a one-touchdown margin over its foes.

Biggest surprise of last week's conference activity was Britt's 19-14 win over Buffalo Center as the Bison wound up their season on their home field. It was a decisive vcitory for the Eagles, who led by two touchdowns until the host eleven pushed over a final tally with only two minutes remaining in the game.

Britt's win assured the Eagles of at least a fourth place tie in the final loop standings, and a chance to exclusive claim on that spot if Britt can whip Garner on the Cardinal gridiron tomorrow night.

Belmond is idle this week. A week from Friday the Broncos will take on Garner in a battle that may decide which of the two teams will join Northwood in the conference cellar. The Vikings wound up their card last week, with the 13-0 win over Belmond as their only loop conquest.

IOWA HAWKEYES

The Iowa Hawkeyes 4-H club met Oct. 18 at the Community room at the Rowan school house. It was the first meeting of the new club year. Eighteen old members and two new members were present. New members are Larry Olson and Larry Ersland.

Raymond Aldrich and Loran Hadley, the two club leaders, were both present. Raymond provided tips on how to conduct demonstrations and Loran Hadley read a report entitled, "The Fellow You Would Like to Know."

Lunch was served by Mrs. Laurence Retleff, assisted by Mrs. Fred Turner.

AL LOVELAND for U. S. SENATE

Al Loveland's Stand on War

"Let's make something real and lasting out of the United Nations. This is our best hope for avoiding another tragic, bankrupting war. This will save money. And more importantly, it will save human lives.

Al Loveland on Domestic Issues

"Let's jealously protect basic farm and social legislation — the REA, social security, the school lunch program, health research, the corn loan, etc.

"Let's establish for hogs, milk, and eggs a program as effective as the one we have for corn, oats, and soybeans.

"Let's keep the economy strong and expanding. This is essential to support the high cost of present and past wars."

LET'S ELECT
AL

Loveland's Record

- A Successful Farmer.
- A Successful Director of Iowa's Food Production Program, World War II.
- A Successful Undersecretary of Agriculture.
- A capable Head of the United States Agricultural Delegation to the United Nations.
- A Staunch Supporter of Wise Marketing of Surplus Commodities Straight to the Consumer for Lowered Costs to Both Consumer and Government.
- A Supporter of Fair Prices for Farmers on Corn, Pork, Soybeans, etc.

CHEVROLET

Judge it on DURABILITY... DEPENDABILITY

It rides more smoothly
Take one ride and you'll agree Chevrolet is the smoothest riding car in its field. It's the only low-priced car combining the famous Unitized Knee-Action Ride and airplane-type shock absorbers all around.

It operates more economically
Chevrolet's famous Valve-in-Head Engine, exclusive to Chevrolet in its price range, brings you an outstanding combination of thrills and thrift, plus proved dependability, year after year.

It's better looking all around
Outstanding good looks accompany the outstanding performance of Chevrolet cars—only low-priced car with Body by Fisher—and most beautiful in its field, according to a recent public survey.

It drives more easily
Enjoy finest no-shift driving with Powerglide Automatic Transmission* and 105-h.p. engine—or finest standard driving with standard engine and Synchro-Mesh Transmission—at lowest cost.

It lasts longer, too
Many Chevrolets are performing dependably after ten, fifteen or twenty years of service. That's one reason why there are over a million more Chevrolets on the road than any other make.

It gives more for less throughout
Only Chevrolet offers so many performance, comfort and safety features of highest-priced cars at the lowest prices and with such low cost of operation and upkeep. Come in and see it now!

ⓧ Re-Elect

Iowa's U. S. Senator Bourke B. HICKENLOOPER

Iowa Trusts his . . .

EXPERIENCE He Knows the Facts!

Since 1934 when Bourke Hickenlooper became a member of the Iowa Legislature, he has been proving his outstanding ability to serve the state and the nation. With each successive responsibility . . . as Lieutenant Governor, as Governor and as U. S. Senator . . . his courage and ability have served the best interests of Iowans. Veteran of World War I, graduate of Iowa State College and the State University of Iowa, experienced legislator, Hickenlooper has the "know-how" and experience to continue working for you in the U. S. Senate.

LOYALTY . . . He Supports Your Interests!

Hickenlooper's outstanding record of hard work and courage in the Senate has won him committee assignments of utmost importance to Iowans. He is a member of the committee on Agriculture, on Foreign Relations and a member and first chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Hickenlooper stands for: a sound, non-partisan farm program (based on parity approved and administered, state and national, by persons of the farmers' choice); commodity loans; soil conservation; REA; rural telephone service; farm highways; rural education; farm marketing and research.

COURAGE . . . He ACTS without Fear!

Sen. Hickenlooper, in the face of bitter attacks by left wing propagandists, is fighting vigorously for our national security. As Senator Arthur Vandenberg stated on January 25, 1950, in a letter to Hickenlooper, "But you and I have worked together on more than one atomic mission where I can testify at first hand that your acute vigilance was a timely blessing to your country." Time and facts proved him right.

Iowans are not fooled by attacks of expensive and false propaganda from "out of state" sources. They know Hick as a loyal, dependable friend of agriculture, of small business, of the laboring man and the veteran. He supports civic rights and women's rights.

He is fighting for a balanced peacetime budget, debt retirement, freedom of opportunity, strong national security. He is fighting against government squandering and the growing controls, threatened bankruptcy and socialism of the present administration. For courageous, alert and honest representation for Iowa in the U. S. Senate, "Stick with Hick."

In the clutches of THE LAW and he doesn't know why

Most of the teen-age youngsters who run afoul of the law do not know why!

They can hardly be expected to realize that a lack of proper moral and religious training has left them ill-equipped for honest, decent living.

In many cases, their parents did not give them the advantage of religious education in the Church. And so, all their lives they may have to pay the penalty of their parent's neglect.

Juvenile Delinquency is hard to cure, but it is easy to prevent. The Church, with the support and cooperation of faithful parents, can equip every child with the sure foundation of Christian truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

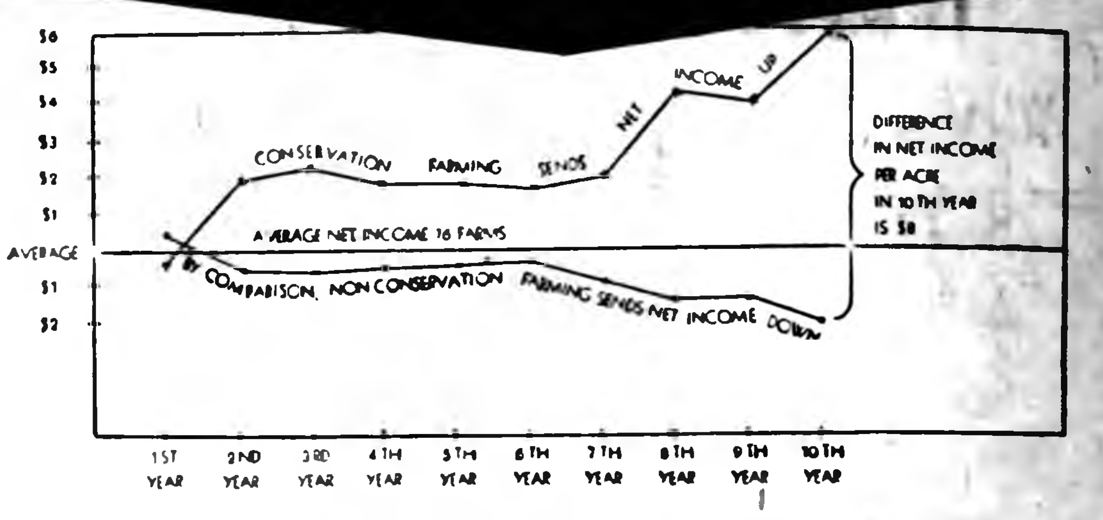
An Easy Lesson in HARD FACTS—



The chart above demonstrates this plain fact: Net income per acre goes up with conservation farming, down with non-conservation farming. It's as simple as that.

Farmers' Own Story. The chart tells a story, proved over a 10-year period, by carefully-kept farm record books on 366 Illinois farms. From them, come these hard facts to make an easy lesson in soil conservation:

1. The straight line in the chart represents the average net income per acre of 76 of the farms involved, year by year, in a single county.
2. The upper zigzag line shows the progressive increase in net income per acre, on 20 conservation farms in the same county.
3. The lower zigzag line represents the extent to which 20 physically comparable non-conservation farms in the same county fell below the over-all average (net income per acre on the 76 farms).
4. Increases in income from conservation practices tend to be small at first—note upper zigzag line from second to sixth year. Later on, they tend to rise abruptly—note upper zigzag line from seventh to tenth year.
5. Meanwhile, in relation to the over-all average net per acre, non-conservation farmers (lower zigzag line) earn less and less. They do not necessarily lose money, but if they make a profit, they do so by mining their land. Their soil grows progressively less productive.
6. The money-making practices in a complete conservation farm plan are really very simple: Proper land use; testing and treating the soil; crop rotations with ample use of grasses and deep-rooted legumes; and (where needed) proper water management practices, including grass waterways, contouring, strip-cropping, terracing, and tile and open-ditch drainage; plus efficient use of legumes, grasses, and other feeds through livestock.
7. At the end of 10 years, as the chart shows, such practices were good enough to earn these Illinois conservation farmers $8 more net income per acre than the non-conservation farms earned.

We believe that stories like this are a powerful argument for conservation farming. We urge you to adopt these practices on your farm.

See your county agent or soil conservationist soon.

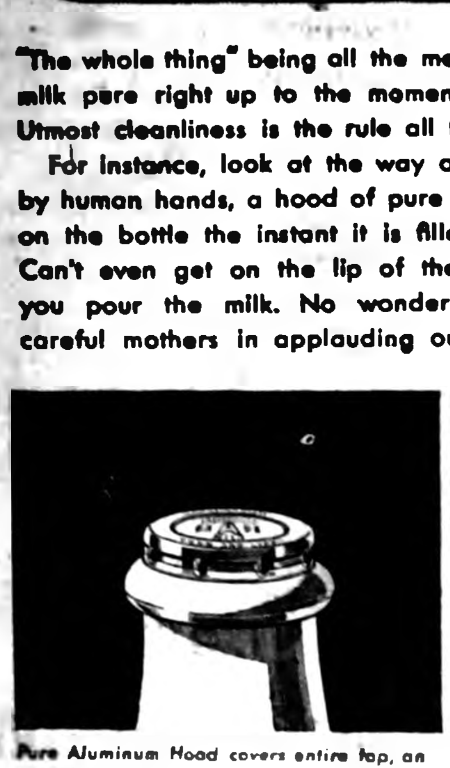
"I'M HAPPY ABOUT THE WHOLE THING"

"The whole thing" being all the methods we use to KEEP moo-cow's milk pure right up to the moment you open and use the bottle. Utmost cleanliness is the rule all the way from cow to kitchen.

For instance, look at the way our bottles are sealed. Untouched by human hands, a hood of pure food-friendly Aluminum is placed on the bottle the instant it is filled. No dirt or germs can get in. Can't even get on the lip of the bottle and be picked up when you pour the milk. No wonder self-respecting cows join with careful mothers in applauding our more sanitary package of milk.



Pure Aluminum Hood covers entire top, an airtight, moisture-proof, germ-proof seal.

No contamination when you pour. Lip has been protected from dirt and germs.

Republicans Score Clean Sweep in Wright County Vote

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

Who says money's scarce these days? We have on good authority that 82 per cent of the property owners on Third Street NE paid their assessments for curb and gutters on the new paving all in one chunk! Only 18 per cent availed themselves of the privilege of paying in installments.

E. B. Carpenter, bond attorney with Bannister, Carpenter, Ahlers and company of Des Moines, says this was the second highest per cent of cash payment on such assessments within his experience—and he's been involved in municipal bonding for approximately a quarter century.

—M-S—

Incidentally, those who had a part in the Third Street paving can feel that the lengthy period involved in its completion (remember how bad weather strung the job out?) has been at least partially justified. R. E. Merrill, assistant construction engineer with the state highway commission, after viewing it recently praised it as "the best paving job built in Iowa in 1950". Probably cost the contractor more than any corresponding job in the state, too.

—M-S—

For some weeks The Independent has been receiving among its exchanges "The Goldenrod", student newspaper of Wayne State Teachers college, Wayne, Neb. For some time we couldn't figure out to what we owed this courtesy. A careful perusal the other day by Dick Gowdy revealed that the editor is Ronnie Hunter a former Belmondite—so now we know. Ronnie's putting out a very nice paper.

—M-S—

Can't let the memory of Halloween, 1950, fade entirely without making appropriate mention of the operations of Sol Krass and Bob Tomson among the tricks-or-treaters. Apparently few homes in the east part of town escaped the pan-handling of this well disguised pair, who — for one evening—indulged in "second childhood" to the hilt.

Many a housewife was left flabbergasted by their mature taste in "treats" (of liquid variety); but they were having so much fun that their enjoyment was infectious and left more than one adult pondering, "Now why didn't I think of that?"

Mrs. Hartie Lathrop has a blooming cactus plant that is quite the envy of all her neighbors. She has had it only about 18 months, but twice in that time it has produced strikingly beautiful flowers. It had two blossoms about a year ago, and last week was exhibiting another lovely one.

Although the plant itself is only four or five inches tall, its blossom is close to six inches in diameter. The four, velvety petals are bright with wine-colored stripes against a rich green background. The blossom lasts only two or three days.

Mrs. Lathrop doesn't know what variety of cactus she has—or if it always blooms annually or not. She's promised to let us get a picture if the plant puts on another show next fall.

—M-S—

Little Twyla Gae Stadtlander, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stadtlander, experienced the thrill of her first airplane ride a week ago Sunday and her folks are a bit fearful they've started something. She and her dad enjoyed a pleasure flight over Boone, with a friend of Bill's at the stick.

Twyla was permitted to handle the controls briefly and now, needless to say, feels she's ready to solo at almost any time. When we asked the tot's mother if she was also a passenger, she vigorously replied, "Oh, my goodness no!" She definitely doesn't share Twyla Gae's enthusiasm for making like a bird and is entirely willing that her young daughter do the flying for both of them.

—M-S—

Anyone wishing to "bone up" of protective measures before Belmond is subjected to its first atomic bombing (guess one'd be enough!) is welcome to drop in to The Independent office and take a gander at our copy of "Survival Under Atomic Attack". It assures, "You CAN Survive," which is encouraging.

Harold Nielsen Passes State Optometry Tests

Dr. Harold R. Nielsen, who only recently received a degree in optometry from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry at Chicago, has been visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Erma Nielsen.

Doctor Nielsen returned to Iowa to take his state board examination at Des Moines last week, preparatory to opening a practice of his own. Having qualified for a license, he is presently looking around for a promising location.

Blecker Wins by Largest Margin; Hickenlooper Plurality Narrowest

Republicans swept the slate in Tuesday's general election, insofar as Wright county was concerned—thereby reflecting the voting trend throughout the state of Iowa. Total ballots cast exceeded 7,000 in number. Although this was approximately 1,000 short of the number cast in the presidential year of 1948, it exceeded 1946's total by about 2,000 and was possibly the heaviest "off year" vote ever cast in the county.

Sheriff Bob Blecker's margin over John Bleeker—3,023 votes—was the largest that any candidate showed over his opponent. The GOP incumbent totaled 4,902 votes to the Belmond man's 1,879. None of the other county officers were opposed for reelection.

Closest race was that between Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper and Al Loveland. Only 989 votes separated the two as Hickenlooper attracted 4,014 supporters and the Democratic candidate, 3,025.

Belmond placed one man in the state legislature—but lost out with a second. Clark McNeal was elected Wright county representative by a 4,380-1,870 margin over Vernon McLaughlin; but Rodney Urdahl failed to unseat R. R. Bateson of Eldora, Republican state senator from the 37th district, the tally going against him 3,859 to 2,092.

John Greenlander was returned to the board of supervisors from the first district. He polled 1,010 votes to 407 for his Democratic opponent, Francis McNulty.

The incumbent supervisors in the third and fifth districts, William Fisher and T. J. Henry, failed in independent efforts to beat out the Republican nominees, Albert Christopher and Harland Hill. Christopher held a 1,394 to 882 edge and Hill's was 1,036 to 574.

Gov. William Beardsley drew 4,498 votes to Lester Gillette's 2,542 and in the lieutenant-governor race William H. Nicholas defeated Iver Christopherson, 4,024 to 2,120. Attorney General Robert Larson got a vociferous vote of approval from Wright county, drawing 4,583 votes to 1,958 for the Demo candidate, Harold Fleck. All other Republican nominees for state posts were successful by smaller but comfortable margins.

James I. Dolliver, incumbent Republican congressman from the sixth district, defeated Maurice O'Reilly by a margin that was exceeded only by Bob Blecker's. The Fort Dodge attorney polled 4,700 votes against 1,710.

Urdahl drew the largest number of votes of any Democratic candidate except in the senatorial and governorship races, but his one-man fight was insufficient to counteract the Republican trend throughout the county. In Hamilton county, Urdahl trailed Bateson 3,523 to 1,606 and in Hardin — Bateson's home county—4,673 to 1,820. In view of the GOP sweep in the 37th district, his total of 5,518 to 12,055 for Bateson was a very respectable showing.

Except for Loveland, no Democratic candidate carried more than a handful of Wright county precincts. Loveland was tops in 10 of the 28. Urdahl, next in line, carried only five.

Wall Lake township was the only one to defy the GOP ticket. Not a single Republican got the nod there, although Dolliver missed by only two votes.

A tabulation of complete, unofficial election results will appear next week.

CROP Campaign In County Opens Sunday, Nov. 12th

Christian farmers of the midwest are organizing again to share in 1950 a portion of their bounty with suffering humanity through the CROP program. CROP is a rural church campaign by which farm produce is contributed for distribution by designated church agencies among the needy and unfortunate overseas.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program in Wright county will be observed the week of Nov. 12-18, with a goal of two and a half carloads of corn to be shipped for disbursement in Europe or Asia.

The churches of the county will observe CROP Sunday, Nov. 12, and representatives of CROP will call for gifts on Monday and Tuesday following.

At the head of the CROP program in Wright county are Rev. W. G. Smedsrud, Clarion, county chairman; Rev. Victor Schuldt, Clarion, secretary; Charles Austin, Clarion, treasurer; Rev. R. R. Kessinger, Goldfield, representative for Church World Service; Rev. Father Slowey, Eagle Grove, representative for Catholic Rural Life; and Rev. Arthur Tolo, Dows, representative for Lutheran World Relief.

Township chairmen for the CROP drive are Eldon Rasmussen, Liberty; Alfred Hansen, Eagle Grove; Mrs. Ray Stevens, Grant; Olaf Watne, Blaine; Mrs. Raymond Clark, Vernon; Mrs. Lawrence Woodley, Iowa; Martin Thompson, Troy; Mrs. Ed Campbell, Norway; L. B. Oberhauser, Belmond; Ralph Marshall, Lincoln; Casper Hahn, Dayton; Julskie Cramer, Wall Lake; Bert Seimans, Boone.

Pleasant and Lake townships are yet to be organized.

Two Men Assessed Fines For Hunting at Cornelia

Two men were arrested recently for illegal hunting on the newly established game reserve at Lake Cornelia. Charges were filed by Warden W. E. Ayers against T. H. Sinram of Clarksville and Fred Carroll of Plainfield.

Carroll was accused of shooting a duck and Sinram of "pursuing, in an outboard propelled boat, migratory waterfowl on a game refuge."

Heard in the court of Justice of the Peace O. E. McGahey at Clarion shortly after their arrest, Carroll was fined $10.00 and costs and Sinram, $25.00 and costs.

4-H BOYS RECOGNIZED WITH AWARD DINNER; NEW OFFICERS NAMED

A large number of county 4-H boys received recognition at the 4-H Award Night banquet held Wednesday of last week at the Clarion Methodist church, attended by 320 members, mothers and fathers.

Farm Bureau President Lynn Thompson presented 67 membership recognition certificates to boys having completed five or more years of active club participation. Leader service pins were also awarded. Lloyd Lerdal of Belmond was given a 10-year pin.

Individual achievement awards went to Willis Mullenbruch, Glenn Lyons and Leroy Schaumberg of Clarion, Cecil Hill of Rowan, Charles Espe, Roger Olson and Douglas Bosworth of Goldfield.

4-H boys elected to county posts were: Jerry Murphy, of Grant township, president; Larry Aldrich, Iowa, vice president; Bill Stuck, Blaine, secretary-treasurer; Frank Long, Boone, historian.

Among the business concerns that sponsored the Award Night banquet were the following from Belmond: General Mills plant, Coop. Creamery, Thompson Hybrid Corn company, Farmers Elevator and First State Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vanness and family spent the weekend with friends and relatives at Moorhead and Charter Oak.

Business Houses To Remain Open On Armistice Day

Armistice Day 1950 in Belmond will witness "business as usual", according to Luin Cox, Chamber of Commerce secretary. All business houses plan to remain open, but some of the professional offices will be closed all day or on Saturday afternoon.

First State Bank will be closed, as will the post office windows and the liquor store. There will be the usual, single mail delivery in town but no rural deliveries will be made.

Commander C. V. Larkin of the American Legion says that no formal observance of Armistice Day is planned, in view of the decision to keep retail stores open.

Larson Gridiron Club President; Banquet Monday

Dr. A. M. Larson was elected president of the Gridiron Club at the last regular 1950 meeting of that organization held Monday night at the Clarmond Country club.

He succeeds Gene Woolley, who—with the other retiring officers—received a resounding ovation for the successful manner in which the club affairs have been conducted during the football season just concluding.

Luin Cox became the club's new vice president and Luther Johnson was chosen as secretary-treasurer. They succeed Jim Mariga and Dale Kessler, respectively.

Plans for the annual banquet for members of the high school varsity, freshman-sophomore and junior high football squads were announced by Clark McNeal, chairman of the committee in charge. The affair will be held at the Congregational church next Monday evening at 7:00 p. m.

Speaker of the occasion will be George Yates, the Des Moines Register's nationally known photographer. The English-born camera expert developed many of the photographic techniques that helped make the Sunday Register "peach section" one of the most admired sports sections in the nation.

Monday night's banquet will be the largest in the 11-year history of the Gridiron Club, with plans laid for attendance of 138 members, football players and guests. Lone honorary member of the group is Bud Suter, Mason City sports announcer, who was speaker at this week's Gridiron meeting and who declared he'd be on hand for the banquet if at all possible.

County RYP Will Hold Dinner-Dance Nov. 18th

Wright County RYP committees are hard at work making plans for a gala banquet and dance to be held at 7:00 p. m. on Saturday, Nov. 18, at the I. O. O. F. hall in Clarion.

Phil Abbott of Eagle Grove, master of ceremonies, promises a highly entertaining dinner program. Following the banquet the group will dance to the music of Doc Buxton's orchestra.

Tickets may be purchased at the county extension office, from RYP members or from one drugstore in each town in the county. Ticket sales close next Wednesday.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

A school program will be held at Belmond No. 2 this evening (Thursday) at 8:00 o'clock. Lunch will be served. Ada Blank is the teacher.

Samuel and Bruce Leinbach visited their aunt, Elizabeth Leinbach, in St. Paul over the weekend. They also attended the Iowa-Minnesota football game.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU ANNUAL MEETING SET FOR TUESDAY EVENING

All Wright County Farm Bureau members and their families are being urged to attend the annual Farm Bureau meeting at the Methodist church at Clarion next Tuesday evening. Program features will interest every member of the family, promises Lynn Thompson, county Farm Bureau president.

The principal business will be formulation of policies for 1951 and election of officers. Resolutions will be presented by Gerhard Thompson, chairman of the resolutions committee, for discussion and adoption. Joe Tokheim, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the names of candidates for the coming year.

The county Farm Bureau resolution committee is working on resolutions this week to be presented at the annual meeting.

Questionnaires received from members attending annual meetings and those that came in by mail are being tabulated and studied. These will be used as a basis, according to Mr. Thompson.

Members of the county resolutions committee are: Gerhard Thompson, chairman; Rammer Goeman, Raynard Richardson, Willis Kurtz, Mrs. Gerhard Thompson, Oscar Holmes, Hubert Tudor and Mrs. Albert Moellering.

BELMOND HUNTERS FINED

Two Belmondites ran afoul of the law Sunday near Clar-Lake. Donald Lieuwen was arrested for carrying a loaded shot gun in his car on a public highway and was fined $35. Dick Barkema was charged with hunting without a license and paid a $25 fine.

Panel Emphasizes New School Need

Teachers in the Belmond schools were quite gratified at the response to two American Education Week events held at the school house this week. On Monday afternoon, 200 parents of grade school pupils accepted an invitation to attend a tea in the hot lunch room.

Tuesday evening, close to 125 teachers and parents heard a panel discussion of the question, "Should Education Be A Community Responsibility?" Under the interrogation of Chairman Donald Bunnell, the five panel members pointed out various shortcomings and virtues of the Belmond school system.

Need for a new grade school building to relieve present congestion was the primary point of fact brought out, and the feasibility of erecting such a building was briefly considered. More detailed discussion of the matter is promised at Parent-Teachers meetings in the near future.

Rowat and Murray Now Occupying Its Own Newly Completed Building

Rowat and Murray last week moved into its new building on west Main street, which provides the engineering firm with adequate space for both its administrative offices and drafting and design personnel.

A 24x70 square foot floor space area is included in the new structure — approximately the same as the combined space the firm had in the old bank building at Main and Second avenue and in the quarters over Mello Maid ice cream shop.

All work on the new building was done by members of the Rowat and Murray staff, except for laying of the "Waylite" block that provides the major structural material. A fair amount of work remains to be done inside the building and the exterior has yet to be sealed.

Four offices will be created at the front of the new building by floor-to-ceiling partitions. A furnace is still to be installed, wash room and dark room for photostatic work.

Larry Murray, local partner in the firm, says that the structural material used enabled the concern to build for some $1,500 to $2,000 less than a structure of frame lumber would have cost. Construction will allow for addition of a second story at a later date.

The old McAlpine residence adjacent to the office building is being remodeled to provide garage room on the first floor, with an entrance on the south.

Construction of the new quarters for Rowat and Murray indicates the steady growth the firm has enjoyed since it was formed in 1946. Senior partner is J. A. Rowat, who maintains a resident engineer's office at Estherville.

Larry Murray, junior partner, has been in charge of the Belmond offices from the outset. The concern at first had space in the rear of the Courson-McNeal office, then moved to the old bank building. About a year ago the drafting and design quarters were acquired over Mello Maid.

At present, Rowat and Murray engages year-around personnel totaling 28 employees. Besides Estherville, resident engineer offices are maintained at Leon, Pocahontas and Hampton. During the height of summer activity, approximately 50 persons are on the firm's pay roll.

Mother Suffers Relapse; Bob Foss Returns Home

Cpl. Robert Foss arrived home from Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., last Friday to be at the bedside of his mother, Blanche Foss, who is a patient at Steele Memorial hospital. Mrs. Foss suffered a relapse from a heart ailment on Oct. 25 and has been hospitalized since that time.

Bob came by plane to Des Moines after receiving a 15-day emergency leave. His sister, Mrs. Charlotte Winter of Denver, Colo., arrived here yesterday to be with her mother, also.

Mrs. Foss's other son, Richard of Columbus, Neb., drove to Belmond last Saturday to see his mother briefly and returned home the next day with his wife, who had been spending some time with Mrs. Foss.

Pheasant Season To Open Saturday

Twelve o'clock Saturday noon, Nov. 11, will hear the opening guns of a record number of pheasant hunters. Conservation officials expect more than 100,000 hunters will be out for ringnecks. Census returns indicate a better population of pheasants than in '49, when hunters were agreeably surprised at the number of pheasants in the field.

Surveys indicate the heaviest densities of ringnecks are in the northern three tiers of counties in the western two-thirds of the state.

In a last minute plea to sportsmen, the state conservation commission asked all hunters to observe the "Kill no hens" regulation and pointed out that a part of the success of this year's pheasant season is due to the fact that hunters refrained from shooting hen birds last year.

The commission also reminded hunters to secure permission of the landowners before hunting on private property and to follow the simple safety rules of firearms handling.

The pheasant season closes at 4:30 p. m. on Dec. 5, in the long season zone, which includes Wright county. Bag and possession limit is three cock birds.

Besides Wright the following nearby counties are in the long season zone: Cerro Gordo, Hancock, Franklin, Humboldt, Kossuth, Webster and Hamilton.

GETS ROTC PROMOTION

AMES—John D. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Baker of Belmond, received a promotion in the Iowa State College ROTC unit last week, according to Col. G. B. McConnell, professor of military science and tactics at the college. John was promoted to rank of cadet sergeant.

GARNER TO CELEBRATE "FREEDOM FLAME DAY"

Belmond residents have received a cordial invitation from the Garner Chamber of Commerce to participate in a community celebration observing completion of Northern Natural Gas Company's new pipeline. It's to be an all-day affair this Friday, with a variety of entertainment — and free pancakes, home-made sausage and coffee.

Going by the title of "Freedom Flame Day", the celebration will extend from 11:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Belmond's high school band will be one of seven taking part in the festivities. A fair share of the merrymakers are expected to head south after the supper hour to witness the Belmond-Garner football game on the local gridiron, starting at 8:00 p. m.

TOT DIES OF LEUKEMA

Gus Ziska received word last week of the death of his great grandson, Leslie Williams, at Miami, Fla. The little tot, who had not yet reached his fifth birthday, was a victim of the dreaded blood disease, leukemia.

"That Panther"--or Reasonable Facsimile--Inspires Hunt Near Alexander

Hunt for the mysterious "black panther" seen recently in the Des Moines vicinity—or another animal, very similar in appearance — produced a furore in the Alexander-Rowan neighborhood last Sunday.

Fuse to all the excitement was touched off in the morning when six Clarion people in a car headed for Mason City saw a strange, black, panther-like creature in a field just northwest of the intersection of Highways 3 and 107.

The sheriff's office at Hampton was notified and Sheriff L. M. Lemke, doubtful that so many people would suffer from a delusion simultaneously — and impressed by paw-tracks discovered in the field—is pretty well convinced the Clarion folks saw "something".

Members of the Conservation League of Latimer rallied a sizeable party of hunters to comb the section in which the animal was reported. Several cat-like tracks about three inches or so in diameter were discovered, but the seachers got no glimpse of their quarry.

Several airplanes also took part in the hunt, but their occupants expereinced no more success than the earthbound huntsmen.

Ralph A. Jones, Franklin county deputy sheriff, suggested to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers—who live on the section where the animal was reportedly seen — that they exercise caution in entering their fields unarmed . . . . just in case.

Alvin Larson, who lives on the southeast corner of the No. 3 and 107 intersection, reported a commotion in his hog pen Sunday night and brief vision of something jumping the fence when he and his wife were attracted by their dog's barking.

Tuesday morning, Alvin declared he was missing 10 head of hogs. He says he'd had the animals vaccinated only Friday and was certain of the number his herd should have included. He offered no idea as to how the "panther" might have removed the missing porkers.

Ed Hogan of The Hampton Times offers a possible explanation to the whole puzzle, with the observation, "In Iowa, it seems, it is more fashionable to see black panthers than flying saucers."

Juniors' Comedy Scores Real Hit

The Junior Class presented its annual play, "The Whole Truth", to a large and enthusiastic audience Friday evening at the school auditorium and gymnasium. From the beginning to the end, there was no lag.

Tom Aldrich, cast as Johnson the butler, made a perfect servant and used impeccable English. Outstanding performances were turned by Jerry Aldrich as Joseph Martin, the father of the household, and Eugene Frohling as Rev. Jacob Teasle, pastor of the local suburban church — who so wanted an organ for his church that he was willing to substitute as the Martin's butler for an afternoon.

Sandra Olson as Mrs. Martin, the fluttery mother, was also well-cast. To say who had done the best would be impossible, for all who took part were "tops". Others appearing were Phillip Biddle, Gladys Mossman, Lois Aldrich, Ronald Draves, Shirley Hackbarth, Dean Freese, Maurine Markham, and Bertha Barz, a sophomore who was invited to help.

The play was directed by Mrs. Audrey Bradley of Belmond. Between acts, vocal solos were presented by Joyce Lyons and Donna Keleher. The juniors presented flowers to Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Helen Farran, the class sponsor, and Supt. H. L. Pesch for their help in producing the play. The presentations were made by Dean Freese, class president.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lieuwen of Corwith called Sunday afternoon at the H. L. Pesch home.

Mrs. S. F. Stout entertained the members of the Progress club at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. James R. Groom was the associate hostess. Mrs. Boyd Wickman was a guest.

Ira C. Aldrichs Will Hold Open House On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Aldrich will celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 12, at their home north of Rowan by holding open house from two until five o'clock in the afternoon and seven to nine in the evening. They would like their friends to call at that time.

Mrs. Milton Brown of Marengo arrived Friday to spend the weekend with her sister, Esther Fowler.

Mrs. Everett Johnson entertained Friday evening in honor of the second birthday of her daughter, Linda. Twenty guests were present, including her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hackbarth of Iowa Falls and Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson.

The Woman's Society of Christion Service will hold their annual Christmas bazaar and supper at the Methodist church parlors Thursday afternoon and evening, Nov. 16. A fried chicken supper will be served at 5:30 and there will be several booths of articles for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nielsen and sons, David, Robert and Dale went to Hartland, Minn. on Saturday where they visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Menefee.

Mrs. Hannah Johnson of Eagle Grove visited the first of the week with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Lyons, and family.

Mrs. Ola Laughlin of Riverside has been visiting the past week with her father, D. A. French.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers drove to Indianola Sunday taking with them Mr. Myers' mother, Mrs. F. M. Myers who had visited them the past month. She will be with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Myers at Indianola.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Pritchett returned Monday from Hammond, Ind., where they had visited the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Ryan and Joan and Mae Virden.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Hadley, Lavern and Kevin were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hadley.

Elderly Couple In Auto Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill, elderly couple living south of Rowan, were both injured last Monday when their car driven by Mr. Hill went into a ditch. Mr. and Mrs. Hill were returning from a visit with Mrs. Hill's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Green at Traer.

The accident happened east of Popejoy, where the highway was being freshly graveled. It is believed that Mr. Hill lost control when the car hit some loose gravel. They were brought to the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford White, at Dows and given first aid—then removed to the Mercy hospital at Mason City.

Mr. Hill suffered a fractured vertabrae in his back and Mrs. Hill has a fractured vertabrae in the neck. The car was not badly damaged.

According to the latest reports, Mr. Hill is in a cast, but is able to be up a part of the time and in the same room with his wife. Mrs. Hill is more seriously injured.

Their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Fitz of Alexander, and son, Clair C. Hill of Rowan, have been spending as much time as possible with them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rietz entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. Nina Heathershaw and Steven and Julie Ann Rietz of Belmond.

The adult choir of the Methodist church met for rehearsal at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury Thursday evening. Sixteen persons were present. Mrs. Drury served lunch at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Usher spent last weekend in Cedar Rapids where they bought merchandise for their store. Daryl Farran was in charge of the store during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shaw, Donald and Patricia of Clarion were supper guests Monday evening of Mrs. Jennie Hackley.

W. S. C. S. MADE PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence H. Lindsey as hostess and Mrs. Earl Bailey and Mrs. Robert Gram as associate hostesses The devotions, "Please God, Mend Every Flaw", were led by Mrs. Donald Allison and the lesson, "Health in a Rural Community" was presented by Mrs. Marc Ihm. Plans for the Christmas bazaar were completed. Mrs. Wilbur Linaweaver, president, had charge of the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McDermott of Dows were in Rowan Friday evening to attend the class play at the schoolhouse.

Mrs. W. C. Utz of Clarion and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Riis and family of Latimer accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Aldrich to the Junior Class play Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Igou have moved from Dows to the house on the Rowen farm rented by James Groom and recently vacated by Earl Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Burt are the parents of a son, Jeffry Dana, born to them at the Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond on Friday, Nov. 3. He has a sister, Barbara Jean. This is the first grandson for Mr. and Mrs. James L. Burt of Rowan.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN FOR CHRISTAL WENZEL

Christal Wenzel was surprised at his home Friday evening when a large group of friends and relatives came in honor of his birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Jr., and family, of Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenzel and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenzel, Jr., all of Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker, Donald and Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peddle and Marvin; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wenzel and Jerry; and Mrs. Emma Peddle. A cafeteria lunch was served. Mr. Wenzel received many gifts.

LOUIS BURTS HONORED LAST SUNDAY EVENING ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burt were guests of honor at a gathering Sunday evening celebrating their silver wedding anniversary. Mrs. James L. Burt was in charge of the guest book and also of the program. Mr. and Mrs. Burt were presented with a corsage and boutonniere and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Sheldon, nee Lois Harris, who was the ringbearer at the wedding 25 years ago, gave a toast.

A poetry-writing contest was held and Howard G. Box sang a group of songs, popular a quarter century ago. Floyd J. Allen, on behalf of the group, presented the honored couple with a silver coffee service.

Alta Allen, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Allen, was the bride in 1925 and Louis Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burt, was the groom. They have made their home continuously on the John Burt farm since their marriage.

They are the parents of two children, Maxine—Mrs. Elmer Howard of Des Moines, — who was unable to be present because of illness, and Jimmy, who is a student at Clarion High school. They also have two grandchildren.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening to the 76 guests present.

Wilma Whitten came Friday evening from Cedar Falls to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Whitten. She was accompanied by a friend, Martha Hungerford, of Keswick who is also a student at Iowa State Teachers college. A dinner guest Sunday was Dorothy Gilkerson of Missouri Valley who accompanied the girls back to Cedar Falls Sunday evening.

Harry Cupp, 70, Died Last Friday

Harry Cupp, age 70 years, passed away at his home west of Rowan last Friday following a long illness. Funeral services were held at the home on Monday, with Rev. Albert Rice of Clarion officiating.

James Langdon, James L. Burt, Louis Burt. Joseph Patton, H. P. Ketchum and J. I. Knuths served as pall bearers. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Harry Chester Cupp, son of George L. and Amanda J. Cupp, was born June 17, 1880 at Grundy Center, Iowa. When he had reached the age of 11 years, his family moved to the farm near Rowan where he made his home until 1908.

He was united in marriage to Elsie Rosburg in 1904. To them two daughters were born, Mabel —Mrs. Harry Marshall of Vancouver, Wash., and Gladys—Mrs. Francis Lynch of Eagle Grove.

In 1908 Harry and his family moved to South Dakota, where they lived until 1915. At that time they returned to their present farm home near Rowan. He was preceded in death by his father, mother, one sister and one brother.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, seven grandchildren, one great granddaughter, four nephews and a host of friends.

Mrs. Harry Marshall visited at the parental home in September, but was unable to attend the funeral services of her father because of illness in her family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leist of Blairsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Markham of Thornton were among those who attended the Junior Class play at the school house Friday evening.

The Rust college singers appeared at the Methodist church last Tuesday evening when a capacity crowd gathered to hear them. Following the concert, the ladies of the church served cake and coffee in the church parlors. The six members of the party were overnight guests at the homes of E. B. Albro, C. M. Myers and Esther Fowler.

Methodist Church Here Scene Of Rubendall-Kimball Rites

MR. AND MRS. JAMES L. KIMBALL

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony performed at the Methodist church at 8:00 p. m. last Thursday, Miss Loretta Rubendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rubendall, became the bride of James L. Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kimball of Randolph, Neb. Rev. J. Heber Miller officiated at the double-ring service before an altar of potted palms, baskets of orchid and white chrysanthemums and white pom poms and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and slipper satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves. The skirt was of slipper satin, falling into a train. Her veil was of imported illusion, with wide lace trim, held in place with a tiara of heart design and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid corsage center and satin streamers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Hageman of Lansing, wore a gown of shrimp pink marquisette over satin with shoulder length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white pom poms.

The bridesmaids were Glenna Monroe and Dorothy Moore, both of Des Moines. They wore identical gowns of rose velvet and wine velvet, respectively, with velvet mitts and matching head bands. Each carried a bouquet of pink roses and white pom poms.

Daryl Dorenkamp, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. Flower girl was Sharon Wilcox, also a cousin of the bride. Her floor length gown was of white organdy.

Clarence Sandry and Leigh Kimball unrolled the white carpet before the bridal party proceeded to the altar.

Mrs. Paul Jenison played the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Patricia Chapman.

The groom was attended by his brother, Robert of Bancroft, Neb. Both wore dark business suits. Ushers were George Sharp and Marvin Dorenkamp. All of the men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a green suit with brown accesories. The groom's mother wore a gray suit. Both had corsages of white gardenias and pink roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors. A four-tiered rectangular wedding cake trimmed in pink and white centered the bride's table and was topped with miniature bride and groom. Silver nut cups with name cards marked each place.

Mrs. Ted Townsan acted as hostess at the reception. Mrs. Dora Fjetland poured, and Mrs. Rodney Moore of Dows cut and served the wedding cake. Mrs. George Stupka of Clarion served the trays bearing pink ice cream squares with whte wedding bell centers.

Jan Lerdal, Imogene Halfpap and Mrs. Robert Hograbe of Dows, served at the reception. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Ed Riggs, Mrs. Bob Coulson, Mrs. Ralph Chrisfie and Mrs. L. M. Helland.

Lucille Dickinson and Shirley Meyers were in charge of the gifts. Elaine Carroll of Des Moines had charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests included members of the groom's family from Bancroft and Randolph, Neb.

The bride graduated from Belmond High school and Iowa Methodist School of Nursing in Des Moines. Since graduation a year ago she has been working at Steele Memorial hospital. She has been the supervisor of nurses the past few months.

The groom is a graduate of the Randolph High school and the University of Nebraska. He received a B. S. degree in electrical engineering and is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon and Eta Kappa Nu, honorary fraternities.

Their future home will be in San Diego, Calif., where the groom will be employed by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation.

Goodell Firemen Quickly Put Out Cafe Fire Monday

Fire of unknown origin caused a considerable amount of damage to Dempsey's cafe at Goodell early Monday morning and threw a real scare into residents of that community, many of whom still recall when the entire north side of Main street was razed by flames in 1919.

First to discover the blaze was Mrs. Dan Martin, who—with her husband — lives over Martin's tavern, three doors away from the cafe. She awakened Dan, who ran to the firehouse in his night clothes and sounded the alarm with the fire siren at 4:30 a. m.

Quick response of the Goodell firemen helped keep the flames confined to the front part of the eating place and the blaze was soon under control. As a safeguard, the Belmond fire department was summoned and two trucks were rushed to the scene.

In view of the fact that a strong wind was blowing from the west, Belmond fire-fighters are of the opinion that the asphalt shingle siding and roofing on the cafe was probably the only thing that prevented other major conflagration from developing.

All but one building in the block is of wooden frame construction and the flames would have spread rapidly, had they not been promptly controlled.

As it was, damage to the cafe by fire, water and smoke will necessitate several days of repair work before the place can be reopened for business. Mr. Dempsey reports that insurance should largely cover the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ver Helst and children went to Mason City Sunday and visited Grandpa Hill at Sunset Rest home. They also visited the former's mother who lives in Mason City.

Indians Win Loop Crown; Cardinals Play Here Friday

	W	L	T	Pts.	O. P.
Forest City	5	0	1	171	71
Lake Mills	4	1	1	75	57
Buff. Center	4	2	0	115	76
Garner	2	3	0	44	82
Britt	2	4	0	70	99
Belmond	1	4	0	33	112
Northwood	1	5	0	64	95

Forest City clinched undisputed claim to the 1950 North Iowa conference championship last Friday night by playing Lake Mills to a 7-7 standoff on the Bulldogs' gridiron. The deadlock also gave the Lake Mills eleven sole claim to the runner-up spot.

On Wednesday evening of last week, Garner gave notice that Belmond is in for a tough battle in the conference finale here Friday. The improving Cardinals took the measure of Britt, 19-14, and thereby ascended to fourth place in the loop standings.

After some discussion of the possibility of moving the Belmond-Garner game to the Cards' field—as part of a community celebration that is being held at Garner on Friday—local school officials decided that the schedule assignment had best be followed. Consequently, the wind-up game will be played on the local gridiron as originally planned.

Belmond High is loaning its band to Garner in the afternoon to help our northern neighbors celebrate completion of the new natural gas pipeline; but school authorities felt that transporting season ticket holders to Garner would be too much of a problem to permit transfer of the game at this late date.

If the Broncos can tighten up their defense tomorrow night they should be at least an even choice to stop the Cardinals. With help of its new-found passing attack, the Belmond offense appears capable of giving the visitors a busy time in the scoring department.

A Belmond win would produce a three-way tie for fourth in the loop standings between the Broncs, Garner and Britt. A win for the Cards would leave them sole possessors of the fourth rung.

Shop Early FOR CHRISTMAS

Like all others who started buying for the Christmas trade months ago -- we've found in most cases only parts of our orders being filled and only on a few items do we feel that our stock is adequate. This is not local but holds true throughout the country according to information we receive weekly.

Yes, there is a definite shortage of the "hard lines" of merchandise, appliances, many metal toys, radio and TV sets, etc. It means that those of you who wait 'til the last minute will be disappointed. So please take heed to our warning—AND DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY.

CHEVROLET TRUCKS

with Chevrolet's Hypoid Rear Axle

Chevrolet trucks are engineered to "take it," in every way. Chevrolet's heavy-duty hypoid rear axles offer maximum strength . . . with single-unit housings formed into tubular steel beams, and splined axle-to-hub connections that deliver power more evenly. Gears last longer, too . . . pinion gear is ball-bearing supported at each end, with adjustable thrust pad to prevent distortion on extra heavy pulls. Add these advantages to powerful Valve-in-Head engines, Synchro-Mesh transmissions, and channel-type frames. Then you'll know why Chevrolet is the most popular truck in America. Come see these great Chevrolet trucks today!

WANTED

alias "CORWEE"

Blond hair, blue eyes. Four years old. Height 3 ft. 7 inches; weight 58 lbs.

Last seen loafing on his doorstep Sunday morning.

THIS BOY IS DANGEROUS

He is intelligent, clever, friendly—a natural leader. But his parents have repeatedly neglected the opportunities provided by local churches for his religious and moral training.

The aid of all Christian citizens is required to locate this boy and hundreds like him. The character-building influence of the Church can make them outstanding men. Your active support of the local churches in their efforts to train such youngsters will have ample REWARD in the contribution these youths will one day make to the life of our Community.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Just Blocking Sales to Minors Won't Solve That Smoking Problem

Last week we reported that a PTA committee was to confer with the mayor and city council in an effort to obtain strict enforcement of the ordinance barring sale of cigarets to minors. Inspiration for the move was airing at the latest PTA meeting of the fact that smoking among high school — and even junior high — boys in Belmond has become a major problem.

We'll really agree that the ordinance should be enforced. On the other hand, we view such enforcement as only a partial solution to the problem, at best. First responsibility for correcting the situation rests with the parents, themselves; and secondly, it's a problem for the school to face.

Unfortunately, in a minority of cases the parents simply don't give a hang if their school-age sons smoke or not. Those who ARE opposed to teen-agers in their family smoking should discuss the problem with the youngsters frankly and intelligently. There is simply no brief for juveniles acquiring the cigaret habit. It's harmful (though the kids seem either unaware or unconvinced) — and it's expensive. There certainly should be more attractive ways for a teen-ager to spend his money. Withdrawal of privileges should be resorted to if a reasonable discussion of the habit's disadvantages gets nowhere.

Of course, in cases where there's a complete breakdown of parental discipline—or complete absence of parental interest—responsibility for combatting the problem falls in the lap of school authorities, because of its relation to the student body as a whole.

There should be no toleration of cigarets on or around the school grounds, for one thing. We don't question for a minute that a majority of parents would stand behind the school administrators in making this policy stick by temporary expulsion from classses or any other reasonable penalties.

And certainly no teen-ager warrants consideration as an athletic prospect if sports participation means so little to him that he won't even refrain from smoking. This fall, football "regulars" from both the varsity and junior high squads have brazenly smoked practically anywhere and any time they chose. We're not acquainted with what training rules the coaches have set up, but surely they don't permit smoking.

It seems logical that a vigorous crackdown by the coaches would have as much influence in controlling high school smoking as any one step. It will be virtually impossible to keep cigarets away from the boys if they're determined to have them. But if the smoking athlete is barred from competition and becomes an object of ridicule rather than admiration, we believe it will do more than any other one thing to put juvenile smoking in the proper light—as a habit that's strictly for dumb Joes and show-offs.

Woodman, Woodman, Spare That Tree! —Political Plum Tree, That Is

We could see more than a grain of logic in one campaign barb aimed by Les Gillette at William Beardsley in the last days preceding the election (although the criticism was not specifically due the governor).

The Demo gubernatorial aspirant pointed out that the state still maintains three mining inspectors, although the need for coal mine inspections has radically diminished since the law creating their jobs was placed on the books 70 years ago. In 1950 there is only 15 per cent as many Iowa mines in operation as in 1910, and a good share of the present mines are of the strip variety rather than underground.

Only $3,600 per year is paid to a mine inspector; but if one will satisfactorily do the job that once required three, there's no sense to spending the extra $7,200. However, the real significance of the situation lies in the fact that it's by no means unique.

Back in 1933, the Brookings Institute of Washington, D. C. was hired to survey the Iowa governmental system and make recommendations as to how it might be improved and up-dated. To the best of our knowledge, no conscientious effort was ever made to follow up on the many sound suggestions the Brookings investigators had to offer.

We suspect that the small but unnecessary expenditure for that pair of unneeded mine inspectors represents one of a number of leaks that could be plugged by a determined attempt at streamlining. Unfortunately, it will take a stronger-willed administration than we have—or are likely to have in the foreseeable future—to clean house at the expense of politicals plums.

Mighty Nice of Iowa's Industrialists To Have Farm Interests at Heart!

It's no new observation that, "Politics makes strange bedfellows"; but situations that this truism bring about never cease to be fascinating. Last week in the final heat of pre-election activity a couple of Iowa organizations were to be found cuddled beneath the same blanket in very surprising fashion.

Both the Iowa Farm Bureau and the Iowa Manufacturers association came out with mild distortions of fact to substantiate a mutual objection to the holding of a state constitutional convention. Each was busily asserting that "urban areas" of the state already possess more than their share of representation in the state legislature—and therefore no need exists for a convention to make any adjustments in existing representational bases.

In the publicity of each organization, however, all towns less than 2,500 in population were tagged as urban areas—a policy which we personally deem is stretching things a bit. Whereas we feel that the interests of persons residing in small towns and hamlets are much more closely allied to those of agriculture than industry, the IMA explained:

"We realize that the problems of the large city differ from those of the small town; however, they have many basic fields of similarity while the farmer has problems which differ widely from those of either the city or the town. Because of this wide variance in interests it is important in Iowa, the nation's leading agricultural state, that the farmers are not slighted in their representation in legislature."

Now that is a highly commendable attitude, you must admit. We suspect the manufacturers' motives just a wee bit, though. If the truth were confessed, we consider it likely that the industrialists actually feel that the farmers ARE getting a better than fair break on representation right now. However, the IMA considers its chances of striking deals with agriculture much brighter than the prospect of getting along with the stronger labor vote that would be a product of any conscientious effort to reapportion representation in the general assembly.

—O—

With all the talk of "excess earnings" taxes and other proposed means of paying for national defense as we go, we'd feel much more resigned to our fate if we were satisfied that our lawmakers would practice as stringent domestic economy as will be required of the average taxpayer.

—O—

If election years accomplish nothing else, they bring a thorough airing of minor political skullduggery that exists year in and year out but is deemed worthy of note only when the biennial trek to the polls is in the near offing.

'Too Much Speed' Held Responsible For Increase in Auto Death Total

Faster driving was singled out today as the most serious factor in the sharply increased toll of Iowa traffic deaths in the first nine months of 1950.

State Public Safety Commissioner Pearl W. McMurry drew that conclusion in announcing the results of a detailed analysis of the 354 accidents that caused 415 deaths on Iowa streets and highways from January through September.

He pointed out, too, that these totals marked an 8.25 per cent increase over the 327 fatal accidents in the first nine months of 1949, and a 5.86 per cent increase over the 392 fatalities in that period.

"All the way through this report," McMurry said, "you can see the results of too much speed. We know that speeds are increasing, and this analysis shows the tragic price we pay for that extra speed in the needless loss of human lives."

Commissioner McMurry cited three specific comparisons to show that accidents traceable to speed accounted for the heavier toll: First is the type of accident. Pedestrian deaths increased from 41 to 63; deaths in "ran-off-roadway" accidents were up from 70 to 97. Other types of accidents, such as collisions with other vehicles or fixed objects, showed little or no increase.

"Experience shows," McMurry said, "that the number and fatality rate in pedestrian and ran-off-roadway accidents are in direct proportion to vehicle speed. That extra 5 or 10 miles per hour causes accidents that might not have happened, and makes the difference between injury and death in those that do happen."

Second indication of too much speed lies in the locations involved. Fatal rural accidents (on roads and highways where the temptation to drive at a dangerous speed is greatest) increased from 233 to 298. Fatal urban accidents (in cities and towns where speed is restricted by law) showed a decrease from 94 to 56.

Third a shift in time emphasizes the speed element. Fatal accidents during the hours of darkness, when the hazards of speed are greatest, jumped from 117 to 146. Those in daylight increased only from 185 to 193, and those at dusk or dawn dropped from 25 to 15.

"The upward trend in nighttime accidents indicates a growing indifference to the first rule of safe night driving: to drive slow enough so you can stop in the distance your lights permit you to see ahead," McMurry observed.

Present Iowa law contains no specific speed limit for passenger cars on rural highways, but requires the driver to maintain a "careful and prudent speed" with "due regard" for highway, traffic and weather conditions. The law further requires that the speed be slow enough to permit "a stop within the assured clear distance ahead."

'Way Back When

TEN YEARS AGO

Winter descended with a vengeance the first of the week, topping off its attack with zero weather and a blizzard to end all blizzards on Armistice Day, Monday. Many visiting pheasant hunters were stranded by the snow

—1940—

Five basketball lettermen have reported to Coach John Prasch, among the 30 candidates for the Belmond High team. The returning veterans are D. Banning, Merle Bonte, Loats, Townsan and Dorr.

—1940—

Between 3,200 and 3,500 persons defied the weather to throng to the opening of the new Ben Franklin store last Saturday.

—1940—

Larry Miller, former owner and publisher of The Belmond Independent, has bought a part interest in a daily paper at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

—1940—

Due to the yeoman efforts of Gerald Hedges, John Reed, Donald Sheriff and William Sheriff, Jr., who helped get her flock under shelter, Mrs. Alice Hedges lost only two urkeys out of 600 in the Armistice Day freeze. Merritt Armour wasn't so lucky with his newly acquired flock of some 600 sheep. He lost 50 head.

—1940—

Richard Banning left Wednesday for Randolph Field, Texas, where he has been asssigned as weather observer following his graduation from a weather observation course at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill.

—1940—

In the Pleasant township constable race in last Tuesday's election, final totals were William Voiles 522 votes, Glenn Rierson 462, Aielt Riekens 399.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. R. T. Coe has moved his veterinary office from over McGuire's store to the office rooms over Belmond Furniture company.

— 1930—

Ellis Burke, in his anxiety to get his limit of pheasants Wednesday, lost about two inches off his gun barrel. Finder please return and receive reward.

— 1930—

Henry Kolln, the Canadian wood chopper, will wrestle with Tag Tageson, 240 pounds, of Mason City, at the opera house tonight.

— 1930—

W. D. Schleiffarth is holding a two-day closing out sale at his farm northwest of Belmond this coming Thursday and Friday. Offerings will include 20 head of horses, 36 cattle 84 pigs and a large variety of farm machinery and other items.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

A former employee of a Belmond blacksmith shop in the past week wrote over $500 of worthless checks on the local bank, using a number of aliases. Several Belmond firms were among the victims. The bank is making every effort to locate the culprit.

—1920—

A new electric fire siren, gift to the city from one of its public spirited citizens, is in the process of being installed on a tower at the city hall grounds.

For the second time within

two weeks, the safe at the United Manufacturing company last Friday night was rifled by thieves. This time, however, they found no cash to repay them for their trouble.

—1920—

Charles J Papousek of this city and Miss Ethel Jacobs of Garner were united in marriage at the St. Francis church in this city on Oct. 28, the Rev. Father Eardley officiating

—1920—

J M. Jensen of Buffalo Center, who last spring was elected mayor of that community, is resigning his office and will move to Belmond to open a law practice.

—1920—

Showing next Wednesday at the Lyric theatre—Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm".

FORTY YEARS AGO

J B Robbins brought us a radish last week that measured 27 inches around and weighed 10 pounds.

—1910—

Married, Ella Jackson to Benjamin R Lau at Denver, Colo., on Nov 2. The bride has been a resident of Belmond for several years and is a popular young lady. The groom was formerly a young business man at Klemme.

—1910—

Don't fail to see the moving pictures of Hackenschmidt and other noted wrestlers at the Lyric next Saturday.

—1900—

Ole Thompson went to Mason City last Monday to consult a specialist in regard to a gathering on his right ankle.

—1900—

A "small boy" pulled the smokestack off the engine house last Halloween, causing no little inconvenience.

—1900—

Through the enterprise of Val Griesy, sufficient money was raised to defray the expenses of obtaining the election returns last Tuesday night and many remained up until the "wee sma' hours" to learn which Wm. was elected—McKinley or Bryan.

—1900—

A petition was circulated among the voters of Wright county Tuesday to permit the establishment of saloons in this county. What success was met we're unable to say as 30 days are allowed to obtain 65 per cent of the voters' signatures. It impresses us that a licensed saloon has some distinct advantages over the customary "blind pig".

More Iowa Jobs

Cousin Ed took a new job last week . . . making tires in one of the new plants eastern industry is putting up here in Iowa.

"I might as well help keep more of that eastern money out here," Ed said.

When you think a minute, it's amazing the number of eastern plants that are locating in Iowa, making everything from tires to fishing tackle.

Time was when easterners didn't think much of our industrial ability. But Iowa workmen have proven just as efficient as those back east, sometimes more so.

I say it's just another proof that set ideas and prejudices have a way of being wrong, once you test them out. No one's ideas are the only RIGHT ideas.

Ed likes to garden; I don't. Ed likes ice tea, while I enjoy a temperate glass of beer. We're both happier neighbors because we have respect for the other fellow's good sense . . . and we realize that his abilities, tastes, and opinions are just as valid as ours.

By George - Dick - Pat

Football apparently was not held in very high regard by the press—at least as represented by Belmond's Iowa Valley Press—in the fall of 1900.

"We believe it is the duty of the lawmakers of Iowa," commented the editor, "to legislate against the brutal game of football, the same as it does prize fighting. If the Christian (?) colleges are in any way responsible for permitting these games to be played, we hope these institutions will see the error of their ways."

The scribe then adds, philosophically, "The world has to have some way to dispose of its surplus population, we suppose. If a man is fool enough to play football, he is certainly surplus!"

—M-S—

When you get around to the front page of the second section and see the heading of the Belmond - Garner football story, don't jump to any false conclusions. We DID SO know what the score was—as the story reveals; but the press run of that section was completed before the headline bobble was discovered . . . Well, we keep TRYING!

—M-S—

We have it on good authority that Gordon Kessler is so adept a hunter that he doesn't even need a gun just sneaks up on his pheasants and grabs 'em by the neck.

Last Sunday he was out beating the bushes with Glenn Rierson and George Jenison when the party spotted a bird in some nearby weeds. "Gordy" stealthily stalked his prey until he was so close that a shotgun blast would have virtually demolished the bird.

"What'll I do?" he asked in a perplexed whisper. "Grab him by the neck!" was his pals' advice. So Gordon grabbed—and came up with the bodyless head of a neck-wrung pheasant that some earlier hunter had capriciously placed on the end of a weed stalk.

Business was definitely good at the Trinity Lutheran Guild's bazaar a week ago Tuesday as the sale of donated articles brought the ladies' organization a total of $479.24. Henry Hokel served as auctioneer and did a noble job of wheedling generous offers from the bidders.

Top "take" of the evening was $68 for a handsome spread. It was first purchased by Louis Tokman for $38; he then turned it back for re-sale and the second time around it brought in $30.

Two small platters of candy realized $8.50, pillow cases went for $8.00. All told, the open-handed folks in attendance made it apparent that there's always loose cash available hereabouts for worthy purposes.

Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand last week was serving for the 24th time, on an election board for a primary or general election. She has been appointed to serve on local boards with regularity in every election year since 1926. This record is augmented by similar service in connection with a number of city elections. Mrs. Hildebrand, herself, isn't entirely sure just how many elections she's sat in on. Suffice it to say that she's got ballot-counting down to a highly polished technique.

August Rabe of Pleasant township, although short of Mrs. Hildebrand's record numerically — by virtue of having no city elections to his credit—had been doing election board duty for an even longer period of time. He recalls that he first drew assignment as an election official 'way back in 1922, and he's been on the township board for every election since.

When Dr. H. J. Classick saw George Yates, Des Moines R. & T. photographer, at the speakers' table Monday night at the Gridiron club banquet, the visitor's distinguished bearing and well-trimmed mustached touched a responsive chord in Doc's memory.

In the course of George's introduction, it was mentioned he'd seen military service during the Mexican border campaign in 1916—and that did it. Both Doc and the noted camerman were in the 1st South Dakota Infantry at that time.

The local veterinarian recalled Yates clearly because of his military bearing, English accent—and the inevitable mustache. George recalled "Doc", who was then a kid of 16, because he was a bugler. (Good reason, huh?) Two of Doctor Classick's older brothers were in the same outfit—Maurice, now living at Sundance, Wyo., and Homer, of Huron, S. D.

Honor 'B' Awards Presented to 18 Gridders Monday

Eighteen boys were awarded varsity honor letters and another eight were presented with minor "B's" as a high point of the annual Gridiron club banquet for Belmond High's football stalwarts, held Monday evening in the basement of the Congregational church.

Coach Don Merritt, before presenting the major awards, announced to the gathering that Marlyn Watermiller and Dick Simpson had been elected by their fellow players as honorary co-captains for the 1950 season.

Ten seniors were among the monogram winners: Jack Riggs, Bill Trees, Dick Simpson, Dick Elliott, Bob Erdman, Marlyn Watermiller, Don Faris, Clelan Redmond, Stanley Eccles and Louis Oberhauser.

Only two juniors are on the list of returning B-men — Howard Wagner and Odean Severseike. Four sophomores were honored: Wilbur Daniels, Vernon Meyer, David Helland and Alan Madsen; and two freshmen, Merlin Stockseth and Arnett Ter Hark. Don Hoppel and Richard McMurray earned letters as managers.

Minor B's were presented by Coach Jim Scott to members of his frosh-soph crew: sophomores—Claude Larkin, Alan Shahan, Sherman Oberhauser and Ken Eccles; and freshmen—Gary Brothers, Billy Meints, Richard Smith and Larry Nelson.

After the turkey dinner had been served by ladies of the Congregational church and the various coaches had had their say, the audience was regaled with a series of interesting anecdotes told by George Yates, noted photographer with the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

The banqueteers were also entertained by several selections offered by a male quartet comprised of Duane Cunning, Dr. P. A. Rietz, "Mac" Jensen and Maynard "Gus" Taylor.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

No. 8 country school of Pleasant township is holding a program tomorrow night, starting at 8:00 o'clock. Plans include awarding of a door prize and serving of lunches.

Sleuthing by Cop Brings $50 Fine Against Caldwell

Some expert sleuthing by Officer Dale "Pinky" Walrod last weekend resulted Tuesday night in Donald Caldwell paying $50 and costs in the court of Mayor A. W. Loats on charges of failing to report and leaving the scene of an accident.

L. W. Murray discovered Sunday morning that the Rowat and Murray pickup truck parked in front of his house had been run into the previous night, causing about $75 damage.

"Pinky", through pieces of broken headlight at the crash scene, and from paint left on the truck, determined that the unidentified car must have been a black Hudson.

Investigation revealed that Caldwell had called at Ray's Body Shop on Sunday for a temporary straightening job on the right front fender of his car—a black Hudson.

Walrod, with Sheriff Bob Blecker and Patrolman Al Sparby, on Monday interrogated Caldwell at the Lehigh Cement plant at Mason City, where he is employed. Although he first denied guilt, Caldwell finally admitted he'd hit the truck.

W. J. McLaughlins to Observe Golden Anniversary on Nov. 21

MR. AND MRS. W. J. McLAUGHLIN

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary on Tuesday of next week, Nov. 21. An 8:30 a. m. mass of thanksgiving will be held at St. Francis church, followed by dinner at the Veterans' Memorial hall for immediate relatives and guests.

Open house will be held at the Veterans' hall from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon, to which the McLaughlins' many friends are cordially invited.

William J. McLaughlin and Kate Deheck were married on Nov. 21, 1900, in Church of the Assumption of Churchville, Iowa, by the late Rev. Dan Molyneaux. The couple resided on a farm near Churchville for 19 years, before moving to Wright county.

They then made their home on the farm southwest of Belmond which Mr. McLaughlin actively farmed until his retirement five years ago, when he and his wife moved to their present home in Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin have 10 living children, one daughter having passed away in 1923. All of their immediate family except one daughter, Kathryn — Mrs. Winston Weber—of Odessa, Wash., plan to participate in the anniversary observance.

The other sons and daughters are: Mike, John, Eugene, Vernon, Jim and Margaret — Mrs. Lawrence Uthe—all of the Belmond vicinity; Edd, of Pioneer; Lyola — Mrs. Don Hocraffer—of Clarion; and Bill of Swaledale. The McLaughlins have 34 grandchildren.

Trowbridge Files Suit for $9,200

Five damage suits involving auto accidents have been filed in district court recently, one of them by George Trowbridge of Dows, member of the county board of supervisors. Mr. Trowbridge is suing Donald Gardalen, also of Dows, for $9,210.33 as the outcome of a collision on June 23.

The supervisor asks $5,000 for "probable permanent injury to right shoulder", $3,000 for pain and suffering from that and other injuries, $675.33 for damages to his 1950 Dodge sedan, and the balance for other losses incurred through the accident. The mishap took place on a Dows street.

Clyde Wehrle is making a claim of $12,000 against Joseph C. Thielen for injuries sustained and damages to the plaintiff's car when it was allegedly hit by Thielen's auto in Dayton township on Dec. 21, 1949.

Warren L. Heimstra has filed suit for $7,500 against Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor for injuries and losses suffered in a collision at a Wright county intersection in Dec. 1948. Out of the same accident, another suit was later filed by Hubert C. Heimstra. He names the same defendants and is asking the same damages.

Harold Jones is suing Joe and Gertrude Johnson for damages to his auto resulting from a minor traffic crash in downtown Eagle Grove on May 6. The plaintiff seeks $125 to cover repair bills.

TWELVE RECEIVE CALL FOR NOVEMBER DRAFT; FOUR GO NEXT MONTH

Only one Belmond man, Jack McGuire, is included in the list of 12 draftees that have been instructed by the Wright county selective service board to report on Nov. 29 for induction.

This group will go from Des Moines to headquarters on the 6th Armored Division, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Other men in the November draft list are:

Lyle Stromquist, Lyman Spencer, George Penn, Jr., Frank Lester and Dale Cullinan, all of Clarion; Jack Spangler and Emmet Hart of Eagle Grove.

Marvin C. Smith of Rowan, Bernard Scheppler of Galt, Orville Steffenson of Goldfield and William Jensen, now of Decatur but formerly of Woolstock.

Mrs. Elaine Schmidt, draft board secretary, announces that a four-man induction call for Dec. 8 has been received from the state headquarters but that the selectees have not yet been notified.

HOMEMAKERS AT H. S. OBSERVING FHA WEEK

Members of Belmond chapter of Future Homemakers of America are observing National FHA week, Nov. 12-18, with the aim of better acquainting the community with the activities of the organization.

A window display has been placed in Thompsen's Clothing store to explain the FHA's aims and purposes. A special activity was planned by the girls for each day of the week to symbolize the group's work.

Typical projects included planting of a rosebush on the school grounds and planning to help Belmond's needy on Thanksgiving. Tomorrow the girls will present a skit at a basketball pep meeting.

A rose is the FHA symbol, red and white its colors, and "Toward New Horizons" the organization's motto.

Adult Education Council Now Drafting Plans For Annual Winter Courses, to Begin Jan. 8

A joint organization meeting to lay plans for this year's adult education classes was held last week by members of the Adult Education Executive Council and the instructors who conducted last year's classes.

Monday, Jan. 8, was set as the starting date for the 1951 courses of study, with classes to be held each Monday evening over a 10-week period. At the conclusion of the class season a banquet will be held for all adult students and their husbands or wives.

Harold Simerson is president of the executive council, Mrs. Helen Miner is vice president, Ceabern Squires, secretary, and Mrs. Doris Nelson, treasurer. Other members are Larry Dorr, Mrs. Elsie Pitcher, Mrs. Nettie Watermiller and Virginia Studebaker.

Two evenings out of the course period will be devoted to forum-type discussions, headed by speakers of prominence. A "name" speaker will also be obtained to appear at the banquet. Mr. Squires says that negotiations are already under way to line up these headliners.

Classes will meet at 7:30 p. m., as in previous years, and the customary tuition fee of $3.00 will be charged for the 10 classes. Financing of the banquet will be separate, and supplies in small quantity may have to be purchased for some of the courses.

Minimum enrollments have been set for the proposed courses of study, since it has been found desirable not to undertake any course in which interest is relatively slight . Following are the suggested subjects and the number of class members the council deems will be necessary to make the class effective:

Current problems in agriculture, 30; contemporary affairs, 20; physical education for men, 15; homemaking, 12; arts and crafts, 12; practical bookkeeping and home accounting, 15; practical speech and parliamentary procedure, 15; recreation (square dancing and social cards), 16; community choir, 30; photography, 15; driver training, 12.

Instructors for the classses will be drawn from the school faculty and from local business and professional circles.

Suggested areas of study for the homemaking course include sewing, interior decorating, child care and development, foods and nutrition or family relationships. Arts and crafts might include textile painting, silk - screen painting, conventional painting or flower arrangement.

Persons interested in taking one of the suggested courses are asked by Mr. Squires to fill out the coupon to be found in this paper and mail it or hand it to him by Dec. 1.

The executive council will employ the results of this survey to determine what courses shall be offered. Those interested in either homemaking or arts and crafts are further requested to designate what phase of the subject they would be most interested in studying.

Bronc Delegation Defends Merritt On Lax Training

A delegation of boys from the Belmond High school 1950 football team paid The Independent a call Tuesday morning to express the squad's opinion that unfair criticism had been directed at Coach Don Merritt because some of the Broncos were remiss in training this fall.

"Whatever criticism is due should be aimed at the team, not at Don", the spokesmen declared. In the group were Jack Riggs, Dick Simpson, Bill Trees, Bob Erdman, Don Faris and Odean Severseike.

The boys readily conceded that some of the Broncos had been negligent in regard to training regulations — which the coach had kept prominently posted for all to see; but they unanimously believed Don was unaware of the infractions and felt strongly that he shouldn't be asked to shoulder the blame.

Members of the delegation also suggested that the current crop of BHS athletes would make an earnest effort to keep their coaches "off the spot" hereafter by stricter attention to training rules.

CHURCH BAZAAR

A bazaar will be held by the Trinity Ladies Aid at the Trinity church next Tuesday, Nov. 21, starting at 7:30 p. m. Lunches and candy will be sold.

Safety Patrolmen Given Instruction

John Lange of Davenport, supervisor of school safety patrols for the Iowa Motor club, visited Belmond on Monday to give instruction to members of the local school's newly organized student patrol.

Besides briefing the patrol members in their responsibilities he showed them a film dealing with patrol operations and also exhibited two safety films for the benefit of all the pupils through eighth grade.

Mr. Lange revealed that 6,000 students in Iowa are now members of organized patrols and supervise daily traffic involving over 90,000 children.

Belmond's patrol is now on duty daily, during the periods immediately preceding and following school hours, at the intersections on Third street NE at Fifth and Sixth avenues and the corner of Fifth street just north of the high school gymnasium.

Motorists are asked to observe scrupuously the portable stop signs placed by the young patrolmen at the intersections at these hours. They are further requested to stop short of the yellow cross-lane indicator lines that have been painted on Third street.

In addition, drivers are asked NOT to motion students to cross in front of the car after the vehicle has come to a stop and is ready to continue on its way.

The student patrols are not authorized to direct motor traffic, Mr. Lange emphasized, but are expected only to prevent youngsters from crossing the street when the way is not clear. The patrolmen are expected, however, to make note of the license numbers of any drivers ignoring the stop signs and crossing lanes.

Ceabern Squires Receives Orders To Report Dec. 7

Ceabern Squires, Belmond High school principal, and Marshall Hake, Belmondite who received an air force commission last June after R. O. T. C. training at the University of Iowa, have both been called to active duty. They received orders to report on Dec. 7 at Chanute Field, Ill., air force base.

Mr. Squires was an armament officer with the 13th Air Force, a B-24 outfit in the South Pacific, for 15 months during World War II. He was in the service about 38 months, altogether. An effort is being made by the school board to obtain his deferment until the end of the school year.

Mr. Hake was in the South Pacific for two years during the war, with the army. Last spring he completed three and a half years of study at Iowa but did not return, after being ordered to take a physical examination for recall last July 21.

Both men are married. Hake, who is the son of George Hake, and Squires each have two children.

Two Belmond boys left for Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., with a contingent from Mason City last Wednesday after enlisting in the U. S. Army. They were Tony Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, and Kenneth Lerdal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lerdal.

Still another Belmond service man left for distant parts on Sunday, under army orders. He was Sgt. Edwin Quandt, who departed for Fort Dix, N. J., from which he will ship for Graffenwohr, Germany. He has been enjoying a 75-day fulrough visiting with his mother, Mrs. H. R. Bayliss, and other relatives here.

WILL SHOW SCOUT FILMS

Glenn Martin will exhibit films he took at last summer's national Boy Scout jamboree for the benefit of American Legion members at the regular monthly meeting of Belmond post next Monday evening at the Veterans' Memorial hall. The post sponsors Boy Scout Troop No. 16. Meeting will start at the usual time, 8:00 p. m.

CHAMBER MEETS TODAY

Regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for this noon at the Veterans' Memorial hall. Glenn Martin will show some films he took last summer at the national Boy Scout jamboree and some fishing pictures provided by Ellis Elliott will also be presented.

SHERIFF WILL HAVE NEW QUARTERS SOON

Sheriff Bob Blecker and Deputy Jack Hansen are looking forward to having much more satisfactory quarters to work in by the end of this month.

Carpenters are presently remodeling the former grand jury room in the courthouse at Clarion to comprise a new office for the sheriff. The former sheriff's office will, in turn, become the grand jury room.

In the new sheriff's quarters will be one room for general office use, a separate office for Bob Blecker and the third room to be used for interrogation purposes.

In the past, the sheriff could obtain no privacy while questioning suspects without abandoning his office and employing the jury room. If that happened to be in use, he was obligated to scout around the courthouse until he could find available space or temporarily shut up his office.

SELECTED AS QUEEN of the Belmond marching band, Aileen Kalkwarf (above) represented BHS last Friday as candidate for the title of "Freedom Flame Queen" at Garner's celebration of "Freedom Flame Day". Although Miss Kalkwarf was not selected as queen of the day's festivities, she — with other candidates—was royally entertained and received several lovely gifts as an attendant to her highness.

Preparations for Mission Work Complete --

Bob Bannings Depart Soon for Philippines

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Banning and infant son, Robert D., Jr., left for the east on Tuesday of this week to make final peparations for their departure on Dec. 28 for the Philippine islands, where Bob and his wife are to be in charge of a Baptist mission. They have been visiting here with Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Banning.

Bob was ordained as a Baptist minister in ceremonies performed at the local church in 1945. Since then he has studied at Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, the Summer Institute of Linguistics at Norman, Okla., and at the National Bible Institute of New York City.

It was at the latter school that Bob met Elaine Snyder of Haddonfield, N. J., who became his wife a little over two years ago. For the past year and a half he has been "working HER way through college," so she could obtain a bachelor's degree in religious education—as recommended by the board of missions—before the couple entered on their missionary careers.

During this time he has worked as a night watchman and at other jobs, along with engaging in deputation work. The latter consists of preaching in various churches and explaining the aims of missionary work with a view to obtaining funds to finance foreign mission endeavors.

In this manner Bob has both provided for his family and acquired money to finance the imminent voyage to Laoag, Luzon, P. I., where he and his wife will enter the mission field the first of the year. Mrs. Banning also has engaged in deputation work, as time permitted.

Laoag, Bob says, is a city of nearly 40,000 population on Luzon island, some 300 miles north of Manila. It was recently the target of a "Huk" insurrection, during which a number of constabulary police were killed. The 'Huks" represent the communist element in the islands.

Bob's predecessor at the Laoag mission, and the missionary's wife, were both Japanese captives during World War II and spent between two and a half and three years in concentration camps. They were forced to return to this country six months ago because of ill health. They established the mission at Laoag after the war.

The Bannings will have as their mission headquarters a new 60x40-ft. building which is right now in process of completion. They will have to make living arrangements after their arrival. Having signed up for a four-year period at the mission, one of the first projects they have set for themselves is to learn the regional dialect.

Since all of their household goods is in the east, they are shipping their belongings all the way on the same freighter that will carry them to their destination, via the Panama canal. They are taking along a second-hand station wagon Bob recently purchased for $800. Freight cost on it will be $550 and they will have to pay a $400 customs tax on it to get it ashore. All told, they expect the trip to cost about $3,000.

When the Bannings depart from New York, it will mark the culmination of four years of planning. They are looking forward avidly to undertaking their preaching and teaching duties—and if determination and eagerness can make a mission outstanding, their's should be one of the best.

By Mrs. Nina Heathershaw

Agnes Knuths, 77, Died Last Friday

Mrs. Agnes Knuths, 77-year-old Rowan resident, passed away last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Banwell, in Dows following an illness of several months' duration.

Funeral services were held at the Rowan Congregational church on Monday, with the Rev. Harold Sanders in charge. Burial was made on the family lot in Graceland cemetery.

Laura Agnes Paul, daughter of Valentine and Sarah Ann Paul, was born July 17, 1873 at Polo, Ill. She moved with her parents in 1890 to farm southwest of Rowan, where she grew to womanhood. On May 12, 1899, she was united in marriage to Irvin J. Knuths of Galt.

They set up housekeeping on the farm now occupied by their son Jay. In 1902 they moved to the farm southeast of Rowan, which was to be her home for 43 years—until she moved to Rowan, where she spent the remainder of her life.

She was preceded in death by her husband, mother, father, two brothers and one sister.

The Knuths were the parents of two sons and four daughters: Vera — Mrs. Arthur Banwell, Dorothy — Mrs. Arthur Draves, Joy—Mrs. Robert Jernegan, and Dale, all of Dows; Vernetta — Mrs. Raynard Waters, and Jay I., both of Galt.

She is survived by her six children, two brothers, Joe of Mason City and Edd of Highmore, S. Dak.; three sisters, Mrs. Elmer Lambertson of Ada, Minn., Mrs. Byron Dirks of Grygla, Minn., and Mrs. Sam LaRue of Dows; also 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Garth W. Lindsey of Cedar Rapids came Saturday to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Lindsey.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pesch went to Clarion Wednesday evening where they attended a dinner at the Clarion Grill for all of the workers in the Wright county tuberculosis Christmas seal sale. About 60 persons attended the dinner and meeting which followed. Mr. Pesch is county treasurer for the group.

MRS. LIEUWEN RESIGNS

The Board of Education reluctantly accepted the resignation of Mrs. L. A. Lieuwen as music teacher last week. She was forced to quit due to ill health. Mrs. Truman Elliott of Hampton has been secured as her successor. Mrs. Elliott is not new to this community having taught here two years ago.

Members of Book Club Gather at Clarion Home

The Rowan Book Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Finn in Clarion, with Mrs. Nina Heathershaw as assisting hostess.

The program for the evening featured a number of original poems written and presented by Mrs. Burton Ross of Clarion. Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Farran had charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Floyd Allen, president, had charge of the business meeting and plans were made for the annual Christmas party to be held at the Box home on Dec. 5.

Carl H. Pesch of Jefferson came Friday evening to visit over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pesch.

Mrs. Clifford Atcheson and daughter, Susan Brasel of Hampton called in Rowan Saturday morning. Mrs. Atcheson is teaching third grade this year in the Dumont school. She was a former first and second grade teacher here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Biddle had as their dinner guests Sunday Waldo McDowell and son, Tom of Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Gilchrist of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Farran.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Biddle and daughter, Janet Jo, Mrs. Nina Heathershaw and Steven, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Groom, Mrs. Florence Aldinger, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Azeltine, Karen and Deanna, Mr. and Mrs. Burneil Jones, Ordean Jones, Donna Keleher, Patricia Ketchum and Mrs. Thomas R. Groom were among those who attended the program at the Grant No. 6 school taught by Margrete Groom on Thursday evening. Miss Kelcher was guest soloist, and Janet Jo appeared in two tap dance numbers as another guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gram and daughter Elaine were dinner guests Sunday at the parental Bert Gram home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leach and Eugene were callers Sunday at the Klemme Martin home.

TROJANS WIN OPENER WITH ALEXANDER 31-30

The first basketball game of the season was held Friday night when the Rowan Trojans and Trojanettes met Alexander on the latter's court.

The boys won their first test, defeating the Bulldogs 31-30. About a six-point lead had been maintained until the final minutes of the game, when Alexander spurted to cut the margin.

Rowan's line-up included: Dean Freese, junior, center; Dennis Olson and Don Crafton, seniors, forwards; Verle Crafton, senior and Jerry Aldrich, junior, guards. Freese played an out-standing game.

The Trojanettes lost, 47 to 31. The starting lineup for the girls was Donna Kelcher, Patricia Ketchum, Bertha Barz, Joyce Lyons, Sandra Olson and Marjorie McKinley. Also seeing action were Joan Aldrich, Lois Aldrich and Shirley Gram.

Coach Doug Pinkham has been working hard with the teams. They were slated to play at Goldfield Tuesday evening and will play at Corwith on Friday night.

Methodist Youth Group Met Sunday

A sub-district youth rally of the Methodist Church was held Sunday, with the Rowan group entertaining about 70 persons from the surrounding towns. Judith Sellers and Eugene Frohling were in charge of registration.

Workshop periods were held in the afternoon, and election of officers was held. The evening worship period was in the charge of the Clarion Youth Fellowship and the installation of officers was conducted by the Rev. Robert R. Kissinger of Goldfield.

Those installed were Gary Basler, Renwick, president; Florence Mechem, Clarion, vice president; Joyce Hetland, Renwick, secretary; Joan Kurtz, Kanawha, treasurer; Roger Rietz, Rowan, community service; Shirley Gram, Rowan, world friendship; Merrill Kelling Hardy, recreation.

Guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. Harrison Dawes, pastor of the Eagle Grove Methodist church, who gave an inspiring message to the young people.

Supper was served at 6:00 o'clock by the mothers of the youth fellowship, headed by Mrs. Thomas R. Groom, who is secretary of the youth program in the Women's Society of Christian Service. Rev. C. Wilbur Egeland was the host pastor. ,

Mrs. E. A. Rietz Hostess Friday to Review Club

The Review Club gathered Friday evening for a luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. A. Rietz. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Karl H. Rietz and Mrs. Fred Wolff.

The guests were seated at two long tables decorated in a Thanksgiving motif. Fourteen members responded to roll call.

Mrs. Paul Ketchum presented the lesson on, "What's New in Medicine", and Mrs. Lawrence Woodley continued the study of plants, discussing mums and November pointers on flowers.

The American Legion and Auxiliary held a pot luck supper on Saturday evening in the community room at the school house. Following the dinner, movies were shown in the gymnasium and anyone who cared to attend was invited to see them. Several persons from out-of-town were present at the dinner.

Mrs. Mary Whitten, who had been hospitalized following a heart attack plus pneumonia, was returned to her home here last week. Her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Hill of Dows, has been caring for her.

A committee composed of Howard G. Box, John Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitten met at the schoolhouse Monday evening to formulate plans for the adult night school to be held this winter. Definite plans will be announced later.

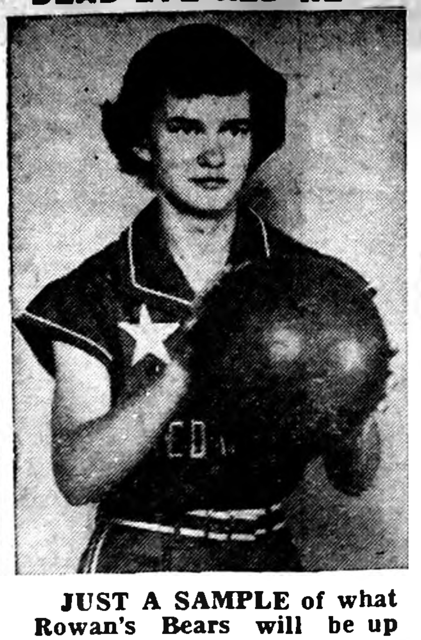
Mrs. Fred S. Williams and Joe F. Biddle took Mrs. Olive Morris and John Beasley to Ames Saturday evening where the latter two left on the City of Los Angeles to return to their home in California. Mrs. Morris had visited here the past two months and Mr. Beasley the past month.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new fire station on Main Street. This building is being erected by volunteer labor and will be a fine addition to the town when it is completed.

HILLS CONVALESCING AT RALPH FITZ HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill who were hospitalized following an automobile accident have been taken to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Fitz, east of town. Mr. Hill, who is 85 years of age, is in a brace due to a fractured vertabrae, and Mrs. Hill is in a cast due to a broken vertabrae and will have to remain in it for ten weeks.

DEAD-EYE RED HEAD



JUST A SAMPLE of what Rowan's Bears will be up against on Nov. 28 is represented by Dody Petersen (above) of Olson's Famous Red Heads, who will oppose the local stars on that date. The girls, who play according to men's rules, average about six feet in height and have earned a nationwide reputation with their nifty play. Dody is a mere 5-8½; she hails from Erskine, Minn.

Geo. Mossmans Entertain For Their Daughter, Son

The members of the junior and senior classes of the high school were entertained at a turkey dinner Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George Mossman in honor of their daughter and son, George and Gladys who are members of those classes.

The group met at the Community room at 6:00 o'clock and sat down to long tables decorated in a Thanksgiving theme. Besides the class members, invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pesch, Mr. and Mrs. John Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Farran and Douglas Pinkham.

The Rowan Bears, the town basketball team, played two games at the gymnasium Monday evening. The first string met Webster City and the second team Hansell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hyde went to Excelsior Springs, Mo., Wednesday morning. Mrs. Hyde returned on Monday, but Mr. Hyde expects to remain there for a longer time. Mrs. Rex. L. Steffens was in charge of the post office during the Hydes' absence.

Couple Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Aldrich celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday, holding open house for their friends and relatives in the afternoon and evening.

About 40 relatives enjoyed a family dinner at noon. During the afternoon lunch was served to those who called.

At 3:30 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich again repeated their marriage vows, with the Rev. C. Wilbur Egeland, pastor of the Methodist church, reading the service.

Vinnie Hughes and I. C. Aldrich were married Nov. 10, 1925, at Fort Dodge by the Rev. Clarence Tompkins in the Methodist parsonage. Raymond Aldrich, brother of the groom, and DeRush Hughes, son of the bride, were the witnesses, and acted in the same capacity Sunday afternoon.

Following their marriage, they returned to the Aldrich farm north of Rowan and have resided there since.

Kickbush Says His Store Has Big Variety of Gifts

The widest selection of toys and wheel goods ever offered, and extremely good values, highlight the picture of Christmas merchandise projected by K. C. Kickbush, owner of the local Western Auto Associate store.

"Quality is excellent, and selection a lot wider, in most gift items this year," Mr. Kickbush says. "We're showing a big line of gift merchandise, and I believe the early shopper will have an easy, pleasant experience in making his selections.

"Among our large variety of toys, a large number of entirely new items will be found this year. In the wheel goods line, which includes bicycles, tricycles, wagons, and dozens of other related items, the new models show structural improvements as well as advances in design and appearance."

Gifts for the older members of the family are in good supply, Mr. Kickbush adds, but it is wise to shop early. Radios and television receivers, home appliances, tools, sporting goods, and car accessories are available in greater variety than ever before.

Bedbug Control

A dust containing 10 per cent DDT is fully effective for the control of bedbugs. Dust well into cracks and crevices of walls and baseboards of infected rooms and over the surface of bedsteads and mattresses.

Annual Christmas Seal Sale Begins on Nov. 18, Mrs. Hawley Announces

Sponsorship of the annual Christmas Seal campaign in Belmond this year, in behalf of the Iowa Tuberculosis and Heart associations, has been accepted by the Culture Study club. Mrs. Rex Hawley is president of the organization.

Mrs. Hawley has announced that the local drive will open on Nov. 18 with mailing of letters to Belmond residents, each envelope to contain two sheets of "stickers" at $1.00 per sheet.

Seals will also be available at First State Bank, Nolan Drug and C. C. Benson's office, where containers will be placed to receive contributions.

In the last year or so, the tuberculosis and heart associations have combined their programs of education, case-finding and fund-raising. Their work in this county is carried on by the Wright County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Former Pastor and Wife To Observe Anniversary

Dr. G. F. McBurney last week received a letter from Rev. R. N. Burress, one-time pastor of the Belmond Methodist church, requesting that old friends be notified that he and his wife on Dec. 3 will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary. He now holds a pastorate at Dodge Center, Minn., and the couple will hold open house there on the the anniversary date.

Although it has been many years since the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Burress left Belmond, they will still be remembered by many older members of the congregation and they will be highly pleased to hear from their friends at the time of their Golden Wedding celebration.

New 1951 MERCURY

Nothing like it on the road!

"The drive of your life"
"It's MERCURY for me"

WERE YOU IN THE CROWDS that packed our showroom? Have you seen it yet—this big and brawny beauty . . . this spanking new 1951 Mercury?

Come in and see it. There's a new sweep to the fenders here—a new look to the front there—dozens of striking styling changes that all add up to one beautiful new car.

Go ahead. Slide in behind the wheel for a minute. Now . . bring on that open highway!

And remember—when you buy a new car today, it's just good business to get a really new car. So see the 1951 Mercury—for "the drive of your life" and "the buy of your life."

it's a CHANCE you wouldn't take

No, you wouldn't risk moving in, unarmed and unprotected, on a deadly rattler, no more than you'd expose your life to any one of the hundreds of risks against which you can have protection.

But it's easier to see the peril of a rattler poised to strike than to sense some of the everyday chances many of us still take with our own and our families' lives.

Leaving a family without the security of life insurance is no less a risk than tempting a rattler; it's a risk no man can afford to take.

For without adequate life insurance a family is taking chances, reckless, unnecessary chances. See for yourself how easy and inexpensive it is to secure family protection—there's an Equitable representative near your home who will be glad to explain how you can assure your family's future.

LADIES AID OF E. U. B. PLANS BAZAAR DEC. 13

The E. U. B. Ladies Aid combined annual Guest Day with its regular November meeting last Wednesday in the church dining room. There was a good attendance. Mrs. W. E. Burk of Belmond was an out-of-town guest.

During the business session the members voted to hold the annual bazaar Wednesday evening, Dec. 13. Donations will be appreciated.

A program followed with Mrs. Paul Veldhouse as chairman. Mrs. Donald Burk gave the reading "When the Minister Comes to Tea", the glee club sang two songs, with Mrs. Cantonwine at the piano, and contests were held.

The ladies were served tea with Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Sherwood pouring. The table was decorated with a center bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums with small squash holding white candles. Thirty-five dollars was received in the silver offering.

Mrs. Carl Green and Mrs. Marvin Bredlow are hostesses to the December meeting which will be held one week early on the 6th.

Mildred Guy of Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada came Friday to be a guest in the Sandberg-Hanson home. She, Olive Butts and Mrs. Hanson became friends last summer at the Mayo clinic in Rochester. Miss Guy came back to Rochester the fore part of September and is undergoing a series of operations on her limb. She also visited in this home last January.

A follow-up Farm Bureau lesson was held in the J. J. Cook home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Cook presented the lesson "One Dish Meal" and making ginger bread. The ten ladies attending, assisted with the work, and enjoyed the nice lunch.

Mrs. Laton Avery returned home Thursday from Williams where she spent a week visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Milsap.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lauden of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropp spent Sunday with relatives, the Schlichtings.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF DAVE HUNT

Mrs. Ira Langlitz accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Lester Gobeli of Meservey, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilson, went to Sparta, Mo., Tuesday of last week in response to a message of the death of Mr. Wilson's half-brother, Dave Hunt. Funeral services were held Wednesday and the local folks returned home Friday. The Hunts were Goodell residents for many years living on the farm now owned by Edgar Mayhew.

WINS CHICAGO TRIP

Delwyn Brede has been awarded a trip to the International Stock Show and 4-H congress to be held in Chicago the last week of this month. Delwyn was among the five 4-H club members in Hancock county chosen to go on this trip. He won this award by his good work in the club, helping fellow members in whatever he could, and keeping up his record work book.

H. R. Allaben of Traer accompanied by his niece, Marilyn McNutt, and her roommate, Margie Abram of Independence, were Sunday dinner guests with Marilyn's home folks, the Robert McNutts. The girls attend college in Cedar Falls.

Judith Brede was a guest of her friend, Eunice Helps of Klemme, at a theatre party at Forest City, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hert, Marcy and Bill and Mrs. Hert's brother, Joseph Johnson of Mason City were guests from Friday until Sunday in the home of their brother, Raymond Johnson.

Saturday, Sept. 2, has been set as award and fun night for the 4-H club members and their families. It will be held at Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Johnson and Dale of Humboldt were Sunday guests in the Arthur Lowenberg home. Mrs. Lowenberg and Mrs. Johnson are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burk, Patty and Bobby went to Kanawha Sunday and enjoyed dinner with relatives, Mrs. Roy Davis and Lela.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schneider of Ames enjoyed Sunday in the parental E. J. Schneider home.

Alverta Nolte spent the weekend with home folks. Alverta is employed at the Mercy hospital in Mason City.

Sunday guests in the Jess Anderson home were their children, the Everett Anderson family of Olaf, Mr. and Mrs. John Sheets, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and children of Goldfield, Mr. and Mrs. Earl King and Agnes of Fort Dodge.

Mrs. A. Boller Honored At Birthday Party

Mrs. Anton Boller was honored on her birthday Thursday with a party in the home of her son, Kenneth Boller. Hostesses were Mesdames Bill Boller, H. E. Boller, Walter Boller and Kenneth Boller. The afternoon was spent socially and a delicious lunch was served. Out of town folks coming were Mrs. Ed Hughes of Hampton, Mrs. Gabriel Gabrielson and Mrs. Will Eimbrink of Belmond, Mrs. Irwin Langlitz and Mrs. George Langlitz of Meservey and Mrs. B. L. Prouty of Garner. The honoree received some nice gifts in remembrance of the day.

Nurse Tells How Hadacol Was So Helpful To Her

Supplied Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin Which Her System Lacked

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 97 St., East St. Louis, Ill., a nurse, says she wishes she had found out about HADACOL sooner because since taking HADACOL she feels so good. Mrs. Adele was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I am full of energy."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of aches and pains in the shoulders, legs and arms, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition due to deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come In Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are more easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'

After reading Mrs. Adele's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Adele, it can do for you if you're troubled with aches and pains in the shoulders, legs, and arms, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Allis-Chalmers MOTOR KIT gives new life to your tractor

Want us to make your tractor run like new again? Now is a good time to schedule it for a power overhaul.

Let us install an A-C Motor Kit, the factory-made repair package for a complete renewal of the "power zone" of your tractor engine. It contains cylinder liners, pistons and rings. Because these parts wear together, they should all be replaced at the same time to give new engine performance.

These kits are made of the same materials and to the same specifications as the original parts in your Allis-Chalmers tractor.

The sure way to renew Allis-Chalmers performance is with genuine Allis-Chalmers parts and service.

Broncos, Lake Mills Jamboree Foes; Klemme Here Tuesday

ONLY THREE VETERANS AVAILABLE FROM LAST SEASON'S CAGE OUTFIT

Coach Jim Scott and his varsity basketball crew started regular workouts Monday, with only four days of practice available before the Bronco basketeers' first public performance in the North Iowa conference jamboree at Forest City Friday night.

Only three lettermen — Jack Riggs, Marlyn Watermiller and Don Faris—are back from last season's NI championship crew to form the nucleus of this year's team, and as a consequence "Scotty" is not very optimistic over the outlook.

Supporting the trio of veterans will be five standouts from last season's strong frosh-soph aggregation: Dave Helland, Alan Madsen, Odean Severseike, Vernon Meyer and Jim Riekens. All of these boys give promise of developing into first class cagers, but "Scotty" realizes they'll need seasoning in varsity competition before he can expect too much of them.

Four seniors with some varsity experience are also available for another year of competition—Myron Trager, Clelan Redmond, Bil Trees and Ray Ellingston. Coach Scott is also counting on Fred Loats and Ron Ketchum, a pair of juniors.

Present sophomores from last year's frosh-soph outfit will be kept together for another year on the underclass team, according to Scott's present plan, to give them further opportunity to gain experience together.

Competition in the North Iowa loop will be plenty stiff this year, "Scotty" anticipates. He regards Forest City as the outstanding title prospect, but Lake Mills and Britt will also be stronger than average. Both Buffalo Center and Garner should be much more potent than last year, and Northwood's aggregation should be on a par with its 1949-50 team.

With that sort of a competitive outlook, Coach Scott feels he has no reason to be overly happy. He says that additional candidates will be more than welcome to try out for the team and a suit awaits any boy who would like to give the hardcourt game a whirl.

Buffalo Center and Britt will be first-quarter foes at tomorrow night's jamboree; Swea City —by special invitation—will oppose Garner in the second stanza; Belmond will tangle with Lake Mills after the intermission; and the Forest City-Northwood clash will wind up the affair. Starting time is 7:15.

Belmond basketball opponents will be the same as last year, except for the addition of Eagle Grove, which will provide the opposition in the Broncs' second home game. The opening tilt of the year will be on the local court Tuesday evening with Klemme.

The season's schedule follows:

Tues., Nov. 21—Klemme, here.
Mon., Nov. 27—Eagle Grove, here

Six F. C. Players Given Conference 1st Team Honors

Why Forest City walked off with the 1950 North Iowa conference football title was clearly indicated when the loop's football coaches chose the annual all-conference teams during a meeting at Northwood on Tuesday of last week.

Six members of the championship team were given first team berths, and three Indians were placed on the second eleven. The runner-up Lake Mills team won three places on the all-star aggregation and another Viking was a second string choice.

Belmond failed to get a single player on the first team and Jack Riggs was the only Bronco to rate as a second team choice. Three Bronco linemen were given honorable mention — Howie Wagner at center, Dick Simpson at guard and Bill Trees at tackle; and Marlyn Watermiller was accorded the same distinction as a back.

Bob Burger of Buffalo Center and Wayne Ohler of Forest City were rated one-two among the conference ball-carriers. The third choice back, Eldean Matheson of Lake Mills, was the only junior to receive a first team placing.

Tim Anderson, rangy Forest City end, drew the heaviest vote of all the linemen. The mentors gave Bob Knutson of Forest City only the barest nod over Glendon Hoskins of Buffalo Center in the balloting for tackles.

Roy Limesand of Lake Mills was definitely considered the NI's outstanding guard. Don Hoveland of Lake Mills topped all the centers by a considerable margin.

From the fact that only four of the 24 players on the first and second teams are juniors, it would appear that all the conference coaches will have to do a fair amount of scraping for replacements next fall. Half of the 18 boys given honorable mention still have a year of competition left.

By the time Garner High's determined football crew got through with the Broncos last Friday night, Belmond was firmly situated in the North Iowa conference cellar. About the only consolation left to the Broncs was the fact that their lowly position was shared with Northwood—and that must have been modified by the fact that the Vikings' lone win was a 13-0 decision over Belmond.

Larry Jones, the Cardinals' 165-pound scooter back, was largely responsible for Garner's 20-0 win over the Broncos. Twice he broke away on 65-yard scoring runs. On each occasion, Belmond tacklers dropped off of his churning legs like flies hit with a double dose of DDT.

It could have been worse, though. In the third quarter, Jones raced for an 80-yard counterpart to his TD jaunts, only to have the play nullified by a holding charge against a team mate.

The speedy Cardinal back tallied the first time late in the second quarter, and Bob Stille kicked successfully for the extra point. His second performance came early in the fourth quarter.

Tackle Bill Young chalked up the final TD on a play that saw End Gary Jass drop back out of the line to make Young a wingman for the moment. Recovery of a Belmond fumble on the Broncs' 21-yard line had produced the scoring opportunity. The pass to Young covered the entire distance and Stille kicked the point.

Belmond was not blanked for lack of scoring opportunities. In the first quarter the Broncs had a first-and 10 on Garner's 12—but a penalty for backfield motion proved more of a handicap than the home boys could overcome and Garner took over on downs at the nine-stripe. In the second quarter, another Bronco threat died on the opponents' 25.

In the third stanza, Belmond worked the ball to Garner's two-yard line and had three plays left to push the ball over. No score materialized that time, either.

The victory gave Garner fourth place in the final NI loop standings. The Cardinals—after a miserable early start — concluded their conference Card with an even split in six games.

County Members Urged to Attend State Convention of Farm Bureau

County Farm Bureau Secretary Bernard Collins urges County Farm Bureau members to attend the annual convention of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation in Des Moines, Nov. 27 to Nov. 30.

Convention highlights are as follows:

MONDAY, Nov. 27—

This is group conference day. Most programs kick-off early in the morning.

The ever-popular livestock meeting will feature Dr. L. J. Norton, professor of economics, University of Illinois, and Seth Shaw, meat specialist for Safeway Stores, Inc.

The women's conference will feature first-hand reports from the meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World in Denmark and also reports from the many women who were in Europe this fall.

The organization conference will feature R. E. Short, vice president of the AFBF; and a preview of legislative issues ahead by Harry Sterey director of legislative department, IFBF.

The Rural Youthers will hold their state meeting and hear V. B. Hamilton, former executive secretary of the IFBF.

A lively off-the-record session for voting delegates and presidents, extension directors, fieldmen and C. O. D.'s and the IFBF staff will be held after group banquets. Other features are a Farm Bureau Women's banquet and dance.

TUESDAY, Nov. 28—

The formal opening of the 32nd annual convention begins with reports from Secretary Thatcher, Treasurer Groves, and Organization Director Hagen. In the afternoon, J. Walter Hammond, president of Texas Farm Bureau, and Mike Monroney, United States Congressman from Oklahoma, will speak.

The big annual Farm Bureau dance will be held at Tromar ballroom.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 29—

An excellent speaker, R. E. Short, vice president of the AFBF, will address the convention.

Eric Johnston, President of the Motion Picture Association of America; and Paul Hoffman, recently resigned ECA administrator, have also been invited. President Hill will give his annual message.

A half-million dollar Hollywood musical production, "Red, White and Blue", will thrill those who buy tickets for this show.

THURSDAY, Nov. 30—

At this last meeting, resolutions will be formally adopted and elections will be held.

The above are only the highlights. There will be special music, group singing and lots of time to get acquainted with Farm Bureau people from all over the state.

The official program giving the exact time and place of all meetings will be in the county office in the near future.

Wright County Farmers Reminded Their Helpers To Get Social Security

Hired farm hands will be participating in the Federal Social Security program beginning Jan. 1, 1951, as the result of amendments to the Social Security Act that have been passed by congress and signed by the president.

Regular farm workers can now begin building up an insurance fund that will go to themselves in their old age or their survivors in event of the wage earner's death by allowing a 1½ per cent deduction from their wages for this purpose.

Wright county farmers will pay a corresponding social security tax of 1½ per cent of the cash wages paid to their hired help, Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, points out.

This makes a total of three per cent of the wages that will go to the government for social security, with the employer and the employee each footing half the bill.

Farmers who employ regular help must send this money to the government along with a report showing how much in earnings should be added to laborers' social security accounts, says Carl Malone, extension economist at Iowa State college. This reporting is to be done every three months.

Workers should be able to show farm operators a social security card so farmers can send in the tax under the exact name that is on the card, as well as the correct number, Bowman adds.

The new social security tax includes not only outdoor laborers who are connected with farming operations but it takes in cooks and household workers as well. Husbands, wives, parents or children—if they are 21—of the farm operator cannot get social security credit for work done on the farm.

Family Living Group Chairmen Elected For New Winter Season

The Family Living orzanization has been completed in the 15 organized townships in the county. The township organization meetings were attended by 340 women—280 rural women and 60 urban; 34 women attending an organization meeting for the first time.

GOLDFIELD BOY WINS 4-H CONGRESS TRIP

CHARLES ESPE

Charles Espe, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Espe, Goldfield, will be one of 25 4-H club members representing the Hawkeye state at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30.

Espe was chosen for the trip as a result of outstanding achievements in the 4-H farm and home safety activity, according to an announcement by G. A. Lineweaver, state boys' 4-H club leader at Iowa State college. The Club Congress trip for Espe is sponsored by General Motors.

A six-year member of the Boone Valley Go-Getters 4-H club, Charles has made an intensive study of safety hazards around his farm home, involving a careful record of accident hazards in three areas—home and health; electricity, shop and fire; and machinery, buildings and animals.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP CAPTAINS TO GO TO D. M. RALLY

Sixteen township captains, who will head up the annual Farm Bureau membership drive in Wright county this year, have been invited to attend a statewide Captains' Rally in Des Moines on Dec. 4.

The captains, one from each of the townships in the county, will hear outstanding speakers at the Des Moines meeting. They will discuss methods and techniques for completing local membership drives with captains from more than 1,600 townships in the state.

Speakers scheduled at the statewide rally include President Allen B. Kline of the American Farm Bureau; Arthur Brayton, secretary of the Des Moines Convention Bureau; Jeff Williams of Arkansas, one of the nation's great humorous speakers; and Harry Bryson, former Iowan who is now director of field services for the American Farm Bureau.

The Wright county membership drive will be open Jan. 2 with a countywide kickoff meeting. County quota has been set at 1295, as compared with the membership of 1225 listed for 1950.

Meanwhile, farmers in the county are urged to join the Farm Bureau in response to the current direct-mail drive. Each member who poins prior to the formal opening of the drive will save a trip by a volunteer worker during the drive, Chairman Gerhard Thompson pointed out.

JOLLY JOY MAKERS

Mothers of the Jolly Joy Makers were guests at the meeting in the home of Bertha Mae Clark on Thursday evening, Nov. 2. The girls decided to bring garments for overseas relief at the December meeting. Connie Jergensen and Jane Baker were named to plan the entertainment. There will be a fifty-cent grab-bag.

Bertha Mae Clark and Viola Rowley gave a talk on parliamentary procedure. Mrs. Lettie Zuber, county home economist, discussed 4-H food and nutrition record books. Janice Erickson is a new member of our club. Mothers present were: Mrs. Jim Jergensen, Mrs. Irvin Erickson, Mrs. Melvin Olson, Mrs. Willis Kurtz, Mrs. Albert Clark and Mrs. Donald Baker, leader. Another leader, Mrs. Abner Toftey, was present.

Other guests were Mrs. Art Hibray of Clarion, Nancy Aukerman and Maryen Chapman. Next meeting will be Thursday evening Dec. 7. at the home of President Viola Rowley.

At Sidney, the Church of Christ there has just observed its 93rd birthday.

PILE-UP

Four cars figured in a freak pile-up near Tripoli recently. A car driven by Erwin Volker was turning off the highway and was struck by a following car, driven by Art Weihe. A third car, driven by Melvin Lampe of Frederika piled into the first two. As the three drivers were talking it over, around the bend came a car driven by Louis Pried of Waverly. His aim was true, hitting the Lampe car dead-center.

J. DUEA HAS ENTERED THREE ANGUS STEERS AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

CHICAGO (Special) — Joe Duea, prominent cattle feeder of Belmond, Ia., will show three Aberdeen-Angus steers in the classes of the 51st International Live Stock Exposition. The Exposition is scheduled for Nov. 25 through Dec. 2 in the Chicago Stock Yards.

Duea's entries are the first received from Wright county for the forthcoming Exposition.

Chicago is host not only at the International, but will have the welcome mat out for 1,400 delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress. Scores of other allied events will convert Chicago into the capital of agriculture.

Opening day of the show will have the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest for boy and girl exhibitors and the carlot classes for cattle and sheep.

The bulk of the livestock judging classes come off on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, highlighted by the selection of the grand champion grand steer Tuesday afternoon.

Spectacular show auctions will begin Thursday morning and run through the final Saturday.

New Supervisors Have Opportunity To Better Predecessors' Records

It could be that we're jumping at an entirely false conclusion, but we definitely suspect that the constantly growing cost of maintaining Wright county's board of supervisors may have had something to do with the election defeats of Supervisors William Fisher and T. J. Henry.

Both men, representing the third and fifth districts, respectively, were beaten in the primary when they sought Republican nominations for reelection. Apparently hopeful that they hadn't heard "the voice of the people" correctly, Fisher and Henry ran independently in the general election—and again got their lumps.

Each was experienced in his supervisory job, having served several terms on the board. But, for some reason or other, their constituents obviously felt they could do better.

Last summer we publicized the fact that, in 1947, Wright county's board cost more per capita than the board of any other Iowa county in the 15,000-25,000 population class. In 1948, Wright's ranking slipped to second — but the per capita cost was even higher than the previous year. In 1949, the aggregate of board members' per diem pay and mileage WENT UP AGAIN.

Henry, in 1948, drew the equivalent of 270 full days' pay (a regular five-day week adds up to 260 days) and Fisher, 269. They topped all the board members in per diem pay. Also, Henry was well out in front in the matter of mileage—drawing eight cents per mile on an average of 186 miles per week.

Understand, please, that we don't impute any dishonesty on the part of the defeated supervisors. We do think, though, that their expense claims indicated a definite lack of organization and efficiency in the way they handled their jobs. Apparently their constituents felt the same way. You don't "fire" a good man who's performing up to the limits of his capacity.

We don't like to see Wright county ranking poorest—or even NEXT to poorest—in any regard. So, at the same time that we offer Albert Christoper and Harland Hill our best wishes as they succeed Fisher and Henry on the board, we wish also to urge them to show just how much their predecessors' performances can be improved upon.

Election Losers and Winners, Alike, Deserve An Earnest Pat on the Back

The Independent offers sincere congratulations to the successful candidates in the relative few local contests for state and county offices that featured last week's balloting. We're happy that Belmond has the privilege of providing the county's representative in the general assembly — in the person of Clark McNeal. We believe Clark will justify the voters' confidence and will prove to be a legislator of far more than average capability.

Sheriff Bob Blecker, we feel, has a right to take considerable satisfaction in the approval the voters expressed in the manner he has been conducting his office. John Greenlander, too, can regard the heavy plurality by which he was returned to the board of supervisors as a stamp of approval. Both men, it will be recalled, had originally attained their offices by appointment and were facing an open election for the first time.

It was gratifying to us that Jim Dolliver enjoyed such resounding success in this county, in his successful effort to retain the position of U. S. Congressman from the Sixth District. Mr. Dolliver has proved himself an able congressman and well deserved the gesture of good will which his victory margin represented.

We'd also like to say a good word for the losing candidates in the contests for state senator, representative, sheriff and and supervisor. Their campaigns were conducted on a high level and free of malice. We wish, particularly, to commend Rodney Urdahl, Vernon McLaughlin and John Bleeker for "going down fighting".

These men couldn't help but know that the odds against them were very great. Nevertheless, in the spirit that has made our democracy the envy of—and rather a puzzle to — other peoples the world over, they gave meaning to the two-party system of politics by doing their very utmost to "buck the trend".

Last but not least, John Q. Voter deserves a word of praise. Although he didn't appear at the polls in complete force, the turn-out was large considering it was an "off year" election. John Q. demonstrated that he still values his voting franchise.

'50 Election Put GOP Back in Game, But Its Offense Had Better Click

There were a lot of lessons to be learned from the recent general election, for both the Democratic administration and the Republican powers who are plotting to oust the Fair Deal in 1952. It will behoove both parties to study and analyze the election results carefully, for the one which most accurately reads their significance will greatly enhance its chances for success in the next presidential contest.

For one thing, the Hickenlooper-Loveland affair should make it plain to the Fair Deal bigwigs that too much federal meddling in strictly state politics is apt to backfire. In the same manner, Taft's success in Ohio made it manifest that emphasis on class rivalries is unlikely to distract a majority of the voters from fundamental political issues.

There can be no doubt that the upsurge in Republican strength indicated dissatisfaction with the namby-pamby handling of the communist problem by the state department—both domestically and internationally.

We believe, also, that the Fair Deal has been given definite warning that it had better shove into the background its dream of that never-never land of crib-to-coffin security, the "welfare state". The people seem ready to face realities and come to grips with problems of the day, even to the point of some genuine sacrifice. We suspect that this state of mind is somewhat incomprehensible to President Truman and his socialistically-minded cohorts; but they'd best become convinced of its existence.

On the other hand, something more definite than a hymn to "free enterprise" will be required of the Republican policy-makers if they are to capitalize on the trend evidenced in the 1950 election. Conservatism is no panacea for today's problems, any more than impractical liberalism. What the GOP needs, above all, is a standard bearer who's not identified with the unimaginative, "machine"-made planks of recent Republican platforms. In this connection—although we admire the man's integrity and statesmanship—we regret seeing Senator Taft once more boomed as presidential timber following his impressive success last week.

Resorting to football terms, we'd say Nov. 7th's election definitely put the Republicans "back in the game". Important as defense is, only a good offense will put them on top by '52. They'd better be trotting out some nifty formations and cagey plays. Above all, a new quarterback seems their likliest salvation.

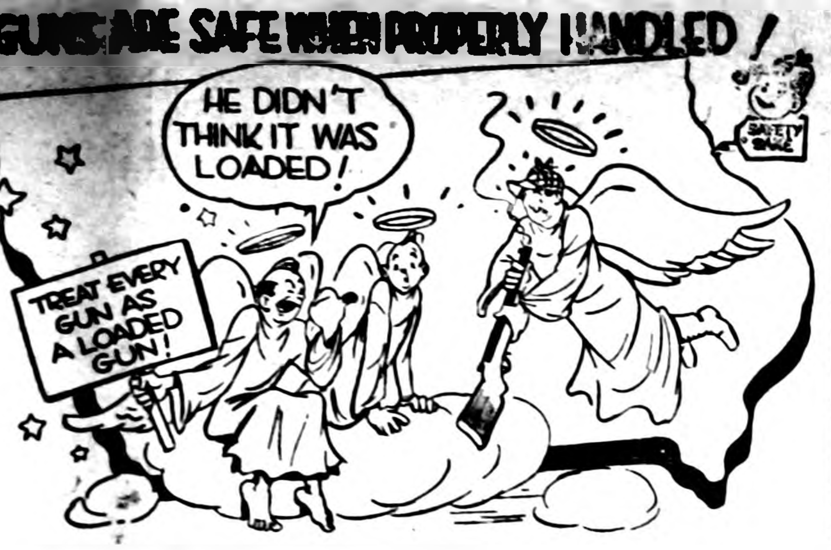
If any significant fact is to be derived from the Hickenlooper-Loveland contest, we'd say it was the proof that a "Fair Deal" label is still more of a handicap than a help to a candidate in these immediate environs.

—o—

Might we suggest that conservation officials be put in charge of the drunk driving problem? If OMVI penalties were as relatively severe as the customary $100 per pheasant for hunting out of season, our No. 1 Highway Enemies would be given the cure in short order.



GUNS ARE SAFE WHEN PROPERLY HANDLED!
HE DIDN'T THINK IT WAS LOADED!
TREAT EVERY GUN AS A LOADED GUN!

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Three hundred seventy Iowans shot down in cold blood since 1940! Not by war, not by gangsters, not by criminal killers—but by the sheer carelessness of their friends or families or themselves.

At the rate of 37 a year, Iowans have been getting killed because somebody "didn't know it was loaded" or didn't care.

Think about it. If someone asked you, "Would you shoot your brother, or your best friend, or your dad, or your son?", you would get mad, wouldn't you?

Yet if you put a loaded gun in your car, you are guilty, not only of breaking Iowa law, but of taking the the first step toward killing yourself or someone dear to you.

There's never any open season on human life. Break your gun and take out the shells or cartridge as soon as you leave the hunting field or duck blind.

Treat every gun as a loaded gun. Guns can be safe, but only when properly used.

Think what it would mean if the leaders of all nations would choose the Bible to guide their decisions and their actions! Think what it would mean to have all people take the Scriptures into their homes and into their hearts!

For the Bible contains the guidance, the criticism, the comfort which enables us to grow continually in knowledge and richness of life. Through its teachings a country may become a great nation, leading the world to peace and freedom. To an individual the Bible can bring happiness on earth and the promise of a wonderful hereafter.

The only cure for the ignorance, superstition and prejudice of the world is the Holy Bible. In its pages we learn of the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, the worth, dignity and personal responsibility to God of every individual—the pattern for daily living.

The Bible, if all nations would follow its precepts and its light, could help us preserve our civilization from dangers within and without. The Bible is the voice of a loving Father showing us the paths of righteousness and peace. Let us open our Bibles and find God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VOL. 31 NO. 6 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond, Wright County, Iowa Thursday, November 23, 1950. OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

Some time ago S. A. Bohning dropped into our office and delivered a few hand-written rem[illegible] placed the note on our [illegible]. Reaching the bottom of [illegible]ndle's contents last week in the course of a desk-cleaning, we came across said note and re-read it. In these days when it's the general con[illegible] that this battered up planet is bound straight for perdition, Mr. Bohning's reflections make one realize that things aren't so tough, at that.

Wrote Mr. Bohning: "We are living in The Golden Age. There have been more inventions in the 80 years that I can remember, than in all time before. When I first went to school we had to write with a goose quill—no steel pens. When our tallow candles ran out, Mother would put a rag in a saucer of lard and light that."

—M-S—

We thank Cy Adams of the Kanawha Reporter (who picked it up from the Lake Mills Graphic, which picked it up from the Carson, N. Dak., Press) for the following excerpt from a wedding write-up:

"The bride was charming in a gown of white slipper satin trimmed with white lice."

The Lake Mills paper wondered if the bridesmaids, perhaps, carried white Flit guns.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. R. N. B[illegible]ess of Dodge Center, Minn., are planning to help the former pastor of the Belmond Methodist church and his wife mark their Golden Wedding anniversary on Dec. 3 by presenting them with a purse in honor of the occasion. Anyone wishing to make a cash contribution is asked to leave the gift before Nov. 29 with Mrs. Ed Bailey, Mrs. Clyde Jennings or Mrs. D. L. Rankins.

—M-S—

Main Street would also like to put in a good word for a project of the VFW Auxiliary, which is collecting small gifts to be boxed and sent to veterans' hospitals in the state to brighten the Yuletide of the vets there confined. Suggestions for appropriate contributions are candy bars, gum, socks, handkerchiefs, pocket-size books and similar inexpensive items. Gifts can be deposited in a box at Ted's Shoe store up to Dec. 15.

Confusion reigned for a brief spell during Tuesday night's frosh-soph fray between Belmond and Klemme, with the young Broncos taking pot shots at the Shamrock basket and the visitors sternly endeavoring to prevent a tally.

It all started when Don Hoppel took the ball out of bounds after a Belmond counter, instead of allowing Klemme to have the ball. Jim Faris grabbed the sphere and very nearly looped one in. Shortly afterwards, "Peewee" Larkin got the job done. Even the officials were an accessory after the fact, because they failed to call the Broncos for having the ball more than 10 seconds at the wrong end of the court.

"Peewee's" dad, Claude Larkin, says he knows just how his boy felt after the backfire basket. "Larky" pulled the same stunt in a high school game in the dim, distant days of his youth.

Fred Fulton Taken Sick At Home Saturday Night

Fred Fulton suffered a possible slight heart attack at his home Saturday evening but was reported yesterday to be resting comfortably at his home.

His doctor was of the opinion that the attack was possibly induced by "flu", but has ordered Mr. Fulton to remain in bed for several days yet as a safeguard against any recurrence.

John Kaufman, Jr., With Boys Town Choir During Tour Through 12 States

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kaufman that their nephew, John Kaufman, Jr., is a member of the Boys Town choir, which is currently engaged in its annual fall tour.

John has been living at the famous Omaha institution for two years but did not make the vocal organization until this year. Personnel of the chorus group has run as high as 100, but only 55 voices were included in it for its 1950 tour through 12 states.

Starting their travels on Oct. 8, the boys have sung in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Nearing the end of its tour, the group was scheduled to appear in Des Moines last night.

John Kaufman, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kaufman, Billy and JoAnne planned to hear the Des Moines performance.

Randall Klemme New Vice President Of A. and M. College at Oklahoma

RANDALL KLEMME

Randall Klemme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klemme, last Friday was appointed vice president of Oklahoma A. and M., Stillwater, Okla. He has been affiliated with the large state college in Oklahoma—which has an enrollment of 18,500—since 1935.

Henry G. Bennett, president of the institution, is currently taking a two-year leave of absence to fill a government position in Washington, D. C., so Mr. Klemme will be administrative head of the college for that period.

A Belmond High school graduate in 1928, Mr. Klemme took his undergraduate college work at Grinnell. After receiving his B. A. degree in 1932, he returned for a year to teach in the economics department, then undertook advance study at Iowa State college.

In 1935 he accepted a position at Oklahoma A. and M. as instructor in economics and has been there ever since, except for 10 months when he studied at Chicago university under a Rockerfeller fellowship. At that same time he took special work during weekends at Iowa State and, upon completion of his doctor's dissertation in 1946, he received his Ph. D. from the state school at Ames.

In September of 1948 he was granted leave of absence from A. and M. to serve with the Federal Reserve bank of Kansas City as agricultural economist. He returned to the college in July of this year.

At the time of his promotion, Mr. Klemme was director of the Oklahoma college's agricultural-industrial development service, a division he had organized himself to promote new Oklahoma industries to utilize the state's agricultural products.

Mr. Klemme was married in 1937 to Margaret Osgood of Harvey, N. D., and they hav one daughter, Patricia Katherine, who is now nine.

MRS. WENTWORTH HURT WHEN CAR HITS DITCH

Mrs. Donald Wentworth, who only recently was hired to clerk at Jensen's Grocery, was painfully injured while on her way to work last Saturday morning.

She was driving to town from the Peter Bohning farm, where her husband is employed and where the couple lives, when she lost control of her car after hitting a drive-way into a field. She is unable to recall just what happened, but the car ended up in a roadside ditch near the Cloe Jenison farm.

Mrs. Wentworth lost four upper front teeth in the mishap, several lower teeth were loosened, and she suffered a gash on her chin and several cuts in her mouth.

She was taken to Steele Memorial hospital for treatment of her injuries and was a patient there until Sunday evening.

BUILDING TO NEW USE

The building on west Main street that formerly housed Chapman's produce station has been leased by the Farmers Implement store, which has boarded up the front of the structure and is using it as a warehouse.

Broncs Open Card With 38-20 Win Over Klemme Five

Plenty of rough edges were noticeable as the Belmond Broncos opened their basketball card Tuesday night with a 38-20 victory over Klemme on the local floor; but the Broncos showed definite promise, also.

Failure of the Belmond cagers to hit the hoop kept it a close contest during the first half. It was apparent that the boys are going to need a good deal of polishing on offense; but, of course, the season's young.

Klemme trailed by a single point, 5-4, at the end of the first quarter; and halftime found the Broncs in front by only a 14 to 9 margin. The visitors found it next to impossible to penetrate the Belmond defense. On the other hand, the Broncos were setting up mighty few open shots, themselves.

With Don Faris contributing three baskets, Belmond drew ahead in the third stanza, 30 to 14. The final quarter saw the winners increase their lead only two points, but Coach Jim Scott substituted freely and left no one combination on the floor for any length of time.

Eight men entered the scoring column for Belmond, topped by Faris with 10 points. Closely following were Jack Riggs with eight and Dave Helland with seven. Fred Loats banged in five points and two apiece were scored by Jim Riekens, Marlyn Watermiller, Odean Severseike and "Molly" Trager.

Ron Karsjens, a very promising freshman, caged nine points for the losers, while Lyle Goll and Norene Pearson tallied five apiece. Watson. Watermiller looked good on rebounds for the Broncos; [illegible] Faris, Severseike and Helland showed to particular advantage on defense.

More light will be shed next Monday night on just how good the Broncos may or may not be when they tangle with Eagle Grove on the local court. This will be Belmond's first tilt with the Eagles in a good many years and the visitors are expected to provide the Broncs with a stern test.

In Tuesday night's curtain-raiser, the BHS frosh-soph aggregation had little trouble in disposing of the junior Shamrocks, 29-19. Jim Faris and "Peewee" Larkin topped the scorers with nine and eight points, respectively, followed by Gary Brothers with five. Larkin, Brothers and Alan Madsen did nice jobs of guarding, too.

Congo Club Laying Plans For 2nd Annual Musicale

Plans for their second annual winter musicale are rapidly being formed by members of the Congo Club of the Congregational church. This year's performance is scheduled for Thursday evening, Dec. 14, and will be built around a United Nations theme.

"United Nations on the March", a chorus number from the MGM film, "As Thousands Cheer", will be featured and "Ballad for Americans", an historical narrative presented last year, will be repeated. Folk songs from several foreign lands will be included on the program.

Again the basement of the church will be the site of a carnival bazaar and food mart.

GIVEN WELFARE OFFICE

Elizabeth Waugh, former vocal music instructor in the Belmond Public School and now Butler county director of social welfare, was elected secretary of the Iowa Welfare association at the closing session Saturday in Des Moines.

Delay on Plans Approval Stops Hospital Progress

Eugene Woolley, chairman of the hospital planning committee, reported yesterday that no action as yet has been taken by the hospital division of the state department of health in regard to approving plans for the local hospital.

Progress toward completion of final plans has been brought to a standstill by the delay. Mr. Woolley stated that he intends to get Architect William Beuttler to look into the matter in an attempt to expedite a decision on acceptability of the original plans.

In the meantime, the chairman repeats the plea that fund pledges be paid to A. C. Hanson at once, so funds will be available as soon as contract letting is feasible.

Car Door Swings Open; 4-Year-Old Hurled from Auto

Little Rose Marie Hellickson, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hellickson, was in Steele Memorial hospital Tuesday night with a broken right leg—but her parents were counting themselves lucky that she'll be around to enjoy another Christmas.

Mrs. Hellickson was returning about 6:00 p. m. Tuesday from a visit with her father, T. L. Rector of Britt, when Rose Marie turned the car's rear door handle and was abruptly jerked from the car.

Three fortunate circumstances combined to save the tot's life It was the right-hand handle she grabbed—consequently she tumbled out on the dirt shoulder instead of the concrete highway—and because a new engine was recently installed in the car, Mrs. Hellickson was driving only 40 miles an hour.

Rose Marie was in the back seat with her little brother, Roger, and the travelers were about two miles south of Garner when the mishap occurred. With Mrs. Hellickson was her sister, Mrs. Virgil Aarons.

The broken leg apparently resulted when Rose Marie was hurtled against the car door. Mrs. Hellickson, herself, informed The Independent of the near tragedy.

She explained, "It may impress some other parents that you just can't be too careful about keeping the doors locked when a youngster is riding in your car!"

League of Women Voters Meetings on Wednesday

Wednesday of next week has been set as the November meeting day for the League of Women Voters. A meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ray Klemme and at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Jack Shepard.

Afternoon lesson leaders will be Mrs. S. P. Leinbach and Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, discussing the charter and structure of the United Nations and devoting some time to the Asiatic situation, also.

Mrs. A. E. Larson and Duane Cunning, a guest speaker, will conduct the evening's lesson. They will consider various aspects of the U. N.

Vets in Hospital To Get Pheasants From Sunday Hunt

Belmond's veterans' organizations—the American Legion and VFW — are planning another "Pheasants for Vets Day", such as they sponsored last year.

Local hunters are urged to take to the fields this Sunday and get pheasants to be shipped to the Veterans' hospital at Des Moines. The invitation is issued to all nimrods — not just "vet" sportsmen.

Either picked or skinned—and drawn—the birds are to be left at the Veterans' Memorial hall between 4:00 and 5:00 p. m. Leave head and legs intact.

Any hunters with more birds in storage than they need can leave their extras with Wes Boller at Tip Top market and they will be included in the Belmond shipment Sunday night.

The hunt organizers urge, "Let's give our hospitalized buddies a break. Bring in those birds!"

VISIT IN LOUISIANA

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Griffen of Britt, left Tuesday afternoon for Ferriday, La., where they plan to spend the Thanksgiving holiday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Griffen and children.

LEAVING FOR SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harmon plan to leave Thursday of next week to spend three months in the south. They will spend time in Kentucky and Florida and may stop over in Texas on the return trip.

Ankeny Man Hurt In Goodell Crash

Asa J. Hutton of Ankeny suffered severe but not critical injuries about 4:30 p. m. Monday at Goodell when a car he was driving collided with a Goodell school bus driven by Lloyd K. Berhow.

Brought to Steele Memorial hospital, Mr. Hutton was treated for deep lacerations on his forehead and left thigh and four broken ribs. Yesterday he was reported to be resting fairly comfortably but he will be confined to the hospital for some time.

Mr. Berhow was driving the bus south on Highway 69 and the car was headed north when the accident occurred. The bus driver says he turned on blinker lights to indicate that he was going to cut across the highway, but Mr. Hutton did not see the signal in time to avoid a collision.

The bus swerved into the Farmers Co-op service station and knocked over a gas pump. Mr. Berhow was not hurt but both the car and the bus suffered considerable damage.

Deputy R. E. Nesbit of the Hancock county sheriff's office, who investigated the mishap, states that there was no evidence of criminal negligence on the part of either driver and no charges will be filed.

Dinner guests Saturday evening in the Elmer Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Amosson and family of Kanawha.

Business and Professional Men Will Fete Farmers on Dec. 4th

Belmond's business and professional men on Monday, Dec. 4, will demonstrate their high regard for this vicinity's men of the soil by playing host to their farmer friends at a banquet to be held at Veterans' Memorial hall.

Co-sponsors of the affair will be the Chamber of Commerce and the Young Farmers night-school class of the Belmond High vocational agriculture department. The chamber members will "pick up the tab" and Young Farmers are in charge of plans.

Headline speaker of the occasion will be Clyde Spry, state secretary of agriculture. He first gained this position by appointment last June after the resignation of Harry D. Linn, but was elected this month to continue in the post.

Mr. Spry had previously been assistant secretary since 1943. He has farmed in Monona, Henry and Woodbury counties and for two years was a fieldman for the Iowa Farm Bureau. He has served with the Iowa soil conservation commission and as a director of the Sioux City Production Credit association.

Other entertainment will be provided, but the rest of the program is still in the planning stage. On the program committee are Harlan Nassen, chairman, Gilman Soma and Merlin Halverson. This group is being aided by Larry Gunderson and Russell Dougherty, chamber representatives.

Business and professional men of the community will be asked to buy two tickets apiece to the affair, one for themselves and one for a farmer guest of their own selection. Bob McClure heads the ticket committee, which also includes Ronnie Johnson and Roger Tendall.

On the decorations and refreshments committee are: Kermit Kew, chairman, Kenneth Kew and Harry Hill. Other Young Farmers assisting with banquet preparations are Bill McLaughlin, Loren Mennenga, Dwayne and Loren Kalkwarf.

The members of the "voc. ag." night class are young men who are not yet independent farm operators but who are active in farming and have selected it as their chosen occupation. They are currently holding classes under the guidance of Duane Sandage every Tuesday for a 28-week period.

'Andy' Lieuwen's Corn Yield Tops In FFA Contest

Andrew C. Lieuwen has been announced the winner of the 1950 corn yield contest sponsored by Belmond chapter of Future Farmers of America. Duane Sandage, FFA adviser, reports that the unfavorable maturing conditions that prevailed this fall sharply reduced the yields in most of the contesting fields.

Winning per-acre yield of 110.46 bushels was produced by Mr. Lieuwen on a Thompson Hybrid seed corn field. He will receive the championship trophy at the first December meeting of the FFA and will also receive an award from the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers association for surpassing 100 bushels per acre.

Contest runner-up was Vernon McLaughlin, whose Pioneer field ran 109.04 bushels per acre. Because the field was not of regulation shape, McLaughlin will not be eligible for the grain growers' award.

Lester Buseman's average of 92.20 bushels on a field of Pioneer hybrid won him third place. Thompson hybrid entries won fourth and fifth on an 89.83-bushel yield produced by Duane Thompson and one of 89.07 produced by Hubert Tudor.

Mr. Sandage, in releasing the contest results, said that volume of corn ran high but that weight was below standard because of the early frost. Resulting reduction in yield ran as high as an estimated 30 bushels per acre in one contest plot.

Thirteen fields were entered and 11 were harvested. Five different varieties of hybrids were represented. This was the second year the FFA has conducted the contest—and the second year that a Thompson seed has produced the winner. Wes Braner was top producer in the 1949 contest.

USHERED AT BIG GAME

Dick Elliott was one of five Eagle Scouts from Winnebago Council chosen to serve as ushers at the Iowa-Notre Dame game Saturday at Iowa City. The entire ushering staff for the big tilt was comprised of Eagle Scouts from all over the state.

CAPT. HOWARD FINN USMC "BLACKSHEEP"

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Capt. Howard J. Finn, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Finn of Belmond, Iowa, is one of the Marine Air Corps "Blacksheep", the name given members of Marine Fighter Squadron 214. The "Blacksheep" have been operating in Korea, providing air support to ground units pressing home the attack on Communist forces. During combat operations, the squadron recently received word that it had been awarded the Navy "E" Pennant for its operational activities for the present fiscal year.

County Engineer, Road Workers Get 2nd Boost in Pay

Handsome salary and wage boosts were passed out last week by the board of supervisors to the county engineer's staff and county road workers for the second time this year.

In April, across-the-board increases were granted the same personnel, averaging about 10 per cent. Raises effective Nov. 1 range from about eight per cent — for the engineer's secretary—to 15 per cent for Engineer Pete Struck and 18 per cent for six, major road-work employees.

According to Assistant Engineer H. M. Hoyt, road maintainance men average about 55 hours per week and construction workers, 60 hours. On the basis of these averages, the two increases have boosted foremen's pay from $260 per month prior to April 1 to a present average of $338.

As of April, the range of hourly wages was raised from 85c-to-$1.00 to 90c-$1.10. Last week's board action hoisted the range to $1.00-to-$1.30. Truck drivers and patrolmen, who in April got monthly-pay raises from $187 to $205, were taken off salary and put on hourly wage. At $1.00-per-hour they should now average about $238 per month.

Six labor classifications now draw $1.30 per hour, two draw $1.25, five rate $1.20, one $1.10, three $1.05 and three $1.00 per hour.

Mr. Struck has enjoyed a better than 40 per cent pay increase since the first of the year—from $3,175 prior to April 1 to a present salary of $4,500. Mr. Hoyt's latest boost was from $250 to $275 per month and the office secretary's from $175 to $190.

The supervisors also made a matter of record the road-workers' vacation and sick leave policy that has been observed for some time. It provides for two weeks vacation after a year's employment and six days per year of sick leave, accumulative up to 90 days.

That Wasn't Santa Passing Through Last Week

That Was Inga Steele Getting Overseas Gifts Ready to Ship

One home in Belmond last week was a beehive of Christmas activity. A little early in the season, you wonder? Not to be packing gifts that must be ready for distribution in France, Germany, Finland, Norway and England by C-day—Dec. 25th.

In a cellar workroom at the home of Mrs. Inga Steele, Mrs. Steele and Genevieve Monson were busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant, preparing Christmas boxes for shipment overseas. It's an annual project with Mrs. Steele and her companion, and one that has grown steadily larger each year since they inaugurated it in 1945.

In that year, sufficient parcels were dispatched to Noro-Solvar, Helgeland, Norway—the birthplace of Mrs. Steele's mother and still home of several relatives—that everyone in the tiny village could enjoy a bit of Yuletide cheer.

Residents of Noro-Solvar—located near Narvik, where the Nazi invasion of Norway was launched—lost practically all of their possessions. From 1945 through last Christmas, Mrs. Steele provided for the entire community as well as she could in the form of baby wear and other clothing and such table treats as coffee, black pepper, lump sugar and candy.

This year her kinfolk informed her that conditions were rapidly approaching normal, and her shipment was largely limited to personal gifts for her relatives.

Two little "adopted" war victims are on Inga's regular mailing list. Nine-year-old Ute Ingar Hanebeck of Cologne, Germany, hasn't a single surviving male relative. All were victims of the brutality of Russian concentration camps. Marlene Bonnie, seven, lives in southern France. Her father, a member of the underground, was killed during the war.

Inga hears periodically from both her "daughters" — from Marlene via the child's mother, but from Ute in the form of laboriously written personal letters. Ute's mother helps distribute clothing and other articles from Mrs. Steele to needy families in Cologne.

Packages are also sent to a lady in charge of a relief station in Kent, England and to a personal friend in London, who oversees distribution of the contents. "Gen" also sees that parcels go to a good acquaintance of hers who is a nurse in London. The latter will receive 15 pounds of baby clothes to place where they'll do the most good.

Another 30 pounds of clothing was directed to Narpes, Finland, for distribution through a relief agency; and a boys' club in Berlin was generously remembered with toys, clothing and similar items.

This boys' club was formed by an air force sergeant at Templehof airfield and has received international publicity. Mrs. Steele

FINAL SERVICES HELD FOR ENGLE RUITER, 58

Funeral services for Engle Ruiter, Meservey farmer, were held from Boone Funeral home last Thursday afternoon, with Rev. J. Heber Miller of the Methodist church officiating. Burial was in the Immanuel Reformed cemetery east of Belmond.

Mr. Ruiter died on Monday of last week in a Mason City hospital, where he had been taken following a heart attack. He had reached his fifty-eighth birthday not quite a month before his death, having been born at Meservey on Oct. 15, 1892.

His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Engel Ruiter, Sr. He was one of a family of seven children. Mr. Ruiter's parents, two sisters and a brother preceded him in death.

The deceased was baptized in the Immanuel Reformed church of Belmond. He lived his entire life in the Meservey neighborhood, except for a period of service during World War I, during which he served overseas for one year.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. George Groen of Thornton; and two brothers, John of Lyle, Minn., and Frederick of Humboldt.

Carl V. Griesy Attends Pre-Medical Conference

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 18—Carl V. Griesy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cato C. Griesy, Belmond, and student at Luther college, was one of 90 students and advisers attending the second annual pre-medical conference at the State University of Iowa last Friday.

The conference was designed to give prospective medical students a preview of the medical school's functions and acquaint them with its personnel and problems. Both pre-medical students and their advisors were escorted on a tour of the medical laboratories and University hospitals, as well as hearing from leading doctors on the SUI medical staff.

Don Norris Obtains Job As An Airplane Mechanic

HAWTHORNE, Calif.—Donald A. Norris, son of Allan Norris of Belmond, Iowa, recently was graduated from the Northrop Aeronautical institute of Hawthorne, and has accepted a position with the Willows Airport, in Willows, Calif.

His new job will enable him to apply mechanical training acquired during his 12-month enrollment at the Northrop institute, which qualified him for certification by the Civil Aeronautics administration as an aircraft and engine mechanic.

Norris, who served with the U. S. Air Force for over two years, attended NAI under the provisons of the G. I. Bill. Previously, he attended Belmond High school before enrolling at the Hawthorne school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Riekens and Jimmy visited at the George Riekens home Sunday afternoon.

What TB Seal Money Helps Do

Research to determine the value of the drug streptomycin in the treatment of tuberculosis is being furthered by a contribution of $100 from its Christmas Seal funds by the Wright County Tuberculosis and Health association, which has just placed its 1950 seals on sale.

In announcing this action, Mrs. Bert Martin, association president, stated that the research program will be directed by the American Trudeau Society, medical section of the National Tuberculosis association.

Help Fight TB

GREETINGS
USA

Buy Christmas Seals

The appropriation by the Wright County association, with similar grants from other tuberculosis associations in Iowa, will help carry forward research begun with the discovery of streptomycin in 1944, but handicapped by lack of funds.

Through investigation carried on to date, the drug is known:

1. To have definite effect on the course of some forms of tuberculosis in man which no other drug has had.
2. To be effective for a limited period.
3. To prevent the growth of tubercle bacillus, the germ which causes tuberculosis, rather than to kill it.
4. To have certain "toxic" effects on the patient.

With an enlarged national research program, it is hoped that information will be gained concerning streptomycin or a similar substance which will result in more effective treatment of tuberculosis patients and will speed the eventual eradication of this communicable disease.

Young People to Hear Paratrooper Chaplain

At a special meeting Saturday evening at the Congregational church, the youth group will have an opportunity to hear Delbert Kuehl, one of the first paratroop chaplains of World War II. Mr. Kuehl was with the 82nd Airborne Division in Germany.

He saw action in the war's hottest spots, Salerno, Casino, Anzio and "the Battle of the Bulge". He was decorated with the Silver Star, the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star, the Oak Leaf with clusters, and two foreign decorations.

He is now preparing to go to Japan as a missionary. His wife is with him. Mr. Kuehl will occupy the pulpit in the Congregational church next Sunday morning.

Methodist Women's Group Holds Successful Bazaar

The Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service held its annual Christmas bazaar and supper in the church parlors Thursday afternoon and evening of last week. The affair was a huge success, with a capacity crowd attending the fried chicken supper and the auction of articles which was held later.

According to Mrs. Wilbur Linaweaver, president, the ladies realized nearly $600 from their efforts. Guests from Fort Dodge, Mason City, Eagle Grove, Clarion, Thornton, Dows, Belmond and Iowa Falls were present.

The Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet Thursday, Dec. 7, for their Christmas program and tea at the home of Mrs. S. F. Stout.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers went to Owasa Sunday where they attended the 80th anniversary and homecoming of the Owasa Methodist church. There was a potluck dinner at noon in which they all participated.

Close to 100 at McLaughlins' Golden Anniversary Reception

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin, observed Tuesday, was a very happy occasion when many relatives and friends gathered to extend their good wishes to the jubilarians.

A High Mass of thanksgiving was sung in St. Francis church at 8:30 a. m. by Rev. R. A. Ormsby, after which he extended his best wishes and read a letter of congratulation from Archbishop Rohlman of Dubuque and present the honored couple with a picture of the Holy Father, who conferred his blessing upon them.

A delicious turkey dinner, provided by the family, was served by members of the Rosaary Society in the Veterans' Memorial hall at the noon hour. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers in keeping with the event. After a few short talks, a reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin. Nearly a hundred guests came between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 p. m. to extend their congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Out-of-town relatives and friends present included Mrs. McLaughlin's sister, Mrs. Margaret Andrews of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLaughlin of Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McLaughlin of Adel, Mr. and Mrs. John McLaughlin of Winterset, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLaughlin of Humboldt, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent King of Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Delheck, of Gilmore City, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cook of Emmons, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall of Minneapolis.

SERVICES HELD HERE TUESDAY AFTERNOON FOR BLANCHE NELSON

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Blanche Nelson, former Belmond resident who died on Wednesday of last week in Los Angeles, Calif., at the age of 75.

Rites were performed by Rev. Alfred B. McKeith at the Congregational church, with Boone Funeral Home in charge. Burial was in Amsterdam cemetery at Goodell. Pallbearers were George Elder, Albert Fetrow, Preston Tyrrell, Jim Adams, Roy Henderson and Dr. A. M. Larson.

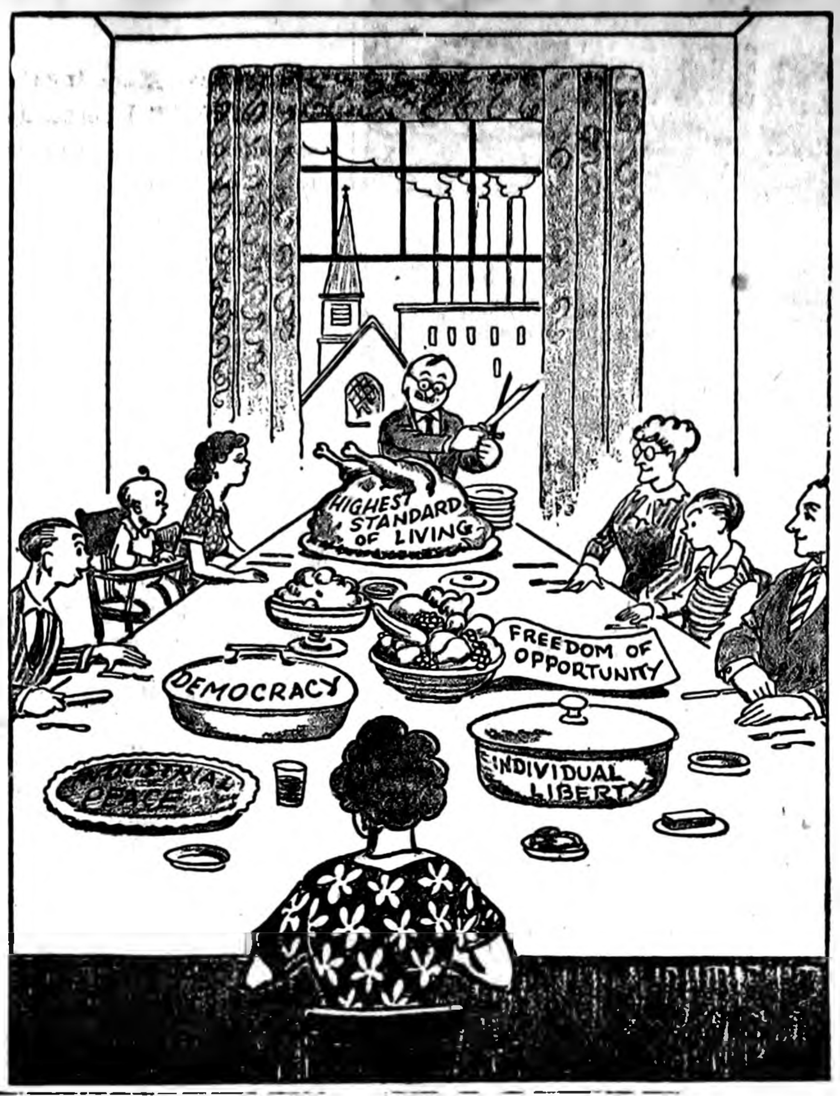
Blanche Farman was born Feb. 8, 1875 at Evansville, Wis., the daughter of Curtis and Emile Farman. When she was three years old the family moved to Goodell by covered wagon.

In 1900 she was married to William Nelson. They were the parents of one child, Herbert Nelson, now of Cedar Rapids. The Nelson moved to Belmond several years after their marriage and in the early 'thirties, to Iowa City.

Mr. Nelson passed away five years ago and since that time Mrs. Nelson had divided her time between Iowa and California, having lived in Los Angeles the past two years. She had been ill for only three months prior to her death.

She is survived by her son; a brother, Bert Farman of Seattle, Wash.; and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Goodenow and Mrs. Frances Wyman, both of Los Angeles. Besides her parents, she was preceded in death by two sisters and a brother.

FOR THESE WE GIVE THANKS



Response on Adult Education Slow; More Opinions Needed by Planners

Public response to last week's questionnaire on Adult Education class preferences was very meagre, according to Ceabern Squires, president of the Adult Education Council.

Only four coupons were returned, indicating choice of courses. It is essential that the council have a better idea of what courses hold the most interest, so plans can be laid accordingly. Consequently, the coupon is being published again this week.

Prompt return of the coupon will enable the council to offer the instruction most desired, Mr. Squires points out, and allow the required teachers to begin drafting their class work.

Proposed courses and the number of enrollees desired for each follow:

Current problems in agriculture, 30; contemporary affairs, 20; physical education for men, 15; homemaking, 12; arts and crafts, 12; practical bookkeeping and home accounting, 15; practical speech and parliamentary procedure, 15; recreation (square dancing and social cards), 16; community choir, 30; photography, 15; driver training, 12.

The Adult Education Council plans to meet Dec. 6 to make final arrangements for the winter courses, which will extend over a 10-week period starting Jan. 8. The council will send cards to all persons who attended classes last year, asking their opinion on lines of instruction to be offered.

Arrangements are already underway to obtain speakers for the banquet at the conclusion of the course period and for the two forum meetings that are contemplated. Jack Shelley, news commentator for radio station WHO at Des Moines, has been contacted and may fill one of the speaking engagements. Equally well qualified speakers will be obtained for the other two occasions.

The Truth May Make You Free But Watch Out How You Use It

By BILLY ROSE

One night when I dropped into Jerry's for a firkin of foam, Long George Smiley and Sid "The Inch" Perry were at the bar as usual. As unusual, however, they were not arguing with each other but with the bartender.

"The truth never hurt anybody," said the bartender, "and the truth is I'm on the hook for 63 beers. And until you gentlemen settle up, there ain't gonna be no 64th."

"Look," said The Inch, "you're a downtrodden worker yourself, and when you turn down another worker's request for a bowl of suds, you're committing class suicide."

"For three weeks successive," said the bartender, "you gentlemen have been promising to pay up, and if it wasn't against the rules to insult a customer, I'd say you liars were making free with the truth."

Billy Rose

"What's wrong with a lie now and then?" said Long George. "If it wasn't for a little banana oil, the wheels of our crumby civilization would come to a dead stop."

"You couldn't be more wrong," said the bartender. "A wise man tells the truth on any and all occasions."

"If you'll excuse my elegance," said The Inch, "that's a lot of pig shampoo."

"I CONCUR with my friend," said Long George. "Look at what happened to Hogan, the trucker, when he got mixed up with the verities. A couple of months ago, a frined tipped him off that his wife was dating a kid who worked in the brewery, and instead of making like the three little monkeys, he hired a detective to follow her.

When he learned his missus had been sneaking off to a dime dance hall to jitterbug with the young man, he confronted her with the fulsome facts, and a few scrappy minutes later his wife was packed and on her way back to her mother's house in Canarsie."

"Served her right," said the bartender.

"Served Hogan right," said The Inch. "Before he found out, he was happy as a fly on a whiskey cork. Tonight, like every night, he's in his apartment alone, lapping up the Irish and playing 'Melancholy Baby' on the phonograph."

"Besides which," said George, "nobody has heard him say a word against his wife. But the finagling friend who tipped him off—well, he's got an eye you couldn't cover with an eight-dollar steak."

"You've got a point, maybe," said the bartender, "but I still insist there's nothing like the truth, and the truth is you gentlemen get no more beer."

"THE TRUTH, I'd like to point out," said Long George, "is probably the most incendiary thing man has discovered since he learned how to rub two little sticks together. And if the case of Hogan isn't enough, let me give you another for-instance: The gent in congress who recently insisted on inspecting Fort Knox to make sure the 20 billion in bullion hadn't been hypothecated by the Fair Dealers."

"Why shouldn't he inspect?" said the bartender. "It's in the public interest."

"You amaze and sadden me," said The Inch. "Suppose, due to a subterranean earthquake or some interplanetary shoplifting, the congressman had found nothing at Fort Knox but a big hole in the ground.

What could he have done? Blab to the press? Not on your bungstarter. Even a man with the mentality of a Congressman would know that an hour after the news hit page one the economy of the world would do a Bikini—and that a man couldn't buy a tangerine with a 20 dollar note."

"Which proves what?" said the bartender.

"Which proves," said Long George, "that truth, like dynamite, shouldn't be tossed around carelessly. If my friend and I sometimes misrepresent about settling our tab, it is only to spare you pain."

The bartender took a couple of beer glasses, wiped them, and then put them away. "You know," he said, "I never thought about it that way before, and it almost makes me ashamed of myself to have to throw you gentlemen out."

CAMPAIGN TO COLLECT FUNDS FOR CHILDREN'S HOME TO OPEN MONDAY

Mrs. Inga Steele, Belmond chairman for the annual fund-raising campaign in behalf of the Iowa Children's Home society, announces that the local drive will begin next Monday, Nov. 24.

The Iowa Children's Home society is well known through the state for its care of children from broken homes, and abandoned and neglected children. There are are no race, creed or color lines drawn; only the needs of the children are considered.

While the society works in co-operation with welfare agencies and juvenile courts, it receives no state funds. The work is carried on entirely with contributions gathered by volunteer workers.

Believing that every child has a right to family life, the society carefully studies the needs of each youngster before placing in a foster home so that a normal, well adjusted life may be obtained. The society then pays a nominal sum weekly to the foster parents.

The feeling of security, love and loyalty that grows from a normal family life helps the child to a well adjusted adult life, the society has found.

"Please open your hearts and give generously when a volunteer worker calls on you," Mrs. Steele urges, adding, "The women soliciting funds are all giving freely of their time, so please welcome them at your door."

Mrs. Steele appointed the following ward chairmen for the drive: Mrs. C. D. Bonte, Mrs. Glenn Eccles, Mrs George Infelt, Mrs. Clark McNeal, Mrs. A. M. Nelson and Mrs. A. K. Pitcher.

Inga Says Personal "Foreign Aid" Means Most—

Koln-Stammheim
8 . III . 1949

My dearest Aunt Inga!

Today will I certainly write you. In one hour I must be at school but have time to chat with you. Soon is Easter and I begin my second school year. There gives a lot to learn. All of us have the "grip" and I had it 3 weeks long. With Puppe Inga I play every day and I love her so much. Puppe sends much love to America. She has such a sweet face. I send much love, greetings and kisses.

Your
Ute-Ingar

This letter was received by Mrs. Steele a year ago last spring after she had sent her little German friend a doll, which Ute promptly named Puppe (dolly) Inga.

says (suggestively) that clothing and toys for the young club members can be addressed to GYA Officer, Templehof Air Base, A. P. O. 742, % P. O., New York City.

All during the year Inga collects discarded clothing and other appropriate articles from friends all over the country to help fill her Christmas packages. She received a box containing over 60 pounds of clothes from a Texas friend not long ago. All cothing items are carefully mended, washed or cleaned, and have missing buttons replaced before they are shipped.

Thompson's Hybrid Seed Corn company provides Inga with used seed corn sacks, which make fine shipping containers for clothing—and allow some well-padded space in the center for food parcels.

Inga is convinced that personal relief projects such as she and "Gen" take delight in are more valuable than the Marshall Plan or any other type of governmental aid when it comes to creating high esteem for the United States.

No amount of impersonal charty can replace "giving" with a personal touch, she declares. The cost is small (14 cents per pound to ship) and the satisfaction is extremely great.

Sometime in February she will start sending abroad the summer clothing that at present is accumulating in her basement. With that out of the way, she will launch on preparations for her 1951 Christmas shipments. And there's a gleam in her eye as she contemplates how she'll "sell" her friends on helping.

COMPLICATED PROCESS INVOLVED IN CHANGE OF PIPELINES SUNDAY

While Belmond residents blithely cooked meals, heated the house and otherwise utilized natural gas in normal fashion last Sunday, workmen for Central States Electric and the Northern Natural Gas company were engaged in cutting over the supply to a new pipeline under the river.

It was a rather delicate operation. Permitting the gas pressure to fall too low during the cut-over would have necessitated turning off the supply all over town—and then turning it back on, house by house.

Two by-pass lines kept the supply flowing during the switch of main pipelines, and Earl Dorr—stationed by the river—had to regulate one of these by hand valve throughout the process. He was kept informed of the city pressure level by a hand phone that Lloyd Bruner, Central Telephone manager, had rigged to the Central States office via Rowat and Murray's telephone line.

The cut-over operation was started about 1:00 p. m. and was completed by 4:00 p. m., when the last connection in the new pipeline had been welded and it was ready to carry the gas supply.

Leaks had developed in the old line—laid between the Great Western tracks and Highway 69 some 18 years ago—when corrosion ate through portions of the pipe. The new pipe is insulated against rust, so replacement should be unnecessary for a good many years to come, according to Cecil Carstens, manager for Central States Electric.

Duane Sandage's Brother Winner of Scholarship

Roger D. Sandage, 28, Iowa State college sophomore from Lamoni and brother of Duane Sandage, Belmond High school vocational agriculture instructor, has been announced the winner of a $300 scholarship offered by radio station WNAX.

The Yankton, S. D., station gives the award annually to a worthy Iowa farm boy in need of financial assistance, showing high character and especial promise of agricultural leadership, and attaining the highest scholastic average among applicants who havet completed their first year at Iowa State.

Sandage's 3.79 grade average, compared to a perfect 4.0, placed him both at the top of all the "ag" students and at the head of all men in last year's freshman class at I. S. C.

A World War II veteran who saw service in the South Pacific, Sandage is married and has two children.

CURTIS BRUNS HAS NARROW ESCAPE

What could have proved a serious accident occurred on Monday afternoon when Curtis Bruns, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bruns, stepped from a load of corn directly onto the conveyor chain of an elevator. The fact that he was wearing heavy shoes and overshoes saved him from having a badly mangled foot. When the chain dragged his foot into the gear, a nail was pulled from one toe and the other toes and part of the foot were badly bruised.

Borers Down to 155 Per 100 Stalks Compared to 1,824 Count Year Ago

Fewer corn borers are going into hibernation this fall in Wright county than a year ago, but enough to remain to supply the seed stock for infestation next year if conditions are favorable, according to Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director.

This information was obtained as results of a survey conducted by the Iowa State college extension service, Iowa Agricultural Experiment station, Iowa department of agriculture, and the USDA Corn Borer Research Laboratory at Ankeny.

The survey showed that there is an average of 155 borers per 100 plants in Wright county fields this fall. That compares to 1824 borers per 100 stalks last year. It is about the same infestation as in 1947, which was 109 borers per 100 stalks.

This pattern of few borers is generally true over the entire state, Bowman said. Highest infestation in the state is in northwest Iowa and the lowest in eastern Iowa.

The fall borer population in counties near Wright county are: Webster—216 per 100 stalks; Kossuth—132; Humboldt — 325; Hancock—133; Franklin — 145 and Hamilton—73. Weather unfavorable to the borers was Bowman's explanation for the decrease in the number this year. The season started with the largest population of corn borers on record.

Following the late spring, borer numbers continually declined. No second brood was developed and it is the second brood which creates a tremendous build-up in the borer population such as occurred last fall.

The corn borer situation in general is much like it was in 1947, according to Bowman. That's his reason for advising farmers not to feel that they can ignore the possibility of another costly infestation. It is something to watch and to be prepared for, Bowman warns.

It was the relatively small numbers of borers that went into hibernation in the fall of 1947 that produced the 1948 corn borer population, a borer crop that caused $93 million damage.

Broncos Winners In Jamboree Tilt With L. M., 24-18

North Iowa conference basketball fans were given a preview of the season's outlook Friday night as Britt, Garner, Belmond and Forest City won a 77-73 victory over the combined forces of Buffalo Center, Swea City, Lake Mills and Northwood at the annual loop jamboree at Forest City.

Although short some of its top performers, temporarily banished for skipping school, Britt had no trouble humbling Buffalo Center, 18-13, in the opening quarter. Garner's scrappy but pint-sized quintet opposed Swea City's guest team in the second canto, bowing 19-12.

Belmond's 24-18 win over Lake Mills was encouraging to Bronco fans, as Coach Jim Scott is having to draw heavily upon untried talent this year. "Scotty" still isn't predicting his crew will come close to matching the 1949-50 record, but concedes that the boys showed good possibilities.

Forest City experienced more difficulty with Northwood than had been predicted, and only the 12-point barrage of Charley Langerud, nifty Indan pivot, enabled last year's runners-up to down the Vikings 23-19.

Jack Riggs led the Belmond scorers with seven points. Marlyn Watermiller was good for six, Vernon Meyer for five, Don Faris for four and Dave Helland, two. Jim Kingland and Roy Limesand led the Bulldogs with six apiece.

Coach Scott started Riggs and Jm Riekens as forwards, Watermiller at cener, and Faris and Odean Severseike at the guard spots. He used Meyer at center, Helland at guard and Fred Loats at forward.

OPEN HOUSE TO MARK HATCHERY'S 26TH YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hensel, proprietors of the Alexander Hatchery, are inviting friends and patrons to attend their firm's annual open house a week from Rriday, Dec. 1. The event marks the start of their 26th year in the hatchery business.

From 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., visitors to the hatchery will be treated to a free buffet lunch. There will be gifts for women visitors and movies will be exhibited, showing many chicken-raisers of this general vicinity and their flocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensel also have announced that Hensel Brothers Produce of Belmond this year will take orders for Hy-Line chicks from Alexander Hatchery patrons and make delivery on them.

BUSY BEE COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED FOR YEAR

Regular meeting of the Belmond Busy Bees was held a week ago Saturday. Most of the afternoon was spent touring the rooms of the girls who took part in the Home Furnishing project last year. Everyone found it very interesting to see how the girls had improved their rooms.

After the tour, members gathered at the home of Mrs. Art Homervold, assistant leader. Jo Ann Slining conducted the business meeting, attended by two leaders and eleven members. The club voted that $5 be given to CROP and voted $15 towards Mrs. Homervold's trip to Chicago.

Standing committees were appointed for this year. They include: program, Mary Ellen McClure; recreation, Myrna Strait; music, Marjorie Sue Johnson; pictures, Mary Lou Baker. Sharon Strait and Mary Ellen McClure were appointed to assist anyone who needs help with her record book and expense account book.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mary Lou Baker on Dec. 13. Committees named for the Christmas party were Sharon Strait, Sara Simerson and Marjorie Sue Johnson, refreshments; Sandra Didio, Mary Alice Studebaker and Judy Oberhauser, entertainment; Mary Ellen McClure, Janet Slining and Sandra Swenson, recreation; and Mary Lou Baker, Myrna Strait and Irene Redmond, decoration.

Following the meeting, names were drawn for Christmas gifts and enrollment cards were signed. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Homervold.

The Busy Bees have added four new members—Judy Oberhauser, Sandra Swenson, Sara Simerson and Irene Redmond.

Hy-Line

Each year more flock owners are finding that quality pays and turn to Hy-Line because of the better egg production (2 to 6 dozen more eggs per bird per year) and greater profits.

If you wish to prove this statement to your satisfaction, we invite you to make a comparison test this year. We will furnish you Hy-Line chicks at the same price you pay for standard bred chicks regardless of where you buy them. All we ask is an accurate production record for one year.

For those of you who prefer them we will have AAA White Rocks and White Leghorns. These chicks are backed by 25 years of records and breeding improvements.

Two Belmond Men Fined For Loaded Guns in Car

Pete English and W. P. Tyrrell were fined last week in the justice court of R. J. Fritsch at Garner on the charges of carrying loaded guns in a vehicle on a public highway. They were picked up by Game Wardens W. E. "Bill" Ayres and F. E. Morley. Fines of $50 and costs were levied, with $15 suspended in each case.

Ayers reports that there have remarkably few arrests during the current pheasant season for infractions of game laws. A year ago there were 27 arrests in Wright and Hancock counties during the first two days of the season; this year only four arrests were made in the first four days.

Both Ayers and Morley have been highly pleased with the close attention hunters have been showing to game regulations.

HOMESICK

A homesick saddle mare jumped over the fence at Hutchins recently and started galloping toward her old home near Britt, from where she had been sold. The horse was following the Milwaukee railroad track and refused to get off, even when the east-bound Sioux caught up with her. The engineer had to stop the train so that the trainmen could shoo the horse off the rails.

Good Eating in Iowa . . .

Edna and I stopped for dinner at the Amanas this month. My—those wonderful Amana fritters!

"I'm glad those pioneers from Germany brought their fritter recipe with them," said Edna.

Yes, and it's not the German pioneers alone! For good Iowa eating we also have to thank the Czechs for Kolaches. The Dutch for Pella bologna. Scandinavians for their institution of Smorgasbord. Italians for Pizza, Spaghetti, etc. Well . . . you could go on naming almost every country. Each has contributed its tastes in fine food to our good living.

That's another reason why Iowa is such a wonderful state. Many ideas, many tastes, mingling here, enriching our lives. One person may like one kind of food, or dress, or way of speaking. That's his privilege. One may like onions, another garlic dressing . . . one prefers ginger ale, another a temperate glass of beer. Each has a right to his choice here in Iowa.

It's a great state . . . as big, as broad, as the viewpoints and culture of its diversified people.

Bronco Athletes Deserve Good Word For Determination to Train Better

We were mighty pleased when that contingent of high school football players paid us a call last week in defense of Coach Don Merritt.

They had somewhat misunderstood the import of our recent editorial on juvenile smoking (which Supt. Don Faris had read to the high school assembly). We didn't intend to single out Coach Merritt, individually, for criticism. We meant only to point out that responsibility for enforcing training rules falls on the shoulders of a coach -- ANY coach; and that a key to the smoking problem at BHS might be found in active cooperation of the coach and his athletes.

Be that as it may, those boys who came to the coach's defense seem now to realize that avoidance of training can't be made a game without their coaches being exposed to blame. We readily agreed with the squad spokesmen that a coach SHOULDN'T be required to accept nurse-maiding as part of his duties, just to see that his athletes train sensibly "in season". But, unfair as it may be, a coach is customarily held responsible for lax adherence to training. Consequently, athletes who think highly of their coach won't put him "on the spot" by flagrantly disregarding training rules just because they're sure the coach won't catch them.

We don't anticipate the appearance of any halos; we're pretty certain there will continue to be a certain quota of trouble-makers. But we're quite well convinced that the athletes of Belmond High are ready to adopt a different attitude toward training than that which prevailed before this minor tempest blew up.

There's no getting around the fact that the athletes constitute the most influential group of leaders in any schoool. Their example is imitated not only by their contemporaries, but by the "small fry". Coach, teams, school and community with all benefit from a determined effort of the boys to "fly right" -- and we believe they, themselves, will get much more satisfaction out of their sports than they did under the old order of things.

Go to it, fellahs! We'd a hundred times rather praise than preach.

One of the Day's Best Investments: Two Dollars for Christmas Seals

Help Fight TB

USA

Buy Christmas Seals

Few diseases have so nearly succumbed to the advanc eof medical science as tuberculosis. Not so long ago one of the major killers in this nation, the disease once characterized as the "white plague" has been so robbed of its deadlines that today a TB death is almost a rarity.

One of the most effective foes in the battle to wipe out TB has been that colorful bit of paper we know as the Christmas Seal. Funds from its sale are continuing the campaign; and the fight will not be abandoned until the disease is as nearly eradicated as is scientifically possible.

It is most appropriate that in recent years some of the Christmas Seal proceeds have been made available to fight heart disease, which currently takes more lives in the United States annually than any other ailment. Tuberculosis deaths diminished rapidly as extensive research was made possible by funds from the sale of the Yuletide seals. Equally dramatic progress can be expected in the battle against heart disease if the purchase of seals continues on the customary scale.

Buy your quota of Christmas Seals and use them freely and proudly. They've saved thousands on thousands from the ravages of tuberculosis. They may well repeat the miracle in the fight against heart disease if we do our part.

O

Television Manufacturers' Twaddle Reaches New Advertising Low

We'd like to nominate the advertising hogwash of the television manufacturers of America as the current ad campaign least likely to succeed. Of all the malarky that the public has had foisted upon it in the name of high-pressure salesmanship, this television twaddle certainly reaches the lowest of lows.

If parents are to believe that their children face warped lives if deprived of television's magical benefits, they should be equally on guard against neuroses produced by Junior's unsatiated desire for a convertible and Susie's unrequited love for Van Johnson.

Our confidence that the campaign will prove a phenominal bust is supreme and complete. Certainly no one with brains enough to accumulate the price of a television set would be gullible to swallow that utter nonsense the manufacturers are putting out.

O

Christmas Cards Provide Good Chance To Send Regards to Old Friends

There is one commercialized aspect of Christmas of which we thoroughly approve, because it is true to the spirit of the occasion. That is the sentimental custom of mailing Christmas cards to old friends. Of course, the custom is promoted to the hilt by card manufacturers -- but we have to concede they've got a good point in their plea that old acquaintance should be brought to mind during the Yuletide season.

Strictly "good will" cards to regular business patrons and routine expressions of season's greetings to friends seen regularly throughout the year are pleasant gestures, and we haven't a thing against them. But with such missives tended to, you've got the job only half done.

What really lends a fillip to opening the annual flood of Christmas cards is those we get from half-forgotten but highly esteemed friends out of the past. And if the card bears a few written lines of personal recollection, it really brings a glow.

Why not sit down this evening and draft a list of names that bring back pleasant memories of childhood, school days, the war years and other periods of your life that have been relegated to the scrapbook of your mind? And remember, in sending greetings of the season to these friends of years gone by, each card should bear a personal message -- some remembered incident, some remark about the turn of your own fortunes, some inquiry along the "how goes it?" line.

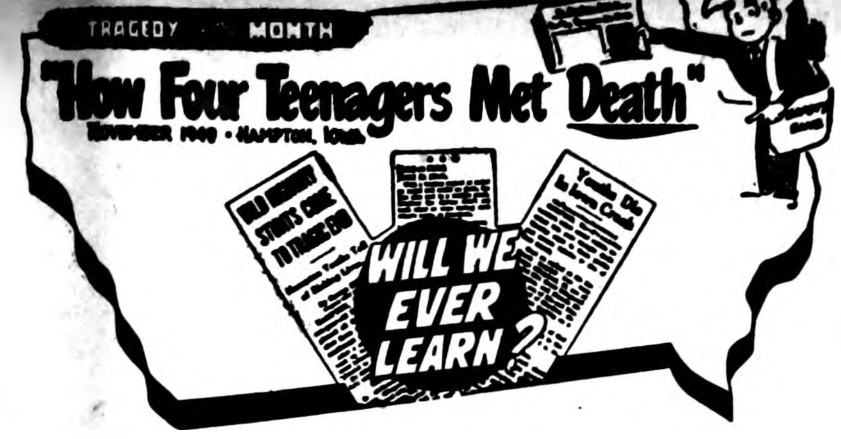
Not only are such cards a pleasure to receive, but the sender is well repaid by the memories they invoke.

O

In the recent election, New York City's Democrat, Republican and Labor voters got behind a single coalition candidate in order to give that communist sounding board, Congressman Marcantonio, the boot. Joe Stalin should make a note of that. We Americans may call each other dirty names in the heat of political scraps, but we can get together in a hurry if an outsider enters into the name-calling.

O

Every time we read of some exwealthy individual going off the deep end because he's down to his last $50,000, it makes us a bit smug over our struggling existence. Yes, brothers, it's much worse to have had it and lost it than never to have had it at all.



This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Remember what happened on that dark highway near Hampton on the night of Nov. 8, 1949?

Two car smashed head-on in a gruesome tangle of metal and flesh. Of the eight young people riding in the cars, two were killed instantly; Another died a few hours later; another a few days later. Only four lived. Friends said the two young drivers were probably playing "chicken"; a death-defying game of nerve and reckless speed.

In the days and weeks that followed, the story was told in all its terrifying details. All Iowa was shocked and saddened. National magazines told the sobering story to readers all over the country.

Surely the lesson was clear.

YET THE IOWA TEENAGE DRIVER TOLL IS STILL GOING UP — AND UP. In the first nine months of 1950, 80 teen-age drivers were involved in fatal accidents—an increase of nearly 40 per cent over the same months of 1949.

"Will we ever learn?"

COLLISION

This sort of thing doesn't happen very often any more. At Lake Mills, a runaway team collided head-on with a parked car belonging to Ed Price, with the head of one horse going clear through the windshield. The car was badly damaged.

WHIRLED

Frank Rothmeyer of Ossian had a narrow escape recently when his clothes caught in the pulley of a fanning mill, spinning him around the line shaft several times and knocking him out when his head struck a nearby beam. Quick-thinking Jerry Oyloe shut off the switch in time to save Mr. Rothmeyer's life.

FREEDOM

Thirty-two steers on their way to market enjoyed a brief bit of freedom near Humboldt recently. A semi-trailer driven by George Wolter of Luana overturned and spilled the cattle into the highway.

Annual Meeting Of Farm Bureau Held Last Week

Lynn Thompson of Clarion and Rammer Goeman of Belmond will continue as president and vice president, respectively, of the Wright County Farm Bureau as the result of the election held a week ago Tuesday in conjunction with the group's annual business meeting.

All incumbent officers were re-elected. Others held over were Charlie Trask, treasurer; Bernard Collins, secretary; Cornelius Thompson, voting delegate; Willis Kurtz, alternate delegate; and Mrs. Gerhard Thompson, women's chairman.

Elections of Floyd Robie as county boys' 4-H chairman and Mrs. Fred Kirstein as girls' 4-H chairman were ratified at the meeting, as were the selection of township directors and women's chairmen.

Women's chairmen for the Belmond vicinity are: Mrs. Donald Markham, Belmond; Mrs. Kenneth Severson, Grant; Blanche Aldrich, Iowa; Mrs. Eldon Eliason, Norway; and Mrs. Henry Mennenga, Pleasant.

Probably the most significant of the resolutions adopted at the annual meeting had to do with the farm program. In this connection the Bureau recommends a program geared to the nation's economy as a whole, formulated by farming interests and merely administered by the government. The resolution expressed resentment at "attempts of agencies of the federal government to force a farm program upon the people."

The Bureau expressed opposition to production payments, income support payments or the food allotment plan, preferring crop loans, marketing agreements and direct purchases as methods of federal price support. It suggested stand-by protection in the way of price floors for farm products, recommending $1.40 on corn, $18 on hogs, 80 cents on butter fat, 36 on eggs and 30 per pound on poultry.

Resolutions expressed approval of continued soil conservation, a graduated land tax to discourage large land holdings and that a larger share of extension service expense be footed by public funds.

Further suggestions were lowering of general state aid for schools and increasing supplementary aid; and that sound school reorganization be furthered by submitting such propositions to local areas, without pressure at the state level. State support to vocational education in amount equal to federal allotment was also favored.

To keep state revenue sufficient to meet any added appropriations at the present, the Bureau recommends 100 per cent collection of state income taxes, with increases in corporation taxes if required. It also suggests that present exemptions be abandoned and that property of schools and churches be taxed the same as other income property. Several other minor resolutions are also adopted.

Bob Hope and Lucille Bali are teamed again in the hilarious technicolor comedy "Fancy Pants". Starting Sunday at the New Belmond Theatre.

THREE BOYS TO ENJOY EXPENSE-PAID TRIPS TO LIVESTOCK SHOW

Don Campbell of the Eagle Grove FFA, Bob Sylvester of the Woolstock Junior Stockmen and Donovan Baker, member of the Norway Ramblers, will represent Wright county Farm Project 4-H clubs and FFA chapters at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

These young men will leave from Mason City this Friday evening, Nov. 24, aboard the KGLO, North Iowa Fair special train, and will return on Tuesday morning, Nov. 28.

While in Chicago they will have an opportunity to go on several conducted tours of the city, visiting many points of interest, in addition to the day spent at the International Livestock show.

Campbell, Sylvester and Baker were selected for this award trip by committees representing the Eagle Grove Fair Board and the county boys' 4-H committee on the basis of their all around achievements, leadership, attitude, character and community spirit.

The Eagle Grove District Fair Board is sponsoring the award trips for Don Campbell and Bob Sylvester, while Donovan Baker's trip is being sponsored by businesses and commercial interests of Kanawha.

Baker's sponsors include: Knutson and Cooper Insurance and Seed Corn company; Farmers State Bank, Farmers Elevator, Moller and Brunsen implement dealers, Gorton and Gabel Hardware, and Raber Livestock dealers.

Clarence Trenary, leader of the Amsterdam Booster boys' club, Kanawha, will accompany the Wright and Hancock county boys to Chicago.

Mrs. Kirstein Appoints 4-H Committee Members

Mrs. Fred Kirstein, county 4-H chairman, has appointed her 4-H committee for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Ross Mechem, Clarion—music chairman; Mrs. Thomas Mathre, Kanawha—health chairman; Mrs. Melvin Olson, Kanawha—secretary.

Mrs. Clarence Whitten, Rowan—northeast district committee woman; Mrs. Leo Woodley, Clarion—southeast district committee woman; Mrs. Orvile Shillington, Clarion—southwest district committee woman; Mrs. Homer McGrath, Clarion—northwest committee woman.

The committee meets the third Monday of every other month.

GRANT GO-GETTERS

The meeting was called to order by president, Janice Sann at 2:00 at the home of Margery Murphy. Roll call was answered by 11 old members and one new member, Sharon Bradley. One leader, Mrs. Woodin and three visitors were present, Mrs. Schumacher, Mrs. Schuldt and Mrs. Zuber.

Our membership cards were passed out and signed. We also received our reading lists and record books which were discussed. Plans for our Christmas party were made, which will be held at Mrs. Harris' Dec. 2 at 12:00. We drew names and our mothers will have a grab bag. Barbara Barnes gave a talk on the United Nations. Judy Woodin gave a talk on Parliamentary Procedure.

Janice Sann was in charge of recreation. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her mother.

Now As Then

Today, as our forefathers did, we celebrate Thanksgiving with a deep appreciation for His generosity. But now, as then, we are faced with the necessity of carrying arms to protect ourselves from forces of darkness that threaten to smother the light of liberty. Yet, with faith in Him we are certain that liberty will conquer, as it did then.

Our pilgrim fathers had two notable characteristics; a genuine reliance upon the guidance and protection of God, and a strong disposition to look out for themselves.

These two traits are not antagonistic, but are complimentary.

There are some things in life that God expects us to do for ourselves. Men of great and lasting achievement never leave God completely out of the picture. Nor do they attempt to leave it all to God, and withhold the human support that He expects. Strong men, influential men, the most socially useful men and women are those who trust God as though all depends on Him, and then set themselves to the task as though all depends upon human effort.

Like the Pilgrims, when we receive God's guidance, let us return to Him hearts of genuine gratitude.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

More Pay Loads Per Day WITH LESS WORK!

...Yours with a JOHN DEERE Push-Type Manure Loader

Load manure from your sheds and feed lots the faster, easier way—with a John Deere Push-Type Manure Loader. One man with this loader and one spreader can easily handle 35 loads per day.

Working with a John Deere "A" or "B" Tractor, this sturdy loader is easy to operate . . easy to move around. It's ruggedly built and sturdily braced to handle the heaviest loads of manure; weight is properly distributed for better traction. It's low enough to work under any shed that has sufficient clearance for the tractor.

The John Deere is driven from the flywheel of the tractor, assuring "live power" on the bucket at all times. Exclusive bucket shaker insures faster unloading . . . more pay loads every day.

Check over its many features and you'll agree —the John Deere Loader would be a big work- and time-saver on your farm. See us for details.

Car Proves Poor Cash Depository-- Although Locked

On Wednesday evening of last week the Hancock County Rural Women's chorus was invited to sing for the Kanawha P. T. A. meeting. Mesdames Wm. Reinhart, Albert Etchen, Carl Kuhlers, Roy Arnold and Andrew Boelman, Goodell members of the chorus, went to Kanawha in the Reinhart car.

Upon arrival, the ladies hastily decided that it might be safer to leave their purses locked in the car, than to leave them in an unattended room while singing.

Returning to the car after the performance, they found it had been broken into. Approximately $36 from their purses was gone, and Mrs. Reinhart's billfold and identifications cards.

The ladies admit to learning a dear lesson about placing temptation in front of thieves and also feel that their contributions for the evening were not only musical but financial.

Insurance covered the breakage. Sheriff "Dutch" Brower investigated the theft the following morning but has announced no progress toward solving the case.

Lula Wilkins and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson visited friends in Iowa Falls and Williams Sunday.

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin.

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous —and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful — I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

HADACOL Is So Different

Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL . . . whose systems lack Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ — to every part of the body.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take — you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

We Give Thanks

On this truly American holiday we give thanks for the many blessings He has designed to deliver on us. We give thanks for the strength He has endowed us with, enabling us to preserve those liberties we have inherited. We thank Him for the rich fields and bustling factories that bring us great wealth and comfort. And we thank Him especially for revealing His truth to us, giving the greatest wealth of all.

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

During a Gridiron club session near the end of the football season, the Independent triumvirate of Hansen, Gowdy and Gallagher was fined, individually, because Main Street items were not restricted to Main Street inhabitants. That's why we call attention to the fact that this week's column is strictly OF Main Street and BY Main Street, even if it is FOR all of you nice readers.

With the help of a lone hen, Jack Meints got the storm windows up on the front of his business establishment Tuesday. He simply backed his truck up on the sidewalk, crawled on top of a chicken crate (from which the solitary hen clucked encouragement) — and got the job done just as fast as stiff fingers would do it.

—M-S—

An ugly rumor was going the rounds the end of last week concerning another Main Street businessman. One morning the downtown breakfasters found no bakery rolls to go with that cup of coffee. The explanation offered was to the effect that Ed Olson suffered a brief attack of amnesia that a. m. and failed to add yeast to the roll dough. We didn't confirm the statement — but whether it was true or false, there WEREN'T any rolls.

Businessmen on west Main Street are hereby advised that in case of emergency wiring difficulties, Keith Chandler is available as an electrician. Tuesday morning the toaster at the Coffee Shop was producing a slow burn in Chandler, but leaving slices of bread unscathed. When Keith started fiddling around with the circuit, the result was foreordained. Coffee Shop customers were soon groping in the dark as they assimilated their morning "vittles".

Relations at the Independent office were a bit strained recently when Editor Gallagher suffered a surge of ambition and cleaned out the editorial desk. The cubby-hole or two in which Partner Hansen had been accumulating treasures (spelled t-r-a-s-h) over a period of years was, given the treatment, along with all other pigeonholes and drawers.

A minor crisis arose when George discovered that a hotel reservation card of future date had disappeared. The result was that he and son Jeff descended on the back-shop rubbish box—and the latter needless to say, returned home with a heap of "good stuff".

—M-S—

The break-up of a pleasant partnership was threatened a day or so later when Jeff, going through his haul, discovered an unopened envelope in which was secreted a $5 bill. He promptly phone George to declare, "Finders keepers" — and Gallagher was pinned like a moth in a collection case.

All that saved the day was the fact that the envelope had been lying around for OVER A YEAR at the time of the big clean-up, so Hansen didn't DARE declare in righteous wrath, "I'd been wondering where that five-spot went to!"

Gallagher, nonetheless, has promised to exercise greater caution before he cleans house again. He knows he can do this safely, because a desk-cleaning of such scope isn't apt to occur again in the next five years.

A Back-to-School window display that Kyseth and Dougherty featured early last autumn has—on the basis of a picture taken of it by its creator, Russ Dougherty—been awarded 37th prize in a contest sponsored by the Sheaffer Pen company.

In case that "37th" doesn't sound too impressive, let us advise you that several thousand Sheaffer dealers competed for the window prizes . . . and 136 were awarded. Consequently, that 37th placing was distinctly a feather in the cap of Mr. Dougherty.

Mrs. Leebrick Injures Back in Tumble Sunday

Mrs. John Leebrick suffered serious injuries Sunday morning when she slipped on the front steps of her home and took a bad tumble.

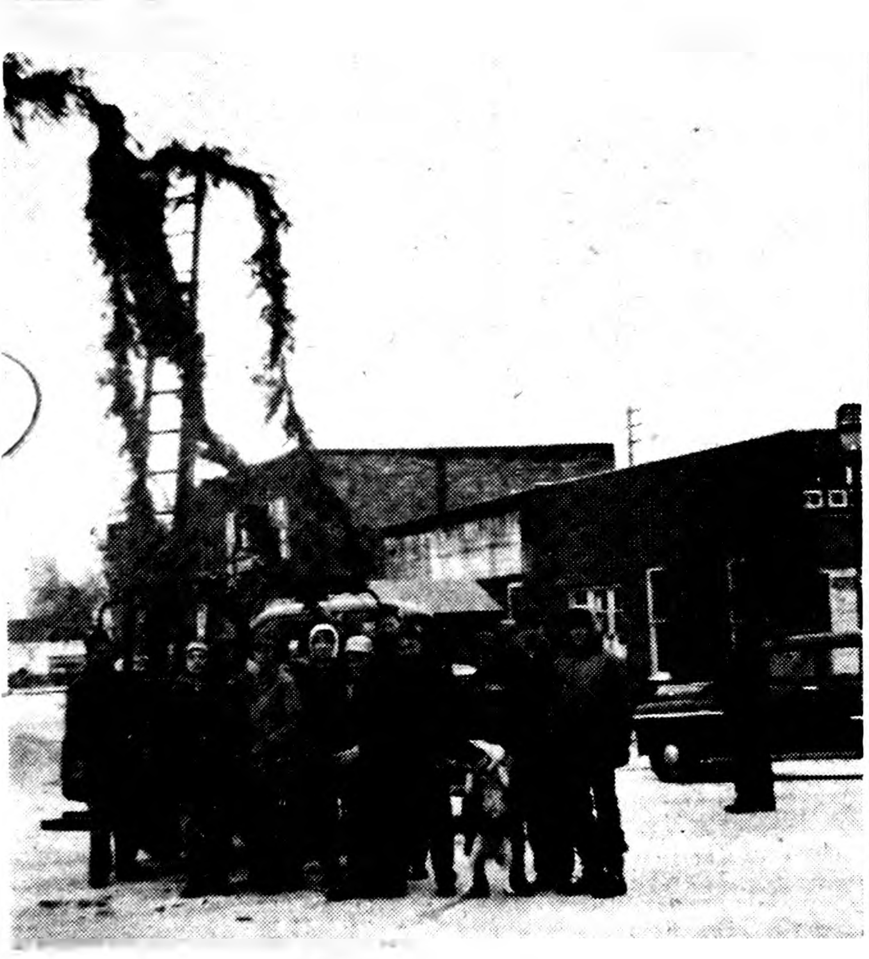
Examination at Steele Memorial hospital revealed that she had sustained two vertebra fractures and a cracked rib.

She will be hospitalized for some time. It is planned to place her back in a cast within the next few days.

DON'T FORGET VET GIFTS

Members of the VFW Auxiliary urge that Belmond folks keep in mind the box placed at Ted's Shoe shop to receive gifts for forwarding to veterans' hospitals in Iowa. Donations of candy bars, gum, socks and other small items will be gratefully received. Gifts should be left by Dec. 15 so their will be ample time to ship the contributions.

Stringin' Up Christmas Cheer



This year Boy Scout Troop No. 16 has been asssigned the task of putting up, servicing and taking down Belmond's Christmas decorations; and last Saturday the boys—with the able assistance of "Bud" Packard, along with Earl Dorr and Gene Broderson of the Central States Electric crew—got the bulk of their job done.

Seventy-five dollars is being paid by the Chamber of Commerce for the annual "dressin' up" of the business district. The entire fee is going to the Scouts, adult labor being donated.

PTA Guarantees Lively Discussion Of Challenging Problems, Tuesday

"Should the schools share parental responsibility for child training?"

That is the question that will be aired in the course of a panel discussion scheduled for the regular meeting of Belmond's Parent Teachers association next Tuesday evening at the school auditorium.

Preceding the panel forum, starting at 8:00 p. m., a movie will be shown, entitled, "Life With Junior". The film depicts a typical day in the life of a 10-year-old, pointing up the guidance problems that both parents and teachers must face.

Dan Boone is chairman of the evening's program committee, which also includes Mrs. Jim Barry and Clair Hugh.

The committee had not selected its panel members in time for publication, but promises that some really controversial matters will be brought into the open during the forum and constructive approaches sought to some problems that parents and teachers currently have in common.

An attempt will be made to determine where the school's responsibility ends and parental responsibility begins in attacking such issues as juvenile smoking.

School authorities have been led to believe that a considerable number of students feel it is "no affair" of the school's to deal at all with such matters. The committee wants to learn if parents, in general, share this attitude; and — if not — what disciplinary measures the school should be authorized to employ.

Taking for granted that most parents want school guidance to exceed the limits of purely educational phases of training, the committee wants a range of opinion expressed as to what limits should be observed.

A lively evening of discussion is in prospect, Chairman Dan Boone predicts, if there is a satisfactory turnout of parents. Consequently he, joined by Supt. Don Faris, urges all parents to make note of the meeting and to attend if at all possible.

FLANAGAN HONORED

At the recent national convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, held in Miami, Fla., Neil Flanagan was one of 11 regional vice presidents elected for the Farm Broker division of the association. He was one of only three Iowans elected to office in NAREB affiliate groups.

STORM CAUSES DEATH

Earl Cronk has received word that his 19-year-old cousin, Raymond Cronk, was among the victims of the savage snow storm that swept the eastern part of the nation over the weekend. The young man was killed in an auto accident at his home, Minford, Ohio, caused by the blizzard.

Only Reason Bob Didn't Nab Crook, There Wasn't Any

As it turned out, there wasn't any crook to catch—but on Wednesday of last week Sheriff Bob Blecker demonstrated just how tough he and his new two-way radio COULD make it for a fleeing criminal.

About 8:30 a. m. Bob was notified that a car had been stolen from Eagle Grove. Within 10 minutes road blocks had been effected on the highways leading to Humboldt, Fort Dodge, Webster City, Boone, Ames, Iowa Falls and Hampton—and a patrolman alerted on Highway 69.

Later in the day it was discovered that the missing vehicle had merely been inadvertently "borrowed" by an Eagle Grove resident who owned an identical model. He gladly returned the "stolen" auto and reclaimed his own, parked not far from where he'd driven off in the wrong car.

Police at Work On 3 Break-ins

Two Belmond business places were broken into over the weekend and another on Monday night. Sheriff Bob Blecker and Deputy Jack Hansen are working with Officer Dale Walrod on the cases, all of which they're convinced were the work of "home talent".

Saturday night Spahn and Rose Lumber company was entered. The thieves took the pins out of the rear door hinges to gain entry and then gained access to the office in similar manner. Seven dollars was taken from the cash drawer, but nothing else was missing. A new rifle standing in plain sight apparently didn't interest the interlopers.

Either Saturday night or Sunday, the Belmond Sales Pavilion was entered through a hay chute at the rear. The intruders smashed a hole in a plasterboard wall to get into the cafe and broke glass out of an inside door to reach the office. Nothing was found missing, however

On Monday night two windows were broken out of the Christie and Larson office by would-be thieves, but again they found nothing that was attractive to them and nothing was taken.

Mrs. Jennie Davis of Gilmore City is visiting this week in the Fred Vestweber home.

Hospital Plan Altered to Meet State Suggestions

ARCHITECT BELIEVES CHANGES MAY BRING 'OK' OF AUTHORITIES

On Wednesday of last week, Architect William Beuttler received from F. W. Pickworth, associate director of the division of hospital services, state department of health, a list of suggested changes in initial plans drawn for the Belmond community hospital.

Seventeen recommendations for additions or alterations to the plans were detailed in Mr. Pickworth's letter. Two days later, modified plans incorporating all but one or two of the recommendations were mailed to Des Moines from Mr. Beuttler's Sioux City office.

In a letter of the same date addressed to Eugene Woolley, chairman of the hospital planning committee, Mr. Beuttler advised the hospital planners and board of trustees that "most of the items are minor" and expressed the belief that nearly all the changes could be made without interfering with the basic, original plans.

Among the relatively major alterations made in the plans were provision of another toiler for patients, creation of an interview room in which the hospital superintendent can converse with members of patients' families, construction of a special labor room for maternity cases and transfer of the nurses' station to a more central location.

About the only recommendation the architect was unable to adapt his plans to was one asking for a larger laundry room. Mr. Beuttler hopes to successfully convince the state health authorities that the laundry room provided by the original plan will be adequate for the size of hospital contemplated.

Mr. Woolley says he has been assured by Mr. Beuttler that incorporating the required changes will call for little if any additional construction expense.

If the modified plans meet the approval of the state authorities, the architect will proceed immediately with drafting of working plans, in preparation for letting of bids.

In view of progress made to this time, the plea is renewed that hospital pledges be paid promptly so money will be on hand when bid letting is possible Treasurer A. C. Hanson adds that pledges had just as well be paid now, so credit for the donations can be taken on income tax reports after the first of the year.

Business Men to Elect Chamber Officials Today

Election of officers will be the primary matter of business at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this noon at Veterans' Memorial hall.

Nominees have been selected by a committee headed by R. B. Thompson. George Infelt is the retiring president.

Merchants will also be asked to make a decision on special store hours for the Christmas shopping season, Secretary Luin Cox says.

GIFTS REQUESTED

Members of the Congregational Women's Fellowship, who are meeting at the home of Mrs. C. C. Christie Friday afternoon, are requested to bring a small gift for a child or adult. It should be wrapped as a Christmas package, to be enclosed in a box being sent to a southern hospital.

150 to 200 Expected Monday Night As Businessmen Dine Farm Friends

With ticket sales still progressing, a probable crowd of some 150 to 200 businessmen and farmers was in prospect by the middle of this week for the Town-and-Country Banquet at Veterans' Memorial hall next Monday night.

Clyde Spry, secretary of agriculture for Iowa, has advised the committee in → charge that his address — the major highlight of the affair —will be on the topic, "Pioneering in Agriculture Today".

"Hap" Havinga of Kamrar, whose skill at the console of an electric organ is well known to many in Belmond, has promised to be on hand for the farmer-merchant get-together. He is bringing his own organ and amplifying system along and some topflight entertainment can be expected during his portion of the program.

An added feature of the evening will be provided by the recently formed home-town quartet consisting of Duane Cunning, Dr. P. A. Rietz, M. C. "Mac" Jensen and "Gus" Taylor.

This aggregation has made a number of public appearances, including one at the recent Gridiron club football banquet, and has stamped itself as right in the professional class.

All Chamber of Commerce members are urged to invite their farmer guests at once, if they have not already done so, in order that the Young Farmers organization—co-sponsors and general planners of the banquet—can get a check on what farmers are already included on the guest list and advise late ticket buyers accordingly.

Will Headline Banquet Program

VFW WILL ONCE AGAIN DISTRIBUTE BASKETS TO POORER FAMILIES

Plans are again being laid by Pierce-Zeiger Post No. 4244 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to distribute Christmas baskets among Belmond's needy families.

Last year a goal of 25 baskets was set, but contributions were so generous that it was possible to make up 33 baskets. The number this year has again been set at 25.

Keith Chandler heads the VFW committee that is in charge of the project. He says that each member of the Vets' post will be contacted and requested to donate some specific item of food. All donations are to be left at the Veterans' Memorial hall before 9:00 a. m. on Dec. 23.

In addition to the food baskets, an effort will be made to see that something in the way of toys can be provided for children in families on the VFW list. Consequently, Vets are also asked to bring along any toys that their own children may have discarded or outgrown, and which are still in good condition.

Treat of Choral Music Promised

For lovers of good choral music, the Congo Club musicale on Dec. 14 will offer a special treat. Choruses of both men's and women's voices will play prominent parts in the evening's program.

Such favorite selections for male singers as "Deep River" and "On the Road to Mandalay" are being rehearsed by the men's chorus. Another feature of their performance will be a selection entitled, "Christmas at Killarney".

Members of the men's group will be Ellis Elliott, Dick Elliott, M. C. Jensen, Luin Cox, George Infelt, Paul Griesy, Jack Williams, Dwight Boughton, Stephen Hinman, George Sharp, Russell Dougherty, Joe Marchese and Ray Karinen.

In the women's chorus will be Mesdames Laurence Murray, Milo Lauffer, Clark McNeal, H. T. Williams, Albin Larson, Dale Kessler, William Trafford, Robert Greenwood and Stephen Hinman; also Sarah Probst, Mary McKeith, Sheila Hansen, Carolyn Classick and Mary Lou Baker.

The same skilled direction that gave last year's highly praised musicale a near-professional quality will be provided again this year by Mrs. Inga Steele.

Main attractions at the carnival in the church basement, which will supplement the musical entertainment, will be a Christmas gift booth sponsored by the Women's Society of the church and a candy booth operated by members of the Pilgrim Fellowship. There will also be a food bar.

Pat Dillon Nearly Killed in Mishap

Pfc. Patrick Dillon, paratrooper son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dillon, was badly hurt in a mishap at Ft. Benning, Ga., Monday night of this week but his injuries were reported the following day not to be of a critical nature.

Original notification by telegram to Mr. Dillon stated that Pat had been "critically injured". No information was provided as to the nature of the accident he'd been involved in.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dillon talked by phone to the medical officer in charge of the command hospital at Benning. He told her that Pat had suffered a brain concussion, a broken nose and had two badly blackened eyes, but that he'd regained consciousness and seemed certain to recover completely.

The officer added that Pat was "one of the lucky ones", indicating that others were involved in the accident, but he did not enlarge on the statement.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon are counting themselves fortunate that their son's life was spared. Mrs. Dillon had been making preparations to fly to Georgia but abandoned them after the reassuring conversation with the air corps doctor.

Elections Slated For PMA Officers, '51 Committeemen

Annual elections of township committeemen of the Production and Marketing administration have been scheduled throughout Wright county, to be held within the next week in all cases but one. The Dayton township election was held Tuesday of this week.

Each township will also name a delegate and alternate delegate to the county PMA convention to be held at 10:00 a. m. Dec. 9 at the administration's county office at Clarion.

To members of the township and county committees will fall responsibility for administering all farm programs assigned to the PMA. They will oversee the operation in Wright county of the price support program—which includes commodity loans and purchase agreements, the agricultural conservation program and acreage allotments.

"Faced with an increasing defense program and rapidly changing conditions brought on by the international situation, farmers in the coming year can expect changes in farm production and marketing patterns", County PMA Chairman Oscar J. Hanson points out.

"For this reason, administration of our farm program should be in the hands of the most able leadership available. Such leadership is most likely to be obtained if all eligible farmers participate in this election."

Voters in each township will elect three regular and two alternate PMA committeemen, in addition to the convention delegates. Eligible voters include any owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper on a farm which is eligible to participate in the PMA program.

Place, date and hour for township meetings in the Belmond area will be: Grant—Grant Center school, Dec. 6, 7:30 p. m.; Iowa—Rowan school, Dec. 1, 7:30 p. m.; Norway—Norway Center No. 5 school, Dec. 4, 8:00; Pleasant—Belmond library basement, Dec. 6, 8:00; Belmond—library basement, Dec. 6, 7:30 p. m.

"Farmers will have a big stake in the PMA program and in the committee that will administer the 1951 program," Mr. Hanson emphasizes. "Please show your interest by attending the election meeting in your home township."

SANG WITH CHORUS

Four Belmond High school vocalists sang with the Iowa All-State Chorus in its performance last Saturday night at KRNT theatre in Des Moines. They were Marilyn Ellis, Dixie Carstens, Odean Severseike and Dick Elliott.

Matilda Skovlin's Niece Given U.S. Embassy Position

Sandra Skovlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Skovlin of Enterprise, Ore. — former Belmond residents—will leave this Saturday for Buenas Aires, Argentina, to take up duties as a secretary-interpreter at the U. S. Embassy in that city.

Miss Skovlin, who has on several occasions visited in Belmond with her aunt, Matilda Skovlin, has been an employee of the U. S. state department only since last August. The past four months she has been working in Washington, D. C.

A 1949 graduate of Washington State college with a major in Spanish and French, Miss Skovlin last year took special training at the Katherine Gibbs Sceretarial school in Chicago in preparation for the type of career she is now launched-upon.

LARGEST IOOF CLASS UNDERGOES INITIATION

Largest single group of initiates in the history of the Belmond I. O. O. F. lodge received the Rebekah degree at the Odd Fellows' hall Monday evening.

Present, with her husband, to witness the record initiation was Mrs. Henry Stokka of Ames, visiting the chapter officially as Grand Warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Iowa. Guests from the I. O. O. F. chapter at Clarion were also on hand.

Candidates who received their initial degrees Monday: Jack Ketchum, Keith Dunton, Bernard Davenport, Russell Porter, Andrew Miller, George Crawford, James McMurray, Louis Loth, Glen Thompson and Harold Van Ness.

PHONE CALL ADDS JOY

Thanksgiving Day was made a particularly happy one for Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Summers when they received a phone call from their son, William, stationed with the air force at Fort Worth, Tex. All members of the family had a word with "Sonny", as did Keith Chandler, who happened to be at the Summers home. "Sonny" informed his parents that he was recently promoted to the rating of staff sergeant.

BEST SANTA CLAUS LETTERS AGAIN TO WIN CASH

DEAR SANTA: . . .

To the youngster up to 10 years of age who does the best job, going on from there, will go the $15.00 first prize in the fourth annual Letters-to-Santa Claus contest sponsored by The Independent and 13 cooperating Belmond business firms. A second prize of $10.00 will be awarded, $5.00 for the third and $2.50 each for fourth through sixth. Letters are to be no more than 100 words in length.

Parental guidance will be permissable—in fact, the cooperation of Mom or Dad is urged in the case of the younger tots, so the entries will be readable. Youngsters who are old enough to write are asked to submit entries in their own hand.

Any child in the Belmond trading area is eligible to submit a letter, addressed to Santa Claus, % The Belmond Independent or delivered to the newspaper office personally. Deadline for entries is midnight, Tuesday, Dec. 19. Winners will be announced in the issue of Dec. 21.

Contest sponsors, besides The Independent, are Elliott's Hardware, Mello Maid Ice Cream shop, First State Bank, Helland's Beauty shop, Woodward's store, Courson-McNeal Agency, Dutch's Clothing store, Central States Electric, Nolan Drug store, Chandler's Coffee Shop, New Belmond theatre, Bonte Hardware and Model Dry Cleaners.

Letters may be either in script handwriting or printed. All received sufficiently in advance of the deadline will be published in The Independent. All youngsters planning to enter are reminded that it will take some time to forward the letters to the North Pole for St. Nick's attention.

So don't delay! Get out paper and pencil right away and start work on your contest entry.

Methodists Join In State Program

The Methodist church of Belmond will participate in a statewide evangelistic advance program Dec. 1-10, according to the Rev. J. Heber Miller, pastor. The local Methodist congregation is one of 930 in Iowa sharing in the program, under the chairmanship of Bishop Charles Brashares of the Des Moines Area. Rev. Eugene Golay of Nashville, Tenn., is the executive director of the crusade.

Evangelistic visitors are being recruited from the local congregation to call on the unchurched and prospective members in the community during the week of visitation.

The local pastor will have the assistance of a visiting Methodist minister from out of the state, who will help him in directing the local campaign and in conducting evening preaching services during the first week of December.

Included in the statewide program are a series of 15 District Schools of Evangelism for the 640 Iowa Methodist pastors and some 1,000 guest preachers who will assist them. The schools will train the pastors for the programs of visitation evangelism and preaching services to be held in the participating churches each evening. The Algona District school will be held in Algona.

Fourteen district youth rallies are to be held concurrently throughout the state this Saturday, and 18 mass meetings will climax the program on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10. The district youth rally and mass meeting will be at Algona.

Dr. Harry Denman of the Board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tenn., will be in the inspirational speaker. A feature of these meetings will be a great mass choir of 200-300 voices and a statewide radio-telephone hookup by which Bishop Brashares will speak simultaneously to all those gathered.

A delegation of young people from the Belmond Methodist church will attend the Algona Youth Rally. Rev. Lauren D. Thomas, superintendent of the Burlington District, is in charge of coordinating the youth rallies. General theme for the rallies will be "Christ Calls Youth".

WRIGHT COUNTY BOYS PLACE 1-2 IN CONTEST

Proof that keeping a good 4-H record book can pay off in more ways that one was evidenced in the annuoncement received this week that two Clarion youths, Glenn Lyons of Eagle-Liberty club and Willis Muhlenbruch of Grant Growers, placed first and second respectively in the state 4-H contest for record books on fire prevention.

Glenn received a $50 U. S. savings bond and Willis a $25 bond from the Farmers Mutual Reinsurance company of Grinnell as awards for their top placings.

Both young men made a thorough survey of their homes by checking wiring, motors, fuse boxes, availability of fire extinguishers, emergency water supply and sand boxes. They destroyed oil saturated or paint rags, weeds, brush and old lumber around buildings, and made sure that gasoline was properly stored.

Goodbye . . .

Since I have decided to go farming next spring I have sold my Tracy Dairy distribution business to the Belmond Creamery who in turn has hired Mr. Al Huinker of Hampton to take over my Belmond dairy route. Mr. Huinker will begin work on Friday, December 1.

I certainly cannot let this opportunity go by without expressing my appreciation for the loyalty of my customers, many of them having been on my dairy route the past four years. It was a pleasure to serve you and I hope you'll continue to keep that good Belmond milk and cream coming to your doorstep.

Sincerely
BOB TRACY

Hello . . .

It is with regret that we announce the severance of business relations between this firm and Tracy Dairy effective on Friday, December 1. However, the management of the Belmond Coop Creamery is pleased to announce that Mr. Al Huinker of Hampton will take over Bob's duties on that date.

Mr. Huinker has been fieldman for the Wright and Franklin county Dairy Improvement Association with residence in Hampton until the present time. He is married and has already moved to this city.

He anticipates with pleasure the coming acquaintance with his route customers and it is his hope that even more Belmond families will call on him to deliver Belmond Coop Creamery Pasteurized Dairy Products.

Sincerely
BELMOND COOP CREAMERY
Curtis Rise, Mgr.

Broncs Take Win Over Eagle Grove Monday, 33 to 27

In spite of a bothersome habit the ball developed in the last half, of looping the hoop and spinning out again, Belmond High's cagers on Monday night racked up their second win of the year at the expense of Eagle Grove, 33 to 27.

Particularly after the intermission, the Broncos showed a marker superiority over the visitors; but poor marksmanship kept them from building up a very comfortable lead.

Belmond held an 8-6 margin at the end of the first quarter, leading throughout the period after Marlyn Watermiller's basket wiped out an Eagle advantage created by Willard Henrickson's initial free throw.

Eagle Grove was able to sneak in front only one other time. Toward the end of the second stanza Henrickson hooked one in to put his team ahead briefly at 12-11. Freddy Loats and Watermiller counted on follow-ins during the remaining moments of the period to give Belmond a 15-12 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Broncs steadily added to their margin until they had created a 27-to-19 advantage by the period's end. Any hope of the Belmond fans that the Eagles were all through was promptly dispelled early in the final canto when Henrickson hit a couple of two-pointers and Roger Olson added another to make the score 27 to 25.

With five minutes remaining, the Broncos once more took the play away from their cross-county foes to keep matters well in hand for the rest of the game.

Jack Riggs carried the scoring load for Belmond in the first half, tallying nine points; but he went scoreless for the rest of the contest. Dave Helland, who was blanked before the intermission, then went to work and led the Bronc offensive with nine points after halftime.

Watermiller contributed five points, Don Faris and Vernon Meyer three each, Odean Severseike and Loats two apiece. Henrickson led the Eagle scorers with 10 points, Ronald Diggins was good for five, Olson and Roger Morgan four each, and Halverson three.

Belmond's frosh-soph cagers downed the Eaglets in a curtain-raiser without too much difficulty, 34 to 26. The first half, in which Arnette Ter Hark counted eight points, ended in a 16-all deadlock.

Jim Faris racked nine points in the last half and Alan Madsen six to help the junior Broncs draw gradually ahead. Roger Cannon, Eaglet center, topped all the scorers with 12 points. Faris, Madsen and Ter Hark were good for nine apiece, Arlen Pals four, Kenny Loats two and Claude Larkin one.

Goldfield Telephone Man Fined on OMVI Charge

Two drivers accused of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated were heard by Judge H. E. Fry in district court at Clarion this Monday and the defendant in a third OMVI case last Saturday in the justice court of O. E. McGahey was bound over to the grand jury.

James V. Campbell, manager of the Goldfield Telephone company, appeared before Judge Fry and pleaded guilty to drunken driving. He'd been arrested in Eagle Grove by Policeman H. Moon. He was fined, $300 and costs and his drivers license was suspended for 60 days.

The same fine was assessed against James H. Humble of Webster City by Judge Fry, but the court agreed to accept $100 at time of sentencing and then $10 per week until the balance was paid.

Lloyd Weise, who lives southwest of Clarion, was arraigned on an OMVI count in the J. P. court of Mr. McGahey on Saturday morning. He was released upon payment of $500 bond, pending hearing in district court.

Nelson Case Postponed When Counsel Takes Ill

Case of the State of Iowa vs. Clair Nelson of Belmond, which was being heard last week in Winnebago county district court at Forest City, was postponed until the February term after Defense Attorney Frank Senneff of Britt suffered a slight stroke during the hearing.

Nelson is charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. This is the third time he has been arrested for the same offense, having twice been convicted in Wright county on OMVI counts.

Prior to postponement of the case, Clerk of Court R. V. Goslin and two former Wright county attorneys, John Henneberry and George Wright of Eagle Grove, testified in regard to the previous convictions.

Dealer Citation To Belmond Auto

Louis Tokman and George Heginger of the Belmond Auto company have been notified that their firm, for the third consecutive year, has met rigid requirements of the Ford Motor company to qualify for Ford's "Four Letter Award".

This award goes to dealers meeting certain high standards in regards to Finances, Management, Service and Facilities. Belmond Auto company ranked in the top 12 per cent among dealers in Ford's Des Moines district on these points during the current year.

In conjunction with display of the 1951 Ford last weekend, prize winners in a contest to guess the number of washers in a glass jar were: 1st — $15.00—John Kneus; 2nd—$10.00—Ben Assink; 3rd—$5.00—John H. Bohman; 4th—$2.00—Alan Shahan. There were 510 washers; best guess was 511.

Mrs. John Schulte won two floor mats as a door prize; and Mrs. Mike Luick received $5.00 for being first to identify the "Mystery Man", who proved to be Dave Pierce.

Klaas Wieman of Alexander got $50 credit on a new Ford for showing up with the oldest car sold by Belmond Auto company and still in use. He paid $631 for his tudor sedan in 1929.

Mr. Heginger and Mr. Tokman were very pleased with the interest shown in the 1951 model Fords in their display window. There was an exceptionally good attendance at the showing, despite the bad weather.

Car Owners to Get Tabs For 1951 Registrations

Although tomorrow will find County Treasurer Harold E. Sullivan issuing 1951 license numbers, applicants for car license renewals will receive only metal tabs instead of new plates. Drivers seeking licenses for vehicles other than cars, however, will get new numbers AND new plates.

Mr. Sullivan adds that, from their weight, the new plates must once again be made from steele rather than the lighter but more expensive aluminum that's been in use the past year or so.

By Tuesday noon -- with two and a half days to go -- the total of Wright county car registrations had reached 7,125 and truck licenses, 1,548. These figures compared to 6,662 and 1,481, respectively, in 1949 and represented new records in each instance.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET

Art Is Long but Life Is Short, Full of Lumps and Black Eyes

By BILLY ROSE

"If you can come quick," my Aunt Frieda said over the phone, "come quick. Your Uncle Charlie is in trouble."

Half an hour later I was in the flat on the lower East Side where Frieda has been keeping house and hearth for my uncle for the past 30 years.

"What's up?" I asked.

"Charlie is hiding in Brooklyn with his brother," said Frieda.

"Hiding from what?"

"From Herman Schloomp, the butcher, who is telling how he is going to knock out your uncle's eye."

"What did Charlie do to Schloomp?"

"What didn't he do!" said Frieda. "But better I should tell it to you in sequins. . . .

"So happens last summer your uncle and me, we are one afternoon taking the air on Delancey Street. On the sidewalk, like always, is all kinds chalkmarks and scratch-ups from children, which your uncle has been seeing all his life.

Billy Rose

"'Is very touching,' says Charlie. 'Is here on the sidewalks the soul of the East Side trying for some kind expression. Some day should be a real paintner to draw up the neighborhood.'"

"WELL, LIKE YOU KNOW, with Charlie to think is to do something crazy. The next night he is going to the settlement house and joining a art class. And in the room is sitting a fat girl in a kimona on a platform, and the scholars are holding out their thumbs and squinting with the eyes.

"'Draw exactly what you see,' says the teacher.

"Half hour later, when the teacher comes for a to-look-see what your uncle has done, he begins making noises like busting. On Charlie's drawing board is a picture of a thumbnail sitting on top a big pencil.

"'This is a class in drawing, not manicuring,' says the teacher. 'Take your business someplace else.'

"When Charlie comes home mad, I tell him, 'Let sleeping dogs stay sleeping.' But you know your uncle—next day he is going uptown to the Museum from Modern Art, and when he gets back he is all agoggle.

"'Frieda,' he says, 'to be a paintner, a man don't need perspective. What he needs is guitars. A picture can be a piece fruit or a chair with one leg—makes no difference so long as in the corner is a guitar.'

"So, for the next week he is painting guitars—Moon Over Stanton Street with Guitars, Baby on Pushcart with Guitars, and even a picture, Guitar with Guitars.

"THEN, A FEW WEEKS later as the crow flies, is opening in the Metropolitan for 50 cents a show from a Frenchman — Van Glick, Van Goldberg, something—"

"Van Gogh?" I suggested.

"What's the difference so long as you're healthy," said Aunt Frieda. "When Charlie is coming from the museum he is saying, 'Today I find out something absolutely hair-racing. This Van Cook is all his life selling one picture for few measly dollars, but now when he's dead and can't eat, his paintings is worth 30 million. No wonder he is cutting off his ear and they got to drag him to a asylum.'

"Your uncle mills and mulls for a few days and then he is making a decision. 'Frieda,' he says, 'it doesn't pay a man should be like this Van Cook. Supposing I sell, maybe, one picture for five dollars during my lifetime entire, and then when I'm dead and gone the pictures is worth 30 million. By the time I am dead and gone, you will be likewise dead and gone, so who gets the 30 million? My brother. Why should that loafer get my 30 million? Let him go out and make his own 30 million. From now on, I am strictly a old-stylish realist and making pictures with cash value like Grandma Moses. Which I am signing Grandma Moishe.'

"Next day Charlie is going to see our butcher. 'I'm going to paint a muriel on your wall,' he says, 'a whole panorama all kinds succulent meats. Will be good for the cash register.'

"Schloomp says, 'What I got to lose,' and so Charlie paints him a muriel which he calls by name, the Spirit of Meat. When it is finished, Schloomp is saying when he sees your uncle he knocks out his eye."

"Was it that bad?" I asked.

"A man could go bankrupt from such a picture," said my Aunt Frieda. "In Herman's strictly Kosher store, your uncle is painting on the wall nice cuts Rinderbrust, chuck steaks, first-class plucked chickens. But in the middle is the Spirit of Meat holding a 15-pound —you should excuse the expression —Virginia ham."

Coach Donald Merritt Married College Sweetheart Last Week

On Thanksgiving Day before a gathering of relatives and former college friends, Miss Gene Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowen of Novelty, Mo., became the bride of Donald Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Merritt, Sr., of Seymour. The double-ring ceremony was performed at 3:00 p. m. at the Presbyterian church, Kirksville, Mo., by Rev. Herbert Z. Manning, the church pastor.

MRS. DONALD MERRITT

Mr. Merritt, Belmond High school football coach, and Mrs. Merritt, domestic science teacher at Goldfield, chose as the place for their marriage the cite of their alma mater, Kirksville State Teachers college.

Given in marriage by an uncle, Clyde Music of Kirksville, the bride was attired in an eggshell satin gown which was styled with a fitted bodice and a gored skirt which fell into a train. Her fingertip veil, and the satin skull cap to which it was attached, matched her gown. The bridal bouquet was in the form of a large wedding ring made of yellow and gold fall flowers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Stephen Melvin of Kirksville, and the maid of honor, Shirley Olson of Atchinson, Kans., both wore rust satin formals and carried heart-shaped bouquets of yellow and gold fall flowers.

The groom was attended by his brother, Harley Merritt, Jr. who is athretic coach at Guthrie Center High school.

Parents of both the bride and groom were in attendance at the ceremony. A reception for the wedding guests was held at the church immediately following the marriage.

The newlyweds do not plan to set up a home of their own until the end of the current school year.

Hampton Defeats Broncos, 39-34

Belmond's Broncos found a one-man gang by the name of Paul Schipper too tough to handle Tuesday night at Hampton, and the Bulldog basketeers walked off with a 39-34 decision.

Schipper was almost singlehandedly responsible for the Broncs' first defeat in their three starts to date. He racked up 19 points, 14 of them coming in the opening half.

At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 8-all, but in the second stanza Hampton acquired a lead that Belmond was unable to overcome. Halftime found the host team in front, 22 to 16.

Marlyn Watermiller, assigned the dubious honor of keeping Mr. Schipper under control, performed his duties much more effectively in the second half — until he fouled out. The Bulldogs' center, who is just a junior, tallied only five points after intermission.

Odean Severseike carried the scoring load for the losers, netting 13 points. Watermiller contributed nine, Jack Riggs five, Don Faris four and Vernon Meyer snagged three.

In the last half, the Broncs played Hampton to a stand-off—but the damage had already been done. Tony Perez was the Bulldogs' second high scorer with eight points and turned in a fine floor game.

Bronco fans got a full quota of thrills in the fresh-soph curtain-raiser as the Belmond team won in a double overtime, 32 to 31. After the regulation playing time found the count deadlocked at 28-all, "Peewee" Larkin saved the day in the first extra shift by tying things up at 30-30 with a basket in the last five seconds.

Hampton tallied first in the "sudden death" second overtime, but with only one point on a free throw. Arlen Pals brought proceedings to a close soon afterward with a field goal. Larkin was top scorer for the junior Broncs with 10 points.

MISS KELLY VICTIM OF HOLIDAYS MISHAP

Colleen Kelly, girls physical training instructor in the Belmond schools, was absent from her duties this week as a result of an auto accident on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Kelly was en route to her home in Dubuque to spend the Thanksgiving holiday and was less than 50 miles from her destination when her car hit a slippery spot on the highway and swerved into the ditch.

Supt Don Faris received word from a relative of the local teacher that her car overturned and she was taken to the hospital by ambulance. There it was determined that she had suffered no broken bones, but she was badly shaken up and bruised.

Mr Faris understands that Miss Kelly had to spend several days in the hospital. He was not advised as to when she would be able to return to Belmond.

Consider Second Vet Farm Class

Next Wednesday evening at the high school vocational agriculture room a meeting will be held to determine whether there is sufficient interest to justify forming a second veterans' on-the-farm training class.

Jim Kleen, instructor of the class which is now organized, asks that all farmer-veterans in the Belmond neighborhood, who would like to enroll in such a class, make a point of being present.

The high school now has on hand applications of about 14 ex-GI's who would like to enroll, but only one is from this immediate community. Mr. Kleen says that a minimum of 15 to 18 farmer-veterans from the Belmond area woul have to enroll to make it practical to form a second class.

Men interested in on-the-farm training under the GI bill should bring their discharge papers to the Dec. 6 meeting so that their respective amounts of entitlement can be determined. Mr Kleen says that, ideally, the new class should start the first of the year; so it is important that it be determined promptly whether another class is desired.

Mr. Kleen has 25 men in his class, organized in July. Another instructor would be obtained to take charge of the second class.

BROOKS SELLS 34 PONIES

Makings for 34 very merry Christmases were obtained last Sunday afternoon at the Joe Brooks pony farm when Kenneth Reisenger and son of Eldora bought that many head of Shetland ponies. The Reisengers will dispose of the miniature mounts through auctions at their sale barn.

* IN MEMORIAM *

In Loving Memory of our Beloved Mother and Grandmother, Mrs Ben Stadtlander, who passed away five years ago, Dec 2:

Deep in our hearts there is a picture
Worth more than silver and gold.
It's a picture of our Mother
That never will grow old.
Her life is a beautiful memory,
Her absence a silent grief,
And oft we think we hear her footstep;
But who now sleeps in God's beautiful garden,
In the sunshine of perfect peace.
Sadly missed by the children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. 7t1*

In memory of Wm A Gartz who passed away Dec 6, 1949:

Alexander Farmhand Will Seek Copyright on Novel Card Game

James Shehorn, young farmhand who works for Gaehart Hopkey near Alexander, is hoping that an "invention" which he devised to help dispel boredom during a four-year "hitch" in the Marines may one of these days bring him a few bucks.

It's a version of solitaire, for one person or two, which he calls "Baseball". It employs a conventional deck of playing cards and possesses all the facets of the popular, national sport.

Shehorn is at present endeavoring to get his idea copyrighted, through a Des Moines patent attorney. If he's successful in this, he plans to turn it over to a California agency and see if the game has commercial possibilities.

He realizes that he's risking a loss equivalent to attorney's fee, copyright expense and agent's fee if the California firm cannot interest a game or novelty company in his "brain child". But he's had so much fun playing it, he believes a host of others would, too.

Based on a turn of the cards and the numerical value of each, the game has been refined in the course of four years' experiementation until it reflects baseball's batting and fielding percentages to an amazing degree, Shehorn says.

Home runs, double plays and other features of the diamond sport occur with almost identically the same frequency as they do in actual play. That says Shehorn, is why the game proves so intriguing to a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan.

He concedes that the idea's commercial possibilities would likely rest upon the designing of a deck of cards exclusively for use in playing his game. He only hopes that the game will have sufficient appeal for some game manufacturer that he'll go to that trouble and expense.

Shehorn admits it's unlikely that a game played with a standard deck of cards would prove a source of much revenue. All this business of copyright and representation by a patent agency is new to him—and he's got his fingers crossed.

But he's certain he's got a grand, new game in card "baseball". He's currently busy adapting the same basic idea to football. He'll bide his time on copyrighting that, however, till he sees how he fares on his first effort.

Social Security Claims Now at Record Numbers

Under the new social security law more people who reach age 65 today are receiving old-age insurance benefits than ever before, according to George R. Replogle, field representative of the Fort Dodge Social Security office. Since Sept. 1, more than 500 new monthly benefits have been applied for in this area.

Now, if you are 65, you need to have worked only a year and a half in covered employment to be eligible. If you are already 65 or if you will be 65 this year, you should check up on your social security credits right away, the fieldman advises.

Mr. Replogle will be in Clarion on Thursday morning, Dec. 7, to answer questions about social security and to take applications for benefits. He may be contacted in the basement of the courthouse, from 10:00 a. m. to noon.

BAD MANNERS CAUSE APPRECIABLE NUMBER OF HIGHWAY MISHAPS

Bad manners of motorists in passing other cars on the open road are the frequent cause of serious and costly crashes, according to Floyd L. Link, Director of Safety of the Motor Club of Iowa, largest Iowa affiliate of the American Automobile Association.

Last year four out of every hundred fatal accidents in rural areas were caused by improper passing and 12 out of every hundred resulted from cars being on the wrong side of the road, which may have occurred because of poor judgment in trying to pass.

"A good rule to follow in open road driving is to pass only when you are absolutely sure you can easily make it safely," Mr. Link suggested. "It is very easy to underestimate the distance required to overtake, pass and get back on your own side of the road.

"To pass a car comfortably and safely at 50 m. p. h., for example, requires a minimum of about 10 seconds, and a clear unobstructed distance ahead of 1,600 feet.

"In overtaking another car, you should know what is behind you. A glance in the mirror—and especially a check of the blind area created by back corners in closed cars, is vital.

"When anyone signals his desire to pass, courtesy, as well as the law in most states, requires that the motorist in front do nothing to interfere, either by obstructing the roadway or increasing speed. Keeping to the right and reducing speed slightly will help the other driver to pass safely.

"If motorists follow these simple rules of safety, many horrible accidents caused by speed and poor judgment in passing will be avoided."

RYP'S HARVEST BALL ATTRACTED SEVENTY

Plenty of food and music provided pleasant diversion at the RYP Harvest Ball held a week ago Saturday at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Clarion, which was attended by 70 poung people.

Phil Abbott of Eagle Grove, master of ceremonies, presented an entertaining program consisting of vocal solos by Don Carver and Jeanette Hosselton, accompanied by Elizabeth Porter, all of Eagle Grove; piano solo by Beaulah Yanney, Renwick; and a comedy song and tap dance by Janet Jo Biddle of Rowan.

The evening was spent in social and square dancing, music being furnished by Doc Buxton's orchestra. Leroy Brums of Chapin, recently selected champion square dance caller at the Farm Bureau Sports Festival, was on hand to call square dances.

Jan Lerdal, Imogene Halfpap and Ed Gabrielson of Belmond had charge of the decorations for the occasion. Stan Newman, Woolstock, served as general chairman for the event.

M. McLaughlin Becomes Farm Owner on Birthday

Mike P. McLaughlin recently celebrated his 47th birthday by becoming the owner of the 160-acre farm he has been living on for the past five years, according to Harry L. Ladman, local supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration at Clarion.

It was merely a coincidence that Mike received the deed to this farm on his birthday. Naturally there are some strings attached to the birthday present—the FHA made the McLaughlin family a loan to buy their farm. It is Mike's hope that before too many birthdays roll around he can burn the mortgage.

Mike started farming in 1941 with the assistance of an FHA operating loan. He contributes the success of his good Holstein dairy herd to the purchasing of the 10 dairy heifer calves from Wisconsin at the time he started farming.

POPULAR LESSON

The lesson "Christmas Suggestions" was given 15 times in the county by Mrs. Lettie Zuber, county home economist, during the months of October and November. Three hundred and eighty-four women attended the lesson—304 were rural homemakers, 80 urban—and 50 women attended an extension lesson for the first time. Iowa Homemakers had the largest attendance with 44, Liberty second with 37 and Woolstock Homemakers third with 35.

Survey Shows Spraying for Borers Paid Off in Yield, Less Down Corn

A county-wide farm survey of insect spraying in Wright county, conducted by Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman, indicates that 57.7 per cent of the farmers sprayed some or all of their corn for corn borer control in 1950.

Spraying for corn borer was justified, according to test plot results on several different farms in the county. The average of these test plots shows that there was an increase of 6.6 bushels per acre for corn sprayed once for corn borers. The average increase for two sprays was 9.3 bushels per acre.

Increase in yield of corn harvested was not the only benefit from spraying. Down stalks were reduced by half for one spray and two sprays showed only one fourth as many down stalks as in the unsprayed corn.

The survey was conducted by mail, with nearly 30 per cent of the farmers to date returning the survey cards. Information on all types of insect spraying was requested, with 550 replies from 1900 mailed.

Sixty-three per cent of the farmers reported they had sprayed only one time for borer control and an average of 67 acres per farm was sprayed. The remaining 33 per cent sprayed their corn twice, with an average of 64 acres per farm sprayed.

If the survey reports for the farmers reporting are true for the farmers who didn't report, then on a county basis 48,000 acres were sprayed once and 27,000 acres were sprayed twice for corn borers. This would be about 50 per cent of the corn raised in the county.

Corn borers were not the only insects chemicals were used to control. Reports on the survey show that 333 acres were sprayed for cutworms, 145 acres for grasshoppers, 105 acres for wireworm and 20 acres for web worm. Farmers reported that 661 acres of alfalfa and clover were sprayed for controlling insects in fields that were to be harvested for seed.

Wright county farmers are well equipped to control insects by spraying, the survey indicated. Of the farmers reporting, 52.5 per cent had power spray outfits.

On a county basis this would mean that at least one farmer out of two, or 1038 farmers in the county, had some type of a power spray outfit—although many were not equipped with booms for corn borer control.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY.

LUCY R. KLEMME and BONNIE B. KLEMME,
Plaintiffs
vs.
The Unknown Claimants, and all Persons unknown claiming any right, title or interest in and to the following described real estate, to-wit: Commencing at a point on the East line of the Northwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 30, Township 93 North, Range 23 West of the 5th P. M., Iowa, 926.8 feet North of the Southeast corner of said tract, thence North on said East line of said tract, a distance of 460.2 feet to a point, thence West on the South line of the Station Ground of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company (formerly the Iowa Central Railway Company), as now located, a distance of 460 feet to a point, thence in a Southeasterly direction to the place of beginning; Geo. W. Seevers, Trustee; City of Belmond, Iowa; and the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company,
Defendants.

To the Above named defendants:

You are hereby notified that a petition of the above named plaintiffs in the above entitled action is now on file in the office of the clerk of the above named court, claiming that the plaintiffs are the absolute and unqualified owners, in fee simple, of the following described real property, to-wit:

> Commencing at a point on the East line of the Northwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 30, Township 93 North, Range 23 West of the 5th P. M., Iowa, 926.8 feet North of the Southeast corner of said tract, thence North on said East line of said tract, a distance of 460.2 feet to a point, thence West on the South line of the Station Ground of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company (formerly the Iowa Central Railway Company), as now located, a distance of 460 feet to a point, thence in a Southeasterly direction to the place of beginning.

and praying for the establishment of their estate and title against the adverse claims of the defendants, and that each and all of them, and all unknown claimants, and all persons unknown, having or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises, and all persons claiming by, through, or under them, be barred and forever estopped from ever having, asserting, or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises or any part thereeof adverse to the plaintiffs or the plaintiffs' title therein, and that the plaintiffs' title to the said premises be quieted, established and confirmed.

Plaintiffs' petition sets out certain instruments of record which cloud the title of these plaintiffs to said real estate and to the pretended claims and questions which have arisen with reference to said title and you are referred to said petition for a more particular statement thereof.

Said petition alleges that the plaintiffs and their immediate grantors have been in the sole, complete, actual, open, notorious and undisputed possession of said premises for more than eighteen years last past under claim of right and ownership thereof adverse to the defendants.

(For further particulars see petition now filed)

You are also notified to appear before said court at Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa, on or before the 8th day of January, 1951, and that unless you so appear, your default will be entered and judgment and decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in said petition.

What A Lot of Coverage For Betty Grable's Legs!

If we're to believe Manager Gene Bradley of the New Belmond theatre (at least, he submitted this for a fact), Betty Grable was insured by a $1,000,000 accident insurance policy, in effect for only 24 hours, during a hazardous dance scene in the 20th Century-Fox film, "My Blue Heaven", which appears at the local theatre this Sunday and Monday.

The policy application was prompted by a misadventure Miss Grable was involved in during filming of a previous production. In that instance, work on the film was held up seven weeks as a result of a pulled ligament the actress suffered when she miscalculated her distance in making a dance leap.

Proceeds from Concert By Male Quartet Will Go Into Missions Fund

Next Sunday evening, Dec 3, at 7:30 o'clock the popular singing group known as "The Messengers" will make an appearance at the Meservey Reformed church under sponsorship of the Dorcas society

Members of the quartet, with their accompanist, appeared at the church last spring and their performance was highly praised. They make no charge for the church concerts — in fact, they even pay their own transportation expense — so all proceeds from their appearance go into the coffers of the sponsoring organization.

Members of the Dorcas society will put the proceeds from the group's Meservey concert into the society's missions fund. There will be no admission charge, but a free will offering will be collected.

Blackhawk Soybeans Not Yet Available in Wright

Seed of the new soybean variety, Blackhawk, will not be available for Wright county farmers in 1951, according to Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman.

Blackhawk soybean seed is being released to only the top two tiers of Iowa counties in 1951. Wright county, being in the third tier of counties, must wait another year for this new early variety.

Many farmers in the county have asked how they may obtain Blackhawk soybeans, according to Mr. Bowman, and an attempt was made to get seed allotted to Wright county without success. The state committee for agricultural development explains that it has only enough Blackhawk seed for extreme northern Iowa, where the early variety is best adapted.

Could Dropping of Egg Supports Mean Slap on Wrist for Mr. Farmer?

Decision of the U. S. department of agriculture to abandon egg price supports as of Jan. 1 is likely to have repercussions in more ways than one.

It's expected to put out of business quite a number of egg-drying plants that existed for the exclusive purpose of selling egg powder to the government. That will be no great loss, because there never was a true economic reason for their being, anyway.

It will mean a reduction in dried egg output to the normal demand of five million pounds per year, compared to the 82 million Uncle Sam had bought in 1950, up to last week.

It will inevitably mean a drop in egg prices; which, in turn, will be reflected in a diminished demand for laying hens. Hatcherymen aren't going to like that very much.

Last, but most important of all, it seems certain to mean reduced income for thousands of farm families who've come to regard the product of their henyards as a welcome, year-'round cash crop.

We may be wrong, but we can't help but suspect ulterior motives of a punitive nature had some bearing on the USDA's decision. Department officials may explain, if they wish, that buying of egg powder had simply reached the point of impracticality . . . They will be promptly reminded that the point of practicality for buying unwanted potatoes from the rather small and exslusive clan of potato growers was passed a good two years ago.

Perhaps we're all wrong, but we can't help but feel that if the farm brotherhood had looked more kindly upon Secretary Brannan's proposed hat-and-rabbit routine, eggs would continue to benefit by price supports. In the meantime, somebody had just as well take advantage of the situation. We're looking forward to adding more eggs to our diet.

Demo Bigwigs Might Well Heed Some of Kraschel's Criticisms

Former Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel's recent badgering of state Democratic bigwigs undoubtedly has a generous portion of sour grapes behind it, but we've a feeling that Jake More and his cohorts will be making a mistake if they pass it off purely as "mad" talk. More than one good piece of advice has been offered with mixed motives.

Undoubtedly Mr. Kraschel thinks he might well have opposed Senator Hickenlooper in the recent election if Al Loveland hadn't been entered in the primary as a hand-picked and generously financed Fair Deal candidate. Furthermore, he reportedly had hopes of succeeding Clinton Anderson as secretary of agriculture, only to see Charles Brannan get the job.

Nevertheless, there is much more than a grain of wisdom in some of his criticisms of the state Democratic organization.

It is very true that the central committee has endeavored to capitalize on the party's national standing instead of trying to build from the county level up. He also has a sound point in the fact that failure of party candidates seems to be blamed wholly on their own, indvididual shortcomings -- with the result that they are promptly "written off" while the party's state planners remain in power, unaffected by the defeats.

We also agree with Kraschel that the central committee's defiance of Senator Gillette in the appointment of Carroll Switzer to a federal judgeship has cost the party much prestige in Iowa. And we most heartily agree with him that the petty carping and slanderous nature of Demo publicity releases has been a poor substitute for constructive criticism of a Republican state administration that has hardly distinguished itself for brilliance.

More than likely, GOP leaders in Iowa wish Kraschel would hush up, fearing their Democratic counterparts may in time realize that the former governor is a lot more right than wrong. One of the best assurances of continued Republican predominance in Iowa is to have the Democrat's present, misguided policy-makers remain at the helm.

"Raff's" First Season at Iowa Leaves Us A Bit Puzzled

Now that Coach Leonard Raffensperger has had a full season at Iowa, Hawkeye football fans throughout the state will be taking stock to decide how "Raff' made out. In retrospect, it seems to us there have been few seasons when so many Iowa games have required explanations as to why the team didn't come out better.

In practically every lost contest, except that debacle at Ohio State, the Hawkeyes showed up as the best team during a fair share of the game. That's a situation which is a bit hard to explain.

We've heard no drastic criticisms of Raffensperger's handling of the Hawks. But if, next fall, Iowa's team shows the same perplexing combination of excellence one quarter and ineptness the next, "Raff" can expect a point-blank inquiry, "How come?"

Updating of Mailing Lists Could Save Us All A Pretty Penny

On occasion we're tempted to set aside an entire week's mail to see how much money's been wasted in sending to The Independent duplicate handouts from state and national agencies, public relations firms and dozens of other sources of wastebasket fodder. However, we've never gotten to it yet; don't suppose we ever will.

When some poor boob is personally footing the bill, we don't care too much. But a dismayingly large per cent of the time, the poor boob is us -- in the person of John Q. Taxpayer; and that makes us unhappy.

Last week we got from the state board of education THREE separate copies of a "Report of a Survey of the Institutions of Higher Learning in the State of Iowa". One came to the Belmond Independent, one to the Independent & Herald (which existed briefly over 20 years ago!) and one to Publisher George C. Hansen.

It's a very informative report; but one would have been plenty. Postage on each copy was eight cents. Cost of publication was likely at least 75 cents. That's $1.66 that was wasted on just ONE handout, to just ONE newspaper. The 1950 directory of Iowa newspapers lists their total at 423 . . . Make your own estimate.

We suspect that the highest priced secretary on the state pay roll could be assigned the job of bringing official state mailing lists UP TO DATE, and there would still be a sufficiently large saving in printing and postage to stock up the liquor stores with Old Hector for another several years to come.

What the potential economies might be if federal mailing lists were made current defies the imagination. Probably wouldn't add up to more than a few million a year, though, at that. And who in Washington bothers about such small change these days?

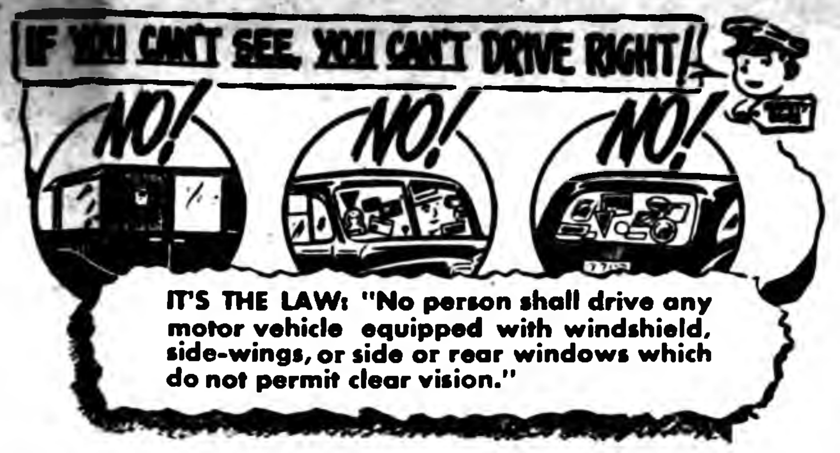
Wonder what newspapers are read by Bill Doyle, Democratic national chairman? Remarking on the recent election in his weekly "Capital Comment", Bill says: "Our candidates discussed the issues and refrained from mudslinging and 'smear' tactics" . . . Guess it all depends on what you consider "mud".

o

To paraphrase Father Divine -- "Socialism, It's Wonderful!" We see that British farmers have been ordered to pay their wives for work done on the farm. Won't mean extra money for buttons and bows, though. The directive also reminds the "missus" that she must pay income tax on her "wages".



IF YOU CAN'T SEE, YOU CAN'T DRIVE RIGHT!
NO!
NO!
NO!

IT'S THE LAW: "No person shall drive any motor vehicle equipped with windshield, side-wings, or side or rear windows which do not permit clear vision."

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

Have you been reading the new-car advertisements lately? Do you notice how many talk about things like "picture-window" visibility and "better all-'round vision, with bigger windows and slimmer corner-posts?"

There's a reason behind those bigger windows, of course: Greater safety. The more you can see, the less chance of having an accident.

Why defeat the auto-builders' purpose, and put your neck in a precarious spot? Keep your car windows clear! You wouldn't wear a blindfold to play golf, would you? Or a heavy veil to a movie? Then why try to drive half-blind when your very life depends on clear vision?

Okay, so you've been to Yosemite, and Grand Canyon, and Niagara. But just because you've traveled, don't let your windows get "stuck up". Car windows are made to see through, not to serve as a travel promotion bureau.

A board or cardboard with a peephole to replace your broken window may save you money and cost your life! Don't be blind behind, either. That rear window is just as much needed as a reverse gear.

With cluttered or frosty windows, you may not see the train at a crossing, or the other car at an intersection. . . but you'll be just as dead as if you had! The law requires clear vision because your life depends on it.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Beginning this season, the Hensel Bros. Produce in Belmond will take orders for and deliver our Hy-Line chicks. Careful and prompt attention will be given your orders.

Each year more flock owners are finding that quality pays and turn to Hy-Line because of the better egg production (2 to 6 dozen more eggs per bird per year) and greater profits.

If you wish to prove this statement to your satisfaction, we invite you to make a comparison test this year. We will furnish you Hy-Line chicks at the same price you pay for standard bred chicks regardless of where you buy them. All we ask is an accurate production record for one year.

For those of you who prefer them we will have AAA White Rocks and White Leghorns. These chicks are backed by 25 years of records and breeding improvements.

Plenty of Food in Prospect, But Prices May Go Higher Yet

NO SUCH SCARCITY AS DURING WAR FORESEEN

Though they may have to forego some of the other comforts of home living in the foreseeable future, Wright county families will continue to be well fed. True, most folks will have to get used to paying even more for some food commodities, but there isn't going to be the food scarcity that shadowed World II years.

On the contrary, the nation as a whole is going to have larger supplies of fluid milk, meat, eggs, leafy green and yellow vegetables, and citrus fruits -- all of which are key foods for the health of a nation.

No rationing of foods is expected, says Aaron Bowman, county extension director. Bowman based his predictions on the national food outlook for 1951.

In general the food supply picture looks like this: Meat supplies will be greater with pork production the highest. There will be less better quality beef by spring, and prices will be higher. The same is true for veal. Lamb and mutton supplies will probably be less. Supplies of canned fish will be some lower with part of the pack going for defense needs. Salmon is especially scarce. Hence you may pay more for canned fish.

Plan on eating lots of eggs—there will be more than enough in the year ahead. Prices will be less. As for poultry, chicken meat supplies in 1951 may be a little larger than last year. The turkey supply this fall is ample.

All types of dairy products will be ample, with a larger proportion of the output going into fluid milk and cream. Butter and cheese stocks, now in storage, will undoubtedly be drawn on to make a ready supply of these foods available.

As for fats and oils, there will be more lard and more soybean oil, but probably less cottonseed oil. Use of these products is expected to continue high and prices to be above those of last year.

The fruit supply ahead looks good, both as to fresh and processed fruits and juices. More citrus fruits will be on the market as fresh fruit, canned fruit juice, or in frozen concentrated juice form. Fresh fruits to be available in larger quantity are cranberries, pineapples and apples.

New records have been set in frozen fruit packs and the carry-over in cold storage is almost one-third greater than last year. In canned fruits, the output of canned sweet cherries, peaches, pears, plums, prunes and berries is less, but increased supplies of apricots, sour cherries and cranberries will more than offset this decrease. In dried fruits, the pack is small, but demand is down.

The vegetable situation is all to the good, too, with plenty of most kinds of vegetables and a bigger truck crop coming to market. Prices of fresh vegetables may go down some this winter.

If military demands grow, canners may seek larger packs of canned vegetables later on which may influence the price of canned vegetables reaching the retail market. In amply supply are potatoes, sweet potatoes, dry edible beans and cabbage. Also there were larger crops of snap beans, beet, peas, tomatoes and pimentos canned and frozen; fewer green lima beans, corn and spinach.

In cereals, the forecast is for slightly higher retail prices on flour and other wheat products. The rice crop is the third largest on record, but the surplus may be exported, and prices may be higher. There will be plenty of sugar and honey, but less coffee. Coffee prices will probably continue to be high.

POLIO CASES IN IOWA REACH ALL TIME HIGH DURING CURRENT YEAR

Polio cases have climbed slightly higher this year than ever before in the history of the state of Iowa, according to figures from the Iowa state department of health.

On Nov. 18, 1,279 cases of polio had been reported for 1950 to Dr. Ralph H. Heeren, director of the division of preventable diseases of the state health department.

There are several reasons why polio cases are more numerous this year. First of all, says Dr. Heeren, more cases are being recognized as polio, and we also have better reporting of those cases.

The other reason is that medical science still has no effective control against diseases spread by discharges from the nose and throat.

Such diseases as poliomyelitis, measles, mumps, chickenpox, whooping cough—and many others—are largely spread in this fashion.

"It is a common American trait to minimize a sore throat or a cold. Yet if we are to begin to control upper respiratory tract infections, we must begin to think, "What disease can I spread today?' instead of 'What disease can I catch today'" remarks Dr. Hereen.

Children and adults who protect others by staying at home when they have symptoms of a cold, and by covering their nose and mouth when sneezing or coughing, may help to break the infection chain of such diseases as polio, adds Dr. Heeren.

When asked to prepare a statement concerning the proper use of time, a group of young people came up with these words:

"Your time is God's time."

Grown-ups may well heed this truth.

One's time is really not one's own. Even though budgeted to include only such things as business, golf, gardening, travel or what not, it is still God's time.

And when we fail to include in our time budget a few hours for the Church and its constructive program, then the One from whom we get all the time we have is being ignored and we are losing priceless returns.

Time given to the Church and the enterprises for which it stands is an investment that pays dividends for all the other worthwhile things we have to do.

Try it. Take an interest in some Church—in the Bible—in an activity on the high level of service to others—and see how much more productive all of your time will be.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Two NI Gridders On IDPA's Teams

Belmond didn't get so much as a nod in the Iowa Daily Press association all-state high school football selections that were published last week, but other North Iowa conference schools rated mention.

Highest rating of any NI gridder went to Guard Ray Limesand of Lake Mills, who was placed on the IDPA's second team. Tim Anderson of the championship Forest City eleven was given one of the end positions on the third team.

Five other members of the Indians' title-winning crew were awarded honorable mention: Marv Olson, end; Bob Knutson, tackle; Duane Reese, guard; Wayne Oehler, Rodney Hill and Tom Graham, backs.

Honor roll placings also went to Don Hovland, center, and Eldean Matheson, back, of the runner-up Lake Mills; and to Glen Hauskins, tackle, and Bob Burger, back, from the third-place Buffalo Center team. Dave Johnson of Northwood, back, was the only other NI athlete mentioned.

ELEVEN NI GRIDDERS ON NORTH'S HONOR ROLL

Eleven North Iowa conference gridders won mention on Jack North's Des Moines Register honor roll, but none was rated high enough for a place on one of the seven all-state teams.

Six of the NI players winning mention were from Forest City's championship brigade, three from Lake Mills' runner-up outfit and two from the third place Buffalo Center eleven.

Backs who won notice were Rodney Hill and Wayne Oehler of Forest City, Bob Berger of Buffalo Center and Eldean Matheson of Lake Mills.

Both the Indians' ends, Marv Olson and Tim Anderson, were honored. NI tackles named were Glendon Hauskins of the Bison team and the Indians' Bob Knudtson.

Ray Limesand, Lake Mills, and Duane Reese, Forest City, were on the guard honor roll and Don Harland of Lake Mills was in the list of centers.

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

With the return of sliding weather, the yearly problem of sleds on main traveled streets is again becoming serious. It is virtually impossible for a motorist to stop within the space of a few feet on an icy or snow-packed surface; consequently children sliding where there is more or less regular auto traffic are exposed to truly extreme danger.

Let's have no tragic accidents to mar the holiday season in Belmond. It's up to all parents to see that their own youngsters are impressed with the importance of sliding only where it is safe.

Perhaps it might be to the point for the City Fathers to set aside a block, here and there, that isn't traveled too heavily and reserve it for sliding purposes during after-school hours. A little bit of inconvenience would be a small price to pay to avoid a sled mishap that might cripple or kill a Belmond child.

Members of the VFW Christmas Basket committee were greatly surprised and deeply pleased to receive on Tuesday a check for $10 toward their annual project from the Christian Endeavor of the Immmanuel Reformed church, east of town.

The welcome donation was mailed by Beverly Pals, treasurer of the young people's organization. Rev. O. G. Poppen is pastor of the church. Keith Chandler, chairman of the committee, sees in the unexpected gift a good omen for the success of this year's Christmas basket project.

He urges all the VFW members to keep the undertaking in mind. Christmas Day will find not a dinner table in Belmond that doesn't bear a real holiday feast, he says, if the Christian Endeavor's generosity is accepted as setting the pace.

After giving Gene Woolley a sincere salute upon his imminent departure from Belmond, George Infelt at Monday night's banquet could not refrain from a left-handed compliment in reference to the new speed-limit sign just south of town.

A matter of about 14 months ago, Gene was appointed head of a committee to see that the former "$1-per-mph-over-25" warnings were replaced. The old signs were promptly removed, but Gene and his committee required something like 13 months to get ONE of the re-phrased signs erected.

Although the one by the bean plant bridge went up about the middle of last month, a warning has yet to be placed at the north edge of town. As we understand it, the highway commission has been a bit particular as to the site of this sign. Before Christmas 1952, however, it should be in its proper place.

Heard a new descriptive name yesterday for that type of dead-fish grip that sometimes makes an introduction such an unsatisfactory affair.

"Have a hydromatic handshake," said one Coffee Shop customer to his neighbor at the counter, proffering a limp paw.

As his victim grasped the flaccid fingers and cocked an inquiring eyebrow, the jokester explained "No clutch!"

Farmer Severely Injured When Tractor Tips Over

Charles Velau, farmer living north of Goodell, is in Steele Memorial hospital recovering from a fractured pelvis suffered in an accident Monday morning.

He was driving his tractor into town for some repairs, a loader attached to the front, when the machine went out of control on the icy highway surface.

Mr. Velau suffered his injury when the tractor rolled over in the roadside ditch. He was not pinned beneath the machine or the accident might easily have been fatal.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

A portrayal of the Christmas story in song, tableau and verse will be presented by Waldorf college in its annual Christmas Pageant at 8:00 p. m. next Sunday evening at the Forest City civic auditorium. More than 150 students will take part in the production, including Ray Mehl, Florence Baxter and Helen Hanson, all of Belmond.

BAKE SALE SATURDAY

Belmond Girl Scouts and Brownies will hold a bake sale Saturday at the Tip Top market to raise money toward erasing a debt remaining from last summer's camp outings. One group will offer baked goods from 10:00 a. m. to noon, and another will bring on a fresh supply at 1:00 p. m. Any contributions of baked goods for the sale will be most gratefully received.

Prayer and Study Circle met Monday afternoon with Mrs. George Coburn. Mrs. Ella Luick conducted devotions and Mrs. Clair Bonte led the lesson.

Chamber Members Pick E. J. Elliott As New President

Ellis J. Elliott was elected at last Thursday's meeting to serve as president of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce during 1951. In accepting the office, Mr. Elliott promised an earnest effort on the part of all the newly elected Chamber officials to make Belmond a better-than-ever place to shop—and in which to live.

Dr. H. J. Classick was chosen as vice president of the organization. Retiring president is George Infelt and vice president, M. C. "Mac" Jensen.

Members of the new board of directors are Jim Waddington, Fred Dahm, Ardell Johnson, Bob Garms and Ray Karinen. Chairman of the planning committee will be K. C. Kickbush, who will be assited by Dr. P. A. Rietz, Don Nolan, Russell Dougherty and Marvin Sjoberg. Mr. Infelt will serve as counselor to both governing board and planning committee.

During last week's business session, the Chamber members agreed that Belmond stores should stay open Thursday and Friday night prior to Christmas—as well as the following Saturday night—until 9:30 p. m. to give shoppers of the trading area extra hours to make late purchases of gifts and supplies for the holiday larder.

It was also voted that the regular meetings scheduled for Dec. 14 and 28 be cancelled, making the next meeting date Thursday, Jan. 4.

Crash Skins Three Knees; Car Damage Set at $900

Injuries consisted of three bruised knees, but damages amounted to an estimated $900, when the '39 Plymouth sedan of Oscar Jacobson and a '50 Buick sedan belonging to Hubert W. Pachyla of Davenport collided on Wednesday of last week.

The Davenporter, a civil engineer, was driving north and Mr. Jacobson was headed south when the latter started to cross Highway 69 to turn east on Third street by Hill's Motel. The Plymouth had turned sufficiently that a head-on crash was avoided, but that fact saved the drivers more than the cars.

Mr. Jacobson was taken to Steele Memorial clinic to receive treatment for two bruised knees and shock; Mr. Pachyla received first aid from Patrolman Harland Sievers for one skinned knee. Damage to the Davenport car was set at $800 and to Mr. Jacobson's at $100.

WOMEN VOTERS MEETING

December meeting day for the League of Women Voters will be next Wednesday. A single meeting will be held, instead of separate ones in the afternoon and evening as in the past months. The lessons will be given at the home of Miriam Gowdy at 2:30 p. m.

H.S. Yule Concert Planned Dec. 17

Annual Christmas programs are currently being prepared by both grade, and junior and senior high school students under the direction of Eldoris Bunnell. The grade pupils' performance will be Dec. 20 at 2:30 p. m. and the high school entertainment at 8:00 p. m. on Dec. 17, both at the auditorium.

Traditional Yuletide music will be featured in the concert to be presented by vocalists of the junior and senior highs. Numbers will be offered by the girls' glee club, mixed chorus, girls' sextet and trio and the madrigal group comprised of senior high students. Several selections are being prepared by the junior high chorus, also.

Students making up the smaller singing groups are: madrigal—Mary Lou Baker, Marilyn Ellis, Betty Clare Henderson, Maxine Gartz, Dick Elliott, Odean Severseike, Paul Griesy and Jack Williams; sextet—Connie Benson, Frances Palmer, Jan Kelly, Adelaide Jenison and Misses Baker and Gartz.

Marilyn Ellis will join with Connie Benson and Adelaide Jenison in the girls' trio, and she will also present a solo number.

Grade school children, attired in costumes created for their own program, will appear in a tableau as an added feature of the high school entertainment. Paul Griesy will be narrator for the pantomime.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robb and daughter of Goldfield were Friday evening supper guests of the Lyman Robb family.

Few Reports Filed On Election Cost

By Tuesday of this week, with the deadline two days off, less than half of the candidates who were involved in contests for county offices had filed an account of their campaign expenses with Auditor Roger Charlson.

Only three men who had opposition in the election had filed reports—Albert Christopher, running against Incumbent William Fisher for supervisor from the 3rd district; Harland Hill, opposing Tom Henry for reelection from the 5th district; and Sheriff Robert Blecker, who had John Bleeker of Belmond as a rival.

Christopher reported expenditure of $302.19, of which $19.80 was contributed by friends. Hill's expense was listed at $58.98, of which $50 was donated. Blecker stated that all his $237.70 in election costs came out of his own pocket.

Recorder Grace L. Fletcher listed $25 and Clerk of Court R. V. Goslin $17.50. In each case, the money was tabbed as a contribution to the officeholder's party campaign fund. Treasurer H. E. Sullivan and Auditor Charlson reported they'd made no expenditures of any nature.

Unreported were the expenses of the following: John Greenlander and Francis McNulty, opponents for supervisor from the 1st district; Carl Kelling, unopposed supervisor candidate from the 2nd district; John Bleeker, Tom Henry and William Fischer.

Expense reports of the candidates for state representative from Wright county, Clark McNeal and Vernon McLaughlin, were to be forwarded direct to the secretary of state.

Thomas Harty on Carrier That Lately Made News

Mr. and Mrs. Cleatis Harty took particular interest in a news release of last week which revealed that on Monday the highest jet aerial battle of history had been fought and won by Navy Panther planes from the carriers Valley Forge and Philippine Sea.

Their son, Thomas P. Harty, U. S. N., is in the crew of the latter carrier, serving on the clerical staff of the captain's office. "Tommy" has been with the ship for the past five months and, naturally, by now takes a proprietary interest in all its accomplishments.

The reported air duels were fought at altitudes ranging from 32,000 to 35,000 feet. None of the Navy planes were damaged, but hits were reported on three Russian-made MIG-15's, which were smoking and losing altitude as they high-tailed it for the Manchurian border.

DEFERMENT TILL JUNE FOR CEABERN SQUIRES

Principal Ceabern Squires received word last Friday from the deferment board at Chanute Field, air force base at Rantoul, Ill., that the Belmond school board's request for his deferment until June 1, 1951, has been granted.

Previously, Mr. Squires had had orders to report today (Thursday) to Chanute Field for processing and to proceed then to Barksdale Field near Shreveport, La. Mr. Squires understands that this is a B-26 base.

Whether or not he will be expected to report immediately after the 175-day deferment expires, the B. H. S. principal does not know. He was classified on his orders as an armament systems officer. The duties of such an officer entail supervisory care of a bomber's turrets, guns, bombs, bomb-sights, automatic pilot and similar equipment.

New Roller Rink At Veterans Hall

Roller skating will be added to the list of winter recreations in Belmond this weekend when the Golden Star Roller Rink opens for business at the Veterans' Memorial building.

Orville Trytten of Mason City is manager of the enterprise and Otto Schwartz of Manly will be the floor manager. They are renting the Vets' dance floor on a monthly basis and will operate throughout the winter if the rink proves successful.

Mr. Trytten says the rink will provide new skates of the fibre-wheel variety, so that no damage will be done to the dance floor surface. New music equipment will also be installed.

First skating session will be Saturday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock. There will also be skating Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00, and again in the evening. After this week, there will be evening skating during the above hours on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays and regular Sunday matinee sessions.

Members of the Veterans' Memorial corporation are hopeful that the rink will prove popular, as it will provide a nice source of dependable revenue for the building fund.

Group Selected to Raise Summer Recreation Funds

Mrs. Dana Howell, president of the Belmond Parent-Teachers association, has appointed a committee of five to be responsible for raising funds to finance next summer's recreation program.

Arlo Stoltenberg is chairman of the group. Other members are Mrs. Don Faris, Mrs. Ruth Hardwick, K. C. Kickbush and Pat Gallagher.

No meeting of the committee has been held to date, but Chairman Stoltenberg intends to offer two money-raising propositions for the group's approval.

He hopes to see a repetition of the faculty-businessmen basketball game, which drew a large and enthusiastic crowd last year. He also contemplates a home-talent stage performance, featuring star attractions from community entertainments held during the fall and winter.

Miss Kelly Still Unable To Resume Class Duties

In a phone conversation the first of the week with the mother of Colleen Kelly, at Dubuque, Supt. Don Faris learned that the local instructor in girls physical training is still uncertain when she will be able to resume her teaching duties.

Mr. Faris was informed that Miss Kelly has sufficiently recovered from injuries suffered in an auto mishap on Nov. 22 that she was released from the Dubuque hospital last Sunday.

She suffered multiple bruises and minor lacerations, but x-rays failed to disclose any fractures.

Mrs. Kelly's mother said the accident victim was still finding it very painful to move around and she expected it would still be some little time before she could return to her class work.

Broncos to Open Loop Card Friday Night With Britt

Belmond's Broncos will open defense of their North Iowa conference basketball title this Friday when they face Britt in their first loop contest of the season.

Britt is tabbed as one of the stronger teams in the NI league this year. Although the Eagles lost to the strong Corwith five, they've made a good start toward a successful season.

Three of Britt's top performers from the quintet that placed third in the conference last season are back in action. They are Larry Miller, center, who won a berth on the all-NI first team; Ken Cosgriff, forward, a second team choice; and Jerry Redden, guard, who received honorable mention.

Friday night's game should give a fair indication of what the Broncos' outlook is in this year's loop race. Coach Jim Scott has little hope of his team again being a title contender; but a win over the Eagles should stamp Belmond as a likely prospect for an upper division rating.

As customary, a frosh-soph preliminary game will start at 7:00 p. m., with the varsity scrap beginning Friday at 8:00 p. m. at the local gym.

234 Enjoy Town-Country Event

A capacity crowd of 234 business and professional men, farmers and other guests jammed the tables at the Veterans' Memorial hall Monday night for the Town and Country banquet sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Young Farmers' night school class.

Clyde Spry, state secretary of agriculture, was the main speaker. He dwelt mainly upon the challenges facing the farmer today, in view of world conditions, and suggested how they might be met by individual and cooperative effort.

Harlan Nassen, as spokesman for the Young Farmers, was toastmaster for the evening. He introduced Ellis Elliott, president-elect of the Chamber of Commerce, who expressed a cordial welcome to all the farm guests. Ira P. Studebaker, Jr., responded for the farmers.

Special guests presented to the audience included Art Hibray, director of boys activities for the county extension office; Dave Bryant, farm editor for the Mason City Globe - Gazette; Bob Crom, farm reporter for radio station KGLO at Mason City.

George Infelt, retiring Chamber president, was called upon to express the community's regrets over the departure of Gene Woolley from Belmond. Mr. Infelt remarked that the manager of the General Mills plant, transferred this week to Minneapolis, had made a wide range of contributions to betterment of the town during his years of residence here.

Twelve members of the Young Farmers' class received from Instructor Duane Sandage certificates for meritorious effort in completing 24 weeks of their classwork. Bill McLaughlin was not present to receive the award he had earned, but others were personally delivered to:

Harlan Nassen, Goodell, Loren Mennenga, Meservey; Harry Hill, Kermit and Eldon Kew, Alexander; Gilman Soma, Roger Tendall, Bob McClure, Ronald Johnson, Loren and DuWayne Kalkwarf, all of Belmond.

Neil Flanagan Starts Weekly Column Series

You read about Hollywood actresses insuring their voices or limbs for $100,000; and Lloyds of London insuring a garden party against rain. Have you ever wondered how many kinds of insurance coverages there really are?

Neil Flanagan Agency, in this issue, is starting a brief, weekly column called "Consult", in which various kinds of insurance coverages will be highlighted. The situations are unique, controversial, sometimes comical—always intriguing, according to Neil. He's sure you'll enjoy them.

Boughton Funeral Conducted Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Congregational church for Mrs. Addie J. Boughton, for 57 years a resident of this community. Mrs. Boughton died last Friday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lester Bicket of Reinbeck, where she had been staying the past few weeks.

Services, conducted by Rev. Alfred B. McKeith, were in the charge of Boone Funeral Home and interment was in the local cemetery. Pallbearers were George Elder, C. I. Williams, George Braun, Don Nielsen, Otto Hanson and Gunnar Ahlstrom.

Addie Loupee was born in Jasper county, near Newton, on Nov. 2, 1869. She had observed her 81st birthday just one month prior to her death.

On August 5, 1891, she married Elmer E. Boughton and five children were born to them, two of whom died in infancy. She lived all her married life in Belmond, except ofr two years in Goodell.

Survivors include her two daughters and son — Mrs. Seth Huntington of Salem, Ore., Mrs. Lester Bicket of Reinbeck and Dwight of Belmond; three brothers—John of Baxter and George and Alva of Newton; and a sister, Mrs. Herman Ortweig of Baxter. She also leaves six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

During all her years in Belmond, Mrs. Boughton was an active worker in the Congregational church. She was a member of the choir for many years and for a time served as its director. She was a leader and loyal worker in the women's organizations. Her interests also included the Rebecca lodge, of which she was a long-time member.

Mrs. Boughton had lived an active life and kept house for her son until her health began to fail last fall. About a month ago she was forced to abandon her housekeeping duties and join the household of her daughter.

QUOTA MORE THAN MET FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

Response of Belmond residents to the fund drive for the Iowa Childrens Home Society was most generous, according to Mrs. Inga Steele, chairman of the campaign.

A goal of $350 had been assigned to Belmond for the canvass last week. This figure was exceeded by a generous margin, the final tally showing a total of $409.30 in donations.

Mrs. Steele says that the drive captains and block workers conducted the campaign in most efficient fashion and are deserving of high praise for their good work.

Area captains were Mrs. C. D. Bonte, Mrs. Glenn Eccles, Mrs. George Infelt, Mrs. Clark McNeal, Mrs. C. C. Benson and Mrs. A. K. Pitcher.

Church Musicale Soloists Selected

Mrs. Leland Lieuwen of Corwith and Ellis Elliott will be presented as soloists in the course of the second annual Congregational church musicale and carnival, to be held at the church on Thursday of next week.

Accompaniment for these two vocalists and the chorus music on the program will be provided by Mrs. Cato Griesy, at the organ.

One of the highlights of the musical evening will be a repetition of "Ballad for Americans", an historial narrative cantata which was a part of last year's entertainment. Solo passages in this number will be sung by George Infelt.

Another feature of the musicale will be a Norwegian composition by Edward Greig, "Jeg Elsker Dig", having the translated meaning, "I Love You".

A United Nations theme will be followed throughout the musicale program and accompanying carnival in the church basement. Of particular interest will be a United Nations booth, offering a display supplied by United Nations headquarters in New York City.

Grade school children will be welcome to visit the carnival booths any time after 4:00 p. m. Prizes can be won at a "fishpool" and the food bar will offer hot dogs, candies and popcorn. Bazaar items will be on sale, also.

Marion Anderson Given High Scholastic Honor

CEDAR RAPIDS—Marion Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orphie Anderson of Belmond, was cited for outstanding scholastic achievement at the annual honors convocation at Coe college on Tuesday of this week. A sophomore at Coe, Miss Anderson was named a member of Freshman Tenth, the top 10 per cent of the 1949-1950 freshman class.

Last spring Miss Anderson was chosen a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic society. She sang in the a cappella choir and played on the intramural volleyball team. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

NO BELMOND YOUTHS IN NOVEMBER DRAFT; DECEMBER GETS ONE

All young men of the immediate Belmond area got a "reprieve" insofar as the county's draft call for November was concerned.

Half of the month's quota of 10 was supplied by Clarion, as the November group left for induction at Des Moines on Wednesday of last week.

Those called from the county seat were Lyle C. Stromquist, Lyman C. Spencer, George Penn, Jr., Frank D. Lester and Dale Cullinan. Others who were inducted at Des Moines were LaVern Barmore of Eagle Grove, Marvin C. Smith of Rowan, Bernard Scheppler of Galt and Orville Steffenson of Goldfield. William Jensen, formerly of Woolstock, will be inducted Dec. 14 from Decatur county.

December's quota of four men has been ordered to report to Des Moines this Friday. In this group will be Darrell Beavers of Belmond, Lyle Ammerman of Galt, Theodor Pettersen and John Bird of Clarion.

There will be no call for pre-induction examinations this month, the Wright county selective service board has been informed. State headquarters also states that, as of Dec. 1, reception center for Iowa draftees is Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Gene Woolley Receives Promotion; To Supervise GMI Chemical Plants

Gene Woolley, manager of the General Mills soybean plant here for the past two and a half years and who's been associated with the plant since 1944, was notified last Friday that he has been promoted to supervisor of all three plants of the GMI chemical division.

Besides the Belmond plant, Mr. Woolley will supervise a large General Mills factory at Kankakee, Ill., and another large one that is soon to be built in the east. The Illinois plant is currently being expanded.

Although the appointment was effective the first of this week, Mr. Woolley was busy settling his local affairs through Tuesday and did not report to Minneapolis—his new headquarters—until Wednesday.

With Mr. Woolley's departure, Walt Hotvet becomes the senior executive of the Belmond plant. He will also continue in his present capacity of plant superintendent, in charge of manufacturing operations. Henry Stokke, office manager, will add the duties of grain buyer to those he previously held.

Gene expects to be "on the road" most of the time until construction of additional facilities at Kankakee and and building of the new eastern plant are completed. His regular schedule, thereafter, will call for monthly visits to each of the three plants in the GMI chemical division.

Until he obtains satisfactory living quarters in Minneapolis, he will spend weekends with his family in Belmond. Gene hopes he may be oble to obtain a home by the first of the year and move his wife and three children—Steven, 7, Linda, 3, and Carol Sue, 2—to Minnesota.

Mr. Woolley first came to Belmond as superintendent of the GMI plant in the spring or 1944. After three months here, he entered the U. S. Navy. Upon his discharge in the spring of 1946, he returned to this community.

He was promoted from superintendent to plant manager in 1948. The plant's volume of production expanded rapidly during the years of his managership, and two refinery departments were added.

Throughout his time in Belmond, Gene has taken a very active part in civic enterprises. His friendliness, capability and willingness to give freely of his time and efforts won for him the high esteem of the entire community. During the past year he was president of the Gridiron club and he has served efficiently as chairman of the municipal hospital planning committee.

The Woolleys' many friends, while happy over Gene's fine promotion, will deeply regret seeing them leave Belmond. They can, however, take some consolation in the fact that he will be a regular, monthly visitor when his new job "shakes down" to normal routine.

SEASON CLOSES

The 1950 pheasant season closed Dec. 5 after a 25-day season in 70 counties and 10 days in 13 additional counties. Conservation commission spokesmen termed the season very successful.

Two Local Youths Confess Thievery

Confessions were obtained from two teen-agers Monday afternoon that they were responsible for the flurry of break-ins that occurred weekend before last. One of the pair has never been in trouble with the law before, but his partner admitted being guilty of thievery on a previous occasion.

No action was to be taken in regard to the boys until today (Thursday), as both Sheriff Bob Blecker and County Attorney Harlan Larson were attending the Iowa State Sheriff's convention in Des Moines, Monday through Wednesday of this week. It was expected that they would question the youths further, sometime today.

Officer Dale Walrod was responsible for solving the break-in cases when he interrogated one of the boys on a hunch. After at first denying he'd been involved the young man finally admitted his guilt. Before Walrod completed his questioning, the youth had also implicated his accomplice.

In the late afternoon, Patrolman Harland Sievers and Deputy Sheriff Jack Hansen came over from Clarion to make further inquiries of the boys in conjunction with other illegal entries in town that have not been solved to date. Then the decision was made to delay on further interrogation until Sheriff Blecker and Attorney Larson could take charge of the case.

Chorus Preparing Vespers Program

First rehearsal for the Christmas vesper service—to be given at the Methodist church Sunday evening, Dec. 17—was held last Sunday afternoon.

Composed of the voices from both the Congregational and Methodist choirs, the chorus will present the production, "Unto Us Is Born A Saviour" by Paul Simpson McElroy.

Included in the music will be the familiar carols, several nunmbers from the Messiah and "Gesu Bambino", an annual favorite with those who attend the vespers.

Marc Ihm is to be the narrator.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Draves, Ronald, Ralph and Norma were at the Herman McGinnis home at Dows Wednesday evening when the birthdays of Kathleen Kay McGinnis, Ralph Draves and Bertha Barz were celebrated. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Barz and Bertha were also guests.

Lous Freese has returned to his home from the Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond where he was hospitalized for injuries to his hand suffered in a corn picking accident. It was not necessary to amputate a finger as it was at first feared.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Woodley went to Des Moines Monday to attend a state Farm Bureau meeting. Their daughters, Ilene and Arlene, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Kercheval during their parents' absence.

Woman Gets Neck Broken In Car Mishap Saturday

In an automobile accident which occurred three miles east of Rowan on Highway 3 last Saturday, Mrs. O. H. Thorsrud of Callendar suffered a broken neck.

The car her husband was driving went out of control on the ice and skidded into the ditch near the Alfred Hansen farm.

At the Lutheran hospital, Fort Dodge, it was said the neck injury did not sever the spinal cord and probably would not prove critical.

Tillie Andrews Wed Nov. 28th To John Meylink, Rock Valley

A quiet little wedding was held in the Rowan Congregational church Tuesday, Nov. 28, at high noon when Mrs. Tillie Andrews of Rowan and John Meylink of Rock Valley exchanged vows before the altar which was decorated with baskets of yellow and white mums. The pastor, Rev. Harold A. Sanders, officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a few close relatives and friends.

The bride wore a navy blue wool gabardine suit with navy and pink accessories, and carried a corsage of pink roses and pink and white sweet peas. Her only attendant was her daughter, Mrs. Henry Halfwassen of Chapin, who wore a light grey suit with navy and red accessories. She had a corsage of red roses and white button mums.

The groom's only attendant was a son-in-law, Lloyd Jones of Rowena, S. D.

Mrs. Howard Box of Rowan presided at the organ and also accompanied Miss Alice Langor who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me" preceding the ceremony. Ronald and Ryle Andrews, sons of the bride, served as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the church parlors to about 40 guests. Four neighbor couples served the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. Christal Wenzel, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Markham.

Alice Langor of Rowan and Mrs. Lloyd Jones of Rowena, S. D., the groom's daughter, sang a duet for the dinner guests, with Mrs. Box as pianist.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd and son, Tommy, of Rowena, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ellington and Mrs. Bill O'Hara of Sioux Falls, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meylink and Mr. and Mrs. W. De Roos of Hull; Mrs. Kate Meylink, Sanborn; Wm. Bergsma, Rock Valley; Mrs. Frank Bohlen, Mrs. Minnie Eden and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Madsen and Maydeen, all of Alexander; and Mrs. Jens Roed, Latimer.

RONALD HUNTER WED GIRL FROM NEBRASKA ON NOVEMBER 29TH

Baskets of chrysanthemums and pompoms in autumn colors decorated the candlelighted altar of the Redeemer Lutheran church at Wayne, Nebr., last Wednesday evening when Miss Marilyn Barelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barelman of Wisner, Nebr., became the bride of Ronald Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hunter of Kingsley, Ia.

Mrs. L. R. Ringer, organist, accompanied Barbara Brown of Webster City, Ia., who sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a white satin gown with lace yoke and a full skirt which fell into a long train. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a net cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a triple strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Janice Hunter, maid of honor, wore a gold taffeta gown and carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Mylette Barelman of Fremont, Nebr., as bridesmaid wore a green taffeta gown and carried a colonial bouquet.

Joan Harrison of Washta, Ia., and Jean Raber of Wayne, Nebr., candlelighters, wore green and gold dresses respectively.

Dr. Melvin Barelman of Omaha, Nebr., brother of the bride, was best man and Loy Elser of Pierson, Ia., was groomsman. Bob Carson of Cherokee, Ia., and Chris Muller of Wayne, Nebr., were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors.

After the wedding trip to Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter are at home in Wayne where Mr. Hunter will continue his studies at Wayne college.

The Hunters are former Belmond residents.

How's That Again?

One of Iowa's popular weekly newspaper columnists offered this description: "A columnist is a little guy poking his head above his comfortable rut and seeing the green grass at the side of the road, and then telling the others in the rut about it. From such little guys, all over the state, we offer the following comments.

Armistice day came and went very peacefully. It won't be long before we're running out of days to celebrate our wars end.—John Snyder, "Our Town", Adel News.

Now that Christmas merchandising begins 30 days earlier than it did when we were kids, the youngsters are threatened with Santa Claus and beware of being naughty for the extra month. Those two or three weeks used to be quite a strain and we can't imagine the younger generation bearing up under that pressure for 60 days.—Carl F. Flanagan, "Talk Of The Times", Fonda Times.

Give the careless driver an inch, and he'll take a fender. Sylvia S. Bremer, "Syl-o-ettes", Davenport Daily Times.

Why is it that so many of us can think of the best reasons in the world why we shouldn't miss a football game, as basketball game, a baseball game or a certain movie, or anything else that strikes our fancy . . and on Sunday morning we think of the silliest excuses for not going to church?—Ted H. Witter, "Coffee Times", Sioux Rapids Bulletin-Press.

Cracked eggs can be made as good as new with cellophane tape—that is if that's all that's wrong with 'em.—"Around The Town", Centerville Iowegian.

Be sure you don't point that gun at anything you don't want to shoot!—Bob Schwartz, "Some Space Fillups", Swea City Herald.

The cheapest thing you can buy is your weekly newspaper. For paying less than the cost of the blank paper and cost of the mailing, handling, and keeping the subscription record, the subscriber has the privilege of bellyaching about what's printed on the blank piece of paper which he hasn't paid for.—Dwain W. Mueller, "Mulling It Over", What Cheer Patriot-Chronicle.

Sometimes things seem so difficult that the only place you can find happiness is under "H' in the dictionary.—Garth Mann, "Local Color", Dallas Center Times.

Men in the armed forces, students at colleges where they have dining rooms and traveling salesmen all gripe about the food. One seldom sees a skinny salesman, all service men return much heavier after a stretch in the army and students from college have gained weight.—E. E. Wessel, "Journalette", New London Journal.

Nature couldn't make us perfect, so she did the next best thing: She made us blind to our faults".—Joe Sklenar, "This and That", Audubon News-Guide.

Editors like to think (whether it's true or not) that they have some influence in the territory in which their papers circulate. They owe it to their readers to give them both sides if they are inclined to expound much on politics, unless they honestly believe that their party has all the good men and the others are scoundrels.—"Just Hash", Dysart Reporter.

To do a loving deed, to sense another's need, to give a word of cheer, to overpower fear, to evil thoughts unbidden, to any danger hidden, to know the right from wrong, to face life with a song!—Edith Mooar, "Now and Then", Newton Daily News.

One of the worst offenders in the world is the person who expresses crack judgments about things on which he is truly uninformed. — Florence P. Laffer, "Correction Line", Correctionville News.

Little Jimmy was spending a night with his aunt in Northwood. She came in to hear him say his prayers." "You did beautifully',, she said when he'd finished. "That's nothing," answered Jimmy. "You ought to hear me gargle."—John E. van der Linden, 'This and That", Audubon News-Guide.

Pheasants may come; and pheasants may go; especially the ones I SHOOT AT!—"Re-Late-In", Ida Grove Pioneer Record.

Many a small boy is the kind of a kid his mother wouldn't want him to play with.—C. L. Adams, "Side Glances", Kanawha Reporter.

What's the longest word in the English language? The word that follows, when the radio announcer says, "And now we'll have a word from our sponsor."—Walter Navin, Jr., "As We See It", West Branch Times.

W. S. C. S. TO COMBINE GENERAL AND CIRCLE CHRISTMAS MEETINGS

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will hold its annual pot-luck luncheon meeting on Thursday, Dec. 14. Combining the general and circle meetings, the event is scheduled for regular Circle Thursday, with the hope a large attendance.

Luncheon will be at 1:00 o'clock p. m. and members are asked to bring their own tables service of dishes and silver, sandwiches and a covered dish. A special Christmas-season program is being planned by Mrs. Rex Fetrow, program leader, and Mrs. Ralph Christie, worship leader.

This year, instead of having a 25-cent gift exchange as in the past, members present at the last regular meeting decided to request that the ladies each put 25 cents into a fund to help make Christmas happier for some needy local child or children.

Gifts of mittens, sox, handkerchiefs, candy bars, gum and like items will be welcome also, to pack in with the Christmas boxes being prepared by the Goodwill Circle, under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Trager. These will be sent to the Helping Hand Mission at Sioux City.

Social committee includes Mrs. Wilmer Burk, chairman, and Mesdames Bert Sorenson, L. M. Helland, Ray Klemme, Ed Bohning, Lloyd Bruner, Paul Quigley and E. E. Woolley.

Dear Santa—

I am six years old. I am in first grade in school. My teacher is Miss Lewis. I sure do like school. Please bring me a big baby doll and I will be so happy. Hope you remember all the other boys and girls to. Hope I get to see you at Christmas.

Lots of love,
Carnita Kay Trager

Dear Santa,

I am eight years old and in third grade in school. My teacher's name is Miss Lee. I like school very much and have not missed a day so far this year. I have tried to be good and I am asking for one thing that I want very much. That is a cowboy ranch set. Hope you have enough toys so every boy and girl in the world will get some thing. Thanks so much for what ever I get.

Love,
Curtis Lee Trager

Dear Santa Claus,

I'm eight years old. I would like a one year old baby doll an dtoy typewriter a doll buggy and ice skates. I would like a cash register. My sister wants an adding machine. I guess that's all.

P. S. I am in the third grade.

Love

Dear Santa Claus,

I a msix years and have been a pretty good girl. I help my mother wipe dishes and if you think you can bring me a pocketbook I would like one please. And please bring those who are poor something too. Thank you.

Your friend
Karen Modderman

Dear Santa Claus,

I will be ten years old in four days (Dec. 7th). I would really like some ice skates and a real good billfold, and I would like a metal dollhouse. Could you bring me a Happi Time doll? I need a robe and I guess that's all I'll ask. Be sure to bring Claude my brother a train.

Love
Pamela Lee Martin

P. S. I am in the fifth grade. My sister is in the third grade. My brother is almost three.

Galt, Iowa

Dear Santa Claus,

I have been a pretty good girl. I am ten years old. Please bring me a necklace and bracelet to match, and a pair of bedroom slippers. I am entering this contest to see if I could win some money to buy Christmas present with.

I have enjoyed the presents you brought on other years. Thanks for the pair of roller skates I got last year. I have skated with them a lot. I have always wanted a pair.

With love
Avonne State

Galt, Iowa

Dear Santa Claus,

I had rheumatic fever last year. I would like you to bring me a ball point pen and a farm set. Please bring my dad a cigarette lighter, and my mom a silk scarf, my sisters a bracelet and a necklace to match. My brother wants a boy scout kit.

My sister si writing this letter for me because I am only in the first grade and can't write too good.

With love,

Obituary

MRS. ANDY CHRISTIANS

Thelma Rietema Christians, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Rietema, Sr., was born on a farm six miles southwest of Kanawha on Sept. 22, 1917. She was baptized in infancy in the Wright Christian Reformed church and made her confession of faith in July 1936.

She was united in marriage with Andy Christians on Aug. 28, 1936. To them were born three children. Mr and Mrs. Christians moved to a farm four miles southwest of Kanawha, where they resided at the time of her death.

Mrs. Christians was taken to the Belmond hospital, where she underwent surgery Aug. 10, her illness being caused by cancer. She was making fair recovery at first, but later serious symptoms developed and she died on Nov. 25.

She is survived by her husband and three children—Ardith Diane, age 11, Ronald Henry, age nine, and Janet Lorraine, ago two; her parents, Mr and Mrs. Art Rietema, Sr., two brothers—John Rietema of Kanawha and Kermit Rietema of Grand Rapids, Mich., and three sisters — Mrs. Wiert Brower, Mrs. Jay Veldhouse and Donna Kay Rietema, all of Kanawha.

Funeral services were held at 1:00 o'clock at the home at 1:30 at the Wright Christian Reformed church Tuesday, Nov. 28, Rev. E. Bossenbroek of Woden officiating. Burial was made in the Wright Christian Reformed church cemetery.

FRED A. GORTON

Fred Allen Gorton, son of John S. and Elizabeth Jane Gorton, was born at Toledo, Iowa, Nov. 8, 1876. He came at the age of 18 years, to Kanawha, with his parents. They moved onto the farm two and one-fourth miles west of town where he lived for 31 years, then moving to his present home.

On Jan. 1, 1899, he was married to Elizabeth McNeish. They were the parents of six children. He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother, Ross; and an infant daughter. Survivors include his wife; five children—Allen of Kellogg, Merrill of San Diego, Calif., Avril (Mrs. Martin Thompson), Jessie (Mrs. Herbert Mewes), and John, all of Kanawha. He is survived by two brothers, C. O. Gorton of Kanawha and Mort Gorton of Lawndale, Calif., and by one sister—Mrs. Lowell Jones of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. Gorton was a farmer for many years, and when health forced his retirement, he turned to selling insurance and hybrid seed corn.

He was county assessor for Amsterdam township for 27 years, served on AAA committee since its formation, was supervisor of the commodity credit storage bins in this locality, and also served as justice of the peace. He was a member of the I. O. O. F., Lions club and Methodist Men club.

He passed away following a heart attack on Friday evening, Nov. 24, 1950, at the age of 74 years and 16 days.

Funeral services were held at the Kanawha Methodist church on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 28, with Rev. R. D. Kitterman officiating. Interment was made in the Kanawha cemetery.

John Kaufman in Choir Broadcast Next Sunday

DES MOINES—John Kaufman, Jr., of Belmond will be among the 56 members of the Father Flanagan's Boys Town choir who will take part in a half-hour broadcast over KRNT Des Moines (dial spot 1350) and the American Broadcasting Company at 5:30 p. m. next Sunday, Dec. 10. The choir, which is directed by Rev. Francis P. Schmitt, will present a program largely composed of Christmas carols.

The broadcast will originate from the famed institution at Boys Town, Neb. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nicholas H, Wegner, who succeeded the late Father Flanagan as its head, and F. Stanley Beveridge, president of the Sanley Home Products, will speak during the broadcast.

Ray Kinseth Called Back To Active Duty in Army

Raynold Kinseth, Jr., who has been in the Army reserve since his discharge in the spring of 1946, was recalled to active duty last week and on Friday reported to Fort Sheridan, Ill., for assignment.

At press time, Mrs. Kinseth had not yet heard where he was being sent. Ray was in the service about three years during World War II. He returns to duty with a sergeant's rating.

Arriving when they did, Ray's orders prevented him for enjoying the first "real" Christmas of his little daughter, Kathy. She was less than three months old at this time a year ago.

32nd Degree in Masonry To George Richards, Jr.

Four members of the Belmond Masonic lodge attended all or part of a four-day consistory reunion at Des Moines last week, Wednesday through Saturday.

George Richards, Jr., of Alexander followed in the footsteps of his father by completing work for his 32nd degree. George, Sr., became a 32nd degree Mason at Des Moines last spring.

Henry H. Larsen and Ervin Halverson attended all four days of the reunion and Albin Larson was in Des Moines for the Friday night and Saturday sessions.

Last week's class was named after the late Frank Phillips, founder of the Phillips Petroleum company and a long-time member of the Des Moines consistory, who attained the 33rd degree in Masonry.

PAYS TRAFFIC FINE

A traffic fine of $10 and costs was paid Wednesday of last week by Mrs. Margaret L. Bailey in the justice court of O. E. McGahey at Clarion on charges of passing on the yellow line and too close to a narrow bridge. Information was filed by Patrolman Carl E. Condon, who stated that the offense took place on Highway 3, just east of Clarion.

VOL. 31 NO. 8 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond, Wright County, Iowa Thursday, December 7, 1950 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

Three "Town Boys" Taking Vocational "Ag" Course Show Rural Classmates They're Real Farmers, Too

"You can take a boy out of the country, but you can't take the country out of a boy," the old saying goes. We've never heard the reverse of this observation. Apparently Duane Sandage, high school vocational agriculture instructor, doesn't think it would hold water anyhow.

He says he has three town boys taking his course who are well on their way of becoming first class farmers. All three of the boys are 15-year-olds and sophomores in high school.

They are Luverne Wessels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Wessels; Allan Shahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shahan; and Jack Johnson, son of Mr: and Mrs. Clifford Johnson.

At the rate he's going at present, young Wessels should be all set to become a full-fledged farmer the moment he grabs that high school diploma. He's presently feeding three western ewes, has a litter of eight spring pigs—which he got as a bonus for working as farmhand on a farm near Thornon last summer — and has plans laid for launching himself in the purebred sheep business with several Hampshires.

With savings from his summer's work and the proceeds of a sheep project last year, Luverne has acquired a Ford tractor, plow and cultivator. His porkers will soon be ready for market, to augment funds he's accumulated by plowing gardens and doing fall plowing for farmers in the Belmond vicinity.

Right now he's on the look-out for 40 to 80 acres of land he can farm on shares this coming year; and Mr. Sandage thinks some landowner would be mighty smart to grab up the opportunity of having young Mr. Wessels as a renter.

Luverne hopes, by the time he graduates from high school, to have a practically full line of farm machinery, a well established flock of Hampshire sheep, and enough money in the bank to enable him to immediately begin full-scale farming operations. At this point, there's good reason to believe he'll succeed.

Allan Shahan has a flock of 10 western ewes and a bred sow—a registered Duroc he's looking after for the Belmond FFA chapter. For his efforts, Allan will get to keep the sow and all but the 1st, 3rd and 6th pig from the sow's litter next spring.

By virtue of winning second place in a swine judging contest held in conjunction with S. C. Schrage's October Duroc sale at Eagle Grove, Allan has $25 credit on the purchase of a second bred sow at Schrage's sale in February. He plans to take advantage of this opportunity, so he'll have two litters of purebred pigs next year.

His grandfather, Lee Shahan, will help finance purchase of the second sow and Allan will work out the loan on Lee's farm next summer. His work on the farm this year earned him pasture space for his present flock of ewes and is also providing Allan with four and a half acres upon which to raise corn this coming year as feed for his livestock.

Jack Johnson is not entered upon farming on so ambitious a scale as his two classmates, but nevertheless he's doing all right. He has four western ewes—which are pastured in town, like those of Luverne's. Jack should make some good money on the sheep, Mr. Sandage says, if he can overcome the occasional impulse to pamper them too much in the matter of feed.

Truck gardening comprises the rest of Jack's farming activity. Last summer he had two large garden plots, upon which he raised a variety of vegetables. These he sold mainly to local stores.

This coming summer he plans to garden the same plots, planting them mainly in potatoes and sweetcorn. He also plans, next fall, to increase the size of his sheep project.

Rather than finding it a handicap to live in town, Luverne, Allan and Jack are really making their country "cousins" in the vocational agriculture class look to their laurels.

Jump in Farming Costs Foreseen; May Reach All-Time High in 1951

Wright county farmers can expect higher farm costs in 1951. In fact, some items may be the highest on record, according to outlook estimates made for County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman by Iowa State college economists.

While farm machinery supplies may be adequate for 1951, the "buyer's market" for farm machinery may be out of the picture for some time. List prices may be higher and most dealers won't be in position to make attractive offers on trade-ins.

Farm labor will be scarce and more expensive in 1951. The economists report that specialized farmers already have labor problems, with the draft and high paying industrial jobs competing with farmers for workers.

They also suggested that farmers order insecticides and fungicides early. Supplies of farm chemicals are considered ample for 1951, but prices are expected to be slightly higher.

Fertilizer is another item that may be due for a price increase next spring, although price relationships will still favor continued use of fertilizer. Demand for fertilizer is expected to be heavy next spring, especially with the south planting a larger cotton acreage in 1951.

On the brighter side of the cost picture, the economists point to the plentiful supplies of legume and grass seed. Brome, timothy and clover seed supplies are large and alfalfa seed will continue to be plentiful. Demand for seed may be lower than in 1950 too.

Lumber may be another of the few farm needs that won't advance in price next year. Economists explain that lumber supplies are ample and tighter credit controls may cut down new home construction—a big source of demand for lumber. However, metal building materials will be scarce and their cost is expected to be higher by next fall.

1951 FORECAST POINTS TO INCREASE IN SWINE PRICES AND NUMBERS

More meat will be produced in 1951 with the average consumption in the nation expected to rise to 148 pounds per person, according to the economic outlook for the coming year.

Meat consumption has arisen from an average of 134 pounds per person for the four years from 1937 through 1941 to 145 pounds per person in 1950, Aaron R. Bowman county extension director, points out.

Pork production is expected to be up in 1951 and slightly more beef will be on the market. Poultry meat supplies will remain about the same, while lamb production will be down, according to reports of studies by economists and government officials who recently met in Washington at the 28th annual Outlook Conference.

While this fall marked one of the largest market movements of hogs on record, a five to seven per cent increase in hog numbers is likely in 1951. Pork production in 1951 may be the second largest in history, with more hogs carrying heavier weights than were common this year.

Hog prices are expected to average higher in 1951 even with a larger spring pig crop. However, record 1950 June farrowings will limit the price rise for the coming spring, even though prices will be somewhat higher than last spring.

Bowman says economists think the corn-hog ratio will be a lttle more favorable in '51, with the rise in hog prices being greater than that of corn.

Apache Too 'Up-to-Date' To Match Era of Movie

Realism had to bow to necessity in one minor detail during filming of the, historical epic "Broken Arrow" which stars Jimmy Stewart at the New Belmond theatre this coming Sunday and Monday.

Researchers had determined that Apache warriors of the period covered by the film never wore anything from the waist up, and the Indian extras had been informed to dress accordingly.

It was Jim Reed Flinger, a Redman already signed for the picture, who forced the disregard for custom. It was feared that Jim the Flinger might steal the show from Jim the Stewart if the bare chest of the former appeared on the screen.

Said chest is emblazoned in large, tattoooed letters with the modern-day slogan, "Remember Pearl Harbor" so Jim Flinger wears a buckskin shirt.

and praying for the establishment of their estate and title against the adverse claims of the defendants, and that each and all of them, and all unknown claimants, and all persons unknown, having or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises, and all persons claiming by, through, or under them, be barred and forever estopped from ever having, asserting, or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises or any part thereof adverse to the plaintiffs or the plaintiffs' title therein, and that the plaintiffs' title to the said premises be quieted, established and confirmed.

Plaintiffs' petition sets out certain instruments of record which cloud the title of these plaintiffs to said real estate and to the pretended claims and questions which have arisen with reference to said title and you are referred to said petition for a more particular statement thereof.

Said petition alleges that the plaintiffs and their immediate grantors have been in the sole, complete, actual, open, notorious and undisputed possession of said premises for more than eighteen years last past under claim of right and ownership thereof adverse to the defendants.

(For further particulars see petition now filed).

You are also notified to appear before said court at Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa, on or before the 8th day of January, 1951, and that unless you so appear, your default will be entered and judgment and decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in said petition.

When Voters Are Getting "Fed Up", Their Ballots Let It Be Known

Howard Hill, president of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation, made a statement before the Bureau's state convention last week that impressed us as both wise and pertinent.

"This election," Mr. Hill told his fellow farmers, "was not a mandate for the return of isolationism or reactionaryism any more than the primary last spring was a mandate from any particular party for any particular farm program."

In other words, politicians are altogether too anxious to interpret the outcome of an election as a clear-cut indication that the populace has "spoken". We agree with Mr. Hill that both parties should be chary about accepting the outcome of any election as a mandate pertaining to specific issues.

"I believe," Mr. Hill added, "That the only mandate that the citizens of Americans give any time, in any election, is a warning to do a better job of making democracy work and assuming our position of leadership for the good of all mankind."

As Mr. Hill suggests, if any "mandate" was expressed in the November election, it was one of a negative nature. We'd say that the upsurge of Republican strength' constituted a rejection of the Fair Deal's insistent pursuit of socialistic goals, and a firm reprimand for inept diplomacy and an ill defined foreign policy.

It is too much to expect that the public at large can recognize a panacea for previous failures, even before it's been proved. We agree with Mr. Hill that the popular vote is rarely a flat command to "do this," or "try that." But it's pretty plain to hear when the voters say, "We've had just about enough of THIS sort of business!"

O

During This Yuletide, Don't Let DEATH Take YOUR Holiday

Ironically enough, the Christmas-New Year's holidays and the busy days immediately preceding have acquired status as one of the most tragic and deadly periods on the whole year's calendar.

The National Safety Council has called for intensive accident prevention effort during the holidays to stem the tide of mishaps that annually mars the happiness of Christmastme.

That is an objective which has our wholehearted support; not only because of the tragic aspect of Yuletide accidents, but also because we cannot afford to waste the resources of manpower and material so necessary these days to our national strength.

It is an established fact that accidents rob the nation of more working years than any disease.

With a traffic death toll of 35,000 in prospect this year(largest number of auto victims since the record year of 1941), we've certainly been given ample warning as to the potential danger of evry auto trip we take.

Be sensible. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards. Be both thoughtful and courteous while behind the wheel of your car. Don't drive if you drink—and vice versa. Allow plenty of time for holiday travel, bearing in mind the treachery of winter weather and heavy traffic.

Also take extra care to prevent home accidents. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames. Turn tree lights off before leaving the house; and examine the light cords for possible short circuits and exposed wires. Don't use lighted candles for decorative purposes around the tree or window curtains. Keep gift wrappings away from lighted fireplaces.

Simple, sensible precautions can keep the Christmas spirit — and YOU —alive this year.

All-Star Selections Drawing Down Curtain on Another Football Season

Once the football season's over—and before the basketball season can be considered in full swiing -- we have to go through our annual attack of all-star fever. nI this scientific age, there are very few undertakings that are less scientifically approached than the selection of all-conference, all-state and all-American football teams.

Undoubtedly the reason that all-star selections invariably arouse so much dissension is the fact that, even in an eight-team high school conference, there are rarely 11 men markedly superior to all other members of the field.

For our own edification, we analyzed the all-state selections of the Iowa Daily Press association and the Des Moines Register to see how much agreemnt—or lack of it—existed between them. The IDPA sports writer named 13 men to a team, including an extra utility back and lineman; Jack North and his aides named the conventional 11 men to each team.

Six players were awarded a place on both first teams. In view of such unanimity of opinion it seems likely that this half dozen were at least as good as rival candidates for the same playing positions. Seventeen gridders were placed on either the 1st or 2nd team by both the IDP and the "Peach Sheet." That, to our opinion, is quite an amazing extent of agreement.

Where the IDPA and Register really parted company was in the balance of their selections. The Register was apparently more impressed than the IDPA with the press publicity that players from the larger schools received. On North's first four team—44 men in all—were only two men from relatively small-town schools. The IDPA honored seven players from "the sticks" amongst the 39 men on its top three teams.

In spite of this discrepancy, we'd wager that the all-state selections are a great deal more fair and accurate than the average All-American eleven. "Pro" football has revealed the relative mediocrity of many a big-name player — with "unknowns" from small schools helping greatly in the process.

O

Not Much to Lose By Letting Those Bonds Go Another Round

You've got six-for-ten; now would you like o try to get ten-for-six? That isn't the way the U. S. Savings bond promoters put it, but the fact of the matter is that the buying power of each dollar put into a bond 10 years ago is now worth only 60 per cent as much as in 1940.

The treasury department is promulgating a plan by which a matured bond could simply be stamped, "Renewed" and take another 10-year ride in pursuit of increased value.

If the idea goes through, it looks to us as if bond-owners might just as well take the gamble. While it doesn't look very likely, something MIGHT happen by 1960 to make today's inflated buck worth more than at present.

O

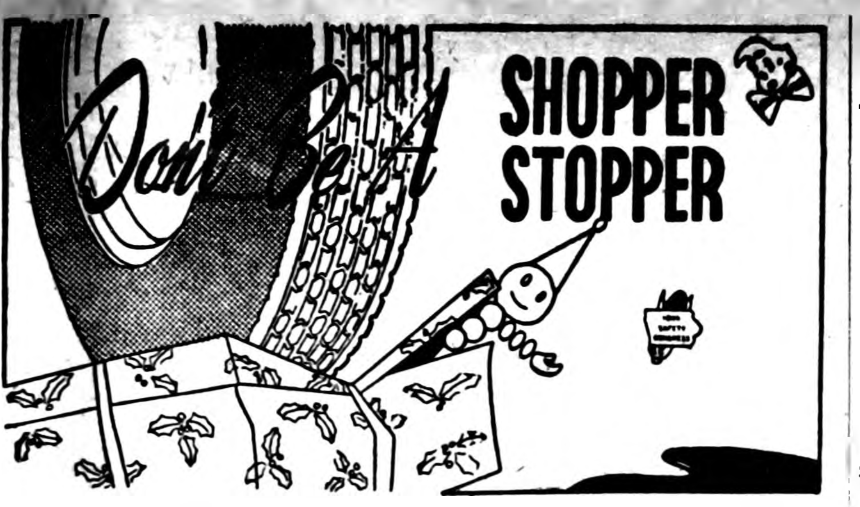
We're dubious as to how effective, in the long run, "atom-izing" of Chinese troops in North Korea might prove. No gang was ever broken up by shooting down one trigger-man. On the other hand, delivery of that first bomb might raise the curtain on horrors unmatched by the composite frightfulness of all past wars.

O

The enchantment of Christmas dwindles with the years until it's well nigh beyond recapture by the time we have school-agers of our own. But indeed to be pitied is the adult who no longer feels a tug at his heart-strings with the first rehearing of "Silent Night" as another Yuletide approaches.

O

If it's true that anticipation is sweeter than realization, how very fortunate we upper midwesterners are compared to those poor souls who reside in semi-tropical, southern U. S. For more than three glorious months we can contemplate joyful delights of another burgeoning springtime.



This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

If the term "Shopper Stopper" leaves you cold—well, you've got the idea of the above picture.

A Christmas-shopping pedestrian may be walking in a winter wonderland, borne up by Yuletide spirit until he's run down by the "Shopper Stopper" — the December motorist who drives as if it were June—and the pedestrian is left temporarily or permanently cold.

The "Shopper Stopper" forgets that ice and snow, though pretty on a Christmas card, are an ugly menace on streets and highways. The "Shopper Stopper" ignores early darkness, frost on car windows, and other visibility-shortening factors, until he's delivered a Christmas gift of a cast of a casket to a package-laden pedestrian.

"Christmas shoppers, loaded with bundles and hurrying from store to store, too often forget to be careful," warns Pearl W. McMurry, Iowa Commissioner of Public Safety. "Then, too, children are out of school during Christmas holidays, another reason why December is the high-accident month of the year. Seventy-six pedestrians have already been killed in Iowa this year, compared with only 57 in the first 11 months of last year. And that's too many already."

Your Iowa Safety Congress joins with Commissioner McMurry in urging you to drive safely during the crowded Christmas season. Don't make any family replace its Christmas wreath with a funeral wreath.

Women of Pleasant Twp. Exchange Ideas on Gifts

The Pleasant township rural women had their November extension meeting at the Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen home.

There were 28 ladies present to enjoy the pre-Christmas lesson. All present either illustrated or told a Christmas suggestion. Mrs. Lettie Zuber also offered many ideas.

The refreshments were served by Mrs. Lieuwen, assisted by Mrs. Henry Halfwassen, Mrs. Dick Kalkwarf, Mrs. Duane Kalfwark,, Mrs. Harry Mennenga nd Mrs. Virginia Studebaker.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frohling and family of Rowan were visitors Sunday evening in the Jelto Beenken home.

Clarence Beenken and a friend of Wesley called Saturday afternoon at the Jelto Beenken home.

Don Braner and Gerhard Thompson spent Monday in Des Moines attending a captain's Farm Bureau meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Schwinger, Mrs. Peters and Jane of Waterloo, brought her mother, Mrs. E. F. Bailey, home Friday after a visit of a couple of days in the Schwinger home. While there Mrs. Bailey attended a pre-nuptial shower given for her granddaughter, Deloris Schwinger.

Iowa Homemakers Asking Gifts for Yule Project

The Iowa township Homemakers met Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Laurence Woodley with 43 ladies present. After a potluck dinner at 12:00 the meeting was called to order by the presidnet, Mrs. Blanche Aldrich.

Plans were made for each one to bring gifts or cash to the next meeting, which will be Tuesday, Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Fred Kercheval. These gifts will be sent to some worthy cause to be decided later. Mrs. Lettie Zuber had charge of the lesson on the subject "Christmas Suggestions" and gave many ideas for Christmas decorations and gifts, providing patterns and illustrations of many of them.

IOWA HAWKEYES

The Iowa Hawkeyes 4-H club met at the Rowan school on Monday of last week, with 16 members present. President Kenneth Norem called the meeting to order.

Plans were made for a Christmas party, with members of the Iowa U-Go-I-Go club as guests. Chairmen selected were: Jerry Aldrich, decorations; Larry Aldrich, entertainment; Tommy Aldrich, food. Each chairman is to choose his own committee.

Our old record books were returned to us along with inserts to be used for the new club year. Tommy Aldrich gave a demonstration showing us how to tie a necktie. Tommy and Jerry Aldrich showed pictures they had taken on their trip to the Boy Scout Jamboree last summer.

John Lager was elected historian of the Iowa Hawkeyes 4-H club. The club discussed the things to consider in choosing a 4-H project. Raymond Aldrich, leader, explained the duties of each club officer.

NOTICE

TO THE RUPTURED: To wear a truss, holding only part time, invites serious trouble by allowing the hernia to enlarge each year. A neglected hernia may be responsible for many chronic ailments such as loss of energy, leg and back acne, stomach trouble and nervousness. Any truss belted tightly around retards circulation to the legs often causing numbness. Come in and see the NEW TYPE SECURITY TRUSS, which is holding ruptures formerly believed hopeless. W. E. RISHEL, who has had many years experience in truss fitting, will explain this truss at:

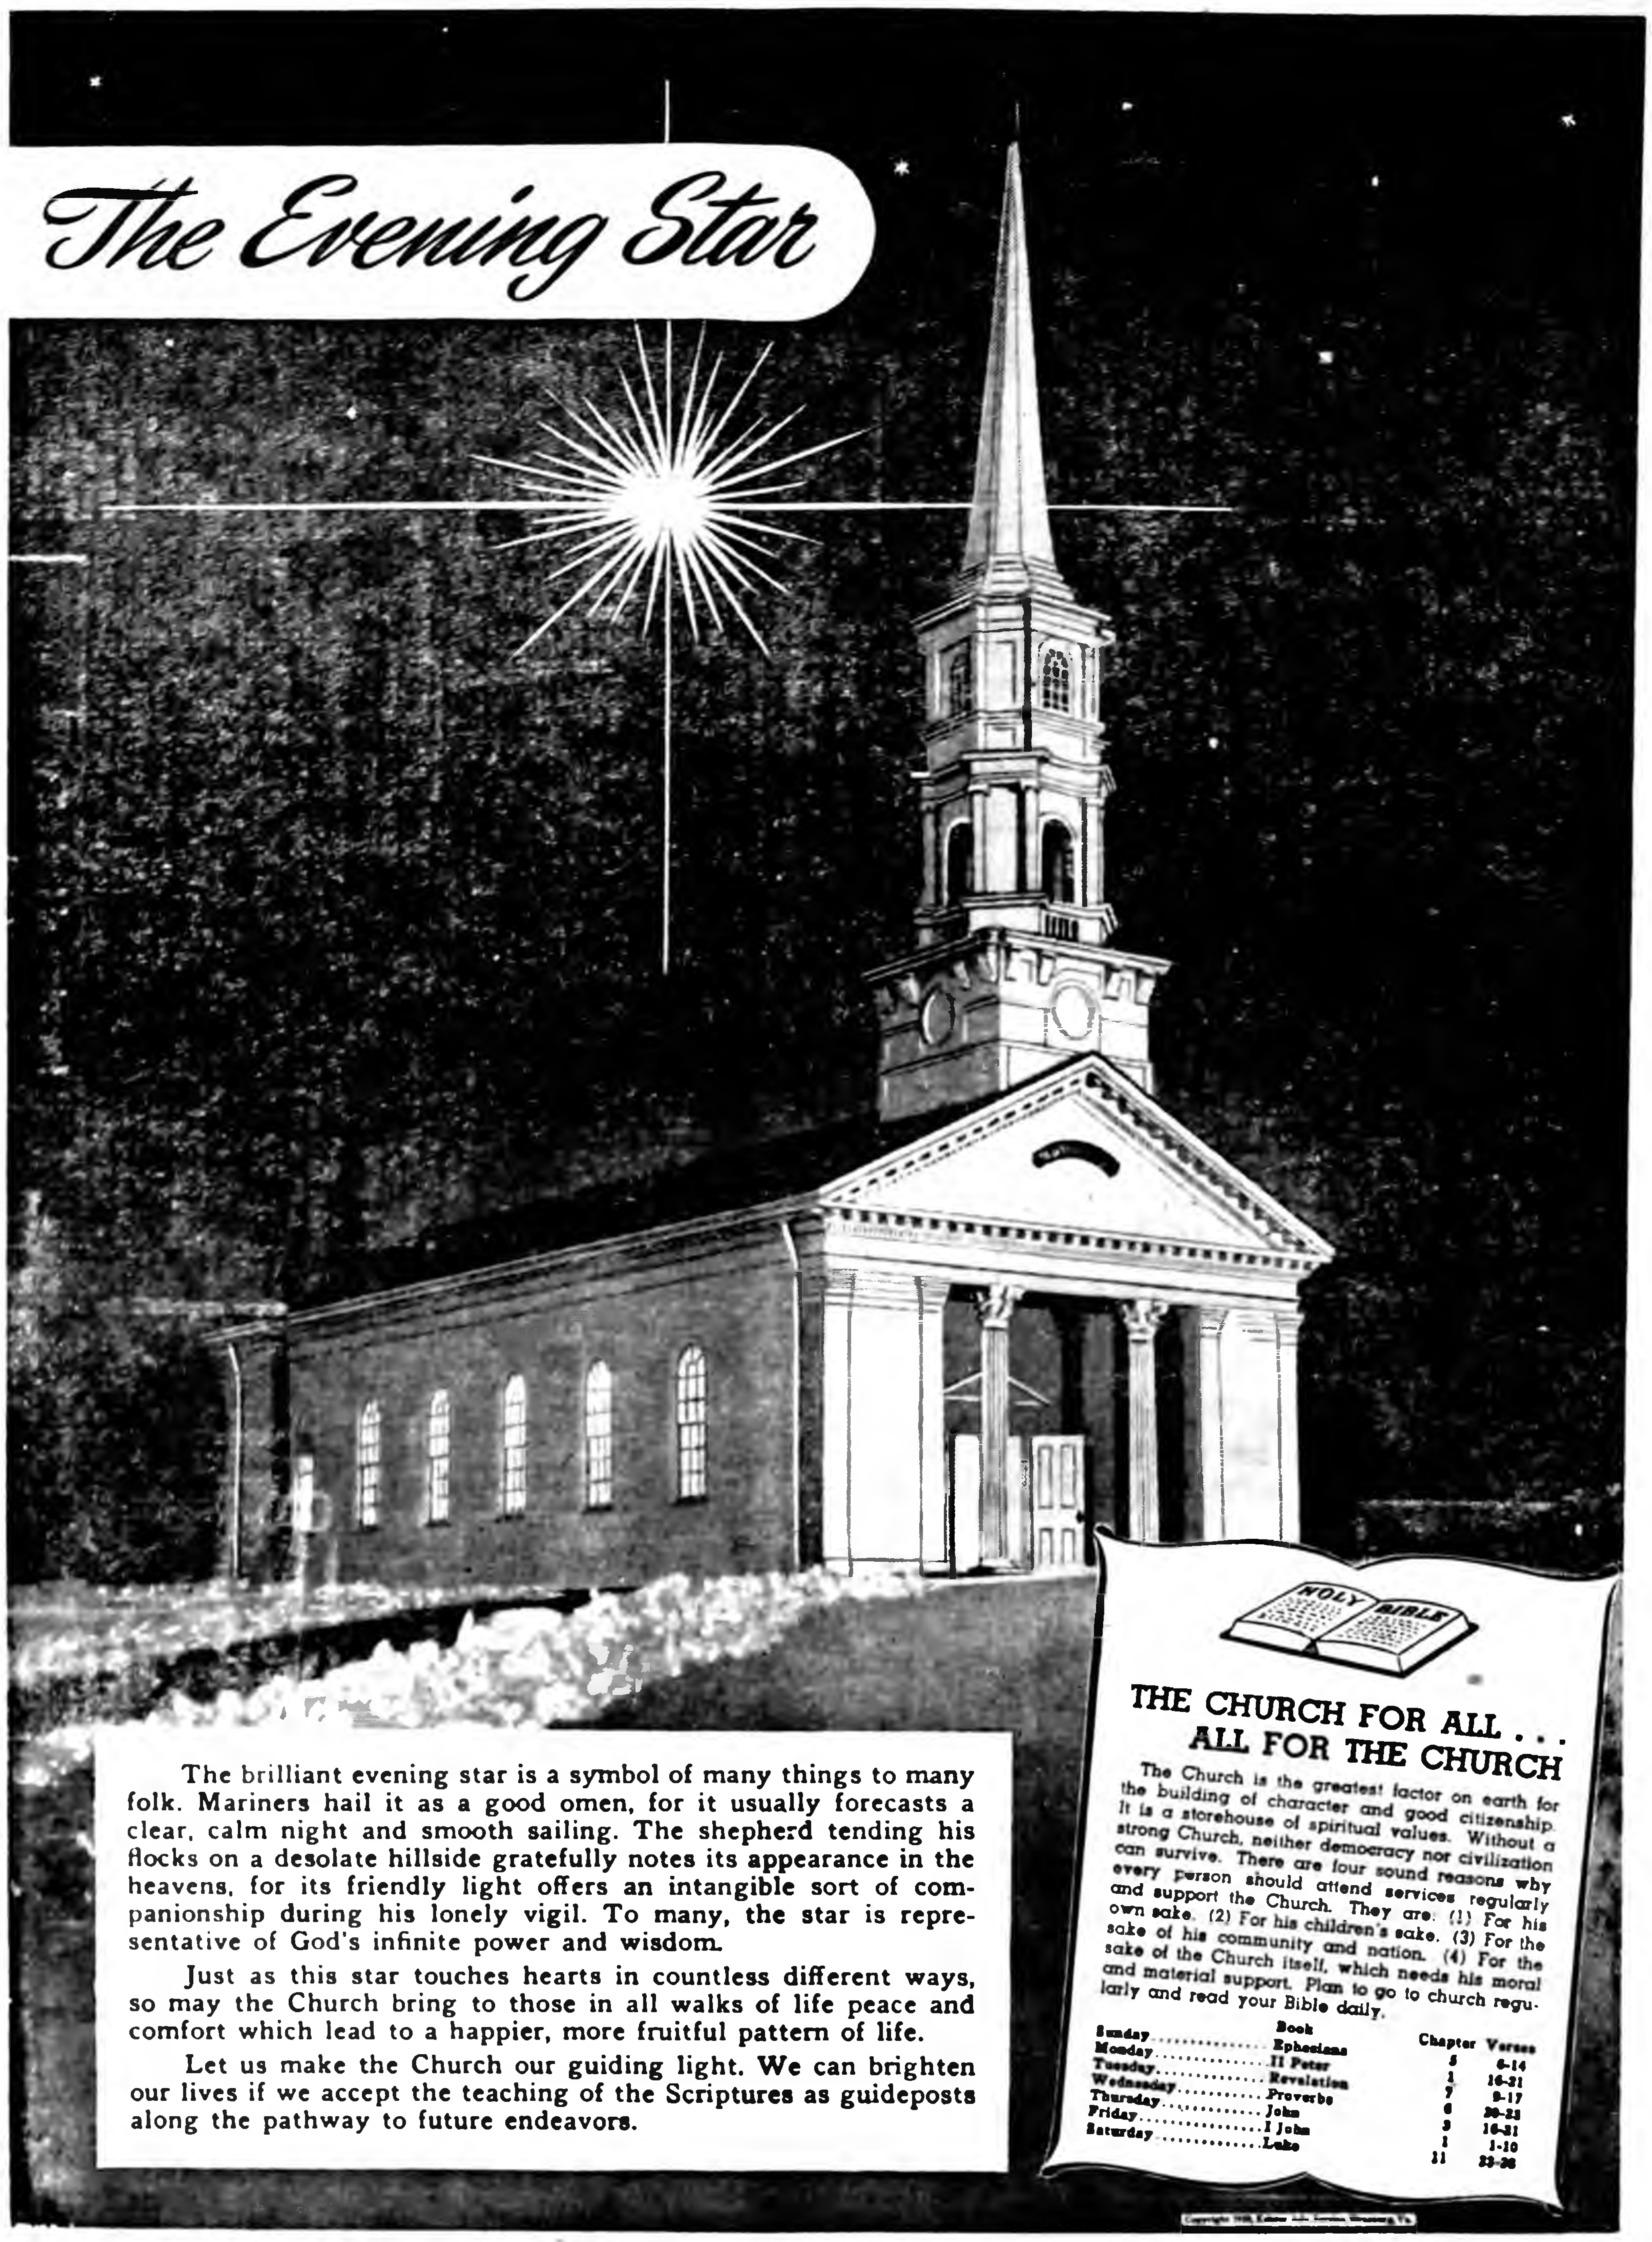
The Evening Star



The brilliant evening star is a symbol of many things to many folk. Mariners hail it as a good omen, for it usually forecasts a clear, calm night and smooth sailing. The shepherd tending his flocks on a desolate hillside gratefully notes its appearance in the heavens, for its friendly light offers an intangible sort of companionship during his lonely vigil. To many, the star is representative of God's infinite power and wisdom.

Just as this star touches hearts in countless different ways, so may the Church bring to those in all walks of life peace and comfort which lead to a happier, more fruitful pattern of life.

Let us make the Church our guiding light. We can brighten our lives if we accept the teaching of the Scriptures as guideposts along the pathway to future endeavors.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Way Back When

TEN YEARS AGO

E. M. Lathrop, probably The Independent's most loyal subscriber, has taken the paper under a succession of names—Belmond Herald, Iowa Valley Press, Herald-Press—since 1883. He first subscribed at the age of 21, on the eve of a trip to Dakota, where he homesteaded.

—1940—

Six prizes will be awarded by the Community Club in a Christmas window decorating contest—three for homes and three for business places.

—1940—

Roger Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brady and a student at Loras college, is listed in the 1939-40 editon of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges".

—1940—

Buhner and Hanson of Eagle Grove announce the opening of a flower and gift shop in the Wolle building on Main street, directly across from the post office.

—1940—

Cecil Carstens, formerly of Monticello, has moved with his family into the former Thomas Hood residence and taken up his new duties here with the Central States Electric company.

—1940—

Tuesday morning, Dec. 3, the temperature reached a new low for the year, descending to 13 below zero.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

At a recent meeting of the city council, that body voted to make a charge of $25 per call for use of the new fire truck outside of the incorporate limits.

—1930—

Ellis Burk suffered a broken collarbone a week ago Monday when part of a branch fell on him as he was chopping some branches from a tree.

—1930—

Ben Dorenkamp is the new salesman for the Rawleigh line of medicines, taking the territory vacated by T. Halfwassen.

—1930—

—1930—

Dora Buchanan and Marvin Sjoberg were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage in Clarion Saturday evening. They are making their home with his sister, Mrs. R. Thompson, for the present.

—1930—

Ray Best is holding a public auction of livestock and farm machinery on Wednesday, Dec. 10. Lewis Hauge will be the auctioneer.

—1930—

Dr. Snearly of Goodell and his wife are moving this week to Houston, Texas.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

William Albert has sold out his pool hall to a brother, Roy Albert, who comes from the northern part of Minnesota.

—1920—

A deal was consumated recently whereby J. W. Scott of Iowa Falls acquires the business of the Belmond Battery station, formerly owned by Ted Townsan.

—1920—

Filing of campaign expenses by candidates for county offices in the recent election shows that C. N. Hildebrand spent $26.22, mostly for ads in the Belmond papers.

—1920—

Relatives here received word last week that Del Hake of Minot, N. D. former Belmond resident, is seriously ill from an attack of smallpox.

—1920—

Mr. and Mrs. Orpha Anderson are the parents of a baby boy who arrived Dec. 4.

—1920—

In a play presented Friday afternoon at the high school as part of the literary program, the following students had parts: Beatrice Bailey, Clifford Johnson, Grace Quigley, Ennis Allen, Fred Vestwebber, Merrill Stapley, Boyd Hake, Edwin Christie.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The city council is engaged in the laudable effort to make the water works self-sustaining. At present, the water rent does not pay for the pumping.

Mr. Quandt of Mesersey transferred here last Thursday on his way to Oklahoma on a prospecting trip.

—1900—

Someone has made the very interesting statement that one bushel of corn makes four gallons of whiskey, which retails at $16. Out of this the government gets $3, the railroad gets $4, the manufacturer $4, the vender $4 and the farmer 40 cents. The drinker gets roaring drunk and his boots full of menagerie stock, to say nothing of having two or three fights, getting arrested and a $14.75 fine. All from one poor bushel of corn.

BRED LIKE GOOD HYBRID CORN

With Hy-Lines in your laying house, you gather extra eggs throughout the year. Rugged Hy-Line pullets generally keep laying at a money-making pace right through sub-zero temperatures and summer heat-waves. Hy-Lines, bred like good hybrid corn, lay steadily and profitably for 12 to 14 months and longer in many cases. These hardy egg machines usually lay 2 to 6 dozen more eggs per bird per year than average standard breeds. Order now for 1951.

What steps up the flavor?

BUTTER!

Just a pat of butter in each bowl of soup doubles its appetite appeal. Adds nutrition, too. And butter does so much for the appetite appeal of other foods. Its natural golden color comes from rich golden cream -- since four pints of cream go into the making of each pound of butter.

For nutrition, for health, for downright goodness . . . there's nothing finer than the high-score Iowa butter for which our creamery has built such a reputation. Use butter generously in cooking, at every meal.

A. G. McMullen Victim of Heart Attack; Age 66

A. G. McMullen, manager of the Woodford Wheeler Lumber company, died suddenly at his home last Thursday evening about 9:00 o'clock following a heart attack. He was 66 years of age.

Although he had been suffering from a heart ailment, he had felt quite well the past week and on the day of his death had driven with Mrs. McMullen to Fertile for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Everett Evenson, and family.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Boone Funeral Home in Belmond, Rev. J. Heber Miller of the Belmond Methodist church officiating. Graveside services were held prior to burial at Glidden, former home of the McMullens.

Pallbearers were A. G. Ruka, J. J. Cook, Ira Langlitz, Walter Boller, Harold Cunningham and Amos Hanson.

Mr McMullen had been in failing health since last summer and in October had spent a week at Steele Memorial hospital in Belmond. On advice of his physician he had been taking a rest from his managerial duties at the lumber yard.

Allison G. McMullen was born Oct. 18, 1884, to George E. and Rosa Alice Shirk McMullen at Harlan. He attended school at Irwin, where the family made their home for 40 years.

On April 10, 1910, he was married to Maude Chryst of Shenandoah They made their first home at Gray, where he was manager of a lumber yard.

This work he continued in several locations, including Valparaiso, Neb., Glidden and Early, before coming to Goodell 14 years ago.

Five daughters were born to the McMullens: Alice (Mrs. George Brooks) of Schaller, Gladys (Mrs. Harold Pullen) of Sac City, Hazel (Mrs. R. E. Culp) of Los Angelus, Calif., Katherine (Mrs. Everett Evenson) of Fertile, and an infant daughter, Mildred, who died in 1924.

Mr McMullen is survived by his wife, four daughters, two granddaughters and eight grandsons; a brother, Harry R. McMullen of Cedar Rapids; and a niece, Mrs Frank Smith of Muskegon, Mich.

He had been a member of the Masonic lodge since 1911 and was a member of the Methodist church, having joined the church at Glidden in 1921

VOL. 31 NO. 9 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond, Wright County, Iowa Thursday, December 14, 1950. OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

Hospital Plans Approved by State Department of Health

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

Read something in the Clarion paper of last week that made our eyes pop just a bit. According to the story on the Britt-Clarion basketball game, the Cowboys' coach used his regulars only seven minutes during the game—which the Eagles won by a 54-29 count.

Coach Johnson explained (according to the Monitor) that he was saving his boys for their conference opener the following night.

We've heard of a coach benching his first string when a game was hopelessly lost—or conclusively won. But this maneuver was a new one to us.

—M-S—

The newspaper report says that the Cowboy first-stringers outscored Britt 16 to 10 while they were in the game. Since the Eagles led at halftime 34 to 8, it's obvious Clarion's regulars weren't used at all until the last half. Maybe they were held out until Britt's second team took the floor.

If we were the Britt coach, we suspect we'd feel Clarion made a mistake even scheduling the game. We never thought of it being beyond a high school athlete's stamina to occasionally play basketball two nights in a row.

It's strictly none of our business—but we WERE a mite amused that after all precautions taken, the keenly anticipated conference game was postponed because of bad weather.

—M-S—

Anyone in the newspaper or printing business is bound to come acropper now and then with an error that sneaks past the proof-reader. You can make a slip of the tongue, and cover up in a hurry; but get a slip in print and it's there for all to scoff at.

Luin Cox pointed out to us a flummox in the state's instruction sheet for completing the income tax blank. It advises that every year each of us must submit a return . . . "If during such year his martial status and the amount of his gross or net income bring him within one of the following classes:" . . .

As for ourselves, our martial status brings us within Class 3-A.

—M-S—

Chalk up one able effort to the credit of Coach Jim Scott. With only a minute to go in Tuesday night's Belmond-Lake Mills game—and the Broncs ahead only 39-38—Scotty's mastery of the rule book gave Belmond a chance at a free throw that COULD have proved mighty important.

With the ball out of bounds, Lake Mills illegally called a "time out". Mr. Scott bounded to his feet demanding a technical foul be called against the Bulldogs. Though the game officials hadn't been immediately aware of the rule infraction, they agreed that Scotty was within his rights and Jack Riggs was permitted one gratis toss.

Jack found the pressure too great, and was unsuccessful in his attempt to extend the Broncos' margin to two points. As it turned out, it didn't make any difference, anyway. But we readily give Coach Scott credit for being "on the ball".

TWO BOYS SCHEDULED TO APPEAR IN COURT AT CLARION SATURDAY

Charges were filed last Friday against Gary Dipple, 14, and Glenn Lathrop, 18, in connection with the recent series of break-ins. Both youths are to be heard in district court at Clarion this Saturday.

Dipple will appear before Judge G. R. Hill, acting in the capacity of juvenile judge, to answer to a charge of juvenile delinquency. When questioned last Friday by Sheriff Bob Blecker, Dipple not only admitted being involved in the entries earlier this month, but also confessed to several other instances of illegal entry.

Lathrop, not falling within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, was charged with breaking and entering. After hearing in the justice court of O. E. McGahey in Clarion on Saturday, he was held only until $1,000 bond had been posted in his behalf.

Sheriff Blecker says that, in view of the defendant's relative incompetence, he and County Attorney Harlan Larson would ask clemency of the court in Lathrop's case. Roy Henderson will appear before Judge Hill as counsel for the youth.

It is not the actual intent of the county authorities to press criminal charges against Lathrop, Blecker explained, but to see if medical or psychiatric aid cannot be obtained for the boy through the action of the court.

EXTRA P. O. HOURS

Postmaster C. J. Brady announces that, due to the flood of Christmas mail, the post office windows will remain open for business during the entire day on the Saturdays of this week and next.

HEY, GUYS! HEY, GALS! LOOK WHAT'S COMIN'

Fee-male Rasslers Tussle Here Next Week

MEN! Are you finding that married life has lost some of its oomph? Has some of the tenderness departed from your private domestic heaven? Do you find the little woman a mite less beguiling than she seemed when you were still angling for that 'I do"?

Next Wednesday the Veterans Memorial corporation will give you opportunity to spread a new layer of frosting on your state of wedded bliss. They aim to make you so well satisfied with your helpmate that you'll even cough up that Christmas shopping money with a SMILE!

Yep, the Vets are bringing to town a bevy of female wrestlers who are so rough, tough and ready for mayhem that your light of love will—by contrast—again seem the same, sweet turtle dove of courtship days.

As for the ladies — the Vets guarantee that they can pick up some very excellent ideas on how to keep the Old Man in line. When sweet talk and tears fail, a properly applied hammer-lock or flying mare are practically certain of bringing recalcitrant hubbies to time.

Violet Ray of Knoxville, Tenn., described as "world's light-weight champion and the most scientific wrestler in the women's division", will meet Princess Dawn Eagle in the feature match at Veterans' Memorial hall on Dec. 20.

To make the record straight, we'll tell you—Violet is the "heroine". "This pretty little southern belle," again we quote, "depends on speed and science rather than rough tactics to defeat her opponents."

Now, Dawn Eagle—she's a different proposition. Half Irish and half Cherokee Indian, she's a mighty mean gal; likes to strengthen her grip by yanking handsful of hair out of adversaries' heads and sharpen her nails on a human epidermis. Every boo is a boost for Dawn Eagle.

Second match on the card will bring together Gorgeous Georgia and li'l ol' Daisy Mae from Alabam', the hill billy queen of the canvas mat. Anything that Violet and Dawn Eagle leave out of their script is pretty likely to appear in that of Georgia and Daisy.

First match starts at 8:30 p. m. It's for a worthy cause. The Vet's hope it'll enable them to acquire ownership of a few more bricks in the Memorial hall.

4-Way Car Crash Nets OMVI Count

One crash led to another as Harry Eygabroad got himself involved in a mix-up last Friday night that resulted in charges being filed against him on a count of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

According to Sheriff Bob Blecker, who with Patrolman Harland Sievers and Officer Harve Seals apprehended him some 45 minutes after the turmoil had subsided, Eygabroad came to grief at the intersection adjacent to the Bowl-Mor about 11:15 o'clock.

First, Eygabroad's car collided with that of Mrs. Evelyn Johnson; the Johnson car swerved on the icy street and crashed into the parked auto of Paul Rogalla, then caromed into another parked vehicle owned by John Robertson. In justice court of O. E. McGahey at Clarion on Saturday, Eygabroad was bound over to the grand jury and released on posting $500 bond.

A day earlier, Patrolman Sievers had arrested Laurel Morford of Clarion on a charge of drunken driving, a mile south of Greyhound station. On Friday he was heard by McGahey, bound over, and released on $300 bond.

Early Sunday morning Henry Sandman, farmhand who works for C. J. Smith, was arrested in Belmond by Patrolmen Sievers and Al Sparby on an OMVI count. He was also charged with driving while his license and registration were under suspension.

As Sandman is a "two-time loser" on drunken driving, his bond was set at $1,000 on that count and $500 on the lesser charge. At midweek he had not posted the money and was in the county jail.

Hearings of all three men were tentatively scheduled before Judge G. R. Hill in district court this coming Saturday.

Word Received of Death Of Mrs. A. E. Chamberlin

Word was received by friends here the first of the week of the death of Mrs. Albert E. Chamberlin of Seattle, Wash. From the limited information received, it was understood that she was injured last Friday in a fall at her home and died the following day. Funeral services were held at Seatttle on Monday.

The Chamberlins lived here for a number of years, during which time Mr. Chamberlin was printing foreman for the Belmond Herald-Press and later for the Independent. Mrs. Chamberlin is survived by her husband; twin sons, Clark and Curtis; a daughter, Barbara; and a twin sister, who lives in Seattle.

Mr. Chamberlin's address, for the benefit of those who might wish to write him a note, is 4706 Ninth avenue NE, Seattle, Wash.

O. J. Hanson Again Elected Chairman Of County's PMA

Oscar J. Hanson of Clarion was returned to chairmanship of the Wright County Production and Marketing administration as township delegates gathered last Saturday at the PMA office at Clarion.

Also reelected were Vice Chairman Hiram B. Vandeclip of Dows; C. C. Woodin of Belmond, regular committee member; Martin O. Thompson, first alternate; and Albert T. Thompson of Clarion, second alternate. Arliene D. Henry continues as secretary-treasurer.

Following the election a review of the various phases of the farm program were discussed. Mr. Hanson stressed that the primary object of the program is to maintain soil resources and to stabilize, insofar as possible, the price of farm commodities.

Success in this depends in large part on the interest shown both by the committeemen and the producer, said the chairman.

During the past week or so elections have been held in all but Wall Lake township to select the township committeemen who will aid the county committee in carrying out the soil conservation and commodity loan programs for the coming year.

Committees elected in the Belmond vicinity follow, listings showing chairmen, vice chairman, regular member, first and second alternates in that order:

Belmond township — J. Ralph Christie, Lloyd Lerdal, Galen H. Johnson, Walter H. Schleiffarth, William Gifford. Grant—A. W. Helmick, Ed Lindsay, Earl Watts, Kenneth Hardy and Frank Sebert.

Iowa—Loran Hadley, Don A. Burt, John Lager, Howard Hansen, Vergene Andrews; Norway—Albert T. Thompson, Art Rietema, Sr., Bert Brouwer, Clarence S. Johnson, Nick Christians.

Pleasant—Alvin Halfpap, Hio Goeman, Bud Boelman, W. J. Boelman, Lester Buseman.

Kallestad Given Trophy For 10 Years of Service

Leonard B. Kallestad of Belmond was recently presented a golden ear-of-corn trophy by the Pioneer Hi-Bred Corn company for completing 10 years of service as a Pioneer seed corn salesman.

The award was presented at a silver anniversary get-together party featuring the 25th year of the Pioneer company.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Rammer Goeman, member of the Belmond school board and prominent Pleasant township farmer, suffered a heart attack at his home about 3:00 a. m. Sunday. Although he will have to remain inactive for several weeks, his doctor reports that Mr. Goeman is showing quite satisfactory improvement. He was not taken to the hospital, but is being cared for at home.

Santa Will Greet, Treat Youngsters Here December 23

Old St. Nick is due for his annual pre-Christmas visit to Belmond a week from Saturday, Dec. 23. He'll be on downtown Main street at 2:30 p. m. and is looking forward to meeting the boys and girls of this community and the surrounding area. He'll have treats for all.

Belmond's Chamber of Commerce, which made arrangements for Santa's visit, also has some free, holiday entertainment lined up for the kiddies in the form of movie matinees this coming Satnrday and on Thursday of next week.

Two complete film programs will be presented at the New Belmond theatre on each afternoon, starting at 1:30 and 3:30 o'clock. Manager Gene Bradley says that a number of the youngsters' favorite cartoon subjects will be featured on each of the programs.

For the benefit of mothers and dads and all other members of the family, Belmond merchants have as fine a line of gift merchandise to offer this year as they've had in a long time.

Practically all items available in the bigger city stores can be purchased right on Main street—without risking the hazards of winter driving and bucking large crowds.

Store hours are being extended to 9:30 p. m. on both Thursday and Friday of next week — the same hours that will be observed on Saturday—to give last-minute shoppers added opportunity to find just the gifts they want.

UNITED NATIONS MOTIF TO FEATURE MUSICALE AND CARNIVAL TONIGHT

Stirring music of many lands and a carnival and bazaar in the same motif will provide those attending tonight's United Nations musicale at the Congregational church both an interesting and entertaining evening, promises Jack Shepard, president of the sponsoring Congo club.

Music of a spiritual and sentimental nature was selected for the program, rather than military or patriotic aires, to emphasize the United Nations' goal of world peace as opposed to strict nationalism.

Besides the soloists previously announced—Mrs. Leland Lieuwen, Ellis Elliott and George Infelt—featured solo parts will also be sung by Paul Griesy and Dick Elliott. Guest singers, from outside the congregation, will be Mrs. Clark McNeal, Mrs. A. W. Loats and M. C. Jensen.

The carnival and bazaar in the basement will be open from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. for the benefit of school children. At the conclusion of the program, which starts at 8:00 p. m., the basement booths will again be open for business.

The complete musical program appears on page 9.

Levy on Belmond Property Boosted 2.25 Mills for '50

Tax levy for the city of Belmond for the year 1950 will be a shade more that 2.25 mills higher than for last year, according to figures released by County Assessor F. Ross Henry.

Reflected in the raise are slight increases in the askings of all three taxing bodies whose requests are included in the levy—the Belmond Independent School district, city of Belmond and Wright county.

Not included in the city's levy is the proposed one and a quarter mill for payment on the approved $36,000 in hospital bonds. These bonds will not be issued until the time has arrived that the funds are immediately needed .

If construction of the hospital goes through next year as planned, the bond levy will be made the first year in proportion to that year's actual bonding cost—and thereafter the full maximum millage will likely be levied until the bonds are retired.

Levies for the various taxing bodies this year are: school,33.20 mills; city 10.291; and county, 8.014. These figures compare to 32.953, 9.473 and 7.728 for 1949. Balance of the difference in the two levies is accounted for by the fact that the deduction for monies and credits was 1.9619 mills last year and only 1.06 for 1950, because of the new law exempting $5 000.

Levies in every incorporated town in the county were slighttly higher this year, except in Clarion. The county seat's evy drops from 51.9635 mills to 50.04.

In dollars and cents, Belmond's increased levy will not mean a great deal more tax to any individual—for example, the boost would mean only $5.13 additional tax on a $2,500 property. On the entire city's assessed value of $2,112,014 the added millage will bring only slightly more than $4,750.

Greydon Jenison Battles Typhoon To Protect Radar

Crew Chief Greydon Jenison, serving with the U. S. Air Force on Okinawa, has written to his parents—Mr. and Mrs. Vere Jenison — that he recently underwent a new experience he hopes will prove the only one of its kind in his life.

Recently a typhoon struck the tiny Japanese island, reaching velocities up to 125 miles an hour. Greydon is in the radar division and it was up to his gang to see that the antennas were not demolished by the wind. Customarily they are lowered when a hurricane's expected, but on this occasion there wasn't time.

By means of ropes, the radar crew kept the antennas from buckling. So powerful was the typhoon that the men had to lie down to keep ahold of the rope ends—and even then the wind frequently lifted them off of the ground. From 12:15 to 3:45 a. m. they battled to save the equipment ,the rain drenching them right through their raincoats.

All the men were exhausted and shaky by the time the ordeal was over. However, they're deriving some consolation from the fact that their captain is submitting names of the crew members for citations on the basis of performing above and beyond the call of duty.

War Developments Move Too Rapidly To Allow Reunion

How fast the war moves was dramatically brought home this month to Mrs. Charles Loyd when she and her sailor husband tried fruitlessly to spend a brief time together.

Mr. Loyd's ship, the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Valley Forge, sailed into San Diego harbor on Dec. 1 after seven months in Asiatic waters. As soon as he could get ashore, he happily phoned Mrs. Loyd to tell her the ship was to be in port 15 days and he'd been granted leave.

Plans for a homecoming were rudely blasted the next day when Mrs. Loyd was advised by long distance that all leaves had been cancelled. Her husband urged her to hurry to California for a short reunion.

Soon afterward a third phone call was received. Mr. Loyd regretfully advised his wife that there wouldn't even be time for her to make the western trip. The Valley Forge was to leave in just a few days.

On Wednesday of last week, her decks jammed with planes, the giant carrier departed from California for an unrevealed destination.

Mrs. Loyd—the former Ardys Stearns, who is presently living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stearns—has resigned herself to another long wait. And Mr. Loyd must still look forward to greeting his three-month-old son, Steven Alan, whom he has never yet seen.

Adult Education Council Approves 5 Winter Courses

Five adult education courses were definitely approved and two more tentatively scheduled at a meeting of the Adult Education executive council held on Wednesday of last week.

Ceabern Squires, council secretary, states that replies to questionnaires indicated ample interest to assure classes in agriculture, homemaking, physical training for men, driver training and arts and crafts.

Considerable interest was also evidenced in practical speech and contemporary affairs, and these will be added to the curriculum if the council can round up sufficient class members.

Three outstanding speakers have been engaged by the executive council to appear before the adult education students. Two will address general forums of all night class enrollees and the third will appear at the concluding banquet on March 19.

Frank Miles of Des Moines, well known throughout the state for the many years he served as editor of the Iowa Legionnaire, will be forum speaker on Jan. 15. Ray Cunningham of Ames, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Iowa State college, will address a general meeting on Feb. 19. Jack Shelley of Des Moines, manager of radio station WHO's news bureau, will appear as the banquet speaker

As spokesman for the executive group Mr. Squires says, "The council feels that the combination of courses offered, supplemented by these prominent speakers, should provide an interesting and valuable educational program."

Requests for courses other than those presently planned or, under serious consideration, should be addressed to Mr. Squires. Time still remains, before classes start on Jan. 8, to make additions to the list of subjects.

Further Progress Now Hinges Upon Pledge Payments

State health authorities have given preliminary plans for the Belmond community hospital their approval and the draft of working plans has been started by Architect William Beuttler of Sioux City.

This good news was received Wednesday morning by Jack Shepard, chairman of the board of hospital trustees, in a telephone conversation with Mr. Beuttler. The architect only a few moments before had learned from F. W. Pickworth, associate director of the division of hospital services, that the department of health had given the plans its "OK".

According to Mr. Shepard, bids on actual construction of the hospital can be solicited as soon as the working plans are completed. State approval brings to a culmination the first big step towards success of the hospital project.

An editorial elsewhere on this page points out the advantages of paying hospital pledges before the end of the year. It will, of course, be absolutely essential that funds be ready and available before bids on the various phases of hospital construction are let. Consequently, the finance committee strongly urges payment of pledges at the very earliest moment possible. Payments should be made to Treasurer A. C. Hanson.

With the departure of Gene Woolley, hospital committee chairman, from Belmond a vice chairman has been appointed to take active charge of further planning when Mr. Woolley is not available. Glenn Martin will fill the new position.

It is his intention to confer with Mr. Woolley before decisions are made, whenever it is feasible, and the former General Mills plant manager will remain nominal head of the committee.

Mr. Martin is hopeful that a number of potential contributors living in the Belmond area and not previously approached for donations, will now see fit to offer gifts toward the hospital fund. Such unsolicited donations will be most gratefully received and can play an important part in assuring complete success to the hospital project.

Jury Lists Drawn For January Term

Names of both grand and petit jurors for the January term of district court at Clarion were drawn this week by Clerk R. V. Goslin. Judge G. R. Hill will preside over the session. Grand jurors are to report at 10:00 a. m. on Jan. 9 and petit jurors at the same hour on Jan. 15.

On the grand jury list are: Ben Fetrow and D. W. Woodin of Belmond; Otto Knudson, Martin Hill, George Kirstein, Herman Cramer and Stanley Anderson of Clarion; Chester Edwards, Goldfield; Moine Yanney, Renwick; C. R. Jacobson, Galt; Jesse Payton, Dows; and Howard Jorgensen, Eagle Grove.

Petit jurors drawn from this vicinity include: Belmond—Marjorie Gunderson, Helmer Hanson, Nellie Leebrick, Olga Rogalla, Wilmer Burk, John D. Campbell, Christine Peterson, Robert Kalkwarf, Ralph Baker, Mike McLaughlin and George Dorr.

Rowan—C. H. Lindsay and Harry Veeder; Kanawha—Chester J. Johnson and Ernest Mickelson.

YOU CAN DO YOURSELF A FAVOR BY PAYING HOSPITAL PLEDGE NOW

You can do yourself a favor TWO ways—and do your community a good turn—by paying a good share or all of your pledge to the new hospital RIGHT NOW!

If you question the accuracy of that statement, take a look at the table below. It shows what income tax savings a married couple can effect by taking "Contributions" credit on their hospital pledge this year. All figures are based on the assumption that man and wife are "splitting" the breadwinner's income on their tax report to help limit net income to a minimum amount.

Assumed Net Income	If Hospital Pledge Were	Tax Savings Would Be
$7,500	$750	$150.28
5,000	500	87.00
4,000	350	60.90
3,500	250	43.50
2,500	100	17.40

Deduction for contributions is allowable up to 15 per cent; so if your contributions in 1950 for charitable, church and similar purposes do not approach the maximum figure (and for how many of us do they?), you can quickly see how you give yourself BREAK NO. 1 by clearing your hospital pledge at a true cost to yourself of only 80 to 83 cents on the dollar.

BREAK NO. 2 comes in helping expedite construction of the hospital to assure yourself, your loved ones, friends and neighbors of the BEST hospitalization facilities at the EARLIEST possible moment.

Don't forget that only last week 16 Iowa hospitals were refused licenses to continue in operation, and that the Belmond doctors have been told that our present hospital will be allowed to operate only while reasonable time is allowed for its replacement with a modern, fireproof structure.

That's where your GOOD TURN to the community comes in. Only by cooperation of ALL in the Belmond area who will utilize the new hospital can bids be promptly let for its construction. Settlement of a pledge here and a pledge there won't do the job. It's YOUR pledge as much as any other upon which rapid progress on the community project depends.

SO PAY THOSE PLEDGES NOW . . . in full, if at all possible; or if that is out of the question, at least pay in good part!

FAMILY LIVING GROUP DEVISES STUDY PLANS FOR COUNTY PROGRAM

Bi-monthly committee meeting of township chairmen of the Family Living program was held in the courtroom in Clarion on Tuesday of last week. In the morning, the county chairmen met with Dee Maier, district home home economics supervisor, to plan the afternoon training school for all township chairmen.

The afternoon session was presided over by Mrs. Gerhard Thompson, county chairman. Mrs. Don Martin's resignation for county vice chairman was accepted. Mrs. Nels Lindvall and Mrs. Ed Kirstein were appointed as a committee to submit a nomination for new county vice chairman.

Jean Strohm, county nurse, gave a short talk on the duties of a public health nurse. Mrs. Fred Kirstein, county 4-H chairman, reported on the girls 4-H clubs.

The women then divided into special groups with different county chairmen in charge. The group decided what problems will be studied in the county this year. A copy of these will be sent to each township chairman.

The meeting closed with the group listening to station WOI at Ames broadcast a wire recording made at the women's State Farm Bureau convention. Mrs. Gerhard Thompson was one of the three county chairmen on the broadcast.

Changes in Beef Grades Scheduled to Take Place On 29th of This Month

County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman calls Wright county farmers' and homemakers' attention to the fact that changes in federal grade standards in beef will become effective Dec. 29.

Changes include combining the present "Prime" and "Choice" beef grades under the name "Prime"; renaming the present "Good" grade as "Choice"; and filling up the "Good" grade with beef from the higher quality young cattle now graded "Commercial". Beef from older cattle will continue to be graded "Commercial".

This shift in beef grade names should have no effect on price, U. S. department of agriculture officials say, since beef prices are determined by relatives demand for different kinds of beef rather than by grade designations.

Bowman points out that grade revisions will affect only "Prime, Choice, Good and Commercial" carcass beef grades. Standards for "Utility", "Cutter" and "Canner" grades will remain unchanged.

Steps also are being taken by the USDA to bring the grade standards for slaughter cattle in line with the revised grades of beef.

Bowman explains that — to keep down confusion in the changeover to these new grades, retailers, wholesalers and others financially interested in beef federally graded prior to Dec. 29 may request that the beef be re-rolled with the new grade designation without charge after the change becomes effective.

Broncos to Have Dows and Clarion As Sectional Rivals

It's a long, long pull to sectional meet time — Feb. 19-24—but last weekend the Iowa State High School Athletic association released the 1951 tourney pairings and sites. They show that Belmond will travel to Clarion for its tournament debut and will meet Dows as a first-round opponent. Clarion is the only other Class A school in the meet.

Garner and Buffalo Center are the only two North Iowa conference teams that will face loop foes in the opening round of any of the sectional meets.

However, it is certain that not more than four NI teams will advance to district play, as Northwood and Lake Mills are both in one district, and Garner, Buffalo Center and Forest City are all assigned to the same tournament.

Only Belmond and Britt stand no chance of running up against NI competition in the sectional play.

Following are sectional pairings of most interest in this vicinity, and the sites at which they will be played:

FERTLE—Class A: Northwood vs. Clear Lake; Lake Mills vs. bye.

FOREST CITY—Class A: Garner vs. Buffalo Center; Forest City vs. Thompson.

CLARION—Class A: DOWS vs. BELMOND; Clarion vs. by. Class B: Goodell vs. Alexander; Rowan vs. bye; Meservey vs. Goldfield; Franklin Cons. Latimer vs. bye.

LUVERNE—Class A: Britt vs. West Bend. Class B: Renwick vs. Corwith; Wesley vs. bye; Vernon Cons., Renwick, vs. Luverne; Kanawha vs. bye.

Britt Five Downs Broncs 49 to 35

Britt tripped up Belmond in the Broncs' conference basketball opener last Friday night on the Eagles' court, finishing strong to take a 49-35 verdict.

Coach Jim Scott gives the opinion, after seeing the Britt aggregation under full steam, that the Eagles may give Forest City a real scrap for this year's North Iowa title.

It was a hard fought game Friday, and the Broncos were right in the thick of it until their defense ripped at the seams in the final 10 minutes. Britt jumped into an early lead and held an 11-9 advantage at the quarter. They had extended their margin to 23-15 by halftime.

When play was resumed, Britt added another point — and then Belmond initiated a rally that knotted the score at 27-all with only a couple of minutes remaining in the quarter. Then the wheel came off.

Lanky Ken Cosgriff, who racked up 19 points for the evening, led a Britt surge that left the Bronc completely foundered. By the end of the third stanza the Eagles had regained the lead, 33 to 27, and went on from there to win with ease.

Marlyn Watermiller turned in a stand-out defensive game for Belmond, keeping Britt's Larry Miller—an all-conference choice last year—well in hand most of the time. The much taller opposing center was held to three baskets. However, he added four free throws to make him an evening total of 10 points.

Jerry Redden, the Eagles' nifty guard, gave Cosgriff good support in scoring. He accounted for 13 points. Eight points were the most any Bronco could accumulate, both Dave Helland and Jack Riggs turning in that total.

Belmond's frosh-soph outfit won a narrow victory in the opener, 23 to 20. Both teams netted 10 field goals, but Britt made not one of its six free throw attempts and and the junior Broncs laid in three out of 10 from the gratis line.

Dean Gunderson and Claude Larkin scored six points apiece for the winners, and Arlen Pals netted five, Arnette Ter Hark four and Kenny Loats a couple. Sorenson and Hampe led the Eaglets with eight apiece.

Value, Millage--Comparisons
1947 and 1950

January 1st, 1948 the County Assessor law became operative in this state.

It's purpose was to obtain equalization of assessments between individuals, between towns and townships, and between counties.

Figures do not tell the whole story, but they do tell a part of the story, so below we are listing figures which prevailed before the assessor law, and those for this year.

	1947 Assessed Value	1947 Millage	1950 Assessed Value	1950 Millage
Belmond Corp.	1,005,542	72.52	2,112,014	50.445
Clarion Corp.	1,729,846	74.63	3,309.659	50.04
Dows Corp.	486,340	54.34	884,953	42.42
Eagle Grove Corp.	2,203,473	74.11	5,534,172	50.07
Galt Corp.	87,721	54.5	118,569	44.16
Goldfield Corp.	384,446	54.87	655,150	44.76
Rowan Corp.	149,369	48.83	264,447	46.69
Woolstock Corp.	144,963	89.89	204,069	60.41
Townships	22,657,869	Ave. 27.75	34,865,949	Ave. 16.32
Utility Values	2,810,765		4,691,020
Total Wright Co.	28,849,569	8.73	47,948,982	8.014

We believe this has been accomplished without doing an injustice to anyone, although in a few cases radical adjustments have been made.

In the main the changes are the result of better equalization and more realistic values.

In spite of reduced millages, some still feel taxes are too high, yet our taxes are the result of what the majority insist that our taxing bodies furnish us in the way of service.

Taxes have gone up in recent years, because the cost of living for the local government has gone up, just as your individual living costs have arisen, but the cost of maintaining your local government has increased consideraby less than other overhead items.

Every penny of the tax dollar is spent by local taxing bodies for the benefit of Wright County citizens, and it is being spent by men who are themselves helping to pay these taxes and are trying to get the most for every dollar they spend.

After all, these are the only taxes that you can find out where very dollar goes.

We are getting more direct benefit from our local tax dollar than any other tax we pay.

We have a direct voice, through our budget hearings, of saying where our tax money goes.

We cannot say the same for any other tax.

We have a higher standard of living and enjoy more modern conveniences than any other people on the face of the globe, and we wouldn't consider trading places with any of them, so,

Let's be willing to be assessed equitably and pay our just share of taxes to keep it that way.

TWO CLUBS COMBINE FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

A Christmas party of the combined Review Club and Femmin's Club members was held on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Ketchum. The entertainment committee included Mrs .Charles Keith, Mrs. Wilbur Wason, Mrs. Duane Olson and Celeste Hadley. Several contests were held and a novel gift exchange was enjoyed. Mrs. Ryle Andrews assisted Mrs. Ketchum in serving lunch.

Mrs. A. O. Pelley and Quay J. Berringer of Hampton were dinner guests Sunday of Esther Fowler.

Joseph McKinley and son Lewis and Herman Frohling and son Eugene attended a cattle sale at Eldora on Saturday.

Book Club Members Hold Annual Christmas Party

Book Club members met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Box for their annual Christmas party, with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Allen serving as assistant host and hostess. The group enjoyed singing a number of carols.

Rev. Harold A. Sanders presented a Christmas story which featured the religious side of the custom of having Christmas trees .

Games were played and an exchange of gifts was held. A free will silver offering was given by the club to be sent to the Lutheran Children's orphanage at Waverly, which is a regular custom.

The lunch trays were decorated with Santa Clauses made from apples. The January meeting will be at the Charles Sellers home.

Karl H. Rietz and Marc Ihm were among those who attended a meeting of the Masonic lodge at Dows Thursday evening. Mr. Rietz was elected worshipful master for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Draves and family moved last week from the old Pepper farm which had been their home for many years to a farm west of Klemme. The farm, which had been family property, was sold to Clair Hill last year. Ronald and Ralph entered the Klemme high school on Monday and Norma entered seventh grade.

Marc Ihm attended a meeting at Belmond Sunday afternoon pertaining to the building of the new hospital there.

DRURY COUSINS HELD CHRISTMAS PARTY

A Drury cousin Christmas party was held Sunday evening at the Eldon Vroman home in Dows. Contests were conducted and there was an exchange of gifts. Those from Rowan attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drury, Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Loran Hadley, Celeste Hadley and Dilene Drury.

16TH ANNUAL VESPERS PROGRAM SUNDAY EVE AT METHODIST CHURCH

The 16th annual Vesper service, to be held in the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, is in the final stages of rehearsal.

"Unto Us is Born—A Saviour" will be presented, with the combined choirs of the Congregational and Methodist churches singing the familiar carols and Marc Ihm acting as the narrator.

M. C. Jensen and Dr. Paul A. Rietz of Belmond are to be the guest performers, singing Adolphe Adam's "O Holy Night" as a duet.

Other special numbers include the arias for alto and soprano from Handel's "Messiah", "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "Come Unto Him", sung by Wilma Whitten and Donna Keleher.

Solo voices in "We Three Kings" will be those of Tom Aldrich, Elmer Bailey, Jr., and Richard Lyons. E. A. Rietz will sing as a tenor solo the beloved "Gesu Bambino".

, Rev. C. Wilbur Egeland and Rev. Harold Sanders, pastors of the churches, will read the annunciation, the magnificat, and nunc dimmittis, from the Holy Scriptures.

Nina Heathershaw is organist for the program and will play a medley of Christmas carols for the prelude and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" for the closing number.

A free will offering will be taken at the door to further the music activities of both the churches.

OPERETTA SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY EVENING

The high school operetta "Love Goes South" is to be presented in the gymnasium Tuesday evening of next week at 8:00 o'clock. The production is under the direction of Mr Irma Elliott.

The story takes place on Colonel Jackson's estate in the south just when his granddaughter, June — played by Donna Keleher—returns from study in the north.

While there, she has fallen in love with a Yankee named Bill Fuller, acted by Tom Aldrich. Colonel Jackson, portrayed by Richard Lyons, hates all northerners and does his best to break up the romance.

The cast includes a chorus of girls and boys in a number of dances. Mrs. Nina Heathershaw is acting as accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Henke of Waterloo visited the past week with their daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Drury, and family.

A business deal was transacted last week whereby E. A. Rieetz purchased from H. L. Hadley the house and property now tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Ingraham. Mr. and Mrs. Rietz have sold their present home to Mr and Mrs. Chris Henke of Waterloo who will make their home here. They are parents of Mrs. Lloyd Drury. Mr. and Mrs. Ingraham are undecided as to where they will move.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Wilbur Egeland and Charles went to Algona Sunday afternoon where they attended a mass meeting for the Methodist church concluding the week of evangelism services.

Mrs. Leo Finn of Clarion was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Rietz Tuesday evening and attended the meeting of the Book Club at the Box home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McDermott and Mrs. Russell J. Olson went to Des Moines on Thursday, where they visited with Mrs. Olson's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Churchill. On Friday Mr. McDermott left for Camp Pendleton, Calif., having been called back to duty with the U. S. Marine corps. Mrs. McDermott will make her home with her parents during her husband's absence. Mrs. Olson and Mrs. McDermott returned home with Mr. Olson who is employed by a construction firm at Omaha.

ORDER TREES EARLY FROM STATE NURSERY FOR SPRING PLANTING

Landowners who wish to obtain forest seedlings, multiflora rose and wildlife plants from the state forest nursery for 1951 spring planting may place orders now with local county extension directors, soil district farm planners and conservation officers.

The state conservation commission reports that the supply of multiflora rose is larger than last year. Tree seedlings available include: black locust, green ash, black walnut seeds, red pine, Virginia pine, and jack pine.

Also available are wildlife plants which include wild plum, wild grape, Siberian pea, dogwood, and Russian olive.

Prices are $15.00 per thousand for multiflora rose and pine seedlings; $1.25 per 250 black walnut seeds; $8.00 per thousand for all other plants.

Plants cannot be purchased for landscaping or ornamental purposes, but are available for erosion control and wildlife plantings.

Applications will be received up to March 15, but those who wish seedlings are urged to place orders early. Planting stock will be delivered C. O. D. express. Applicants will be notified when the stock is shipped from the

Broncos Surprise Favored Bulldogs; Win 39-38 Upset

Belmond gave the dope bucket a resounding kick Tuesday night by upsetting a highly favored Lake Mills outfit, 39 to 38. Flashing into an early lead, the Broncos led throughout the game except for a brief time in the final quarter when the Bulldogs twice drew into a tie and once edged ahead 35-34.

It was sheer scrap that won for the Belmond boys. Lake Mills presented the best organized attack during a fair share of the game and took more than its share of rebounds, particularly in the last half.

As the buzzer ended the game, the perplexed visitors eyed the time clock unbelievingly—as if thinking a few crucial seconds MUST remain that would put them in front.

With one of the squad's best alternates, Alan Meyer, home with the flu, the Broncos were hard hit when Marlyn Watermiller left the game on fouls near the end of the third stanza and Don Faris followed as three minutes of playing time remained. When Faris left for the showers, Belmond held only a 38-36 lead.

Soon afterward, Dave Helland caged a free throw and that proved the winning - point. Speedy Jack Thompson stole a Belmond pass with a minute left and raced in for a set-up; but the Broncs were not to be denied from there on out and successfully battled to protect their one-digit edge.

After enjoying a 26-18 margin at halftime, Belmond built its lead to 30-20. From that point on, however, Lake Mills steadily closed the gap until the count was tied at 33-all.

Jack Riggs was the big gun for the Broncs in the first half, pouring in 11 points. He was blanked from there on, though. Faris was good for a total of 12, four tallies coming when badly needed as the Bulldogs were creeping up near the game's end. Helland got five of his seven points after intermission, to help stave off defeat.

Odean Severseike accounted for five points and Watermiller, four.

Thompson and Ray Limesand were kingpins in the Lake Mills offense, netting 14 and 10 points respectively.

In a preliminary game, Belmond's frosh-soph outfit bowed to the Bull Pups 24 to 21. Claude Larkin topped the Colt scorers with nine points.

Claude Thayer spent Sunday in the Henry Jondreau home in Dows.

Pat Dillon Writes Of Accident That Nearly Cost Life

Further information has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dillon regarding the near-fatal accident in which their son, Pfc. Patrick Dillon, was involved on Nov. 24 at Fort Benning, Ga.

An army truck filled with 19 soldiers returning from a nearby rifle range was sideswiped by another truck. The army vehicle left the road and rolled over twice, taking a ghastly toll in injuries.

Two soldiers were killed in the mishap; four boys sustained fractures of the pelvis, six suffered broken legs. And it required 102 stitches to close the gashes on one boy's face.

A letter Pat sent his parents thus made it clear why a medical officer had informed Mrs. Dillon that her son was "one of the lucky ones". On the other hand, Pat's injuries were many and severe.

Both of his cheek bones were broken and he suffered a frontal skull fracture on either side of his forehead; his nose was broken and he had seven teeth snapped off. When the letter was written last weekend, Pat was still bleeding from his sinuses.

If there was any small compensation to the whole ordeal it lies in the fact that the injured youth will be released from the hospital in time to spend a 30-day sick leave at home over the holidays. He expects to arrive in Belmond on Monday of next week.

County Health Boards Subject of Bill Backed By Iowa Health Council

With only a month before the state legislature meets, Iowa Health Council members are campaigning for passage of a bill to provide for the creation of county boards of health to bring Iowa local improvement of health.

The bill has been prepared by the legislative committee of the Iowa Health Council. Chairman of this committee is Dr. C. L. Putnam, director of the division of local health services of the Iowa State Department of Health.

The new bill recommended by the Iowa Health Council permits citizens to petition their county board of supervisors for an election to create a county-wide board of health and a county health department.

If this election for a county health department is favorable, the board of health would be appointed by the members of the board of supervisors, mayors of incorporated cities and towns, and the county board of education. This appointed board of health would supercede all other boards of health in the county.

Iowa's present laws permit small township boards of health to remain sovereign—thereby limiting the effectiveness of health regulations. "Disease crosses all man-made boundaries," reminds Dr. Putnam.

The created county board of health could then employ a full time health officer and other public health personnel who have special training in public health work, to form the county health department, at a cost not to exceed one mill per county tax dollar, says Dr. Putnam.

If the population of a county is not great enough to support a full time county health department (50,000 to 100,000) then one or more adjacent counties are permitted to organize a multi-county health department under the proposed legislation, states Dr. Putnam.

State Forestry Superintendent Points Out That --

Some Christmastime Customs Even Pre-Date Birth of Christ

By M. A. Ellerhoff
Superintendent of Forestry
State Conservation Commission

> "The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious." (Isaiah 60:13).

Many Christmas customs are an evolution from times that existed long before the birth of Christ — a descent from pagan religious and national practices. In the beginning, many of the earth's people were sun worshippers because their lives depended on its yearly round in the heavens.

To these people, mid-December was a critical time, for the days became short and the earth was cold since the sun was weak and far away. They built great bonfires in order to give the sun god strength, and when it became apparent that the days were growing longer, there was great rejoicing because of the promise of lengthening days to follow.

Thus the central idea of beginning of the winter months—the return of light—became the hope of the world in the birth of Christ, the light of the world.

The exact day and year of Christ's birth have never been definitely settled, but when the leaders of Christianity in A. D. 340 decided upon a date to celebrate the event, they wisely chose the day the winter months began. Owing to a change in man-made calendars, the time when winter begins and the date of Christmas vary by a few days.

The transition from paganism to Christianity was gradual but became apparent after the fall of Rome, A. D. 476. For several centuries Christmas was solely a church anniversary, observed only by religious services. But as Christianity spread, so did the practices—becoming both religious and worldly, at times reverent, at other times gay.

From the pagan emphasis on light, it is not difficult to trace the rise of lights and open fires to the many customs centering around the candle and its legends of light and the Christ child.

Many customs besides those of light and fire date back to some of the pre-Christmas origins, among them Christmas decorations. The Romans ornamented their temples and homes with green boughs and flowers; the Druids hung mistletoe in their homes; the Saxons used holly, ivy and bay.

It is generally believed that that first Christmas tree was of German origin, dating back to the 8th century. The custom was gradually adopted in Europe and allegedly reached America during the Revolutionary War, when Hessian soldiers erected evergreen trees in celebrating their Christmas.

The evolution of a tradition so widely accepted as the Christmas tree could not help but have many versions. However, regardless of the origins of the custom, it is so firmly imbedded in our holiday celebrations that few persons consider Christmas complete unless an evergreen tree, sending pungent odors through the house, stands guard in dressed-up splendor over the children's gifts.

The supplying of Christmas trees to the families of the United States is a big business. Over 21 million trees are harvested annually. Nationally, balsam fir and Douglas fir share almost equal honors in making up the first 60 per cent of the total, while black spruce and red cedar split the next 20 per cent. The states bordering Canada furnish most of the commercial Christmas trees, although five million are imported annually from Canada.

Thinnings from national and state forests furnish about 13 per cent of the annual cut. The rest comes from privately-owned timberlands, generally from stands of conifers which nature has planted.

In the United States, some 100,000 acres of land are devoted to growing Christmas trees. Christmas trees can be raised and marketed at a good profit on most any farm.

The highest returns, however, are made by farmers who are near the larger cities where they sell on the retail market. They plant and harvest their trees on regular rotations of from six to 10 years.

Any well-shaped evergreen produces an acceptable Christmas tree. The spruces, Douglas fir, and Scotch and Norway pines are the species most commonly planted, although locally red cedar and most of the other pines are marketable. The shape and not the species is the most important factor in marketing.

Some farmers develop symmetrical-shaped trees by pruning and have found that the increased value of a well-shaped tree gives them good returns on the extra labor involved. Trees are acceptable from two to 10 feet in height, the most popular tree being that which is six to eight feet high.

Here in Iowa there is little sale of home-grown Christmas trees. It could become a farm crop contributing a high rate of return on eroded and timbered lands. If properly done, Christmas tree culture could help control soil erosion and water run-off besides providing wildlife food and cover and a future forest resource. Trees could be raised either as a continuous crop from a plantation by replanting after each harvest, or they could be selected from a stand of trees, some of which are left to reach sawlog size.

And so on this Christmas Eve, after your tree has been set up and the youngsters have in excited protest gone to bed, remember that the Christmas tree is a symbol of many things to many people and, as a delegate of the forests, it brings to you a breath of the out-of-door living things which serve both the spiritual and physical needs of man.

Jack Carson Comedy Tops Fuller Brush Funny Film

How much laughter can a movie hold?

Manager Gene Bradley of the Belmond theatre says that local movie-goers who thought "The Fuller Brush Man" reached a high-water mark in screen comedy have a surprise in store.

He promises that "The Good Humor Man", coming to his theatre next Sunday and Monday and starring Jack Carson, will prove a topper to its side-splitting predecessor from Columbia studios.

It details the zany misadventures of a Good Humor ice cream salesman. Bradley declares it's the only comedy with 10 assorted flavors—all of them delirious.

GRANT GO-GETTERS

The Christmas party of the Grant Go-Getters 4-H club was held on Dec. 2 at the home of Mrs. Ottis Harris, leader. A 12 o'clock dinner was enjoyed by club members, their mothers and guests, Mrs. Lettie Zuber and Mrs. Ed Kirstein. Welcome was offered by Judy Woodin and the response by Mrs. Adrian Schumacher, a club mother. Program numbers included a reading, "The Day Before Christmas" by Jeanine Hardy; a piano solo by Gay Schuldt; cello solo by Vicki Schuldt, accompanied by her mother; a piano duet by Gay and Vicki Schuldt; a reading, "Christmas", by Margery Murphy; a Christmas stunt by Judy Woodin; and a pantomime "Let's Look at School Lunches" given by Linda Barnes, Connie Bell, Nancy Barnes, Betty Whipple, Sharon Bradley, Donna Schumacher, and Barbara Barnes, the narrator.

Movies and slides of 4-H adventures were shown by Mrs. Ottis Harris and Mrs. Amos Sann and Jeanine Hardy. The meeting closed with a Christmas gift exchange.

PEAK EGG PRODUCTION During "HIGH EGG PRICE" MONTHS with JANUARY HATCHED
Hy-Lines
Bred like Hybrid Corn

MORE EGG INCOME: You make more money from January hatched Hy-Lines than from March or April hatches. January hatched Hy-Lines reach 60% production about August and hit peak production in Sept., Oct., and Nov., when egg prices are highest.

COST LESS: January hatched Hy-Line chicks cost less than midseason hatched Hy-Lines. They come when other farm work takes less time. It's easy to maintain even brooding temperatures in January. Chick growth is faster in cool weather of early spring. January hatches are less apt to get coccidiosis. For higher egg profit, raise January hatched Hy-Lines. Order now.

SONGS OF THE UNITED NATIONS

THE UNITED NATIONS theme for our Musicale this year was chosen because it seemed to fit the pattern of thinking of many people.

We have avoided using songs that would emphasize nationalism, or are military in background.

BE SURE to visit the United Nations Carnival in the church parlors after the program.

OUR THANKS and appreciation to all those who have helped to make this program possible.

As I have recovered from my recent illness, I want to thank my many friends for gifts, flowers, cards, visits and telephone calls.—Fred Fulton. 9t1

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the following folks who helped me drive my turkeys to shelter during the recent storm: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hopkey, Ralph Thayer, Gail Thayer, Donald Dorr, Larry Dorr, Clair Dorr and David Sappenfield.
Mrs. Alice Hedges 9t1

We wish to thank everyone for their many acts of kindness to us in our recent sorrow. Mrs. A. G. McMullen and family. 9t1*

I wish to thank all of the people who have been so kind to me during my long illness. Your gifts and cards and visits have made the time seem shorter.
Tommy Quigley 9t1*

Upsets Mark 2nd Round of NI Play

NORTH IOWA STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Forest City	2	0	1.000
Britt	1	1	.500
Belmond	1	1	.500
Lake Mills	1	1	.500
Northwood	1	1	.500
Buffalo Center	0	1	.000
Garner	0	1	.000

Two decided upsets featured the second round of North Iowa conference pay Tuesday night as both Lake Mills and Britt were dealth unexpected defeats.

Britt hit the hoop on only 11 out of 80 field goal attempts as the Eagles lost to Northwood, 37 to 31; while Belmond clung to an early lead to outlast Lake Mills, 39-38.

Only Forest City came through according to form, trimming Buffao Center by a 37-18 count. Garner won a non-conference tilt from Klemme, 46 to 36.

Favorites came through according to form in the opening round of the North Iowa conference basketball play last Friday, Forest City, Britt and Lake Mills all racking up victories by comfortable margins.

Buffalo Center was the only league member that did not meet an NI rival. The Bison doubled the score on Titonka in a non-conference tilt, 56 to 28.

Forest City was never pushed as the Indians took the measure of Garner, 54 to 34; and Lake Mills had just as easy a time in handling Northwood, 53 to 32. Of the three winners, Britt really experienced the most trouble in downing the Belmond Broncos. It wasn't until the final quarter that the Eagles cicnhed their win, 49 to 35.

Belmond will travel to Buffalo Center this Friday and will play host to Garner next Tuesday evening. While neither game is apt to have much significance from standpoint of the loop championship, both may shed a good deal of light on what outfits are apt to be relegated to the lower half of the conference standings.

Coach Jim Scott has the feeling that if his boys can get by the first half of their schedule in fair shape, they may be in there battling for a first division berth when they've gotten some more experience under their belts.

BELMOND LOCALS

Glen Hoover of Mason City was a dinner guest Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Henry Lien.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Denning and sons, Bobbie and David, of Ames spent Sunday in the parental Fred Wantz home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and Susan visited in the Melvin Homervold home near Clarion Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thayer of Burchinal and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thayer were Sunday dinner guests in the Gail Thayer home.

L. A. Lieuwen Sets Date For Public Auction Sale

Leland A. Lieuwen has reserved the date of Thursday, Dec. 28, for a public sale of livestock and farm machinery at his farm two miles east and two north of Corwith. The auction will likely be one of the largest held in this vicinity during the current season.

Mr. Lieuwen gives the explanation that he has found it necessary to quit farming because of illness in his family. H. Brummond will be auctioneer for the sale and First State Bank of Corwith will serve as clerk. A complete list of sale offerings will appear next week.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bohning and family visited in the Lloyd Fuller home Wednesday evening.

Sunday dinner guests in the Lloyd Fuller home were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bier and Fonda of Goodell.

Rev. Leon Triggs of Cedar Rapids, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Nassen, called on them Monday afternoon on his way home from Spencer.

Dear Boys and Girls

When Mrs. Claus informed me that I was to visit Belmond, Iowa, U. S. A. on Saturday, December 23rd, I was very happy to hear it. I have met so many nice boys and girls in Belmond on my past visits there. So I'm looking forward to meeting all of you again when I stop with treats for everyone of you at 2:30 p. m. on Main street.

FREE MOVIES WILL BE SHOWN AT THE NEW BELMOND THEATRE

At 1:30 and 3:30 p. m. on SATURDAY, DEC. 16, and THURSDAY, DEC. 21 (instead of Wednesday, Dec. 20 as previously advertised).

Isn't that grand? I know you won't want to miss seeing the exciting movies — so you'd better make arrangements with Mother and Dad now to bring you to Belmond for those two days and to be in town when I arrive on Saturday.

Bye, Bye for now

MADE YOUR Christmas WISH?

It's natural to make a lot of wishes at Christmas time, but the one that's most important is the wish for the continued safety and security of our families.

The light-hearted happiness of Christmas is centered around home and family—familiar voices raised in age-old carols, the joyful tingling of sleigh bells, the gay seasonal salutes of friends and neighbors. The Christmas tree in the living room, the holly on the window, the red candle on the mantel set the stage for the best scene of all—the faces of those we love seated at the dining room table.

These are the things that help make this the merriest time of the year. Small things they are—but close to home and close to the heart.

From The Equitable agents and representatives who have helped assure your family's security, here's a heart-felt wish for the most joyous Christmas ever.

County Health Department Bill May Involve More Than Meets The Eye

Elsewhere in today's paper appears a release from the Iowa state depart-of health which states that the "Iowa Health Council" is compaigning for passage of a law creating county boards of health "to bring Iowa local improvement of health."

Although we're not acquainted with who comprises the membership of the Iowa Health Council, we presume it is a creation of the state department of health. At least its chairman is Dr. C. L. Putnam, director of local health services for the state department.

The publicity release states that each county health department "could employ a full time health officer and other public health personnel". In cases of counties with populations too small for the prescribed one-mill tax for department financing to support a full-time county health organization, two or more adjacent counties could collaborate in the venture.

Just how and why the proposed county departments would greatly enhance the public health is not stated. Personally, we'd want a bit of elaboration on this score before we would want our representative in the general assembly to vote in favor of the plan.

We already have a county health nurse who is performing the functions of a central health authority with complete capability. Establishment of a formal county health departments idea strikes us as just another step in the direction of bureaucratic organization.

Nothing is said as to the controls that would be exerted by state and federal health officials over the proposed county departments. But we'll bet our bottom dollar that they'd be there. We'll further wager that one end result of the bill's passage would be accomplishment of little if any improvement in the conduct of county health work — but at a cost far greater than that presently entailed.

Snowdrifts or Not, Garner Folks Are Talking Street Surfacing NOW

We see by The Garner Leader that there's a move afoot in Garner to "blacktop" or macadamize all streets and alleys in that community that remain unpaved.

There's a town that is going to relegate the problem of dusty (or muddy) streets to the same limbo wherein rests the old hand-lit street lamp and the board sidewalk, if its progressive citizens have anything to say about it.

It should be pointed out that momentum for the project has been derived from petitions signed by the residents; the plan was not initiated by the town council.

However, the "city fathers" propose to handle their end of the responsibility in logical fashion by hiring an engineer —if sufficient demand for the project is evidenced, as seems certain—to prepare a plat showing soil conditions, drainage, etc. From this the council can obtain an idea of how deep the new surfacing should be, and the approximate cost.

The Independent remains of the opinion that Belmond's best chance of whipping its dust-control problem is to face it in the manner that Garner is doing.

Winter's snows may help us forget, for the time being, that the problem will be with us again with the coming of spring. But now would be a mighty good time for some civic-minded organization or individuals to touch a match to the fuse and see if some planning can't be started.

Life Insurance Firms Demonstrate How Capitalism Can Face A Crisis

We noted with interest the proposed plan of the nation's life insurance companies to establish a pool from which heavy losses could be paid in the event of A-bomb attack on U. S. metropolitan centers.

It is most disconcerting when serious minded men such as head of our life insurance companies consider atomic bombing of our cities such a genuine possibility. On the other hand, it is gratifying that they recognize the need for concerted action to protect the billions of dollars in family security which these companies have underwritten.

The assets of all major American life insurance companies are both wisely and conservatively invested. However, large blocks of their assets could not be liquidated overnight. Consequently, the tremendous volume of claims that could arise from the A-bombing of main population centers might wreck several leading insurance firms, if they had to face the crisis alone.

This is particularly true because a company may have a heavy concentration of business in some relatively small areas. For example, a hit on Boston would be a particularly severe blow to the home-town John Hancock company; and a couple of bombs on New York would create tremendous losses for Metropolitan Life and Prudential.

In such an event a company would be required to pay only a certain portion of each $1,000 in claims, under the proposed cooperative plan, and the balance would be drawn from the common pool.

We view this proposition as particularly significant because it represents "captalism" in action. Few businesses are more keenly competitive than that of life insurance. But the stability of the entire institution of life insurance promptly becomes the overriding consideration when a critical threat exists to any of its important parts.

Just as the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has made bank failures virtually a relic of the past, this plan of the insurance companies may prove an important safeguard to the business of insuring lives—which, like banking, represents a major keystone of American economy.

One hotel which—we'll bet—has little trouble with bed-smokers endangering their own and others' lives, is the Salisbury, Mo., hostelry that posts the following in each room: "If you must smoke in bed while here, please notify the office so we will know where to ship your remains. Business is good here, but we do not have guests to burn."

———O———

An article on practical etiquette appearing in the current issue of a popular magazine dwells briefly on where and when slacks properly may be worn. "Of course," the writer admits, "some women are mistaken to wear them ever." . . . Or, as Bob Hope puts it, "The trouble with some women's slacks is that they're not slack enough."

———O———

Criticism of his secretary of state and the administration's foreign policy unquestionably hurts President Truman's feelings. And he's been pretty indignant over Communist China's intrusion in the Korean war. But it was plainly just TOO much when a Washington D. C. reporter accused Margaret Truman of singing flat. THAT made Harry MAD!

———O———

The day when you could get a residential walk shoveled for two-bits or so seems to have joined the 50-cent haircut. Today's youth seems to hold in utter scorn any wage under a dollar an hour. And at that rate of pay, who would hurry to get a walk done in 15 minutes?

———O———

Wonder if it would do any good to unite the world's voodoo worshipers and induce them all, simultaneously, to start sticking pins in an effigy of Joe Stalin? We worshippers of capitalism don't seem to be making much headway.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY.

LUCY R. KLEMME and BONNIE B. KLEMME,
vs.
The Unknown Claimants, and all Persons unknown claiming any right, title or interest in and to the following described real estate, to-wit: Commencing at a point on the East line of the Northwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 30, Township 93 North, Range 23 West of the 5th P. M., Iowa, 926.8 feet North of the Southeast corner of said tract, thence North on said East line of said tract, a distance of 460.2 feet to a point, thence West on the South line of the Station Ground of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company (formerly the Iowa Central Railway Company), as now located, a distance of 460 feet to a point, thence in a Southeasterly direction, to the place of beginning; Geo. W. Seevers, Trustee; City of Belmond, Iowa; and the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company,
Defendants.

To The Above named defendants:

You are hereby notified that a petition of the above named plaintiffs in the above entitled action is now on file in the office of the clerk of the above named court, claiming that the plaintiffs are the absolute and unqualified owners, in fee simple, of the following described real property, to-wit:

Commencing at a point on the East line of the Northwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 30, Township 93 North, Range 23 West of the 5th P. M., Iowa 926.8 feet North of the Southeast corner of said tract, thence North on said East line of said tract, a distance of 460.2 feet to a point, thence West on the South line of the Station Ground of the Minneapolis & St Louis Railroad Company (formerly the Iowa Central Railway Company), as now located, a distance of 460 feet to a point, thence in a Southeasterly direction to the place of beginning.

and praying for the establishment of their estate and title against the adverse claims of the defendants, and that each and all of them, and all unknown claimants, and all persons unknown, having or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises, and all persons claiming by, through, or under them, be barred and forever estopped from ever having, asserting, or claiming any right, title, or interest in or to said premises or any part thereof adverse to the plaintiffs or the plaintiffs' title therein, and that the plaintiffs' title to the said premises be quieted, established and confirmed.

Plaintiffs' petition sets out certain instruments of record which cloud the title of these plaintiffs to said real estate and to the pretended claims and questions which have arisen with reference to said title and you are referred to said petition for a more particular statement thereof.

Said petition alleges that the plaintiffs and their immediate grantors have been in the sole, complete, actual, open, notorious and undisputed possession of said premises for more than eighteen years last past under claim of right and ownership thereof adverse to the defendants.

(For further particulars see petition now filed).

You are also notified to appear before said court at Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa, on or before the 8th day of January, 1951, and that unless you so appear, your default will be entered and judgment and decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in said petition.

Wright County 4-H Girl Tells Thrills Experienced During Her Trip to International Livestock Show

By Florence Mechem
Member of Dayton Dandies

Sometimes 4-H'ers think that a lot is required of them in 4-H work; but if an effort is put forth, some are fortunate enough to win a Chicago International trip sponsored by KGLO of Mason City.

The lucky ones from Wright county this year were Mary Lou Baker, JoAnn Slining and myself; Mrs. Art Homervold, our chaperone; Don Campbell, Donovan Baker, and Bob Sylvester.

One hundred and sixty 4-H members and chaperones boarded the special cars on the train in Mason City Friday night, Nov. 24 bound for Chicago. Many new friendships were made. We enjoyed being with the Hancock county 4-H boys and girls.

Riding the train with a full moon overhead, the Mississippi river could be seen very well when we crossed it about 2:30 in the morning. A lot of us were awake to see it. A train trip was a new experience for quite a few of us, and very few 4-H'ers on our trip had ever been in Chicago.

Before we finally reached the last station it seemed like we had been in Chicago two or three times because we had been riding past houses and stores for an hour or more.

From the station, we rode in a sight-seeing bus to the Congress hotel, where we all stayed. On the way, we saw the "Loop" and the world's largest post office.

Through friends, Mrs. Homervold had sent for tickets for "South Pacific" several weeks earlier, and we saw it Saturday afternoon at the Shubert theatre. It was as outstanding as it had been advertised. We could hear every word that was said, and the acting was fine. It lasted three hours.

We girls attended the National Barn Dance in the evening, where we heard a program like the one we hear over the radio on Saturday nights from Des Moines. The boys saw the International Horse Show, instead.

Sunday morning we attended church at the Chicago Temple, the oldest church in Chicago. It is a Methodist church, located in the Loop, and also is the tallest church in the world. We took an elevator to go to the balcony. During the service, the minister asked for the 4-H groups to stand up and tell where they were from.

There were 4-H'ers from South Carolina, Michigan, Washington, Wisconsin, New York, Iowa, Alaska, and Oklahoma, around 200 or 300 4-H people, altogether. Business offices are on floors above the sanctuary, while the parsonage is still higher up in the tower.

A visit to the famous Planetarium and on to the Field Museum filled the afternoon.

At the Planetarium, we saw a domed ceiling in which stars, planets, and the moon all move as they do in the sky, while a lecturer explained it. At the Field Museum, we found mammals of foreign countries and of the United States. They looked almost alive arranged in natural surroundings in huge glass cases.

Carmen Miranda, in person, was on the stage at the Chicago theatre that evening. She is just as peppy as her pictures make her look. She had long blond hair. Without her platform shoes and hat she was 5 feet 2 inches, but with them she is 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Monday morning we got up early to go over to the Welcome Travelers broadcast. Each state has a table of its own and our group filled the Iowa table.

Were we ever surprised to see some more Wright county people looking for the Iowa table! Jane Tillman and Sharon Woodley with their families were standing in the door when we spotted them. They sat at a table next to us.

People interviewed on this program sit on a stage, then when their turn comes to speak they stand up. When they get done they sit in their chairs again. We were given a free serve-yourself breakfast of milk, doughnuts, tomato juice, crackers and coffee, as much as we wanted. All eating was finished before the broadcast began.

Sightseeing and shopping in Marshall Field's was really a treat, especially the Christmas floor. We saw the big tree which stood one and one-half floors tall and has over 1,000 ornaments on it.

Little youngsters who wanted to speak to Santa Claus went on a long walk which led them through Santa's yard, where his seven stuffed reindeer were standing, through his bedroom, kitchen, and finally the living room where Mr. and Mrs. Claus were sitting, along with Uncle Mistletoe.

At the Museum of Science and Industry, we saw many marvelous things. We heard our voices over a telephone, saw ourselves on television, and checked our hearing. Another thing that interested us was the village of 1850. It had cobble stone streets, a doctor's house and stores just like those of a century ago.

On the trip home most everyone tried to catch up on the sleep we missed during the weekend.

With everything there is to see at the International, no one wanted to spend much time sleeping. I wish everyone could have a chance to go to International. Maybe if you put forth just a little more effort you might be the one to go another year.

The
LONG Night

Remember how we used to "wait up" for Santa! Why, Christmas Eve was the longest night of the year.

We couldn't go to sleep for the excitement of anticipation. And when we tried to stay awake, then we always would fall asleep.

But in the morning it was CHRISTMAS! The long, long night was over!

There was a long, long night before that first Christmas in Bethlehem . . . Through centuries of restless yearning the world waited for God's Greatest Gift.

Then in a lowly manger a mother laid her child. And shepherds came to gaze in rapture. And Wise Men from a far-off land brought kingly gifts. It was CHRISTMAS! The long, long night was over!

Come joyously to the church you love best and worship this new-born King. He is God's Greatest Gift.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FINAL SERVICES HELD FOR MARTIN KEARNEY FRIDAY AT WILLIAMS

Goodell friends learned last week that a former local resident, Martin Kearney, 76, had passed away Wednesday noon at the Ellsworth hospital in Iowa Falls.

He was born at Amboy, Ill., Jan. 27, 1874, and moved to Williams when a small boy. He lived there and in Goodell the rest of his life.

In 1903 he was married to Alicia Duffy and to them five children were born. His wife passed away when the youngest child was two years old.

He leaves two daughters—Mrs. Helen Larson, and Mrs. Lawrence McNertney of Eldora; a son, Emmet of Williams; 12 grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Wehrheim of Webster City.

A daughter died at the age of four months and a son, John, in 1940.

Mr. Kearney had been in failing health the past two years and had spent several weeks in the Iowa Falls hospital.

Rosary was said at his home in Williams, Friday at 8:30 a. m. Last rites were held Saturday forenoon in the St. Mary's Catholic church in Williams, conducted by Rev. McKinley. Burial was in the Williams cemetery.

Several from this vicinity attended the services.

Last Half Surge Nets Broncs Easy Verdict Over B.C.

Belmond High's cagers racked up their fourth win in six starts by tramping on Buffalo Center last Friday night on the Bisons' floor, 32 to 20.

What was a nip-and-tuck battle during the first half turned into a rout for the Broncs in the last two quarters as the home team was held to a single basket.

At intermission, Belmond was ahead by only a 15-13 margin. Ron Fredericks, speedy B. C. guard, kept the Bison in a contending position by hitting for nine points. Dave Helland was largely instrumental in keeping the Broncos out in front, cracking the net for six points.

After the rest period, Belmond's defense held the Bison helpless. Fredericks got Buffalo Center's lone field goal and added four points on free throws to give him a game total of 15 points. He couldn't do the job alone, though.

Marlyn Watermiller hit for eight points in the two final quarters and Don Faris for five to lead the Broncs' winning offensive. Watermiller had second highest total for the evening with 10, while Faris and Helland accounted for eight apiece.

In one department, he Bison held a wide margin over their conquerors. Buffalo Center converted eight out of 11 free throws attempts. whereas the Broncos made only four out of 19 tries.

Belmond's froh-soph team found the Buffalo Center underclassmen altogether too tough and dropped the curtain-raiser game to the Bison Claves, 21 to 10. Jim Faris made six of the Colt's counters, Claude Larkin tallied three and Arnette Terhark got the remaining point.

County RYP Held Yule Party Dec. 12

A colored travel film of southwestern Canada, including the Calgary stampede, was shown by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harvey of Britt as entertainment for 97 Rural Young Married Folks at their Christmas party at Clarion on Tuesday evening of last week.

The Christmas party is the group's opening program of the new year. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury of Grant township were elected program co-chairman for the coming year, replacing Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Collins. Mr. and Mrs. Drury will appoint four other couples to assist them in arranging the yearly program.

In addition to the Canadian picture, last week's program included a pot luck dinner, games, gift exchange and the singing of Christmas carols.

The Rural Young Married Group is sponsored by the Wright county extension service and Farm Bureau. Seven meetings were held during the 1949-50 season, with an average attendance of 92 rural young married folks.

The meetings are about half educational and half entertainment and are open to any young married people in Wright county. The fourth Tuesday each month was tentatively set as the meeting date for this group.

On committee planning the Christmas party were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tourtelotte, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Huntley, Mr. and Mrs. John Sitth Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tate.

Mrs. A. W. Johnson spent Thursday afternoon at the John Cullinan home in Clarion.

SURVEY REVEALS WIDE USE OF WEED SPRAYS BY COUNTY'S FARMERS

Farmers are making a determined effort to control noxious weeds in Wright county, if a survey of farm spraying conducted by Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, is any indication.

Thirty per cent of the farmers made returns on a card survey of spraying in Wright county. This is a total of 560 cards returned. Seventy-five per cent of the farmers returning survey cards stated they had used chemical spraying lor controlling weeds.

One third of the spraying was to control weeds in corn with an acreage acreage of 41 acres sprayed per farm. Thirty per cent of the farmers returning cards sprayed some in small grain for weed control, with an average acreage of 20 acres per farm. Twenty per cent of the farmers sprayed approximately 13 acres of meadow per farm for weed control.

Most prevalent use of chemicals in weed control was employed in spraying fence rows, with 61 per cent of the farmers reporting weed chemicals used for this purpose. The average sprayed was 320 rods of fence rows per farm. This total for all farmers reporting was 400 miles of fence rows.

Many farmers also reported they had used weed control chemicals to spray roadsides and many small patches of noxious weeds in addition to other weed-control spraying.

Over half of the farmers reported they had their own power spray outfits for weed spraying. Farmers without their own power spray outfit used hand sprayer or custom operators of spraying equipment.

If the survey report is a true indication of weed spraying in Wright county, then approximately 33,000 acres of corn, small grain, and meadow, plus 900 miles of fence rows were sprayed for weed control.

HOMEMAKERS LESSONS FOR JANUARY SET UP; DATES, PLACES FIXED

Two different extension lessons will be given by the Home Economist Lettie Zuber during the month of January.

"Color in the Home" will give suggestions as to how to choose color for the home, what colors should be used for different types of people, what the new color trends are for 1951. There willl be a workshop to help the women plan draperies, rugs, wall paper, paint, upholstery to fit color schemes for various rooms in the home.

"Youth of Today", the second lesson, will deal with what, as a parent, is the important duty toward our children. It will cover some fraction points between children and their parents and bring to light what foreign students in our colleges think of Iowa boys and girls.

Homemakers wishing to take advantage of another township lesson other than just their cwn are welcome to do so.

All lessons in January and February will start at 11:30 a. m. with a covered dish dinner. Homemakers are asked to bring a covered dish, own sandwiches and table service. Any who can't come for the dinner may feel free to come just for the lesson, which will start at 1:15 p. m.

Below is a list of the dates and homes where the lessons will be given in the Belmond vicinity.

Grant— Tuesday, Jan. 2, Ottis Harris home—Youth of Today.

Iowa—Tuesday, Jan. 9, K. C. Hhitten home—Youth of Today.

Belmond — Thursday, Jan. 25, George Crawford home — Color in the Home.

Norway—Friday, Jan. 26, Roy McNeish home—Color in the Home.

Pleasant—Friday, Feb. 2, Ira Studebaker, Jr., home—Color in the Home.

SAFETY SAKE

This is a public safety service of your safety-minded businesses and this newspaper in cooperation with the Iowa Safety Congress.

The month of December is time to remember that Santa's once more on the way. And it's time to recall he's the safest of all who drive near the holiday.

He couldn't be cruel and ruin the Yule by cracking his toys and sleigh up. His eye's on the road when he's hauling his load, so his safe-driving record is 'way up.

And we can add more to this gent's safety score: For example, he's had not one fire! In his shop? No debris. And on his Christmas tree, no broken plugs, ne'er a bare wire.

His habits aren't sloppy. They're ones you can copy at home, on the farm and in school. The Christmas-Eve flier whom we all admire says, "Caution is safety's best tool!"

No. 1 Meat Packer In Entire Nation; It's Iowa--Again

IOWA is now leading the meat packing field, according to the Iowa Development Commission. For the second straight year, the volume of livestock slaughtered by Iowa packing plants is running larger than in any other state.

Federal estimates show that during the first 10 months of 1950, Iowa packers handled 11.7 per cent (by liveweight) of all the cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs processed in the nation. (The estimates do not include farm butchering).

Last year, Iowa packing companies handled 11.5 per cent of the meat processed in the nation. With the 1949 and 1950 reports, Iowa has stepped ahead of Illinois, which previously was the top meat packing state.

Illinois' meat packing operations have followed national trends very closely. When the U. S. volume of livestock slaughter dropped 10 per cent between 1947 and 1948 so did Illinois'. It has accounted for 10.6 per cent of the nation's meat processing since the U. S. department of agriculture started to publish slaughter figures in 1946.

Iowa meat packers, although they took a bigger drop in the '47-48 slump, have been coming back ever since at an impressive rate.

In 1949, for instance, Iowa packing plants increased their operations by 670 million pounds, from 3,478,613,000 to 4,148,928,000 pounds of live weight. Iowa's share in U. S. livestock slaughter rose from 9.7 percent to 11.5 per cent, and the Tall Corn state nosed Illinois out of the top standing.

This year, Iowa's meat packers seem to be buzzing along at a similar rate. In the first ten months of 1950, Iowa packers handled more meat than they did in the full year 1948, and they are 200 million pounds ahead of the January-October period in 1949.

Iowa's totals: 3 billion, 482 million pounds in 10 months, 1950; 3 billion, 281 million pounds in 10 months, 1949. Illinois' 10-month total is two million pounds less than in 1949. 3,103,410,000 pounds this year, 3,105,393,000 pounds last year.

Illinois still has the largest beef kill in the country, but its margin over Iowa is becoming smaller. In 1948, Illinois packers killed 662 million more pounds of beef than Iowa plants did. Last year, Iowa was 340 million pounds behind, and so far this year, Illinois plants are only 290 million pounds ahead in the beef department.

Iowa also has been gaining on her eastern neighbor in pork packing. In 1948, Iowa packers handled 417 million more pounds of pork than Illinois plants did. In 1949, the Iowa total rose to 790 million pounds more than the Illinois volume. So far this year, Iowa packing plants are 701 million pounds of pork in the lead.

Iowa now ranks first in hog slaughter, second in sheep and lamb slaughter and third in cattle slaughter. Minnesota is the third ranking hog packing state, and California is second in cattle slaughter.

In total meat packing operations, Minnesota habitually ranks third, and California fourth.

Illinois has 20 federally inspected slaugher plants, five of them in Sioux City. Illinois has 28, of which 17 are in Chicago. Minnesota has 11 plants operating under federal inspection, and California has 58, of which 19 are in Los Angeles.

Christmas Cheer

What is Christmas made of? It is the fine gifts that gladden us in anticipation of their use ... the festive decorations ... the pleasant thought of a fine Christmas dinner.

And more. For it is the smiles. Smiles from everyone, that manifest the happiness that we feel in GIVING. It is the spiritual satisfaction that we derive from inspiring church services ... and the good fellowship that prevails amidst the visits of folks we know well ... and not so well.

To all of you, to whom this spirit has such profound meaning ... friends, neighbors, relations ... and to our gallant sons, serving the cause of Liberty in far-away places, we wish the very Merriest of Holidays.

* CHRISTMAS * Greetings

"... and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was."

—ST. MATTHEW 2:9

The Wise Men were the first to find Him . . . to recognize Him. Today, twenty centuries later, He will be worshipped the world over, come this Christmas Morn. And when we go to church, during the Yuletide, let us meditate soundly upon His teachings of tolerance and understanding, that the days ahead may bear the fruit of happiness and good fortune for each and every one of us. Wright Donations To 'CROP' Drive Exceeding 1949's

DES MOINES — Farmers in eight Iowa counties by the middle of last week had already given more to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) this year than in 1949 on the basis of preliminary reports on the 1950 CROP campaign.

Harry E. Terrell, Iowa CROP Director, announced he has received campaign reports from 35 counties, which have raised approximately $60,000.00 in cash and farm commodities.

This includes returns from about half of the county CROP organizations, none of which has yet completed its farm-to-farm canvass for food or cash with which to buy food for distribution among the needy overseas by Catholic and Protestant relief agencies served by CROP.

The counties which have exceeded last year's contributions are Cherokee with $3,500 ($643 last year); Delaware with $2,000 and 60 bushels of corn ($51 last year); Lucas with $800 ($331 last year); South Marion with 465 bushels ($384 last year); Ringgold with $700 and 146 bushels of corn ($749 last year).

Van Buren with $1900 and 300 bushels of corn (none last year); Wapello with $550 and 800 bushels ($1,326 last year), and Wright with $2,000 ($1,357 last year).

Bremer county's preliminary report shows the largest contribution to date with $3,275 in cash and 650 bushels of corn.

Other counties reporting contributions to date are: Marshall, $3046 and 140 bushels; Butler, $2,821; Winnebago, $2,762; Emmet, $2,750; Poweshiek, $2,200; Humboldt, $2,155; North Lee, $2,027; Buena Vista, $2,000; Crawford, $2,000; Hardin, $2,000 and 40 bushels; Washington, $1,750; North Marion, $1,560; Pocahontas, $1,500; Jasper, $1,500; Clinton, $1,500.

Audubon, $1,000; South Lee, $561 and 481 bushels; Johnson, $925; Grundy, $850; Greene, $700; Des Moines, $660; Allamakee, $571; Worth, $522; Benton, $500; Kossuth, $385; Union, $246 and 88 bushels; O'Brien $300; Ida $273; Buchanan, $246 and Appanoose, $75.

Unofficial reports also include Black Hawk with $560 and 332 bushels; Dickinson with $650. Henry with $330, Lyon with $399 and Mahaska with $1518 and 173 bushels.

GAS

When Haners and Al Lorenzen of Toledo observed their 25th anniversary in the oil and gas business recently they figured they had sold 4,200,000 gallons of gas in hte last quarter of a century.

EVEN WITH SANTA'S STORY—

How You Say It Depends Upon Where Your Family Came From

IOWA CITY, Iowa. — Depending on which part of Iowa she lives in, a mother telling her child how Santa Claus will visit their home this Christmas eve will use different expressions to tell similar time-honored legends.

Santa Claus and his reindeer will alight on the roof. "Roof" in Iowa has three distinct pronunciations. Hopping out of his sled, Santa will slip down the "chimney", the usual term.

But in southwestern Iowa, he will come down the "flue", and in scattered parts of the state, he will make his entrance through the "chimly" or the 'chim-e-ny".

Although of little significance to the telling of a Christmas story, such differing expressions and pronunciations help linguistic experts at the State University of Iowa trace speech patterns spreading to Iowa from the East and South.

Appearing in the fireplace, Santa is covered with soot — a term in Iowa pronounced "sut", "suit" or "soot" to rhyme with "foot'. He is now in the "living room", which is also "sitting room" or "front room" to some Iowans.

Santa eyes the row of stockings on the "mantle" or "mantle piece". But if he were in southeastern Iowa, he may be looking at the "shelf" or "mantle shelf".

Dipping into his bulging bag, Santa produces the presents. There is a "baby carriage" for Sis, if she lives along the Missouri or Mississippi rivers. In the central and some eastern parts, it may be a "baby buggy" and in scattered homes it may be a "baby cab".

For the boys there is a "bob sled", also known in Iowa as a "coaster". For all the children when warmer weather comes, Santa might leave a "see-saw" for the back yard. This is known as a "teeter-totter" throughout the state and a "teeter-board" in the southern half of the state.

Such differences in expressions are currently being analyzed by Rachel Harris Kilpatrick of the State University of Iowa. They will become part of a Linguistic Atlas of the Upper Midwest and eventually will become part of such an Atlas of the U. S. and Canada.

By following varying terms from their New England, middle Atlantic and southern origins to the places in Iowa and elsewhere where they are found today, language experts can tell much about migration and the history of a region.

But back to our Christmas story. As Santa rides off into the night he may shout, according to the poem, "Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night!"

To please some persons in south-central Iowa, however, Santa would have to use an old term originating in the South which spread west along the Ohio valley. In which case, his parting words would be:

"Christmas Gift to all and to all good night!"

IOWA CORN GOES INTO MORE PRODUCTS THAN A COB HAS KERNELS

Iowa's cornfields are frozen and asleep, their harvest finished and their work ended until spring.

But Iowa's corn factories are alive and bustling, their work busily continuing while the farmlands rest.

The golden grain which feeds Iowa livestock through the winter also feeds the hoppers of many industrial plants. And there are more different finished products than a cob has kernels.

Food processing is Iowa biggest industry — currently employing about 51,000—and some of its largest plants are engaged in processing corn. Only about two per cent of Iowa's corn is eaten as such, but it all has to be turned into corn flakes, corn meal or some other readily edible form, first.

Few of the food products show their kinship to corn on the surface. Corn meal — the closest cousin — is ground by the big Quaker Oats and National Oats mills at Cedar Rapids, and by half a dozen smaller mills scattered over the state. Quaker also makes corn cereals; National processes hominy grits, and Davenport's Hiland Potato Chip company makes corn chips.

Bearing less family resemblance are the corn syrups, corn starch, corn oil and corn sugars manufactured by such big plants as Clinton Foods, Inc., at Clinton, the Hubinger company at Keokuk and Penick and Ford, Ltd., at Cedar Rapids.

Corn syrup goes on pancakes and into baby's formula, but it also goes into cheese, condensed milk, powered coffee, canned fruits, ice cream, mayonnaise, mince meat and vinegar.

Corn starch, the standby of quick puddings, also goes into chewing gum, ice cream cones, and many prepared food mixes now on the market. Corn oil is one of the vegetable oils you eat in salad dressings and shortenings. And corn sugar turns up in flavoring extracts, pickles, dehydrated soups, commercial Vitamin C and lactic acid, as well as many candies.

Corn's purely industrial progeny are a growing branch of the family tree. Industrial corn syrup goes into shoe polish and rayon. Industrial starches help make up all sorts of plastics, explosives, insecticides, pastes and such homely household goods as laundry bluing. Industrial corn oil helps paint and varnish your house, and has a part in many pharmaceuticals.

Every time you lick a stamp or seal an envelope, you are tasting corn. Dextrin, an adhesive made from corn starch, also goes into glue, mucilage and gums. It holds crayons in shape, binds together ingredients of linoleum, and keeps corrugated cardboard in one piece. Clinton Foods includes dextrin among its corn products.

Marine Grabs Diploma— Then Off to Active Duty

Corp. Andrew L. Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers, on Tuesday of last week was sent from his home in Seattle, Wash., to Camp Pendleton Marine Training Base at Oceanside, Calif., to resume active duty in the Marine corps.

"Cuke", as he was known to his friends here, had spent a previous two years of service attached to the Naval Supply Depot at Seattle. Upon his discharge he entered Edison Technical school there to complete his high school education. He graduated from the school on the first of this month.

Troubled With Falling Needles? Here's Answer to One Yule Problem

Are you being needled by your Christmas tree?

You needn't be bothered by by falling needles if you follow the advice given by Dean R. A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy at the State University of Iowa.

Kuever suggests that you have your druggist prepare two packages, one containing 15 grams of calcium carbonate and the other five grams of crystalline citric acid and six grams of crystalline malic acid.

Then put the base of your Christmas tree in a wide-mouthed gallon jar, fill the jar with water and drop in the powders. The solution will keep your tree fresh and fragrant all through the holiday season. As the tree soaks up the solution, add more water.

This formula was worked out over 15 years ago by a student in pharmaceutical projects,. Every year Kuever receives letters from people throughout the state, asking for the exact formula.

Yes, Dean Kuever uses the solution on his own Christmas tree.

Fighter Plane Battles Featured in War Film

You'll ride right in the cockpits of fighter planes in action when you see "Fighter Squadron", the Warner Brothers' film showing Sunday and Monday at the New Belmond theatre.

At least, you'll get a pilot's-eye view of dog fights and strafing operations, for some of the film's footage came from gun cameras in planes engaged in real combat action over European territory in the last war.

Some of the shots came from gun cameras in planes whose pilots failed to survive the very battles shown.

"Fighting Squadron", a Technicolor production, stars Edmond O'Brien, Robert Stack and John Rodney.

LOWMAN VISITS HERE; CALLED BACK BY ARMY

Vic Lowman, until lately a teacher and head football coach at Grinnell High school, left recently for San Francisco after a brief visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lawman.

A captain in the U. S. Army reserve, Mr. Lowman has received orders to report for active duty and has been assigned to the overseas commond in Yokahama, Japan. He was to report at Camp Stoneman in San Francisco on Monday of last week.

During World War II, Mr. Lowman for a time was a physical training officer and later was attached to the infantry. He saw combat duty in Europe.

After his discharge from the service, Mr. Lowman completed work for a master's degree at the University of Iowa and in 1948 he went to Grinnell as football coach. He is married and his wife accompanied him to San Francisco, planning to remain there until he leaves for Japan.

PRANK

It was a costly prank at Remsen recently. A teen-age youth threw a "de-railer" during a switching operation in the Illinois Central yards and threw a frieght engine off the track. It took 30 men 14 hours to get the engine back on the rails, at a cost to the railroad of around $2,000.

Those Hospital Planners Deserve Our Thanks — And Our Support

It was just a year ago that the community hospital project was formally launched. In some regards it may seem that progress has been rather slow; but it should be borne in mind that many a town has nurtured the idea of a community hospital over a period of years before the dream has become a reality.

In that light, it can be appreciated that our planning committee and the board of trustees actually have made admirably rapid progress. At this point, the planning stage overlaps with the need for immediate action. All that now remains in the way of preliminaries is drafting of actual working plans by the architect. That places responsibility for continued progress directly upon the shoulders of those for whom the hospital is being built.

As was pointed out in a front page editorial last week, the time is NOW insofar as the payment of pledges is concerned. Those who promised relatively modest gifts should make every effort to dispel their obligation before the end of the year and take advantage of the "break" thereby derived in payment of income tax. Major donors may wish to split their donation, paying a portion after the first of the year, so part credit can be taken for 1950 and the remainder for 1951.

The important thing is that building funds must be made available promptly. We owe a great debt of gratitude to those men and women whose efforts have brought the hospital project to its present climactic point in a single year's time. The best way to show our appreciation is to see that the money for further advancement of the project is now forthcoming.

In the meantime, we'd all do well to figuratively doff our hats to the fine work of the hospital planners. They've done a grand job to date; and we can feel assured that they'll carry it through to prompt completion if we do our part.

Our Broncos May Not Be Best Ever, But They Put Up A Good Battle!

A good word should be put in for those Broncos and the manner in which they took the measure of a highly favored foe last Tuesday night. Perhaps Coach Jim Scott will fling us a dirty look at the first opportunity because we've seen fit to praise his boys so early in the season—and with such a long, hard row yet to hoe.

Nevertheless, we felt the high school basketeers did noble in trimming Lake Mills. It took real determination to pull that one out of the fire, after two key men had been lost on fouls and the Broncs had seen a 10-point advantage converted into a one-point deficit late in the game.

We suspect that the Broncos are going to get their lumps occasionally as the season progresses. The team doesn't have either the depth or experience that were enjoyed by last year's championship outfit. But we seriously question that the boys are going to lose any games in which pure scrap is the measure of difference between themselves and the opposition.

Win or lose, we feel we can confidently expect a fighting performance from the 1950-51 Broncos every time they take the floor . . . The crowd at the Lake Mills game, incidentally, was quite a bit short of what it should have been. You'll be doing yourself a favor to be on hand for the balance of the home games.

Agricultural and 4-F Deferments Will Be Tougher to Obtain

It's becoming increasingly apparent that both farm youths and 4-F's will have to be utilized to a greater extent in military capacities than they were in World War II, if another world-wide conflagration materializes.

Probably no one was more indignant over the deceits practiced by some farmers in keeping sons at home "last time" than their rural friends and neighbors. There will have to be closer hewing to the line in determining genuine hardship cases this time; and from talking to farmer acquaintances of ours, we believe the large majority of them will be entirely willing that the manpower of their particular families be used to maximum effect.

No one who was in service during the last war has any question about the large extent to which average 4-F's could be used to good advantage in many military capacities. It is a fallacy to believe that every draftee must be capable of filling a combat assignment.

In recent years industry has dramatically demonstrated that individuals with serious physical handicaps can be profitably employed if placed in the proper niche. It requires many more non-combatant personnel than actual fighting men to wage a war. This time, minor physical defects should not—and undoubtedly will not—be considered sufficient cause to eliminate a man from military service.

It must be borne in mind that a large share of the casualties in World War II would normally be a part of our fighting potential today; and that the drastically lowered birth rate of the early depression years has resulted in a much lower supply of draft-agers being available today than was available 10 years ago.

From some source, the difference must be made up. That's why deferments for agricultural employment and minor physical handicaps will not be possible again on the same scale as was permissible before.

———O———

Time's Long Past for Allowing More Procrastination on Economic Controls

If it's the "will of the people" that the administration is timid about, in its neglect to face the every mounting need for economic controls, we believe that Truman and his advisers are woefully deceived as to what that will is.

When there was a tentative suggestion some months ago that price and wage controls be established on the basis of indexes existing during the first half of 1950, there certainly was no evidence of widespread public indignance. Quite the opposite. Most opinions we heard were enthusiastically favorable.

Since then there has been an alarming increase in general cost of living. It is obvious that the longer action is delayed, the more difficult it is going to be to put into effect the controls that are so drastically needed.

Failure to stem the present inflationary trend is playing right into the hands of our foes. We can envision Joe Stalin grimly chuckling over the refusal of our leaders to take the economic bull by the horns. He, himself, could hardly design more effective sabotage of the American war effort.

An administration spokesman has explained that Washington is looking for a plateau on which prices and wages can be stabilized. We can only join with Newscaster Elmer Davis in his recent comment that: "The thing to remember about this kind of plateau is that the longer you wait the higher the plateau grows."

———O———

Joe Stalin and his brother maniacs have accomplished one thing with their innumerable ridiculous, utterly impossible propositions for "peace". No longer do you hear people say in disbelief, "Can you imagine any nation having nerve enough to make such a proposal?" The inevitable reaction any more is, "Now isn't that just like the Russians!"

———O———

It can be put down as a modern-day miracle that Frank Leahy not only got a vote of confidence but a nice raise in salary after his 1950 Notre Dame team produced the poorest record of any Irish football team in many a year. Mr. Leahy must certainly be the most envied gridiron mentor in the big-time.

LETTERS To Santa Claus

Klemme, Iowa

Dear Santa Claus,

How are you. How are your bronneis. I bet that they are busy getting things ready for Christmas. I will leave some food for you and your raindeers. I would like a bicycle a record player some ice skates and nurstkit you gave me last year. My sister would like a doll house and a doll and doll clothes. She is 2 years olds. I am eight years old. My little brother would like a toy duck that can float on water. He is six months old. My sister have been trying to be good girls. Try to leave toys for the poor children. My sister name is Nancy Ann Bau. My brother's name is Arnold John.

P. S. Bring my brother some other things to. How is Mrs. Santa Claus is she busy today well goodby for now.

Love
Sharon Kay Blau.

Dear Santa,

I am 10 years old. As you only come once a year, and work so hard at that time, I am not going to ask for very much. If you could save a little space in your bag for a pair of ice skates and two nice presents for my two sisters who are 3 and 11 years old. You would make me very happy. Please try to give something to all the little children all over the world.

Your friend
Janice Whitman

Goodell, Iowa

Dear Santa,

My name is Ronald Ostendorf. I am eight years old in the fourth grade. One thing I wish for most is that the children overseas will have a Merry Christmas. As for myself I don't have my mind set on any special thing. Send me what you would think I could have fun with or something I could use. I guess this is all I have to say.

With love,
Ronald

Dear Santa Clause,

How are you? I am not feeling well I have been sick. My Mother has been sick to and Daddy. Would you like to know my teachers name, it is Mrs. Parker. I have been writing out Christmas cards. I will tell you what Marcia and I would like to have Rudolph the Red nosed Reindeer, sweat shirt, we want green we wear size 8 for Marcia and I. We would like some pajamas Marcia and I wear size 10 and we would like some clothes. We have three little puppies, we sold one his name is Spotty, the other ones names are cooky and niger they are five weeks old the mothers name is Tiny. Do not forget Mrs. Viva Parker, my teacher, because she has been sick. And our Grandma Fitts she lives next door to use she is really nice to us kids and so is her daughter and Claude Benson. We have our Christmas lights on now. I would like to go to school but I can not because I am sick.

Please be careful when you come and don't be in an accident. We will leave you a treat under the Christmas tree or on the dining room table.

Love to you.

Dear Santa,

My brother is writing this letter for me. I am four years old and do not go to school yet. I would like to bring me a tractor with a manure spreader on and tinker toys. I would like you to give me some candy and nuts. I help my mother by taking care of my little sister. I would like my little sister to have a high chair. I have been a good little boy.

Your friend

Dear Santa Claus,

My mother is writing this lettetr for me as I do not know how to write. I am five years old and in the kindergarten in school. I have been a good girl. How are your reindeer? I want a doll house, ironing board and a toy washing machine. I have a brother, Jerry, who is four years old who would like to have a farm set. That is all, please bring as many other things as you can.

Your friend

Dear Santa:

I am only 2 years old now, but will be 3 on Dec. 27 so I can't write yet. We have a big chimney, so if you can get down with an electric train that is what I'd like. Please don't forget any boys and girls this year, as we have all been good, and we love you Santa.

Dear Santa,

My aunt is writng for me as I am only five years old. I have been a good boy and I'm so thankful to God on this Xmas day that I can walk and play like other children. You see I had both legs and feet in casts for nearly fours years and had 2 serious operations on my feet, so if you have some toys left after all the boys and girls have theirs, you can stop and leave me anything that's left.

Dear Santa:

I am six years old and all I can do myself is scribble. Santa I have been a good girl. I take care of my 2 little brothers Gary and Jerry when Mama is busy and its such a chore in town. I would like a doll buggy or a music box if you have enough to go around. Don't forget anyone Santa.

Patricia Ann Stadtlander

Dear Santa:

I would like a cow-girl-suit for Christmas, please, and a bike. I would like a dollhouse. if you have enough to go around. Thank you.

GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST!

"Glory to God in the highest!" Thus sang an angelic host to a group of shepherds who watched their flocks by night on a hillside near Bethlehem.

"Glory to God in the highest!" was the joyous refrain that heralded the birth of the Savior. The shepherds knew the story of the promised Messiah and hastened, dumb-stricken, to worship Him.

"Glory to God in the highest!" The music of the magic chant swept through the hills and dales of Judea, entered every home and shop, and flowed upward and onward until it mingled with the music of the spheres.

"Glory to God in the highest!" has come ringing down the ages, as men have struggled against the adverse forces of the world, have groaned under oppression, and finally have seen the light of God's hope shine again.

"Glory to God in the highest!" is the joyous proclamation the world awaits this Christmas. There is no human way out of the present ills. But He is the way, the truth and the life. Glory to God! The Savior is born!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Way Back When

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Inga Steele will give a recital for the high school students at the school auditorium Friday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

—1940—

Tillman A. Thompson, who has been deputy sheriff of Wright county for nearly five years, has resigned to accept an appointment as special agent in the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Public Safety.

—1940—

Belmond High opened its North Iowa conference basketball season impressively with wins on Friday and Tuesday nights over Manly and Northwood, respectively. The Broncos downed Manly 38-31 and defeated the Vikings, 18-16.

—1940—

Thirty-one Wright county draft registrants have been examined and are subject to call within 60 days.

—1940—

In the past week, sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meints and daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gealow and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skaar.

—1940—

Margaret Meikle spent the weekend at Iowa City, where she was initiated as a member of Phi Beta Kappa on Monday evening.

—1940—

Belmond received eight inches of snow over Sunday and Monday and is still in the process of "shoveling out".

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Benton Olson Chevrolet garage at Kanawha on Monday afternoon. Three new and two used cars were destroyed, along with all other contents of the building. Loss is estimated at $10,000.

—1930—

Harry Poundstone, prominent Dayton township farmer, was elected president of the Wright county Farm Bureau at the annual business meeting held Monday at Clarion. Mrs. J. E. Kirstein was reelected girls' club chairman and Mrs. Herb Boyington was again named chairman of the women's project work.

—1930—

Reynold Kinseth is building a new addition to his home in north Belmond.

—1930—

New officers of the Rebekah lodge elected Wednesday evening are: Mrs. M. M. Sheller, Noble Grand; Mrs. A. C. Lee, Vice Grand; Mrs. Floyd Doctor, treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Thiltgen, steward.

—1930—

Mrs. R. C. Bras of Manitoba, Canada, is here helping care for her father, M. H. Luick, who is ill with heart trouble.

—1930—

Duane Rierson, six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rierson, underwent a serious but successful major operation Dec. 1 at Hampton for removal of a tumor.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Belmond Commercial Club held election of officers at its meeting last week, naming the following to guide the organization during 1921: C. P. Luick, president; Guy Byers, vice president; Chris Enger, secretary; D. E. Packard, treasurer; L. Collins and F. O. Fitts, executive committeemen.

—1920—

Dell Luick had the misfortune to lose eight head of heavy hogs recently when a straw stack tipped over on them, smothering them to death.

—1920—

This vicinity gots its first real touch of winter the first of this week when about a foot of snow fell, providing first class sleighing facilities.

—1920—

Henry Lieuwen, 16, met a tragic death at the sugar factory on Thursday of last week when he either, fell into or his clothing got caught in the conveyor belt.

—1920—

The Independent editor is sporting a new head gear, a fur cap received from "Cap" W. C. Tyrrell of Beaumont, Texas.

—1920—

H. N. Nettles was severely burned in a gasoline explosion last week but is reported coming along in nice shape.

—1920—

Our

Assessment Policy

The time (Jan. 1, 1951) for again making your report to this office of personal property held by you in 1950, will soon be here.

In order that you may understand our aims for the 1951 assessment, we make the following statements.

1—Actual figures, as shown by your books and your income tax report are essential.

2—It is our desire to be absolutely fair and equitable in our assessment values, and the more accurate figures we are furnished the better job we can do; the better you will be satisfied.

3—In order to arrive at an equitable and comparative value it is necessary that we ask you certain personal questions.

These questions are asked in confidence and are kept as confidential matter.

4—We do not enjoy placing an arbitrary assesssment upon your property, but we do covet your complete confidence and full cooperation that arbitrary assessments will not be necessary.

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

There may be harder men to convince than M. B. Dannewitz, Belmond's dry cleaning tycoon, but you'd have to do some scouting around to find 'em.

Monday morning when the fire siren sounded, Danny was warming his innards with a cup of Coffee Shop brew. A couple of post office caffeine addicts dropped in and advised Dan that his shop was on fire. Dan gave them a knowing laugh and concentrated on his java.

Martha Mennenga of the Tip Top crew was next. She, too, told Dan his business establishment was billowing with smoke. Dan gave her the "heh-heh" and sat tight. Then Fred Dahm wandered in and, giving the Model Cleaners proprietor a surprised look, suggested he might take a little more interest in the fire—considering it was his shop that was burning.

Whether it was Fred's honest face, or what, we don't know; but Dan finally decided the rumor warranted investigation. He lost his blase attitude in a hurry when he discovered that—sure 'nuff—the fire was at his shop.

We don't believe the base canard going the rounds to the effect that Dan hadn't paid his gas bill and his poor employees were simply trying, as best they could, to keep warm!

—M-S—

Another of our respected citizens found himself in a rather curious position last week, we hear tell. It seems that "Rich" Thompson has been running a trap line on a parcel of land he holds south of town. He was investigating his catch when our good friend Game Warden Bill Ayers of Goodell happened along and thought he smelled a rat—and we don't mean a muskrat.

Bill ambled up to R. B. and inquired, "Doing a little trapping?"

Never a man of many words, "Rich" muttered. "Uh huh."

A gleam entered Bill's eye. It's the time of year that he has to keep an eagle eye out for game poachers.

"Live around here?" the warden asked, indicating the general vicinity of the trapping grounds.

"Nope," R. B. replied.

Bill was hot on the trail by then. "Rich" could plainly see that his interrogator was becoming ticket-minded; so after sufficient hesitation to let Bill's hopes of a red-handed arrest reach a peak, the amateur trapper leisurely added, "But I own the land."

. . . And that's how the game warden "met up" with R. B. Thompson.

—M-S—

Discovered—a hen with a conscience! At least, that's the explanation Duane Anderson of the Independent's back-shop force offers for the giant hen fruit that has been on display in our office window.

The egg was brought to us by Herschel Johnson, who says that his father-in-law—Ben Mehus—found it last Friday in the nest of one of his hens. The monstrosity weighs a solid six ounces, measures nine inches in circumference the long way and nearly eight inches around the middle.

As to Anderson's crack about a conscience—he says that the poor hen was simply trying to lay an egg big enough to justify the price that is being charged for her product these days!

Plumbers were recently summoned to the Orrin Jacobson home to investigate the cause of moisture condensation in the house. Orrin had noticed that his furnace vent was not producing the same, light puffs of gas smoke that were in evidence over neighboring chimneys, and suspected that therein lay his trouble.

A little exploration by the plumber, brought discovery of a good-sized pailful of bird-nest makin's jammed in the bottom of the vent.

Apparently some optimistic bird had tried all summer long—without success—to make a nest stick in the aperture at the top of the vent. Orrin hopes she was sufficiently discouraged that she won't try again next summer.

A bit of second-hand notoriety rubbed off on Mrs. Luin Cox last Monday evening in the "Straws" column which appears in the Mason City Globe-Gazette. Mary Jane and her sister, now Mrs. Robert E. Johnson of Cedar Rapids, met Barbara Stanwyck's soon-to-be-ex, when they visited a former schoolmate of theirs in New Orleans.

Mr. Taylor was making a movie for the Navy and had been assigned the "former schoolmate"—a Wave at the time—as his secretary S-o-o-o-, the Pauley sisters, Mary Jane and Martha, had the pleasure of meeting the film star.

Of course, the ex-Pauley sisters are now one up on handsome Robert. They've still firmly got their husbands. Bob can't say as much regarding his wife . . . Must be a moral there somewhere.

Pioneer Resident Final Rites Held

Mrs. Cornelia Jane Andrews, a real pioneer resident of this community, passed away on Thursday of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Lieuwen, at Green Bay, Wis. She would have been 92 years old on Friday of this week.

Born to Eli and Mary Tomlinson Coolidge at Windsor, Dane county, Wisconsin, on Dec. 22, 1858, Cornelia Jane Coolidge came with her parents by covered wagon to Kellogg, Iowa, as a child.

On Jan. 11, 1882 she was married to Austin Andrews. A year later they settled on a farm north of Belmond. Besides the daughter with whom Mrs. Andrews has been living, Ida Marie, the Andrews were parents of son, Lorin Gates. He died in 1938 and Mr. Andrews passed away on Sept. 13, 1920.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Lieuwen, are four grandchildren and six great grandchildren; two brothers, Karl Wiegand of Malvern, Ark., and John Wiegand of Kansas City, Mo.; and a sister, Mrs. C. N. Reese of Lancaster, Ohio.

Mrs. Andrews was a charter member of the Royal Neighbors lodge of Belmond, having joined the organization on Jan. 14, 1899; and she had been a member of the Golden Rod Rebekah lodge of Belmond for 44 years.

Funeral services were held Monday from the Fulton Funeral home, Rev. A. B. McKeith officiating, and burial was in Belmond cemetery. Pallbearers were Mike Luick, Ben Fetrow, George Elder, Ted Townsan, George Coburn and Leland Lieuwen.

MRS. GOWDY'S FATHER DIED LAST THURSDAY; RITES HELD SATURDAY

John J Simmons of Northwood, father of Mrs. R. H. Gowdy, passed away at 12:30 a. m. on Thursday of last week from the effects of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered early the previous Monday. He had reached the age of 80 on May 12 of this year.

Mr. Simmons, at various periods during his lifetime, had been a school teacher, farmer and businessman—and for 17 years he served as treasurer of Worth county.

Mrs. Gowdy was called to Northwood soon after her father had suffered the stroke and all other members of the family were with Mr. Simmons before his death came. He never regained full consciousness, but was able to give slight indications that he realized his wife and children were present.

Funeral services at Northwood were held Saturday at the First Lutheran church, with burial in the Sunset Rest cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Simmons are his wife and four children: John B. Simmons of Libertyville, Ill., Mrs. Gowdy, Mrs. Malcolm Schroeder of DeWitt and Norton K. Simmons of South Bend, Ind.; also four grandchildren.

CASE CONTINUED

Gary Dipple, who appeared last Saturday before Judge G. R. Hill in juvenile court at Clarion on a charge of delinquency, was committed by the court into the custody of Dr. A. M. Nelson. The boy's case was continued for a period of 30 days. On Jan. 16, a report must be made to the court regarding his conduct during the month's time.

Letter Reports On Heavy U. S. Losses In Korean Retreat

A letter received this week by R. A. Thompson from his son Jack, a navy pharmacist's mate attached to the 1st Marines, stationed in Korea, brings a first-hand report on the tragedy which enveloped American forces after Chinese hordes attacked last month.

Jack's message, mailed from Yonpo airfield on Dec. 8, stated:

"I am in another outfit—not exactly another outfit, but one that's worse off than the last bunch. We have been flying casualties from up by the Changjin reservoir for five days. We have hauled out about 5,000 wounded and 2,000 dead.

"This was a police action a month ago, and now it's a massacre. We have about eight to 10 inches of snow. One thing I hope is that those prayers will stop those 80.000 gooks headed for here."

News from the Korean front on Tuesday revealed that the U. S. air force that day had been forced to abandon Yonpo airport, near the Hungnam beach-head.

Jack would welcome hearing from old friends. His complete address is: John D. Thompson, H. N.—1st Com. Ser. Gru. Sc, FMF — 1st Air Deliv. Plt.—% F. P. O., San Francisco, Calif.

Janeal Bayliss Awarded First In Santa Claus Letter Contest

Judges in the 1950 contest for the best letter to Santa Claus—Mrs. Viva Parker and Gertrude Lee, both teachers in the Belmond grade school—found their job a difficult one. There were many fine letters among those sent to The Independent for forwarding to the North Pole, and a decision on the winners was arrived at only after careful study of the entries.

Mrs. Parker and Miss Lee finally selected for first place the letter written by Janeal Bayliss, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bayliss.

A fourth-grader, Janeal asked for clothing for herself and entered a particular plea with Old St. Nick that he not miss the boys battling the Communists in frigid north Korea.

She will receive a check for $15.00 if she'll call at the newspaper office, where all the winners are asked to pick up their prizes.

Second award of $10.00 goes to Roger Henn, age seven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henn; third, $5.00, to Betty Johnson, also seven, who's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

Prizes of $2.50 each, for fourth, fifth and sixth places, were won by the following:

Gary Luick, seven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Luick; Curtis Lee Trager, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trager; and Ronald Ostendorf, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ostendorf of Goodell.

Sponsors of the contest, besides The Independent, were Elliott's Hardware, Mello Maid Ice Cream shop, First State Bank, Heiland's Beauty Shop, Woodward's store, Courson-McNeal Agency, Dutch's Clothing store, Central States Electric, Nolan Drug store, Chandler's Coffee Shop, New Belmond theatre, Bonte Hardware and Model Dry Cleaners.

St. John Nativity Scene Drawing Much Attention

Much attention has been drawn to the impressive Nativity Scene in the north yard of St. John Lutheran church and the creche is a matter of particular pride to the pastor, Rev. H. P. Senft, and the Men's Brotherhood of the church, its sponsors.

The display is especially impressive when illuminated at night. This is the third year that such a scene has been erected by members of the church, but this season additions have been made to the former display.

Bob Foss Gets Extension Of Leave Till Dec. 27th

Cpl. Bob Foss last week received a fourth extension of the emergency leave he received early last month so he could be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Blanche Foss. Mrs. Foss is still a patient at Steele Memorial hospital, suffering from a serious heart condition.

Bob expects to report back to Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., on Wednesday of next week, leaving a day earlier from Des Moines by plane. He recently received word that his Marine buddy, Eddy Albers—with whom he reported back for active duty last fall—recently was ordered overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Doctor and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wagner visited Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clopton at Clarion Sunday afternoon.

John Larsons to Observe 50th Anniversary Dec. 28

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson of 712 Sixth avenue NE will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary a week from today, Dec. 28. Open house will be held at their home from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

The Larsens are the parents of nine children, two of whom live here in Belmond —Harry and James Larson.

Other children are Ralph Larson, Mrs. Walter Lauden and Mrs. Alvin Haupt of Goodell, Mrs. Alex Early of Mason City, Mrs. Herman Meintz of Klemme, Mrs. William Lindamen of Ackley and Elmer Larson of Ventura.

CLEANING SHOP BLAST CAUSES $1,200 DAMAGE

An explosion in a tumbler at the Model Cleaners on Monday morning caused an estimated $1,200 damage, half accounted for by destruction of clothing in the machine and the remainder representing damage to the machine itself.

Purpose of the tumbler is to remove from cleaned clothing the odor of cleaning fluid used, and the machine was heavily loaded with garments when the explosion occurred.

An adjuster for the company carrying insurance on the cleaning shop consulted with Proprietor M. B. Dannewitz on Tuesday. All losses involved in the mishap will be fully covered by insurance, Mr. Dannewitz reports.

GOODWILL TRUCK COMING

Mrs. Clyde Jennings, secretary of the Methodist church, has been notified that the Goodwill Industries truck will pay one of its regular visits to Belmond on Jan. 2. Anyone having appropriate articles to donate are asked to contact Mrs. Jennings.

MARLYS WATERMILLER CROWNED BASKETBALL QUEEN TUESDAY NIGHT

Marlys Watermiller, a senior, was crowned 1950-51 B. H. S. Basketball Queen during the halftime intermission at the Garner-Belmond game on Tuesday night. She was elected on the basis of votes cast by the students who had sold season tickets. Two hundred points were allowed for the sale of each adult ticket and 100 for each student ticket.

Each high school home room was permitted to nominate a candidate and two were named by the composite vote of the junior high. Miss Watermiller was nominated by the junior high students, as was Doris Kickbush, also a senior.

The remaining candidates were: Dixie Carstens and Marilyn Ellis, seniors; Frances Palmer and Judy Baker, juniors; Barbara Bohning and Gertrude McLaughlin, sophomores; Barbara Mariga and Sharon Strait, freshmen. The unsuccessful candidates served as attendants to "her highness".

Little Janet Howell and Steven Woolley participated in the ceremony as flower girl and crownbearer and the diadem was placed upon the queen's head by Jack Riggs, president of the student council.

Churches to Hold Special Programs

Special Christmas programs are planned by all Belmond churches for the end of this week or Christmas Day.

First to hold its traditional Sunday School program will be the Methodist church, which has scheduled its children's entertainment for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock.

The Methodist worship hour Sunday morning is set ahead 15 minutes to 10:45. Sunday night the congregation will meet for a midnight Christmas Eve service in candlelight from 11:00 p. m. to midnight.

Sunday School programs at the Trinity and St. Olaf Lutheran churches will be held Thursday and Friday nights, respectively, each starting at 7:30 o'clock. Christmas Festival service at St. Olaf will be at 10:00 a. m. Christmas Day and at Trinity, 11:00 a. m. on Sunday.

Christmas Eve candlelighting service will be held at the Congregational church, for both adults and children, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Fundamental Baptist church will hold its Sunday school and church program at 7:30 p. m. on Friday; and at 7:30 on Sunday a Christmas drama will be presented by the young people.

Special music will feature High Masses at the St. Francis Catholic church at 6:00 and 10:00 a. m. on Sunday.

St. John Lutheran church will hold its annual Christmas Festival service at 10:00 a. m. Monday, and the children's program will be at 7:30 o'clock on Christmas Eve.

HAROLD SMITH'S MINK DO WELL AT SHOWING

Harold Smith, Belmond mink breeder, last week had the top bundle of mixed male and female pelts shown at a large fur sale conducted at Minneapolis. Only one bundle, made up exclusively of male hides, got a higher rating than that consigned by the local mink fancier.

This was by no means the first honor that Smith's mink had won this year. With an entry of only 12 animals at the annual mink show at Austin, Minn., last month, Harold came home with two trophies and eight ribbons.

His entries were awarded championships in the platinum and light platinum divisions. He also had second best platinum male and second best standard dark male.

This year Harold "harvested" about 325 pelts, keeping back 150 females and about 30 males as breeding stock for next year's operations.

NEWS ARRIVED LATE

Due to late arrival of news correspondence from Kanawha this week, it was necessary to omit from today's issue the section customarily devoted to news from that community. The Independent deeply regrets that this had to be done. Kanawha news will be in its usual place next week.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Darlene Stoffer entered Dec. 12 as a medical patient.

Maryen Johnson of Kanawha entered Dec. 13 for surgery.

Mrs. Ray Richards of Alexander entered Dec. 19 as a medical patient.

Billy Jenison of Ames entered Dec. 19 for surgery.

ONE DAY LATE -- AGAIN!

In order to enable members of The Independent staff to enjoy a holiday on Christmas and New Year's Day — and still produce a paper with pages printed on BOTH sides —the issues of next week and the week following will be placed in the mail a day late. That will result in The Independent reaching your door on Friday instead of Thursday; but it will put the newspaper force in a much better frame of mind to start the new year and contribute materially to the heartiness of their season's greetings, appearing elsewhere on this page.

Belmond Trounces Garner's Scrappy Cagers, 49 to 36

Belmond took its third North Iowa conference win in a row Tuesday night on its home court by defeating Garner's scrappy team, 49 to 36. Except for a couple of moments early in the game the Cardinals were never in front and there was no doubt about the final verdict during the final three quarters.

Marlyn Watermiller was a standout for the Broncos, taking a big share of the rebounds off of both boards and tying with Dave Helland for high scoring honors with 15 points.

Garner had to give away too much in height to make it a close contest. Belmond went ahead 10-6 in the first quarter and boosted its lead to 22-14 by halftime. A flurry of Cardinal baskets after the intermission briefly closed the gap to four points but the Broncs forged back to gain a 36-25 edge by the end of the third stanza.

Coach Jim Scott substituted freely in the final period, but the reserves kept matters well under control. Little Larry Schisel, who should make quite a ball player if he gets a little more size, starred for the losers. He performed well on defense and accounted for 11 points. Dale Meyers was close behind him with 10.

Besides the Watermiller-Helland combine's 30 points, the Bronco scoring was as follows: Odean Severseike, 6; Jack Riggs and Freddy Loats, 4 each; Don Faris and Allan Meyer, 2 apiece; and Bill Trees, 1.

Belmond did a bit better on free throws than in previous games, netting seven out of 12; but Garner had an edge in that department with 10 good out of 16.

In the frosh-soph curtain raiser, Belmond came through in the last quarter to clinch a 25-18 win. Arlen Pals topped the scorers with 10 points, Jim Faris got six, Don Hoppel four, Claude Larkin and Dean Gunderson two apiece, and Larry Larson one.

BACK IN GERMANY

Mrs. H. R. Bayliss this week received a letter from her son, Sgt. Edwin Quandt—who recently visited in Belmond during an Army furlough—stating he had arrived in Graffenwohr, Germany, on Dec. 7 after an 18-hour trans-oceanic flight from Westover Field, Mass.

Ice Glaze Brings Grief to 3 Cars, Truck on No. 69

Ice on Highway 69 just north of town Tuesday morning brought three cars and a truck to grief in a chain of mishaps. About $950 total damage was the estimate on the four vehicles by the time things had quieted down.

Gladys Eliason, teacher at Belmond township rural school No. 6—usually identified as Baker school—initiated the series of misadventures as she was headed for her classroom duties about 8:30 o'clock. She endeavored to brake her car to turn west at the first intersection beyond the city limits—and things began to happen.

Miss Eliason's car slithered on the glaze and refused to respond to her turn of the wheel. Roy Lowman, driving north behind her, stepped on his brake but couldn't get stopped in time to avoid colliding with the teacher's auto.

While an effort was being made to get that tangle straightened out, a by-stander flagged down a Marigold dairy truck approaching from the north and driven by Orris Lura of Clear Lake. His endeavor to stop was much more successful than that of Dr. Harry Voetberg of Garner, who'd been trailing the truck.

The U. S. government car driven by the Garner veterinary skidded slantwise along the road and caught the rear left end of the truck with its right rear fender and wheel. Doctor Voetberg's machine continued on to the east ditch beside the highway, turned over a time and a half, and came to rest on its side.

Patrolman Harland Sievers made the following damage estimates: Miss Eliason's '50 Ford—$150; Mr. Lowman's '49 Mercury—$250; Dr. Voetberg's government car—$500; and the Marigold truck—$50. No personal injuries were suffered by any of the drivers.

Only legal outgrowth of the mix-up was a charge filed by Patrolman Sievers against Miss Eliason for driving while not wearing glasses, as her permit requires. Appearing before Mayor A. W. Loats, Miss Eliason admitted her neglect in this matter and paid a $2.50 fine.

Funeral Services Today For Mrs. Marie Gealow

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2:00 o'clock from St. John Lutheran church for Mrs. Marie Gealow, 71, who passed away on Tuesday. Rev. H. P. Senft will officiate and the service is in the charge of Fulton Funeral Home. Burial will be in Belmond cemetery.

Mrs. Gealow, whose husband died in the spring of 1948, had been living with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Quasdorf. She had been in failing health for a number of years and her illness was recently complicated by a fall.

Mrs. Gealow's complete obituary will appear in next week's paper.

Mrs. Lily Ersland of Ames, Delano Thornburg and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Michelson of Pleasantville were guests Sunday in the Harry Brooks home. Mrs. Michelson remained for this week.

James H. Boehmler Added to Staff Of Rowat - Murray Engineering Firm

James H. Boehmler, Jr., a native of Hampton but lately of Philadelphia, Pa., last week joined the firm of Rowat and Murray as a staff engineer attached to the local office.

Mr. Boehmler is married and has one child—a son, James H., III. The family is renting the Ben Heginger house on south River avenue which for some time was the home of C. N. Hofmeister.

A graduate of Hampton High school in 1941, the new engineer attended Antioch college at Yellow Springs, Ohio, for a year and a half before entering the U. S. Army in the spring of 1943, and during his period in service had a year of schooling at North Central college at Naperville, Ill., under the ASTP program.

As member of a combat battalion in the Army engineer corps, Mr. Boehmler saw overseas duty in both Europe and the Philippines. He was discharged in April of 1946. Soon afterward he married a former Antioch classmate and then began study in engineering at the University of Minnesota.

Completing his work in December of 1948, Mr. Boehmer was one of two students out of 400 receiving degrees in the engineering department to be graduated "with high distinction".

He then accepted a position in the bridge department of the Pennsylvania railroad as a structural engineer, having headquarters in Philadeplhia.

Mr. Boehmler will be assigned primarily to designing bridges for the time being, that having been his particular field with the Pennsylvania, but he expects also to work into general engineering assignments for Rowat and Murray.

Kinfolk Arrive in Time To Enjoy The Holidays With J. Lippins Family

Christmas will be a particularly happy time for the Julius Lippins family of Meservey because they will have "home folks" with them for the holidays this year.

On Monday of last week Mr. Lippins' aunt, Molly Lippins, and his cousin, Milda, arrived in this country and two days later were in Meservey. They, like Julius and his family, are Latvian displaced persons who are seeking new freedom in America.

For the time being, Molly is staying in the home of Rev. A. E. Wilken and Milda in the home of her cousin. Work as a domestic had been arranged for Milda in Des Moines, but she's been obliged to forego this employment until she can master the English language to some degree.

The newcomers have been in a DP camp in Germany since the war, awaiting an opportunity to come to the United States. As soon as Milda can speak English sufficiently to obtain work, she hopes to set up a home for herself and her mother.

Greetings of the Season

A Little more kindness
A Little less creed
A Little more giving
A Little less greed
A Little more smile
A Little less frown
A Little less kicking a man when he's down
A Little more "We"
A Little less "I"
A Little more laugh
A Little less cry
A Little more flowers on the pathway of life
And less on the graves
  at the end of the strife.

LETTERS To Santa Claus

Dear Santa,

How is Rudolph? I would like a ranch and a gas station. I wish you a Merry Christmas.

Your friend
Kirk Cunningham

Dear Santa Claus:

I would like to have a big doll and necklace set. I am six years old and in the kindergarten at school. Miss Seims is my teacher and I like her very much.

My little brother is four years old and would like to have a farm set. He just loves the farm. Wishing you have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Thank you very much
Jolene and Dale Harris

Dear Santa

I am going to be three years old two days after Christmas. If you think I am old enough for a electric train, I sure would like one. I've been a pretty boy, mamma and daddy say. I'll be looking for you.

Love
Larry Johnson

Dear Santa

I am 8 years old. I hope you have lots of toys for all the boys and girls. I would like to have a typewriter and a toy adding machine. My little brother Larry would like to have a train and a sled.

Merry Christmas Santa
Ardith Ann Pals

Dear Santa Claus

We have plenty of snow for your sleigh and reindeers this year.

Please take a gift to all the boys in service all over the world. Also to the little boys and girls that don't have any parents.

I would like a filling station and candy and nuts. That's all. Thanks a lot for my presents for last year. Hope you have a nice trip this year.

Lots of love
Dennis Eccles

Dear Santa

This year I want clothing for Christmas. I am getting to old for toys.

Please Santa go see all those poor boys that have been fighting so hard in Korea. They have to sleep in fox holes out in the cold and cannot have a nice Christmas at home like we can here.

There are two of our neighbor boys over there they are Roger Nelson and Victor Brooks don't miss them Santa. Hope this war ends soon and they can all come home. Many will never come home. Don't forget Edwin he is in Germany again now.

Love
Janeal Bayliss

Dear Santa

Would you please bring me a doll, Record player and China dishes. I have tried to be a good girl. A very Merry Christmas to you and Mrs. Claus.

Love
Karen Chapman

Ed Tracy's Brother Dies; Won Football Reputation at M. C. High, Creighton

Funeral services were held Tuesday for W. C. Tracy of Spencer, a brother of Ed Tracy of this community, who died Saturday after a brief illness. A barber by trade, Mr. Tracy was 48 years old.

Mr. Tracy, although small in stature, earned considerable prominence as a high school and college athlete. He was a graduate of Mason City High school, where he won two letters in football and three in track.

At Columbia college (now Loras) in Dubuque, he played under Coach Eddie Anderson. He later enrolled at Creighton—which was then playing major football—where he was reputed to be the lightest college varsity quarterback in the country, weighing only 128 pounds. He was on the Creighton team for three years.

Besides his brother in Belmond, Mr. Tracy is survived by his mother, Mrs. Alice Tracy of Mason City; another brother, Bernard, of Mason City; and two sisters — Mrs. John Worley of Chicago and Mrs. Harold Shelhorn of St. Paul, Minn. His father and a brother preceded him in death.

Belmond Busy Bees Have Their Mothers as Guests At Annual Holiday Party

The annual Christmas party of the Belmond Busy Bees was held Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mary Lou Baker. Eighteen club members and the two leaders, Mrs. E. H. Strait and Mrs. Art Homervold, were present.

Five new members who have recently joined the club include Sandra Kamm, Barbara Polmateer, Gwendolyn Polmateer, Phyllis Soma and Sandra Soma.

The mothers present were Mesdames Redmond, Polmateer, Kamm, Soma, Didio, Studebaker, Slining, Simerson, Oberhauser, Swenson, Johnson and Baker.

Following a potluck supper, there was a Christmas program. Judy Oberhauser opened the program by giving a 4-H poem. Mary Lou Baker gave a report on the recent trip which JoAnn Slining, Mrs. Art Homervold and she took to the Chicago International Livestock show.

Christmas customs of other lands, were told by Mary Alice Studebaker, and Myrna Strait then gave "The Night Before Christmas." Marjorie Sue Johnson accompanied at the piano while all present sang familiar Christmas carols.

Mrs. Lettie Zuber explained the new record books, which helped the girls to understand more about the coming year's project, "Foods and Nutrition".

Mary Ellen McClure was in charge of recreation. The gifts were exchanged, and then popcorn balls and candy served.

Unbeaten Indians Top NI Standings

NORTH IOWA STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Forest City	4	0	1.000
Belmond	3	1	.750
Northwood	2	1	.667
Britt	1	2	.333
Lake Mills	1	2	.333
Garner	0	3	.000
Buffalo Center	0	3	.000

With no conference games scheduled over the Christmas holidays, Forest City is firmly entrenched in top position in the North Iowa standings with four consecutive wins, followed by Belmond in the runner-up shot.

Last Friday the Indians soundly trounced Lake Mills, 53-34 and Tuesday night they put Britt in its place by a 44-29 score.

Belmond easily trimmed the tail-end Buffalo Center and Garner crews, 32-20 and 49-36, to gain second.

Northwood barely edged Garner on Friday night, 49 to 48, to pull into third place. At press time, no report had been received on the outcome of Tuesday's game between Northwood and Buffalo Center.

The Broncos will return to action on Friday, Jan. 5, when they travel to Klemme.

Carroll-Sharp Nuptial Rites Performed Sunday Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony performed at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon Miss Elaine Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carroll of Waterloo, became the bride of George J. Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sharp. Rev. Alfred McKeith officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar which was decorated with yellow pompons and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper-satin gown featuring an Elizabethan collar with tiny seed pearls, a row of satin covered buttons descending to the basque waist and a skirt which fell into a train. Her veil was of imported illusion and was held in place with a satin sweetheart tiara. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, with a rose corsage center and satin streamers.

Alice June Boucher of Clarion, the maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow satin and carried a colonial bouquet of yelllow and white pompons.

Joan Pals was bridesmaid and Elsie Carroll, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They each wore a blue gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pompons.

Bobby Wilcox, cousin of the groom, was ringbearer and carried the rings on a yellow satin, heart-shaped pillow with blue streamers. Sharon Wilcox, also a cousin of the groom, acted as flower girl and wore a floor-length gown of white organdy.

Dwight Mennenga and David Steenblock, nephews of the groom, were the candlelighters.

Mrs. Cato Griesy played the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Roger Charlson of Clarion, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The groom and his attendant, Jake Gruis, wore blue business suits. Ushers were Ed Gabrielson and Glenn Meints. All of the men of the wedding party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a grey dress. Both had corsages of red roses.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake, trimmed in yellow and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the bride's table. Silver nut cups with name cards marked each place.

Mrs. Dora Fjetland was hostess, Mrs. Henry Steenblock poured and Mrs. Ted Volding cut and served the wedding cake. Jan Lerdal, Elaine Lewis, Doris Nelson and Imogene Halfpap were servers and Mrs. Francis Sandry and Mrs. Harry Larson assisted in the kitchen.

Doris Christie was in charge of the gifts and Mrs. Louis Mennenga of the guest book.

The bride, who is a graduate of Clarion High school and business school in Des Moines, has been employed for the past two and a half years as comptometer operator in a state office in Des Moines. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

The groom, who is a graduate of Belmond High school, served a period of 18 months in the army and is currently employed as deputy county auditor at Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp will be at home at 607 8th Ave. N. E. in Belmond

JUNIOR HIGH CAGERS SPLIT WITH HAMPTON

Belmond's seventh and eighth grade basketball squads, tutored by Clair Hugh, made their season debuts last Friday at Hampton in a double-header that saw the locals breaking even. Hampton won the seventh grade contest, 18 to 8, but the Belmond eighth graders were victors by a 30-18 score.

In the first tilt, Bruce Hall scored three points, Gary Meyer and Arlo Stoltenberg two apiece and Arlen Frohling one. Other squad members are Ronald Smith, Gary Dunton, Marlan Cunningham, Rodney Kickbush, Tommy Stadtlander and Larry McMurray.

Gene Mehl was largely responsible for the eighth graders' win, after Hampton had held Belmond's margin down to 11-8 in the first half. Mehl poured in 14 points, followed by Keith Madsen with seven.

Other Colt scorers were Leroy Smith with three, Dennis Scott, Gary Gartz and Ronald Hanson with two apiece. Also on the squad are Jim Gealow, Jerry Dorr, Jerry Quigley, Perry Ersland, Pat Smith and Terry John-

Other Colt contests are slated for Jan. 19, with Hampton, here; with Clarion, here, on Feb. 9; and games at Clarion and with Dows, here, on dates yet to be selected.

MAIN STREET

By George - Dick - Pat

Little three-year Darla Ersland is definitely OUR gal! . . . Last Saturday Mrs. George Vance encountered Darla and her grandmother, Mrs. Fonce Hood, on Main street and the following conversation ensued:

Mrs. V.: "Whatcha got?"

Darla: "Ca-a-andee!"

Mrs. V.: "Where'd you get it?"

Darla: "Santa Claus."

Mrs. V.: "What did you tell Santy to bring ME?"

Darla: "Told him to bring you the Belmond paper."

Had we only known we had such good connections with Old St. Nick, we'd never have bothered with that good will subscription campaign last fall, by golly!

—M-S—

Noticed in last Sunday's Des Moines Register that one of our Clarion neighbors won himself—or herself—a cash Christmas present of $2.00 in a question-and-answer feature in the "This Week" magazine section. In Tom Henry's "QUIZ 'EM" column, a party identified as "M. O., Clarion, Iowa" earned a prize pay-off with the question: "What state will not allow its residents to take part in radio give-away programs?"; and then supplying the answer—Wisconsin.

—M-S—

Last weekend, in a scientific spirit and for the benefit of Ye Editor's cat, that giant egg of Ben Mehus' was opened. The result was an even bigger surprise than the original size of the egg.

Inside the six-ounce spheroid was nestled a conventional yolk encompassed in 'white"—and a second, normal-sized egg!

In view of this development, we're inclined to throw out Duane Anderson's theory that the hen was ashamed to produce average-sized eggs at the price hen fruit was currently bringing. We're convinced the feathered egg factory merely had a moment of absentmindedness — perhaps dreaming of a white Christmas and wondering whether she'd survive it—and forgot what she was doing.

Those gals on the Belmond Greenhouse bowling team are up to their old trick of embarrassing their male "superiors". Last week the Greenhouse girls tumbled the maples for a scratch total of 2.103 pins with games of 714-715-674.

This was 273 more than one men's team managed to make and surpassed the totals of two others by more than 100 pins. Altogether, eight men's teams last week failed to accumulate a total that could match that of the Greenhouse gang.

Four of the ladies had series totals that exceeded 400 by a comfortable margin: Deloris Withers, 460, Orana Quigley 441, Olga Rogalla 433 and Mary Gordon 427. Eva Larson and Alice Busick complete the Greenhouse squad.

—M-S—

Those Vets did it again! While a lot of us were grousing about the high cost of setting up a Christmas dinner, they were seeing that needy families in Belmond were able to enjoy a real, holiday feast.

Same as last year, the VFW set out to provide baskets for 25 homes; but—again the same as in '49—the members' response to the project was so generous that there were sufficient supplies to fill 33 baskets to the bursting point.

The $10 gift the Vets received from the Christian Endeavor society of the Immanuel Reformed church helped mightily toward the success of the project, too.

Nelsons' Son Gets Out of Hospital - - Then Breaks Arm

It's just one darned thing after another with Duane Neslon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marson Nelson—who fervently hopes that 1951 may prove less discouraging than the past year has been.

Duane's left foot has been paralyzed since he was involved in an auto accident while visiting here on Army furlough in October of 1948. He's been hospitalized periodically ever since, as the veterans' administration endeavored to improve his use of the injured leg.

The early part of this month he was released from the veterans' hospital at Long Beach, Calif., after a four-month stay recovering from another operation. When he got out, he promptly went to work at a factory job and things began looking up.

Then a week ago Monday, after two weeks in circulation, he tumbled from a platform while at work and broke his right arm. He phoned his parents on Thursday of last week to inform them of this latest development.

He's finding some small consolation in that fact that, at least, he's not back in a hospital. He's currently staying with an aunt in Long Beach, Mrs. Donald Clark, a sister of Mrs. Nelson.

Township Levies In Belmond Area Generally Lower

Millage levies for various taxing districts in the Belmond vicinity, which were not yet available when 1950 millage for the corporation of Belmond was made public two weeks ago, have now been released by County Auditor Roger Charlson.

In most instances, land not falling within an independent or consolidated school district is being taxed at a slightly lower rate than in 1949.

Partial explanation of this says Mr. Charlson, lies in the fact that most township school levies last year were made generously ample as actual needs were not ascertained until after the millages had to be set.

Deductions from gross levies for monies and credits are, without exception, lower than a year ago, the auditor adds. The $5,000 exemption has resulted in most monies and credits deductions in the townships running little if any more than 50 per cent of what they were for 1949.

Following are listed various township levies, followed in each case with the levy for the same district a year ago: Belmond township—23.6659 mills and 24.1441; Pleasant—24.1449 and 22.9004; Iowa—22.4464 and 23.3102; Norway—19.5406 and 20.9517; Grant — 21.2657 and 23.9366.

Belmond Independent School district from Belmond township—45.4678 and 44.2866; Belmond Independent from Pleasant—45.3816 and 43.3231; Meservey Consolidated from Pleasant—35.153 and 34.6394; Alexander Consolidated from Iowa—35.2358 and 32.4365; and from Pleasant— 35.[illegible] and 32 6201.

JOURNALISM SOCIETY ADDS FIVE MEMBERS

Five new members were initiated into the Belmond chapter of Quill and Scroll, international society for high school journalists, at ceremonies conducted Wednesday of last week at the apartment of the group's adviser, Mrs. Josephine Hugh.

Those chosen for the honor of membership were Mary Lou Baker, Betty Clare Henderson, Jim Riekens, Audrey Soma and Bernadine Summers.

Headed by President Paul Griesy, other active members of the society are Marilyn Ellis, Norma Jean Hopkey and Lila Jean Johnson. The initiates were honored with a dinner at the Clarion Grill prior to the ceremony.

Guests at the dinner and initiation were W. Earl Hall, managing editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette and whose name the Belmond Quill and Scroll chapter bears, Editor Pat Gallagher of The Independent and Clair Hugh. After-dinner talks were presented by Mr. Hall and Mr. Gallagher.

County's Lawyers Pass Resolution Lauding H. E. Fry

Members of the Wright County Bar association this month paid their respects to H. E. Fry of Boone, who on Jan. 1 retires as judge in the 11th judicial district after serving on the bench for 36 years.

Mr. Fry wasn't a candidate for reelection to the post. Included in the district which he has served for so long are Boone, Franklin, Hamilton, Hardin, Story, Webster and Wright counties.

As a gesture of their esteem, the county's lawyers and Judge G. R. Hill of Clarion drafted and had inserted as a permanent part of the court's records the following resolution:

"Whereas, throughout this unusually long period of service he has distinguished himself by his fairness and sound judicial judgment, and

Whereas, through his own choice, he has determined to retire from the bench,

Therefore be it resolved by the members of the Wright County Bar association that we do hereby express to Judge Fry our appreciation for the many kindness he has extended to the individual members of the bar; and we further express to him our sincere wishes for his continued good health and happiness."

Judge Fry was 80 years old on his last birthday, Sept. 13. He was a banker from 1890 to 1902, with time out for college study at Cornell and the University of Iowa.

He became a member of the Iowa bar in '01 and practiced law from 1902 to 1914. In the latter year he was first elected 11th district judge, a capacity in which he has served continuously since.

BELMOND'S 1950-51 BASKETBALL TEAM has better than lived up to expectations during the pre-holiday portion of its schedule. So far, the Broncos are undefeated on their home floor in four contests; they've taken the measure of Klemme, Lake Mills, Eagle Grove and Garner.

Abroad, they haven't fared so well. As guest team, they downed Buffalo Center but lost to Hampton and Britt. However, they should stand reasonable chance of avenging both defeats when they get their conquerors on the home floor later in the season.

A hard-working, determined crew, the Broncos promise to show their fans plenty of basketball in the remainder of their games——win or lose.

No New Licenses, So Registrations By Motorists Lag

County Treasurer Harold E. Sullivan reports that applications for auto license renewals this months are running well behind last year. Through Dec. 27 of 1949, owners of 2,700 cars had applied for licenses, but on Wednesday of this week the 1,600 mark had not quite been reached.

Mr. Sullivan believes the explanation lies in the fact that no new plates are being issued.

"In those years when new plates are given out, there's always a rush on the part of those wanting low numbers or a particular sequence of numbers. When these new plates appear on the streets, they serve as a reminder to all car owners that the time has come to renew their licenses," the treasurer says.

With plates this year being up-dated merely by attachment of metal tabs, a lot of the usual "early birds" aren't in so much of a rush.

All Junior Showmen Must Weigh Calves by Jan. 1st

All 4-H and FFA members who have baby beef projects should weigh their calves by next Monday, Jan. 1, according to Youth Assistant Art Hibray. The maximum weight allowed on that date is 650 pounds.

Mr. Hibray reminds all junior showmen that this is a state 4-H regulation and must be followed in order for a 4-H or FFA boy to exhibit at the Eagle Grove junior fair.

After the calves have been weighed, the weight slips should be mailed to the county extension office at Clarion.

Dorothy Lonning Elected To National Honor Group

NORTHFELD, Minn.—St. Olaf college chapter of Pi Gamma Mu initiated 15 new members at ceremonies held last week. Pi Gamma Mu is the national honorary society in the social sciences.

One member of the administrative staff of the college and 14 students were accepted as members, including Dorothy Lonning of Belmond.

Students majoring in economics, history, political science or sociology who attain high scholastic records in their majors as well as in their general programs are eligible for election to Pi Gamma Mu.

Jay Porterfield Awarded Master's Degree by I. S. C.

AMES, Iowa, Dec. 26—Jay G. Porterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porterfield, Belmond, was awarded the degree of Master of Science in agricultural engineering at Iowa State college on Wednesday of last week.

Graduation exercises marking the end of fall quarter of study were held at 10:30 a. m. in the gymnasium for a class of 371 students. Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of the college, addressed the group, and presented the diplomas.

Ronnie Hunter to Appear In Collegiate 'Who's Who'

Ronnie Hunter, son of former Belmond residents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter, who now live at Kingsley, is one of 14 students at Wayne (Neb.) State Teachers college named for inclusion in the 1950-51 edition of the U. S. college and university Who's Who.

A junior at Wayne, Mr. Hunter is a member of Simga Tau Delta—honorary English fraternity, and Pi Gamma Mu—honorary history fraternity. He is majoring in English and history and is 1950-51 editor of the campus newspaper, "Goldenrod." He plans to attend law school next year at the University of Iowa.

Car Rolls Over 4 Times; Two Only Slightly Hurt

Daryl Dillon and a companion, Dorothy Handt, escaped with minor cuts and bruises when a car driven by the former went out of control on Highway 69 early last Saturday morning and rolled over four times.

As Dillon was driving toward Belmond, about a mile south of Goodell, the car struck a patch of ice and skidded across the highway into the east ditch. It barely missed a power-line pole as it rolled into the adjacent pasture.

The two young people were brought to Steele Memorial hospital by Night Marshal Harve Seals and given first aid.

STOLTENBERG IN JAPAN

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoltenberg received word Tuesday from their son, Gene, that he has arrived in Tokyo, Japan. He only recently completed his "boot" training" at Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training station.

Land Tax Credits To Delay Drawing Of '50 Tax Lists

Wright county tax lists will be left open for another two or three weeks, according to Auditor Roger Charlson, because apportionment of 1950 agricultural land tax credits is not yet available from the office of the state comptroller

Word was received from the comptroller on Wednesday morning that 10 counties at that time had not yet submitted their claims, and as a result the apportionments to individual countes might not be ready until the middle of next month.

It was suggested by the state official that the Wright county lists could either be closed at once, or left open until the sum for agricultural land tax credits is forwarded. Mr. Charlson has decided the latter course would be preferred, as an economy step and to eliminate possible legal complications in individual cases.

Distribution of agricultural land tax credits for the years 1946-49 had to be made on the refund basis, and this involved considerable time and expense on the part of both the auditor's treasurer's offices, Mr. Charlson says.

In addition, distribution by refund creates a problem in getting the money to the correct party in cases where there have been title transfers—whereas simply deducting the amounts from taxes otherwise due assures that the correct party receives credit.

Mr. Charlson assures that the tax lists will be drawn up promptly upon receipt from the comptroller's office of the amount in tax credits that owners of agricultural land in Wright county have coming.

15-Year-Olds Find 'Cold, Cold World' Is PLENTY Cold

An unhappy escapade came to an end here Tuesday afternoon when two 15-year-old girls voluntarily surrendered to city authorities and reported they had run away from the Hennepin (Minn.) County School for Girls—an orphanage.

The youngsters, one an Indian, had been hitch-hiking. A "Good Samaritan" who had given them a lift at Albert Lea learned their story as the party approached Belmond and he induced them to give themselves up.

Mayor A. W. Loats arranged for the girls to be taken into custody by Sheriff Bob Blecker; he took them to Fort Dodge, where they were held until a school representative could pick them up.

The girls had only three cents between them when they abandoned their flight, and had discovered that the "cold, cold world" was a lot colder than they'd ever imagined.

County Asked to Provide Ten Draftees on Jan. 17

Wright county's Selective Service board has been ordered to provide 10 men for the January draft from Iowa, the selectees to report to Des Moines on Jan. 17.

Call No. 10 for registrants to report for armed forces physical examination has also been received, according to Clerk Elaine Schmidt. Thirty men are required by the call, to be examined at Des Moines on Jan. 31.

Performance Reports Due At PMA Office by Jan. 10

As the program year for the PMA soil conservation program is growing to a close, County Chairman Oscar J. Hanson reminds all farmers that it is necessary that all performances which have been carried out during the year be reported. Evidences of spreading limestone, the use of fertilizers on seedings and grasslands and tiling must be submitted to the county office before Jan. 10.

It is important that this be taken care of immediately, Mr. Hanson stresses, as the PMA office cannot accept evidences of performance after the township totals have been sent to the state office to obtain the county allotment of ACP funds.

FARM SALE NEXT WEEK

Frank Ostendorf, who is giving up farming, announces in this issue a public sale of equipment on Wednesday of next week at his present location on the east edge of Goodell. He will offer at auction a full line of farm machinery.

Blanche Foss, 49, Died Sunday Eve; Funeral Yesterday

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Congregational church for Mrs. Blanche Foss, 49, who passed away last Sunday evening at Steele Memorial hospital. Boone Funeral Home was in charge of the services, which were conducted by Rev. A. B. McKeith. Burial was in Belmond cemetery.

Mrs. Foss had been in poor health, due to a heart ailment, during most of the past year. Her condition became radically worse about two months ago and had steadily declined from that time to her death.

She was born in Britt on Aug. 7, 1901, the daughter of Hugo and Charlotta Schlesinger Rohrback. She lived her entire life in this general vicinity and grew to young womanhood in Clarion.

On Feb. 9, 1924 she was married to Louis Foss in Mason City and the young wedded couple made their home in Belmond. Mrs. Foss was a primary teacher in the Belmond school prior to her marriage. She also taught here for another period, some time after her marriage; and following the death of her husband, about five years ago, was a teacher for a year in Colorado and for another year in the Alexander grade school.

Mr. and Mrs. Foss were the parents of three children: Richard L. Foss of Columbus, Neb., Mrs. Henry A. (Charlotte) Winter of Denver, Colo.; and Robert H. Foss, now a corporal in the Marine Corps and stationed in California.

Two sisters also survive Mrs. Foss—Mrs. Jake Shkolnick of Centerville and Miss Rosalie Rohrback of Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Foss was a member of the Belmond lodge of Eastern Star and was also active in the women's societies of the Congregational church.

Social Security Official In Clarion on Jan. 4th

George R. Replogle, field representative of the Fort Dodge Social Security office, will be in Clarion next Thursday morning, January 4, to assist persons who wish to apply for benefits and to answer questions about the new social security law. He may be contacted in the basement of the courthouse from 10:00 o'clock until noon.

Starting Jan. 1, regularly employed farm workers, household workers who work regularly in a private home, persons who own a trade or business, and some others will be brought under social security. Anyone in these groups should familiarize himself with the social security law, Mr. Replogle advises.

1951 Greetings
It is certainly a blessing that we have our allotted time on this sphere divided into years, for they provide a pause in our daily routine which gives us an opportunity for introspection.

The coming of a year to an end enables us to review the past and use it as a basis for comparison with which to plan for the future.

The beginning of a new year is a time for retrospection and resolution, a time when hindsight can be turned into foresight. Thus each year we can profit from our mistakes and chart the new year's course with the experience gained from the old.

Foolish indeed is the man who does not use this pause in his daily life to re-evaluate himself and resolve to make the changes needed to improve his character and forward his career!

Your Hometown Jewelers

From the open hearth of memory leaping flames remind us that your friendship and fellowship

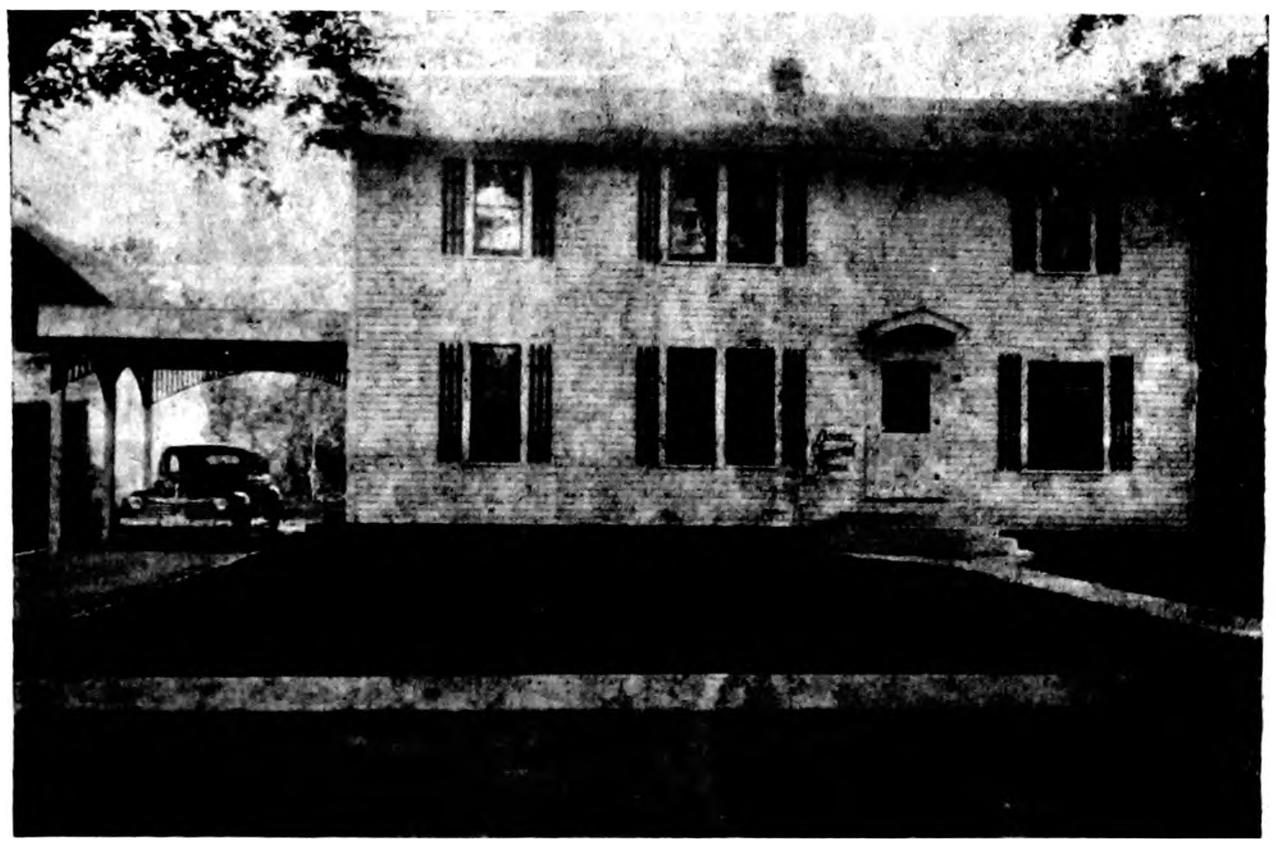
have been among life's greatest blessings



The coming of the New Year makes us glad that we have the friendship of so many wonderful people We recall with genuine pleasure the nameless little acts of kindness and of love which were directed toward us during 1950. With deepest gratitude we extend our sincere thanks.

1951 holds magnificent promises for us all. With undiminished confidence and with radiant hopes, let us enter it resolute that we shall make it the best year of our lives, that a bouyant optimism will ever be with us all.

Our earnest hope and most fervent prayer is that the New Year will see the culmination of your fondest hopes and dreams and that all your days will be rich with happiness and prosperity.

School Operetta Well Presented

The high school operetta, "Love Goes South", was presented at the school auditorium Tuesday evening of last week. Members of the audience plainly regarded the performance a success and particular credit was given Mrs. Irma Elliott, the music director, who coached the music, acting and dancing.

Each student of the cast of characters did very well, but especial mention was made of Richard Norris, who nearly stole the show in the "bit" part of Dr. D. Dribbenport Thrush, an eccentric who was the government beetle census taker. Marjorie McKinley as Mrs. Wordsworth Fuller, was also outstanding.

Leads were played by Donna Keleher, Thomas Aldrich, Judith Sellers, Phillip Biddle, Joyce Lyons and Jerry Aldrich.

Corsages were presented by the cast to Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Nina Heathershaw, accompanist, before the operetta.

Mrs. James R. Groom and Margrete attended a community Christmas supper at Grant No. 6 school Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Woodley, Ilene and Arlene attended a Woodley family dinner at Clarion on Sunday.

Joan Pals Wed Waterloo Man, J. D. Carroll, Sunday Afternoon

Miss Joan Pals, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pals, became the bride of James D. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carroll of Waterloo, in a beautiful candlelight ceremony performed at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. Heber Miller officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar of white and yellow pompons and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and slipper satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves, and the skirt falling into a train. Her veil was of imported illusion, with wide lace trim, held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations with satin streamers.

Jean Hefti of Luverne, the maid of honor, wore a gown of blue marquisette over satin and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white pompons.

The bridesmaids were Janet Lerdal and Imogene Halfpap, both of Belmond. Each wore a yellow gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white pompons.

Tommy Parker, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer and carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Loree Baker, also a cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl and wore a floor length gown of white taffeta. Sandra Parker, cousin of the bride, and Carol Pals, sisters of the bride, were candlelighters.

Mrs. Glen Braden of Goldfield played the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Congor Whyte, of Goldfield, who sang "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer'.

The groom was attended by his brother, Stanley, of Waterloo. Both wore dark business suits. Ushers were William Wright and Lyle Naylor, both of Clarion. Men of the wedding party all wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a black dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of red roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake—trimmed in yellow and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom—centered the table.

Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham poured, and Mrs. Harry Mennenga cut and served the wedding cake. Judy Baker, Rosemary Kelley, Shirley Lieuwen and Alice Lieuwen, cousins of the bride, served at the reception. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Ed Riggs, Mrs. Ralph Christie, Mrs. L. M. Helland and Mrs. James Trees.

Mrs. Gene Kelley of Oxford Junction, and Mrs. Cliff Evans of Clarion were in charge of the gifts. Lelia Faye Riggs, of Des Moines, had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Belmond High school and Iowa State Teachers college and for the past two years has been teaching in Goldfield.

The groom is a graduate of Emmetsburg High school and Iowa State Teachers college. He received a B. A. degree in physical education and is a member of the Lambda Gamma Nu fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will be at home in Goldfield, where both are teaching.

HOME BUILDERS PICK OFFICERS FOR 1951

Lida Greenwood was elected president of the Home Builders Circle at the Methodist church at the group's latest meeting, held at the home of Lucille Rudloff.

Other 1951 officers are Tillie Meints, vice president; and Lucille Rudloff, secretary-treasurer.

An accounting of contributions made to various charities and worthy causes during the past year was presented as follows: $5 to the church fund; $5 to Boys Town; $25 to the community hospital fund; $5 to the Christian Home in Council Bluffs; $5 to the "Baby Fold" in Davenport; and $5 to the Wall Street mission.

In addition, the circle members contributed sufficient clothing that a box could be sent to the Christian Home, "Baby Fold" and Harriett Ballou Nursery at Sioux City.

Members also gave over 300 Butternut coffee can-strips to provide toys for poor children through the Butternut Christmas club; gave three bags of clothing to the Good Will Industries; and purchased a light fixture for the parsonage kitchen.

Making Poultry Pay
—THE DR. SALSBURY'S WAY

Winter time is "cold" and coryza time in poultry flocks. Watch your chickens closely for coughs and sneezes. Keep the poultry house dry and tight, yet well ventilated. Also keep areas around drinking fountains moisture-free. To help birds breathe easier, spray the flock with Can-Pho-Sal. Dr. Salsbury's Can-Pho-Sal loosens mucus in the nasal passages. Get Can-Pho-Sal.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

We never had a desire to live in a big city—it's too cold in nature and you seldom see your friends.

Here in Belmond we know the folks—not only here but from throughout the trade territory and we like these folks — we like to deal with them, like to meet them, whether on businss or for just a friendly visit.

And to all these folks we know and to those we hope to know, we send Greetings and Best Wishes for the New Year we are just entering.

Lovely, curvacious Joan Caulfield plays the title role in "The Petty Girl," the technicolor production also stars Robert Cummings. Starting Sunday at the New Belmond.

Meservey Sextet Gets Into Stride

Meservey High School girls' basketball team gave evidence last Saturday night that it's well on its way to becoming a powerhouse aggregation very nearly on a par with the 1949-50 sextet that advanced to the second round of the state tournament.

Weakened by the graduation of several key members from last year's outfit, the Meservey lassies started their current season in something less than sensational fashion. But they're coming along rapidly now. The strong Monona team can vouch for that.

Up to last Saturday, the sensational Clayton county cagers had won 12 games and lost none since starting play this winter. Lavonne Meints and Mavis Faaborg split the hoop for 26 and 25 points, respectively to help Meservey chalk up a 62-57 victory. Gloria Pals performed ably in the back court to aid the winners' cause.

Meservey couldn't stop Monona's 6-4 center, Nora Schoulte; but the rangy pivot's 41 points were insufficient to extend her team's string of wins.

Meservey's boys lost a thriller to the Mason City "B" squad, 38 to 35. Watermiller was high scorer for the evening with 12 points.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raecker were dinner guests at the parental Moody Quandt home Sunday and Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Johann Pals and Beverly of Belmond were Saturday evening visitors at the Mrs. Bena Jordan home. Other visitors there were Mrs. Kate Dirks, Mrs. Hopkey and Mrs. Kampman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruigh of Iowa City were weekend visitors at the parental C. K. Ruigh home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manganiello of New York flew home to spend the holidays in the parental Andrew Faaborg home.

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Wilken and family enjoyed a visit from the latter's parents of Otho during the holidays.

Students spending the holidays in Meservey were Alice Ann Fischer, Joan Pals, Lois Esk, Aileen Kuhlers, Marilyn Rooks and Bill Slusher.

Heiko Kuhlers enjoyed Christwas eve with all his children home for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rooks and Marilyn entertained to Christmas dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Enno Ostendorf and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Foss and Duane of Hampton and Wanda Lou Ostendorf of Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Pals and Phyllis were Christmas dinner guests at the Leo Jessen home near Hampton. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmidt and Linda and Maynard Meyer of Dows and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Meyer of Latimer.

Sunday guests in the Mel Smith home were Ben Loats and children, Mrs. Fred Loats and Jessie Loats, all of Belmond, Arlene Butterfield of Des Moines and Fred Bohning of Des Moines. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Miles and daughter of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woight of Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nordman and family spent Saturday and Sunday in the parental Harris and Nordman homes at Clarksville.

Arnie Olson of Alexander visited his mother, Mrs. Jordan, Friday.

Christmas Day dinner guests at the Irving Langlitz home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gaetzke and children and Lowell Gaetzke

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hubbard and son of Klemme were Christmas evening visitors at the George Langlitz home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Strasburg were Christmas Day visitors at the Clarence Groesbeck home near Garner.

A pot-luck Christmas dinner was held at the Mrs. Bena Jordan home with Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Olson and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Wieman and children of Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wieman of Belmond taking part.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller of Laurence, Kan., arrived Sunday morning at the George Langlitz home to spend Christmas with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendel and S. P. Fischer were dinner guests Christmas Day at the Dale Fischer home near Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leckey and Ardith of Moline, Ill., spent the holiday weekend in the parental Garfield Raecker home.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kaldenberg, Claudia and Bruce of Early spent from Saturday until Wednesday in Meservey.

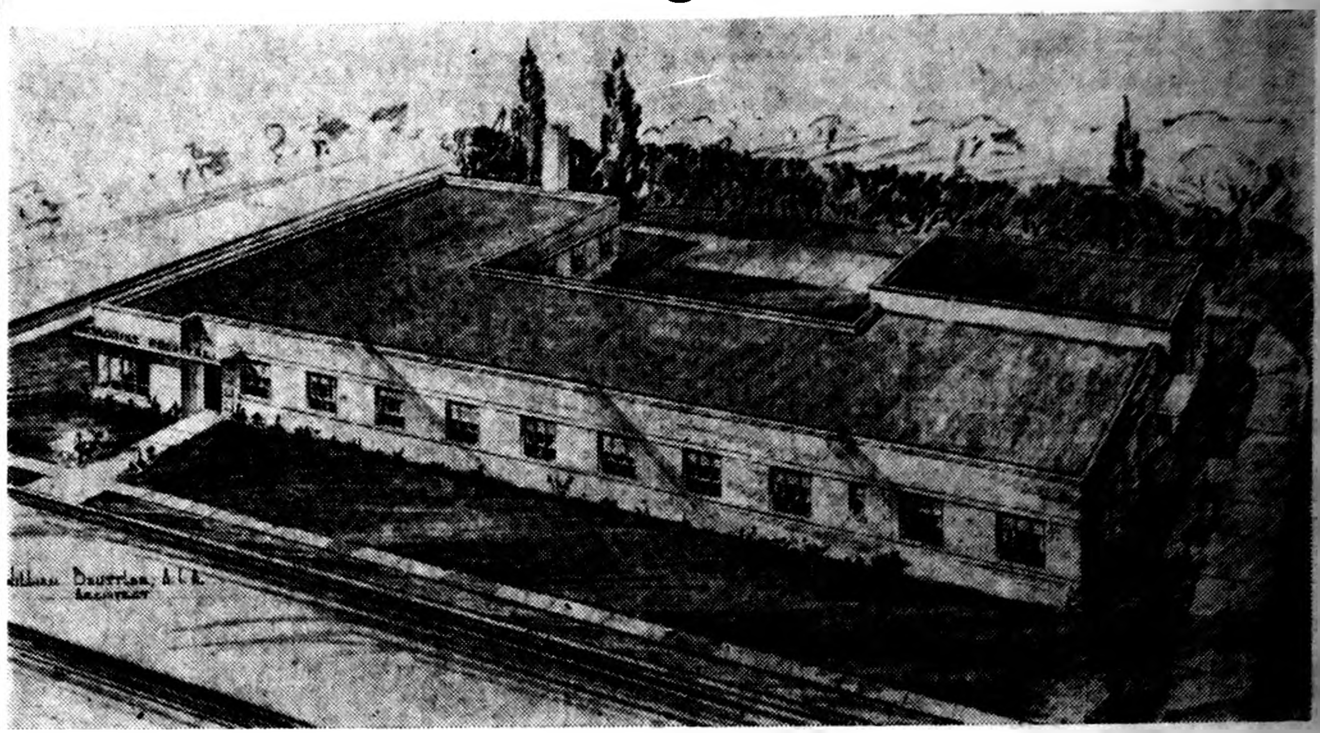
Past Year Saw A Big Job Well Started



Liebbe, Nourse & Rasmussen, A.I.A. Architects

DURING THE MONTHS OF 1950 admirable progress was made toward achieving the Belmond community's most important goal of recent years — a new hospital. Many obstacles were overcome in completing the project's planning stages. Now, collection of pledges comprises the next, major hurdle. If pledges are promptly setted, the new hospital should be completed and ready to serve the entire Belmond area by the end of 1951.

HELLO, WORLD!

Below are listed the tots who entered this weary, old world in 1950 (or a day or so before) as members of Belmond families, or whose parents live close by and chose Steele Memorial hospital for their child's earthly debut—or whose mother or father once called Belmond "home". We regret that some omissions, inevitably, will be found. May we sincerely hope that they find better answers to their day's problems than have their elders.

What will be done in '51?

During the year ahead new telephones will be installed, facilities will be expanded just as quickly as the flow of new equipment permits.

But regardless of new equipment, we will keep our present facilities operating at the highest possible efficiency. You can depend upon having telephone service in keeping with its importance in your daily life.

I'm Willing To Pay - - - IF

So many times we've heard the above statement.

What is the big IF? IF THE OTHER FELLOW IS PAYING HIS SHARE.

I don't blame you for feeling that way; I feel that way myself.

Most people have always paid their full shareof taxes, voluntarily.

We have been of some assistance in helping still others to pay their share, in the past three years.

This year we would like to do it all on a voluntary basis, i. e., you give us the facts regarding your particular personal property.

We'll reciprocate by doing our best to remove the IF from the above statement.

January 1st, 1951 will soon be here -- LET'S COOPERATE AND RECIPROCATE.

Keep CARS OFF the Street

The City Council this week issues a plea to the residents of Belmond asking them not to park their cars on the streets on any night during a snow fall.

This request is issued so that snow may be speedily and efficiently removed. Parked cars hamper this work considerably. Your cooperation is earnestly requested.

Powers That Be Earn Pat on Back For Snow Clearance Job Well Done

A chorus of halleluiahs arose along Main street last Friday that had no relation to the holiday season . . . The snow in the business district was going, going—gone! And what a welcome turn of affairs that was.

The city fathers and the street department are to be commended for the efficient job done. That county equipment made short shrift of the past few weeks' accumulation of snow. We only wish the status quo might be maintained and need for any repeat performances would fail to develop.

We'll admit we were among those who did a bit of restrained squawking that nothing had been done sooner. No doubt the heavy road equipment was not available earlier. Anyway, the job—when finally undertaken—was performed expeditiously and well.

Accepting that a precedent was established by last week's clean-up job, when the snows come again we'll rest secure in the knowledge that the powers that be will dig us out as quickly as circumstances permit.

Our "Arsenal for Democracy" Must Be Ready Produce, Once More

We recently ran across an editorial that appeared in The Independent during February of 1945. That was about three months before the fighting ceased in Europe; nearly six months before V-J Day. The point of the piece was a concession made by Josef Stalin several months earlier that Russia could not have stayed in the war without the aid of the United States. At the same time he had added that a careful record was being kept of every article received through lend-lease and that every dollar and every penny's worth of war material would be paid for —with interest. Whether we were sufficienty gullible at the time to believe this is irrelevant at the moment.

It might be to the point, however, to reprint the list of materials which Russia had received from Uncle Sam approximately up to the time of Stalin's empty statement. Of course, it's long—but here goes:

331,000 motor vehicles (including 45,000 jeeps); about 29,000 motorcycles; 1,045 locomotives, 7,164 flatcars, 1,000 dump cars, 100 tank cars; 6,000 tanks, 1,200 half-tracks, 3,300 armored scout cars, 1,700 ordinance vehicles.

Add to that—135,000 machine guns, 1,800 self-propelled guns, 13,00 pistols, 8,200 assorted guns including anti-aircraft, 5,500 artillery prime movers; and 294,000 tons of explosives.

Then, also, we sent 60 power trains with a total generating capacity of 148,000 kilowatts, for supplementing Russia's crippled sources of power; 2,120,000 tons of steel for railroad rails and like use; 1,300,000 tons of petroleum products; 638,000 tons of industrial chemicals; 733,000 tons of non-ferrous metals (aluminum, copper, etc.); and 16,6000 tons of ferro-alloys.

And besides all this, 11 million pairs of army boots, 97 million yards of cotton cloth, 58 million yards of woolen cloth, 58 million yards of webbing, and 24,000 tons of abrasives.

One of the major reasons Russia needed all this material aid from us to turn the tide of battle in eastern Europe was because the Nazis had been stockpiling for war, awaiting the most propitious time to strike at its unprepared foes. Our productive capacity—the fruit of a capitalistic economy (and unhampered by direct attack)—won the war, if any of the essential ingredients of victory could be said to outweigh the others in importance.

Now we once again face imminent conflict with a power that has been systematically stock-piling for war — our dear friends and grateful allies, the Russians. Our industrial potential is as great or greater than before; but there is no assurance that our production centers will this time escape direct assault.

We must again be ready to serve as "the arsenal of democracy" in a struggle that may well far surpass World War II in viciousness and destruction. Certainly the time has come for our leaders to place this nation on a war footing. The price in personal sacrifice will be a small one to pay in comparison with the price of further temporizing.

Clyde Spry Seems Convinced That All Are Out of Step But Him

It may seem ungracious to question the motives—or good judgement—of a man only recently entertained in Belmond as a guest, but we must confess that the embroilment Clyde Spry has lately created in his state department of agriculture has left us more than a little disgusted.

When the Secretary of Agriculture spoke before the Town-Country banqueters here, he laughingly brought up the P-60 antifreeze mess and then lightly dismissed it as merely the product of a misunderstanding. In our opinion, the time has come for him to be more specific in defense of his action, if it is defendable. .

We're sure that the Des Moines Register—although obviously out to cause Mr. Spry a maximum amount of embarrassment—would willingly present his side of the case if he would outline it in a public statement. Instead, he has chosen to vindictively strike back at lesser employees who brought his faux pas to light.

Criticism of Mr. Spry's maneuvers by the legislative interim committee certainly can't be dismissed as representing partisan bias. In fact, the secretary's own party members are probably more interested than their opponents in seeing that the whole matter is cleared up and dropped as quickly and quietly as possible. (At this point, its disposal seems unlikely to be either quick or quiet!)

If Secretary Spry persists in his stubbornness, his usefulness to the state administration as a departmental head will be seriously impaired—if it has not been already. One man out of step can louse up the appearance of a whole platoon; and we'd say Clyde Spry was definitely out of step.

Laborers in Essential Industry Are in The Same Boat With Us All

To the mind of John Q. Public, the time has come for laborers in essential industries to cease trying to squeeze the last possible pecuniary advantage out of the current inflation. Let 'em settle back and take their lumps, like the rest of us; else the time may come when the citizens at large will lose their patience with government's paternalistic attitude toward labor.

Government for a time was the Dutch Uncle of monopolistic "big business"; then pendulum swung so far backward that mere bigness alone has come to create suspicion even when unjustified. Labor can best protect its gains of the past 15 years or so by not setting itself apart from the public as a whole. It has earned no prerogatives that should not belong to all.

Laszlo Esztergalyos, a Hungarian DP lately living in Decorah, has enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps. If the same spirit exists among 19-year-old's compatriots at home, the Russians may find a surprising number of "liberated" individuals ready to take up arms against the hammer and sickle if the opportunity can be produced.

Well. Deanna Durbin's married again—so is Shirley Temple; and before long Elizabeth Taylor will likely be once more seeking the will-o-the-wisp of domestic bliss. Seems to us that the only advantage of rearing a gifted daughter is to have a ready place for a loan. For our part, we're satisfied to have common, ordinary kids who can have the normal amount of happiness in this contrary old world.

HAVE YOU THE COMBINATION?

One by one, over the centuries, men and women have been opening the door to life's richest treasure.

This New Year thousands more will learn the combination that unlocks our God-given destiny.

The joy of purposeful living, the confidence of courageous believing, the power of divine help, belong to every man who can rightly turn the dial of life to its appointed goal.

And the combination has been ours through twenty centuries, ever since the day of Jesus Christ!

Turn first to faith—the hunger of the heart for spiritual truth. Then to love—the capacity for unselfish devotion to one another. Then to God—the Source of All that is eternally real.

The Church helps us master the combination. Its worship and instruction help us to turn the course of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
